I'm very sorry for your loss man. I offered my assistance but I guess you didn't want to since he mentioned fees. I would've did it for free and none of this would've happened. I really hope FancyWeirdo(he changed his name to Relic.) commits to being the bigger man and either gives you your Tumblr back or pays you the money you deserve.

Lord - January 3, 2014, 11:57 am

Very shocked and sad that this poor person got scammed for their Tumblr account. I'll be sure that this person will not be able to sell it on here.

Bat™ - January 3, 2014, 1:15 pm

This is a very legit report. Hope you can get it solved.

Now that's what people do, earn some rep and go on a scamming spree,lol.

Hope you get it solved.

Hi Im Shawn - January 3, 2014, 1:54 pm

Should of checked his recent reports of scamming sorry to hear you lost your money though.

xhflhkeuhwguu34 - January 3, 2014, 2:18 pm

He's talking too much - personal info, helping you out, etc. The advice he gave you is also bullshit.

Good luck recovering OP.

Obli - January 3, 2014, 2:42 pm

He's now trying to sell it. Sorry for your loss, OP.

Walt Disney™ - January 3, 2014, 3:13 pm

And this proves what? It truly isn't a secret i have scammed on this forums and given back a'lot to the forums over time. Look up my UID i have no issue admitting when i'm wrong.

Also not to add you act like you never scammed before mister my rep has quite a few things about stealing money and being shady but i'm going to pick out other peoples wrong doings.

Why dont you just leave the forum? Seems like you don't care about anything. Think about the OP, you put him in a hole. How would you like someone taking $250+ from them? Bet you would be cryin.

Actually seeing he got the account for free from a friend from what he said i don't have sympathy. Simply because the account was 9 times out of ten scammed or hacked in the first place. Nobody just gives away a OG famous account.

{ Anybody i ever done anything to has either had many scam reports or was selling hacked / scammed items in the first place } its not like i go around nabbing peoples rent money who are HQ legit users here.

Nope. I got the youtube fireplace for free. Who cares if someone gave out a tumblr worth alot? Not everyone knows how pricey OG accounts are. You are immoral. Get off the forum.

Who are you to tell me get off the forum when you have HQ users on your rep saying you steal money and are shady. This is like a bandit telling another bandit hes going to hell for stealing.

I'm going to stop posting on this thread. You are continually posting off topic.

All my -3's are from scrubs like you. Anyway, who cares about rep? The "Shady" one if from you.

Were he got the account from is none of your business the fact you stole money from him is, if some random guy on the street gave me a free laptop or something would you say it was right to take it as I got it for free ? No it is Immoral and yes I do agree with users on here you should leave this site if you are going to keep scamming it is not nice to other fellow users who are nice and use these forums for good

Actually, the account has been owned by me since i first joined tumblr, and my friend gave me the url since he no longer used it. I was only selling the URL because i had my own domain and by stealing my tumblr with most of my personal info stored onto it, and deleting my personal email which also had alot of personal info stored onto it, makes me very upset that your that low to do such a thing.

He scammed me for $2 once. Didn't you look him up in the deal dispute database prior to trading? Going to try my best to have him banned.

And if you'd like assistance to get your Hotmail account back, just let me know with a PM. I can guide you. No guarantees but I will try to help.

Sinatraa - January 19, 2014, 4:33 am

Thankyou Opportunist ^.^ And thankyou everyone else.

0_0_ - January 19, 2014, 5:06 am

Learn from this mistake. I've been scammed too and made mistakes myself, but like they say with everything, theory (being told about scamming) is underpowered compared to experiences. A baseball player can be lectured how to play, but they only get better by actually playing. So here the example is that you got some experience trading, you got scammed for your account and you've now learned not to be so trustworthy. Next time, don't go first in a trade, you must use a middleman or not trade at all. I also learned when I got chargedback $40 and had a poor service done for $15, and also got scammed $2 (weird because $2 is so small for a ub3r to scam).
