Thread: Port forwarding issue, filtered port?

Funboxxx - December 31, 2013, 6:10 pm

alright, so, i used to be able to open ports, i had 25565 and some other random one open, but now all of a sudden, i'm no longer able to port forward, some port checkers are saying the ports are simply closed, whilst others tell me they're filtered. both my pc and router firewall are disabled.

my router is zyxel 2812HNU-F3.

pls halp

nvm figured it out >.<

Are you even listening to your ports via DarkComet or another tool ?

i've got 25565 forwarded, a mc server running, but unable to connect, and the same issue pops up with darkcomet.

Then you still have a firewall somewhere

Either in your router, or a software based firewall.

I suggest u. To turn every firewall off.

To test if it works, if it does. Forward the ports in the firewall.

Hey could someone please help me with port forwarding? Ive tried everything, like all the possible combinations of ip addresses, private and public, different ports, hard reset routers, switched to a different router and modem, tried without router with just a ethernet cable to the modem. pleassse :(((pm me? :(

btw i just got this internet connection today
