If you use a VPN or even Skype in-built proxy feature, I REALLY DOUBT you'll get your real IP resolved.

What vpn would you recommend, because i tried a couple already.

Why wouldn't it work? If you buy shit that isn't working ask for support or get a refund.

All VPNs are supposed to work. How do you still resolve your own IP ?

Take a look here for trusted VPN services:

OP: I use [\[censored\]](#), it always works for me and with their free version you still have a wide variety of servers from different countries to choose from. Not to mention its pretty fast and I hardly notice a slower connection speed. Security Kiss is also a another decent free alternative.

I'm also looking for a good VPN; I tried this method that was supposed to make me unresolveable, but it didn't work. Off to the Marketplace!
