For how long have you been coding in Autolt and what else have you made with the language?

I am not, nor do I anywhere claim to be, the coder for this application. The programmer behind this has worked on several other large crypters and other malware for a few years now.

I would say that it's BoomShockPow or whatever his name is, he's done fileguardian, CryptME and his methods or the methods he uses are publicly well know, EG: sfx archives with winrar dll's.

Actually it's not him. The coder prefers to remain anonymous, you can PM me for his name.

I'm pretty sure nearly all encryption methods are publicly known, especially when it comes to executable encryption.

If a crypter was build with an 'unknown' method then I'm pretty sure it wouldn't be being sold on a public forum.

Yep same here i bought 2 copies for 3 months very quick to take the payment but claimed a "licensing issue" and never gave me the crypters.

dejector - March 10, 2014, 2:21 am my license is banned nd my issues are not solved, teh afro u r not replying my private messages :/ u r pissing me bro.. plz do me a pm to remove this post.. atleast provide me a refund

?clipse™ - March 11, 2014, 2:40 am

Can you please update the status of the crypter?
What's the detection status? if it's not FUD then when will it be re-fud? thanks.
