Sir if anyone looks at your scam report it is clear that I have sent you the account. Which i hope to god you changed the password for because you just put it out for the world to see. And plus, if you look at your rep history, it seems like YOU just ripped someone off for $25? So please, do not try to scam me by having me send you an account for free after I have already sent you one(: Thanks and have a nice day, please kindly show yourself out of my thread. I am trying to do business with valued customers.
