Thread: WTF?! accidental hack? Got ahold of another persons account

METALSLUG - January 2, 2014, 8:52 am

So i was doing the addmefast imacros script, i only had 304 points before i left to go to the toilet, went kitchen got a drink, i come back 5 mins later and BAM 11773 points?!?!?! and im not logged into my account either its some random guys account?!

The points are going up too every time i refresh, its like our accounts suddenly just collided or something?

no one has ever been on this computer, it is brand new, its a personal one too. im home alone and everything. i don't know any one with the email address this person has. I know nothing about this guy?

i can do so many things with the account i can add sites etc etc.

What do i do .?

If the points are still going up, use them and change the email/password.
