Hello Sirs!

Today I am going to be teaching you about properly exploiting the Arbitrary File Deletion web vulnerability.

This will not be a very large tutorial as there isn't much to the vulnerability.

Step One

Every Arbitrary File Deletion should start out with you going to google and searching for one of the following google dorks.

Code inurl:deletefile.php

inurl:delete.php?filename=

inurl:deletefile.php?filename=

inurl:deletefile.php?file=

Not that the useful google dorks are not limited to what is above. If none working for you, feel free to find and use your own.

[align=center]

Step Two

Once you have found your target website from your google search and clicked on the link to the web page you should see something like this...

You should see a warning in the page which states that there is no such file in the directory.

This means that the site is vulnerable for Arbitrary File Deletion and you may begin to exploit it. If you did not return with something like what is in the above picture, I suggest that you keep looking for a vulnerable site as you should eventually find one. Do not worry.

Step Three

Now that you have completed the first two steps above, you can move on to the third and final step.

You will need to find one of the files in the vulnerable website that you wish to delete.

And, boom! It is gone!

Rap!st - January 12, 2014, 7:23 am

Seems like a nice tutorial. I don't really get step 3 could you be more detailed at this?

Thanks in advance,

Rapist?

I used the same image as I was to lazy to take my own screen shot haha.

hackersallin - January 12, 2014, 9:33 am

Good but not a very well explained tutorial.... Specially 3rd step! But i will try it out soon and tell you back the results!

Agreed.

Looks like you just changed some of the wording around.

Acroz - January 12, 2014, 4:26 pm

Now SI0w, why is this tutorial the EXACT same as the other ones?

ASLR - January 12, 2014, 4:30 pm

Slow being a fucking skid again.

I really hate how you consider yourself a blackhat when you can't even make up your own TuTs
???

Edit: inb4 closes thread

Yeah slow. Why is it exactly the same?

Why can't you be original and stop skidding other posts you leeching cunt bag.

Mostly everyone is tired of your shit.

You are not "Blackhat". You don't exactly deserve it.

You make a bad impression on every group you join.

It's leejun lol? What the hell do you expect? Some rooting tutorial that actually does shit or

wget exploitdb.com/exploit/yolo
```

```
gcc -o exploit.c lulz
```

```
./lulz

Im gone brah - January 13, 2014, 8:43 am

Jesus christ, you totally ripped this off. LQ

•Lucifer - January 13, 2014, 12:28 pm

The saddest part is he is in Legion, such a good group but he is making it look bad.

I love how you get so mad.

Leaching is when you take the exact words used from a thread. My thread does not look identical to the other one.

Moji - January 16, 2014, 2:38 pm

Might not look identical but you copied it then changed the words, why re post something that is already on here and give the other members no credit? You're making Legion look really bad...

No, it is. All you did is change a few words... You are a leeching noob and everyone else agrees even a member in Legion. You are as LQ as it can get.
