This is a PPD (pay per Download) site script. It is a clone of a clone of some clone of scripts out there now. You can use it to start your own PPD site if you want - Personally just I use it for locking links, files and to create my own gateways for blogs.

I do have one site that does pretty well with others signing up and uploading files and locking links - I give the uploaders 75% of the revenue earned it makes money almost every day. But as I said before - I generally use this script to lock my own stuff.

Here is a sample site running the script....

Here is a Video Blurb about the Script.....
