He takes his time and puts in ALOT of effort making his designs. He has designed my signature and 2 forum threads for me and i love all of them. he frequently gave me updates on my thread design and asked if i needed any alterations , i was a little picky on my first design and he made a lot of changes like i wanted . The price he charges for them is also great , he puts in maximum effort and charges low.

Awesome designs , cheap prices , very nice communication and understanding.

I'm not a illustrator artist, I don't know how to create vectors. I really enjoy the flat design with flat vectors, so I decided to find a freebie licensed vector online. If people are going to hate on my thread for that, then so be it.

Manefiq - June 10, 2014, 5:21 pm

(Jun 10, 2014 04:41 PM)Pro Circuit Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What do your prices on thread designs vary on?

My prices are distinguished by the amount of content, design style, thread size, additional pieces of content such as a sliced design (e.g, you can click parts of the design to re-direct to payment pages etc)

A standard design is $15, a premium design is on current discount for $25 and includes all of it.

Still offering my premium service discount.

Asking about some possible graphics work.

EDIT: I paid about a week ago for some graphics and he hasn't been on Skype since.

He did mention being busy this week so hopefully this is just a unforeseen delay and he didn't run away with my money.

Will report back here when he responds.
