I get random Skype requests daily, it clearly states in my Signature which is where he got my Skype from that you should PM me before hand. He didn't nor did he state in his friend quest who he was or what he wanted. Spoke to him several times which he did not reply to so i deleted him, seems like a rational thing to do. Finally tells me who he is, i ask him about the codes and here is his reply..

"You didnt let me speak I was offline all day and you unfriended so bye"

Someone has some issues

Good luck with your sales.

Bought both Pax Sivr / Pax Jax Op didn't honor first posts price for jax he charged 40$ for jax but even at that price it was worth it but just so others know if you expect to buy for NA you will likely pay more then advertised because of many people wanting them and then the advertised 25$ for sivr which I'm very happy about all in all Vouch for trukfit he has fast friendly service and you will get what you paid for.

Actually pretty cheap compared to others.

All sites that sell that skin are around $200. eBay its around $200 +

Then when you check other forums, they are 150 Euros ~ $180.

SIM-1534439 - April 20, 2014, 6:55 am

Sorry I'm in the EUW server will the code work there?

MrBigMcLargeHuge - April 20, 2014, 6:57 am

Although it seems suspicious that all of a sudden there are new codes that work, coming from Trukfit who is a known supplier for other rare skins, it's pretty likely these codes are legit.

CODES DISABLED

During summer 2014 Riot disabled all old skin codes, and this is no longer obtainable.

<https://lolskinshop.com/product/pax-twisted-fate/>

Today PAX Twisted Fate is no longer available as the skin codes were disabled in 2014 and can no longer be redeemed. There is no indication that this skin will be returning to the store as it was made specifically for PAX attendees just like the other PAX skins.

The only way to obtain this skin is to buy an account with it already redeemed. If you're looking for the PAX Twisted Fate skin
