General Introduction:

Be sure to read the entire post, this will explain most of the information that is required to know, so don't skim it, actually read it or you will regret it later on.

Welcome to The Empire Recruitment thread! The Empire is once again recruiting, looking for members that are hard working, active, and will a good member in the group. Members who were kicked or declined in the past recruitment are welcome to apply again. To elaborate on our other recruitment threads, we want to know more about you as a person. With that said, creating a video or voice application is HIGHLY recommended, but not required. Though it will most surely separate the members willing to go above the usual basic application format, and the ones who don't, so keep that in mind.

Members can nominate applicants for further review for the group, but even so, if you'd like to be one of the members to make it into the group, be positive that your application is full of effort and thought.

The last Recruitment Thread can be located here.

Userbar:

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/images/blackreign/groupimages/english/empirev3.gif[/img]

Basic Guidelines:

Around 60+ posts per month of the account's age

Must have acceptable grammar

Usually an upgraded member or a very committed non-upgraded member

No LQP or Harassment Warnings

No legitimate open or unresolved scam reports

No trolling or flaming other members

Application:

Note: To elaborate on the general information, we want to know more about you, other than how "high quality" you are. Be sure to be truthful and honest in your application, this could make you or break your application. Remember, video and voice applications are highly recommended and those that create that type of application tend to have a higher chance at being accepted, but it is not necessarily required. The minimum time length for both are 3 minutes, you may do more but keep in mind quality is better than quantity.

Be sure to answer all the questions, regardless if you're also doing a video/voice application. You may reformat the layout of the questions however you like; you may use GFX.

Adam's Quick Tips:

(May 20, 2013 10:54 AM)xadamxk Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I will repeat what Tibit and other Empire members have stated.

If you truly want into the Empire, prove it to us.
Show us that you DESERVE to be in the group.
I can promise you that you will appreciate the group if you are accepted.

Just some tips if you want your application to stand out:

Make your application unique.
Make it lengthy, but be sure for it to hold it's quality.
Use your personal skills to make the application: GFX, Gaming, Coding, etc. Show your specialty.
Be sure to use a set format, colors, themes, etc. Organized = good/ attention catching.

Show that you want in.
Again, the length can have something to do with the result of your conclusion, but ONLY if it holds quality from beginning to start.
Do a top 10 reasons why you want in, make a video application along with the required application.
Do far more than the required application asks for. Again, show us that you want to be a member of the Empire.

Skyp? - January 27, 2014, 1:15 pm
Make sure those applications stand out.

This is a great shot to get into a great group. ?

Eternal. - January 27, 2014, 1:16 pm
I will personally overlook any video or voice applications. If you make them, know someone else will see them. Do not PM me, or anyone else to look at your application because it will be directed at me, and instantly denied.

If you make a good application, are honest and a active and dedicated member you will be given the chance to be among our ranks.

Doxicity - January 27, 2014, 1:17 pm
Good luck to all the fresh meat. I hope to see a lot of good members.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Alright, so when it comes to skills I like to think I am a jack of all trades kind of guy, I wouldn't go as far as to say I am particularly amazing at anything, but I certainly give everything a go at least once. My main 'skill' if you want to call it that, is customer service. When it comes to products, I know what the customer wants and I always make sure I uphold the standard of quality one would expect from a product and the support provided with it. I have knowledge of maintaining a small community and keeping it working in perfect condition, this has been gained by running my own forum. I am also involved in the customer support side of a hosting company, which is due for release any day now.

I am not proficient in graphics, but I am willing to learn if that is what is required of me, same goes for anything else.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

According to my post activity, I am most active within the Website showcase and reviews section and I believe I know why. As mentioned before I not only like to uphold my own standards, but help people uphold their own. As I am a webmaster and owner of a forum, this is what interests me most of all. I like to help people grow their forum and help with any issues they may be having while building it. I believe I have the knowledge of what is essential whilst building a community as well as what it takes to stand out from the crowd.

Albeit I do not post in those sections much, I like to lurk in the lounge, graphics section, member disputes and innuendo. Mainly because these sections actually offer something different to read and take part in, and it really lets me get to know what the community is like as a whole without having to talk to every single person.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

The Empire. Hackforums' most prestigious group (in my eyes). Not only do you have the best userbar on-site, you also have a lot of amazingly knowledgeable members whom, again are among the best on-site. I am also a massive fan of the products that the group release and I would love a chance to be a part of the group if only to gain some experience.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

Tricky question, because of course everyone 'feels' like they should be accepted, right? To put it simply, I should be accepted because I am willing, I am willing to learn, to train, to better myself as a person and I am willing to prove myself no matter what the task. I try my best to keep myself to the highest quality I can be, and so far it seems to be working. Not once have I had a scam report opened on me as I define myself in being legitimate throughout what I do in life. Not once have I had a warning point against me, again because I understand what rules are and I know how to abide by them.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I don't really know where to begin on this one tbh. A few years ago, my grandfather fell ill. I was only 14, and was naive to what was really going on, too wrapped up in my own life to notice. My mother sat me down and explained to me that he had cancer and that there was little chance he would survive. This crushed me, I could hear her talking in the background but my head was spinning, I couldn't talk, it was almost as if i was in a distant reality, looking down on what was happening.

My grandfather was and is to this day my hero, he was always the guy I looked up to and went to for advice whenever I needed it as I do not know my real dad. I started to go downhill, mad at life and angry at the thought of losing my only inspiration. By the time i was 17 I was fighting all the time, out drinking most nights and just causing a whole lot of shit for my family. Surprisingly my grandfather pulled through the cancer, but he developed Huntingtons' disease and is now in a wheelchair and can hardly talk.

I couldn't stop what I had begun, no matter how hard I tried. I was just getting worse and worse, until i met my current girlfriend not long after i turned 20. She showed me the way, that life wasn't what happened to you, it was what you make of it. With her support, I managed to move forward with my life. I am now a happier person, more content with life and closer to my grandfather than I have ever been. I promised him I would make him proud and I intend to stick at it and do him proud.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Family comes first, always. Anyone who puts their online life before real life people and problems need to sort their heads out. It should not happen like that. My girlfriend will always come before anything also, she knows what I do during the week is my time, and I dedicate my weekends to spending time with her and that will never be compromised.

However during the week, my time is split between maintaining and communicating with the community I have on my own forum and thinking of new projects. I am basically anyones within reason during the week as I often get bored, so am willing to join new projects etc.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I was overwhelmed at the whole 'hacking' side of the forum and I wanted to learn and make a name for myself, along with the fact I had just built my forum so I was looking for new members. I soon made HF my second home and I am glad I did. I managed to build up a strong reputation and made some new friends along the way. I love the community here and intend to be a part of it for the foreseeable future.

Anything else you would like to say:

If anything, thank you for reading this application. I would love for some feedback on it and if i do not get chosen, please tell me what I can do to make myself better for the next time you open your doors.

Thanks a lot

Addiction.

[IMG]<http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png>[/IMG]Name: Jeff

Age: 18

Gender: M

Religion: Agnostic Atheism

State/Country: US/NY

Time Zone: Eastern Time

[IMG]<http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png>[/IMG] Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Well I can't shoot fireballs from my eyes or shoot an arrow at a bulls-eye, but I am a pair of extra hands if needed to be part of something. I have alot of online gaming experience and general monetizing strategies/methods from my experience. I guess my best skill is probably clarification, in terms of helping people understand points from different perspectives, even if it's the one that they are opposed too.

[IMG]<http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png>[/IMG] Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I am the most active in Gaming -> Computer/Online Gaming -> League of Legends sub forum. I love the game and I browse there every single day that I have access to a computer, and I still do. Nonetheless, other sections that I browse are The Lounge, Anime Adventures, Science Religions & Politics, and occasionally Personal Life.

[IMG]<http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png>[/IMG] Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

The Empire seems like a prestigious community of individuals that I want to be in. There are other groups too, but I don't want to pay for membership as it kills the quality of those groups by letting anyone with deep enough pockets to enter. I haven't heard back from any other groups either, mainly because I believe that I'm a L33T with no rewards or insane 3-4 digit reps so my long applications are usually looked over.

[IMG]<http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png>[/IMG]Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I'm just a normal individual who likes to game and enjoy a good group of individuals to interact with, and I see many of those people in Empire while browsing the forums. I want to be part of a good community that are willing to help others not only because they get something out of it, but to just simply help them and improve the quality of responses and clarity for cloudy questions.

I have "common" courtesy but that's pretty rare these days, especially on most parts of these forums and I just feel like I deserve to be part of the more mature groups, other than "THAT" person who's a nobody telling us how things are done or how they're supposed to be done.

[IMG]<http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png>[IMG] In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I go to college just like most "young" adults, love to play video games, watch anime, hang out with people and just enjoy good, quality time with friends. I guess what was memorable was that I had around 6-8 people watching me stream my little twitch channel a while back around New Years, it was pretty cool that people was tuning in, and I would like to continue streaming in the future.

I lived a pretty rough life especially with all these contradictions between what you need to do and morals on the line. I tend to stick to my morals and try to be the person that a guy down on his luck would want to into. Helping others so that they could return the favor to others.

[IMG]<http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png>[IMG] Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

I guess going to college as a safety net incase whatever I want to do fails... if I find out what I want to do. What's important to me would probably something that I would want to look back on one day and be like "Back then...I did ... it was a good time." I'm still debating what I want to do. (Gaming/ Dancing/ Construction+Building).

[IMG]<http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png>[IMG]What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I stay active because I learned alot from Hack Forums just by reading threads. Reading news, getting killer steal deals, and entering free contests just for the heck of it just makes me want to also be part of the community too. Of course I don't have alot to start my own contests, have many products to sell or be the first to bring in shocking news, so I do my part and try to uphold the quality of the community with understandable, but simple HQ responses in most cases.

[IMG]<http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png>[IMG]Anything else you would like to say:

Thanks for reading my application, I hope I get accepted into my first group on HF, I've made a few HQ threads before and plan on doing some more in the future as long as the League of Legends sub form community likes the content! Feel free to snoop around my profile.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I do have a few skills, Ratting, website hacking, programming, and of course server and website hosting. I have been running a few different types of websites on my dedicated server, and know how to setup everything that is needed for it. I do also know a lot about virus removal and networking.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

At the moment i'm most active the lounge. But i'm also very active in the website hosting section, where i help people to choose a good web hosting for their need. Normally i just browse the "New posts" and if i see something i find interesting, i click it.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

To be honest, i want to join The Empire to be a part of something big. And why not give it a try, i want a place where i can talk to HQ people and clever people instead of stupid not serious members.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

The Empire seems like a group with a lot of clever and nice people, i feel like i can give a lot of knowledge to those people, and they can learn me a lot. And that's just what i need.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: My name is Nicolai i'm 16 years old and from Denmark. At the moment i run my own web hosting "Dabahosting" and i already got a few sales, i spent a lot of my time trying to make new projects, or learn something new. My mainly interest is networking and working with servers. I spent the last 5 years of my life working with servers and that's also what i want to spend the rest of my life with. What makes me who i am is? The reasons why i am the person i am is because of my friends and family, of course they can be annoying as hell sometimes, but that does not matter. I love them.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

The most important for me is definitely, what i am going to do after school. After school i will take the Education as "It-Specialist" It will take me 5 years to complete and will fill a lot in my life, but at the same time i'm also trying to keep a fit body. I work out 5 times a week, everyday after school.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

The great community. You can learn so much here, and when i first joined i din't know anything, i only knew a few things about phishing and that was it. But when i joined HF i discovered a completely new world with nice people and a lot of knowledge.

Anything else you would like to say:

I did my best. Good luck to everybody!

The Empire is a great group. Work hard on your applications and you will work out in the end. Do not lie. Good luck to everyone!

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Gaming: I've been a gamer for as long as I can remember. My first games were played at my grandfathers house in Florida on the Atari. Ever since then I've played games like a religion and haven't stopped. I used to play on a team for the older Call of Duty games like Modern Warfare and Modern Warfare 2. I can play to win if the people I'm with need me to, but I normally play to have fun and fool around with the 12 year olds on COD. Recently I've been getting back into Pokemon and am actually currently leveling my team while typing this. I used to be a huge Minecraft player and have well over 1000 hours shoved into it. I'm also getting back into that on a private server and trying new mods out.

iDevices: I know a few things about iDevices, but not nearly as much as the iWizards in that section of HF. I do enjoy modifying the phones more than the default features provide. Jailbreaking is a big interest to me and I love being able to learn new things about it and teach others about cool features. I also do enjoy helping people with fixing their iDevices when it gets stuck in boot-ups or from failing their jailbreak. There is always so much more to learn and I look forward to that as well.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. According to my post activity it is The Lounge. But I post more into the Gamer Zone than anywhere else. As stated above, I just love to game. I do try to expand to other sections but I usually run away back to the "safer" sections. I do find an interest in coding, but I lose motivation in it easily.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:The activity of the group is really the main reason I want to join. I see the userbar everywhere and it gets me excited to see a group still posts around as much as this one does. I also want to expand the ring of quality users I can come in contact with on a regular basis. Having a sub-forum to discuss and debate things with members seems to be a better way of organizing that ring of individuals than to be scattered in the millions of posts on the forum.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: Back almost a year ago, I made my first application for this group. Looking back, I was an inexperienced member who had nothing to put on the table in terms of quality or notability. Now I feel like a completely different user. I came here looking for a simple Minecraft client and now I come on everyday looking forward to answer peoples questions. I feel I deserve to be in The Empire to expand my knowledge with other users, as well as help all users on this forum.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

There are a lot of life memories that I have that changed me and made me who I am. I'll share a more recent life event that I haven't really told HF about or really a lot of people about. I volunteer for a first aid squad at my hometown here on the east coast of the US. I've been with the squad for over a year now and have gone on hundreds of calls ranging from general weakness to critical conditioning events. One life changing event that happened was a CPR call.

I was on back to back calls and coming back from my fourth one. It was around 10:40pm and we were heading back to our building. About half a block away from the building another call came out, this one was a "CPR in progress". We were so quick to respond that we followed the police car to the house. We prepared in the ambulance with everything we needed from a BBM, oxygen, suction system, airways, and the AED. We rushed into the home and immediately began CPR. I was paired with someone of the same age in compressions. He went first for 5 intervals and then I switched over. One of the most interesting feelings I've had since joining was feeling someone's ribs crush under the heel of your hand. This went on for what felt like forever until about 10 more squad members arrived to relieve us. After I was relieved from doing CPR I was basically the runner. I went from ambulance to house getting supplies like blankets, more oxygen, a new suction machine, and more. At around 12:00am I got back to the squad. It was my first CPR save and I felt so proud to be able to say that. Without my fellow volunteers, I wouldn't have been able to save the man, and they deserved a huge recognition.

This experience changed my life forever. It showed me how precious life was and how powerful our bodies are at trying to be alive. It made me who I was because I love to help people. I would jump in front of an RPG to prevent another person being shot. I will continue to help people and look forward to it everyday.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? I am mainly focusing on education, family, and a career now. I'll be graduating high school this year and do kind of fear being thrown into the world with nothing. I want to be able to provide for a family if I were to have one and not panic on every bill. As I do get older and am realizing I'm getting more mature, I've noticed family is very important. They will do anything for me without reward and would even refuse one. It would be amazing if I could call The Empire a family in my career on Hackforums.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? At first it was Minecraft. Hackforums was my source of information on it and cheating clients that were so much fun to use. I loved being able to be that show off and impress my friends with some fly hack or instant mining hack. After a while I started clicking around more and found new sections to jump into. I eventually left the griefing section and haven't looked back since. Looking back now though I realize how low quality it was and how strange some of the users are that are in there. It also kind of sucks losing most of the friendships I developed in about a year or so.

Anything else you would like to say: I would like to thank you for reading my application and giving me a chance to apply again. I hope that being in Instinct will not affect my chances of being in this group as well.

#Thunder - January 27, 2014, 1:50 pm

We're having some plans for what we are doing for the group. As of this minute we'll look over applications. Best of luck to whom is accepted. As our voyage begins we'll have other miscellaneous paths ahead.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Some of my skills are, but are NOT limited to ratting, forum webmaster, fixing computers (somewhat), and some coding that I am (HTML and some Java soon hopefully).

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

The Lounge is the section I feel the most active in. Why do I find the Lounge as the section I am most active in? Simply because it is the most active forum out of all of the sections in Hack Forums. I like to think the Lounge as the social-gathering place at the end of a hard day's work that all people from the different parts of the town come together to talk, chit-chat, and get to know one another and discuss various things, along with making no friends. Or you can think of it as the center of the galaxy to me, which would be the Sun for us, and all the planets revolving around it would be the different forum sections we have here on HF.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

From the reputation that the group displays, I've always wanted to become apart of the Empire one day, and I made my mind set it to it. It's been one of my goals ever since I first joined, and the group just shines off brightly with a strong glow compared to the other groups on Hack Forums, according to my eyes.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I personally feel I deserve to be accepted into the Empire, because over the past couple of months I've been here (actually a little over 1 year/12 months), I've been working myself up in ranks to finally get somewhere to where I am now and I hope to keep on going beyond. I started like everyone else at a "noob" level and started posting daily, helping other members daily, doing giveaways, doing my best to give back to the community as much as possible, etc. I have set my mind on Hack Forums, and have devoted a lot of time on this wonderful forum.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Greetings, my name is ZuGgy. I like to go by C on many forums as well. Who am I? I am a computer lover and forum lover who has been using computers since around the age of 10. My first computer was one running Windows 95, followed by Windows 98 on a fat old "dino" PC :) I started up my own forums I believe at the age of 10-11, but it never got that big, my first big one was around 12, I believe but after a while the activity just died down and the forum was just abandoned. Ever since then, I've been using forums, creating them, learning on them, learning from them, and expanding my knowledge. My skills are, but are not limited to, being somewhat of a forum webmaster, some coding knowledge (barely any, still learning big time), I've also fixed some of my personal friends' computers, and I am a big time Grammar Nazi. I love keeping my grammar and spelling in perfect condition as much as I can, unless I am on a mobile device or in a hurry ;)

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My priorities in life is to be able to support a family one day, and also to get somewhere in life one day. I would love to be able to start making a great bigger income in the future than my current one, and so I can start saving up to buy some stuff to me, send some over to my family, donate, and more! :)

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Honestly, I consider three things when I question myself, "Why did I stay on Hack Forums?" These three things were the activity, content, and members. The activity is just beyond amazing. It's a fact that Hack Forums is the biggest MyBB forum on the internet (ever). The content because there just millions and millions of interesting to read here everyday, nonstop. And finally the members because I am able to and have already made friends on the forums, and still would love to make more. A lot of people here are just so nice and are almost like IRL friends to me :)

Anything else you would like to say:

No, just thank you for reading my application and good luck to all other participants.

?pade - January 27, 2014, 2:41 pm

Good luck to everyone, I personally don't think we need any more members but.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

My Skills:

PHP, Flash development, Server administration, Some python, and most importantly being awesome.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Which sections am I most active in?:

I'm most active in the lounge. The reason for this is because it's very active, and I just love reading all of the interesting posts in there.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Why I want to join The Empire:

Well, The Empire is a very distinguished group. As I see it, it is full of smart, well-respected members. Not to mention, the userbar is pretty sexy.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Why I think I should be accepted into The Empire:

I think that I should be accepted into The Empire because I am loyal, hard working, and will do pretty much anything to achieve my goals. My main desire on HF is to expand my knowledge in general.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

About me personally:

My name is Avery, i'm 15 years old and live in Michigan. Some of my favorite activities include reading, writing, talking to friends, swimming, and skiing. I love meeting new people and making new friends. I'm pretty laid back, and my favorite thing to do is improve my knowledge, by learning new skills and abilities.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

What caused me to stay active on HF:

When I first joined HF, my intent was to learn more about coding. I learned PHP from some eBooks and other resources on the forum, and fell in love with it. After a while, I started to enjoy reading all of the threads and being a member of the community in general. That's when I purchased l33t and eventually ub3r.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

My skills vary, they vary from technical aspects to coding. I used to run a web host which had to be constantly worked on, from maintaining the servers to configuring them for the client to helping the clients with any support that they needed. I am able to code PHP, basic C++, Python and HTML.

I have a sense of humour, you can see that by some of my posts. I am serious when I need to be, as in doing a project or something else of that sort. I try not to waste time. If I have nothing to do I will find something to do. First I'd look at an education perspective (coding, etc) else I'd find something to entertain myself and browse HF and try to help others or simply have a general chat amongst people.

Since a young age I have been interested in technology. I honestly can't remember the time I first got online, but I guess I was playing games. I went onto one game and saw some people cheating, which made me want to have a go. I was young and downloaded a program and used that for a while. The creator of that was respected a lot, and one day I simply thought "How does this work?". I went looking around and found out it was modifying packets and sending them to the client. I found out that it was written in VB.NET and decided to take a look at the source and try to understand it.

Rather than me taking that code, I decided to try it in C# and got a basic structure. This is where I got interested in programming. Even though I didn't get far with that, I went to develop some things for that game, such as a CMS system which was written in PHP with HTML and CSS.

I released a CMS system a long time ago on an MMO forum, but that closed down once the game started to die, so no example there. Although there I've helped quite a few people in the PHP section if you want to back that up.

Since I use IRC, I use znc which is a bouncer. All the modules are coded in C++. I've wanted to learn C++ for a long time, but my I wasn't sure what I could create which could be useful. So I decided to code my own module which was more than 500 lines of code just for my first module. Modules are about as far as I've been with C++.

In the long term, I of course, want to work in the technology profession. For now I want to go to university and do a Computer Science degree and hopefully get a career on that end.

I'm the kind of person who likes critique. Even though some people find critique to come across as mean, I know it is only there to help you improve on your skills and not to put you down. You could either have bad coding practice (taking coding as an example) or get some critique and do it the proper way. I like to keep my computer clean.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I can't say I'm most active in any section, I post in topics which I find most relevant to post it or that I am able to help in. I usually look at the Computing and Coding forums. Although, judging from my posting activity it used to be WHH section (when I used to try give some support there) and the Windows section, again, to give support.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

Because it is a reputable group. You have a lot of HQ members on-site which I see frequently trying to support other members with their skills they are able to offer. I would like to improve on a few aspects which I think The Empire would benefit me. I am a keen learner, if I wanted to learn something I'd sit down by myself and read a lot of documentation which will help me learn it. I see a lot of different members spread out into different sections, either learning or giving their skills which gives the group itself a high standard.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that I should have a chance with The Empire since I usually help people while I'm also learning from other topics which can be found on other websites. Even though I've not got the best reputation figure I have been a member for a long time and not gained a single warning throughout my whole experience within HackForums. I am not a smartass, I respect other peoples' opinions. I can have a debate without getting into arguments. I do not hold grudges against anyone, so if someone and me have a disagreement I could just leave it fly over my head.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am currently working towards a technical qualificaion in college, which is more hardware based. Once I finish, I want to work towards getting a spot into university for computer science. In my own time, I like to either browse HF, code things (which are probably relevant to me, I have something ready to release in my own time), chat with friends (IRL), gaming or simply chatting amonst IRC. I've got a product in my head which I may start working on, I just need to get the base and things sorted for it, which hopefully will be able to partner with someone, possibly in The Empire which I will be able to work with.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Family and my education. My family is a pretty obvious one which I shouldn't need to explain. Education is very important to me, since I want to move on to higher education in aspects I feel I'm greater at. I want to have a decent future with a decent pay therefor I want to do as much as I can with my education. This is something I will be working towards the hardest I possibly can. This is a very important aspect of life and I take it very seriously. I want a good life with a decent income, then I can fulfil some of my dreams.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I'm not going to lie, I had a spike where I didn't bother coming on HackForums (although, I have a reason, any leader can PM me for it). At first I came here to learn about coding and reading about malware, which not long after I had to leave. Since I have came back, I have tried to help people or generally chat amongst others.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Anything else you would like to say:

Sure. I'm not going to sugar-coat my application. I am what I am and I hope you respect that.

Ah yeah, I'm also a humorous person and can have a joke.

Thanks for reading and thank you for the opportunity.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:I know a little HTML. Also trying to learn PHP maybe little graphics here and there. But I would like to be a rat specialist. Learning how to do GFX with photoshop also.Love gaming with people on any game I can play with them on. I love to pawn noobs on CoD Ghost.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.Lounge, Because there's a lot of cool people there I meet new people everyday. Some of them are trolls but yes some trolls can be friendly, and awesome to speak with. I love to read about methods also buy membership for a Stresser, In the marketplace section also I'm wondering about if I should be active in the currency exchange scene as it's becoming popular now I would like to see what others and I have to offer.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:I heard great things about it also want to meet new people and learn new things. Heard it's very active and friendly, I was kicked out of a group before and it felt so boring. I'm not trying to join because of the userbar like some people but I would love to know how good it is I won't be a member who's wasting space.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: Because, I was kicked out of another group.. I was sad because of that and I changed my ways from being "LQ" and I'm trying to be HQ as possible and be friendly to all users.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm 16 I grew up in New York I also moved to North Carolina for almost 2 years. I was depressed down there so we moved back close to my family. Also I always had a dream that one day I will be running a restaurant with my family or just me by myself.

I'm a caring and loving person. I don't disrespect anybody that doesn't disrespect me. I love to be respected and respect others. I also treat others the way I want to be treated.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My priorities are to take care of my little sister. My little sister is much important to me without her I don't know what I would do.. She's my sunlight when i'm feeling down. I try to get her as many things she likes because I never had it when I was little . Also to become one of the best people in GFX as i'm learning how to do specific things in artwork.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hack forums after first joining?

The people on the forum made me stay. When I first joined I felt welcomed. Most of the members that would I would ask for help actually helped me with what I needed which was an awesome feeling to me. Also about making money I was seeing lots of eBook methods, Would love to be an HQ reviewer.

Anything else you would like to say:

Yes that I would love to be apart of The Empire family. I will be active in the sub forum, Also heard that it's active and very friendly.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

My skills include but are not limited to marketing, network security, making everyone laugh, Lots of business experience. I'm very well known on games for making lots of money on a variety of different games. I'm good at PC/Xbox One/Ps4 games I own all consoles. I enjoy streaming my content aswell to share with others. Most of all I am business oriented at all times and I'm always looking for new business ideas.

[img]<http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png>[/img]

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I'm most active in the gaming section and also the giveaway section. I've got 3 giveaway threads that have 10k views and 2k+ replies. I've given back alot to the community because I've earned quite a bit of money and appreciate everything this forum has done for me. I will always remember where I came from and not forget the "little people" just because they are not upgraded. I remember when I was in their shoes and was shown grace and mentorship. Gaming is not where most of my skills lie but where I enjoy spending my free time. I also lurk most of the marketplace and services sections to find future business opportunity.

[img]<http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png>[/img]

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I have always looked up to the members in this group because none of them were accepted for being LQ. Every single person in the group was fully qualified which is why it's so important for me to get accepted because I know for a fact that i'm fully qualified and will prove it to you in this application. I hope to get to know more people who think like me and are always trying to better themselves and others.

[img]<http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png>[/img]

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I have so much to offer to the group in every aspect. I'm all about business, I am always open to new business ideas and am not shy to invest. I am looking for a group of people who view business the same as I do. I hope to bring many great products to the marketplace in the near future. I know this sounds cliché but when I say that I've wanted to join this group since the very beginning I mean it with full certainty. I will be a great addition to the group by being active in the sub-forums, Always being available to help other users, and above all set a good example for such a prestigious group.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: I'm a very outgoing person and have always been very passionate about everything I do and put time and effort into. I value my time considerably but i'm always willing to help anyone. As for life events that are quite memorable I have a excellent story.

I was leaving a movie theatre on spring break of last year in my 2011 G37s coupe. I get on the highway and begin to speed up to 90 miles an hour to catch up with a beautiful Ferarri that caught my eye. We both speed up to like 110 as we go under a bridge. As we do this a blacked out police tahoe was waiting under the bridge who radar'd us both, turned on his lights/siren, and proceeded to pull off the side of the high way and chase us. Before I had time to think of what to do the other car decided to downshift and create the loudest roar I've heard to this day and sped up. I mistakingly desided to evade the cops aswell and proceeded to speed up to speeds of over 130 mph. I took the first exit and the other car took the second exit. At this point we had lost the police car behind us but as I'm turning right at the light at the exit two police cars come behind me and another in front of me.

I'm told to put my hands on the steering wheel and turn the car off at gun point by 3 or 4 officers. I'm then pulled out of my car and thrown to the pavement. The cop tells me what a dumb ass I am and puts me in handcuffs and into the back of his car. My car is then towed and we drive up the access road till the next exit where the beautiful ferarri I'd seen previous had crashed into a police cruiser. He is then pulled out in the same fashion and both of us are carted off to the holding center at the police station. My dad bailed me out of jail at 3 AM and brought be home but that's the worst feeling I've ever experienced in my stomach. I couldn't beleive I had just committed a Felony and possibly ruined the rest of my life. Luckily my dad happens to be a Lawyer and negotiated diverted justice. This was a major life changer for me when I realized I had to finally grow up and make something of my self. The car wasn't taken away from me because I did pay for it with my own money which is one of my biggest accomplishments. ($32,500 at 16)

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My priorities in life are to better myself while making the world a better place. I was taught at a very young age that you can either make something of your self or be another member of the masses. I've always strived to provide the best representation of myself and always keep my word. If I tell you i'm going to do something, I'm damn well going to do it. All I have in this life is my word and I dont break it.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? I joined Hackforums because I saw a great community that is filled with other individuals who all want to better themselves. This forum's greatness has been from all the loyal users who use it and contribute every day to make it the place it is today. I stayed active because I enjoyed learning something new everyday and meeting great people who have become life-long friends.

State/Country: MD , USA

Time Zone: -5 GMT

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

I am Advanced in marketing and have been an Entrapure for about 6 years have my own business consulting company just filled paper work for the llc on it we build websites do social media managment for the companies market the companies ect... I love partnerships and new products or services and would love to assist with the empires product line ! I am very good At investigating into things , I investigate websites To find out If they are legit or scamming people. Currently I am investigating The "Suicide " Of a HF Member Who Was bullied In The ub3r Skype Chat Ill add link later , I have Been contacting the family Of the young 13 Year old To gather evidence From His Computer And I made a promise To him the night Before He supposedly committed Suicide I was linked To a article From a local news station But his recent posts Before He passed Away Seemed Very Normal Not Suicidal .

UPDATE : It was not a suicide They just drove him off of hack forums With some very mean sites made about him with his dox and inappropriate pictures .

What section are you most active in and why?

I Am Very Active In The IRC , Botnet section because it is what I am Most interested In, But I have been catching up in the Hiring and partnership Section because I love making projects and helping other people complete there projects I have went thru the life of many websites many booters Helped them get setup and made alot of money from that section I guess you could equate me to a project manager because I get stuff done ! I love projects , Hopefully the Empire has plenty of projects or even just one for me to help out with !

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would be Honored to join The Empire because I am Advanced in marketing and have been an Entrapure for about 6 years have my own business consulting company just filled paper work for the llc on it we build websites do social media managment for the companies market the companies ect... I love partnerships and new products or services and would love to assist with the empires product line ! since I first Joined HF the very first person I looked Up To for help was Tibit and he helped me and got me to the group I am In now and I am So So Grateful for that , Also the member Mad Who is also In The Empire Is an amazing help to me With My Linux Bots ,

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted Into The Empire because I Would love to help newer members in every aspect of hacking Ect because I belive everyone starts out somewhere and I believe someone needs To help them Get started as Tibit did for me !

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Always was good at hacking at first it was Just to be better at flash games my friends and i used to play so i used cheat engine i thought i was a badass using cheat engine on school computers in elementary school, my parents couldn't afford a quality computer so my uncle Bought me a brand new computer so i thought back then ,I look at it 2 years ago at my grandmothers house It was a stolen windows 2000 , I from there larned batch coding and stupid things of that sort it wasn't till i was about 14 that i stopped hacking for fun ,I had a big house a badass 4 core i bought myself then huge financial problems i move to an apartment i started hacking to make money , Now here i am about to go into the Navy Seals Hacking for fun almost all the profit i make i donate to HF or some random begger , My new goal is to help as many people as possible On HF

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

The highest is Family

Family Always will come first to me because when you lose everything and everyone your family is still there for you standing by your side like they have always been (hopefully) .

My Career

Of going into the Navy Seals Shortly I am very disiplined when it comes to what I eat And my workout ,

Groups , Friends

I always help out my friends as long as it does not interfere with the two above priorities !

Anything else you want to say:

Thankyou for taking the time to read my Application !

Also If I Am Accepted into The Empire , I Will Dedicate Myself Into Helping 1000 Members Within 1 Year From My acceptation Date , And I will Be Helping All Those Members In The Name Of The Empire ! , Witch Is only 3 Users A Day But I will Do it ! Long Live The Empire !

GFX - I've recently starting practicing GFX as I wish to pursue it as a Career and or Profession when I get older. Hopefully I can learn how to do all forms of Photo editing and Video editing etc etc.. I will also practice with things like Google Sketchup for additional Skills.

Groups - I'm always looking to expand my Diversity, I usually check which groups are recruiting and if a New Group has come out or not.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: Well, I was in it before but was removed because I didn't have much Computer access back then to do the Activity Checks... I know it's a very "Noob" Friendly group haha, Very nice members and easy and fun group :) One of my Favorite groups, one I can actually be a part of without just wanting to sport the userbar.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: Well i don't honestly, i am still sort of new to the forum and still a lot to learn. Although i know you could use someone like me, i am useful in Tech, Gaming, GFX, Web design, Learning Fast, Helping, Teaching & just giving advice in general.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: Well, this will sound a bit weird but anime and gaming makes me who i am, a bunch of anime series are very inspiring to change myself which makes me the man i am today. Gaming also changes me to a cry baby honestly, but anime makes me stronger. My hobbies are Gaming, GFX, Web design, Basketball, Helping Others, hanging out with friends, Chatting, watching anime, drawing, Martial Arts etc... I'm most good with Computers, Art, Martial Arts, Physical Education, Web Design and GFX. All my life i have grown up looking down at the floor, but now i look up into the sky dreaming to soar like a crow in the sky, with wings. Ehh you wouldn't understand. I know your not looking for someone that isn't afraid to show emotion and be real in a application, but i don't want to be a fake person just to get in. Besides all this, i am a nice calm guy and if you look at my Rep many people seem to like me even though i tells em how i sees em.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? What is most important to me you ask? Well i love computers and tech in general, although i love martial arts , gaming and such things... Life is just as fun as the technology genius life. I know many people would call someone of my potential a "Low-Life" but that would be implying that i have less life than you have meaning i will die sooner D: and i know that's not true! But all in all, i live to help others and in my opinion that is all that matters.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Well, a lot of my friends use to talk about this and i didn't exactly know what it was so i never really payed attention too it. But now i am very active (Daily) and this is the only website i am apart of besides about 3 others. HackForums has many stations and is the best of its kind of website. It has many nice individuals and many not so nice.

Anything else you would like to say:

I really hope i will be accepted into the empire, i really want to expand my knowledge in each subject you have to offer. I know this group is very HQ, this will be the Second group ive joined so far on HF... the only other groups i am in is "Complexity" & / my main group "HF L33T" i know you get many applications so this wont be easy for me to get in. But i do meet the requirements so i hope i am accepted. Sorry for wasting your time if i am not accepted.

Here is a key to improving your application:

Make it different from the rest.

HueyTheGod - January 27, 2014, 6:28 pm

Name: HueyTheGod

Age: 14

Gender: Male

Religion: Agnostic / Atheist

State/Country: Oklahoma, United States of America

Time Zone:Central

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:Beginning development and design. I learn from my friends dads companies coders. They teach me HTML5, CSS3, Javascript (jQuery and JSON), and ASP.Net. I am still to much of a noob to get anything worth money done (IMO) and still have a long ways to go but I can get it done!

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: Seems like a highly reputable group with members from the lounge to the marketplace to the gaming area. Professional looking group with professional looking members (By this I mean good avatars and signatures, proper grammar and mostly educated post). I personally do not know much between all the groups, as I get all my group info from people's post about their 2 year anniversary or what ever it may be.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I truly do not know if I deserve it, but I very much wish to acquire I position in it. I haven't given much to the community (Not that I have the money to hold give a ways for rep lol) but I haven't taken much from the community either. (Unless we count bandwidth)

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am 14 years old and live in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. I haven't really had a hard life, but I do have a very decision making one. Always being forced to answer something, and face the consequences of it when I never wanted to answer in the first place. My parents are divorced, and live with my mom due to her basically lying to me as a kid and raised me to hate my dad and taking custody of me (Which I hate her for). I go to my dads on the weekends, and would love to go and live with him, but sadly I wouldn't be able to take my dog with me and that is the only reason I still live with my mom.

I spend most of my time on the computer, learning programming languages or reading the news. I like to be kept up in my world around me, and to try my hardest not to be a sheep like the people around me.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? My priorities are my computer. I don't enjoy sports, my friends are autistic cancerous idiots who would try to hump anything shaped like an ass, and my mom is really making me hate anything she likes because she forces everything upon me (Religion, sports, shit like that).

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? I decided to stay because unlike most forums, I can reload the recent post and be filled with brand new post instantly! I love how big the community is and think this will be my new home.

Anything else you would like to say: I know this isn't my most quality work, but I am really feeling down after fighting with my mom again.

Hack Em's Empire Application

Name:

Hack Em/Alex/Mikey

Age:

I am currently 17

Gender:

Male

Religion:

I have multiple beliefs/theories.

State/Country:

Australia

Time Zone:

Australian Eastern Time Zone (UTC+10:00)

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Spoiler (Click to View)

Ratting

Ratting is really what had started me off when first getting in to black hat activities. Over time I have gained an excessive amount of knowledge in this area and have taught myself how to maintain and utilize every install in order to milk as much of its resources as possible. I am also extremely familiar with Botnets as well as Botnet set ups etc.

Social Engineering

Throughout my course of gaining knowledge I came across Social Engineering. It startled me how one could use the sweet words from his tongue to literally get anything he wants. I was intrigued by this form of black hat and through out time I have gotten wiser thus resulting in extensive and a sensational amount of knowledge in this particular area. I'd say this would be one of my strong points as I have achieved and received things most users dream about.

Monetizing

Over the years I have overcome basic and small time monetizing techniques and moved on to more bigger money producing techniques.

These include:

- eBay marketing
- Adsense exchanging
- CPA & PPD
- And other various monetizing techniques

Media

I have basic knowledge in photo/video and music editing using programs and have the ability to create signatures, Avatars and any logo's needed. I use a variety of programs such as:

- Adobe Photoshop
- Adobe Premier
- Cubase (all versions)
- Mixcraft
- And other various musical and graphical software

Here is a thread design and signature I made for myself using Adobe Photoshop.

Gaming

I am currently the owner of successful Garrysmod and CSS, CS:GO Community As well as a small time Australian Game service providing company. Donations from my servers have bought me vast amounts of cash, as well as the profit I make off of my business.

I play on these consoles:

- Xbox 360
- PS3
- PC

I am heavily in to competing and any form of gaming, If there's a challenge I'll do anything and everything in my power to come out on top.

eWhoring

I have a vast amount of knowledge when it comes to this area, I've been ewhoring for the past 2 years or so and have gained devastating amount of knowledge. I have the ability to make as much money as I need in any circumstance. Say I see something I like and I need around $150 to get it and the offer ends in 3 hours. I have the skills in hand to carry out and complete all tasks possible to achieve this goal with ease.

eWhoring is most likely my strongest point when it comes to money making.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

Spoiler (Click to View) I am very much active in the Legion sub-forum as well as The Lounge and various other sub forums. I am basically an all rounder in my opinion, I refresh the latest posts and comment where I am able to help.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

Spoiler (Click to View) I would like to join The Empire because I believe that many users in the group share similar interests as my self. I am seeking for new friendships as well as a new community to interact with.

I have had no trouble with any users before nor have I seen any of them flaming or harassing people. This gives me the impression that the group is about loyalty and quality.

Something which I'd like to be apart of.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

Spoiler (Click to View) I believe I would be a valuable asset to The Empire because of the fact that I am generous. I am willing to contribute to not only the group but every single member with in it to achieve every goal possible. Once I set my mind on something I am set, The Empire would be my main priority and I would dedicate all my time and effort to uphold my name and reputation for the group. I strive for all my work to be as high quality as can be, I'm not here to muck about. I am open minded and an easy guy to approach. I am a helpful and caring member no matter who you are or where your from. I am not bias in any way and I am willing to push myself to my full potential for this group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Spoiler (Click to View) I remember 6-7 months ago I played the part of an Extra on an Australian TV series. We were shooting a scene in Kings Cross, Sydney. During my break I met a homeless boy who started to speak with me as I was eating. I gave the boy half of my food and from then on we became friends. I helped the boy get in to a local homeless care center and he is now residing in a housing commission home in South West Sydney. I helped the boy get a job as well as teach him some critical life lessons.

From this i'd say that I am a kind, helpful person whether it be on the net or real life. I strive to get things done as fast and as high quality as I can leaving room to fix any errors on the way. I am also multilingual as I have grown up in a multicultural part of the world and have little to no trouble when it comes to dealing with people overseas. I am undoubtedly a strong willed person and once a challenge is set I am determined to get it done and completed as efficiently as possible. I am open minded and unbiased to what ever may be thrown at me. I'm a great learner and an easy guy to talk to. I have the mindset of a business man and thrive on perfection.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Spoiler (Click to View) My priorities lie within my education as well as my social and cyber life. I strive my hardest at school to achieve above average grades as I do online. Apart from education I'd say family and providing for my family would be most important for me. I do love to game from time to time (this can mess up my priorities) but that doesn't stop me from doing the most important things in life.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Spoiler (Click to View)What caused me to stay active on Hackforums would definantly have to be the community. I love interracting with others and there is really never a dull moment on here. In my time within this forum I can kindly step back and say that I've made an astounding amount of friends as well as had a slight impact on some users.

I am very proud to call myself a member of this forum.

Anything else you would like to say:

I would personally like to thank those who review my application and good luck to everyone who applies!

May the people who have made reserved posts simply not post until your application is done? It's a bit annoying having a post saying along the lines of your post is a place holder. There is a feature on the site for saving drafts.

On the discussion of the applications posted so far; I honestly have enjoyed a few of them. I'm looking forward to reading more of them as they are posted.

Compulsive's Application

Name: Compulsive | CJ

Age: 15

Gender: Male

Religion: Christian

State/Country: Illinois, USA

Time Zone: Central Standard Time

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

My skills are in Social Engineering, Graphics, as well as Gaming.

Social Engineering: I have always been a debater. Right now I am on the debate team for my high school. It comes naturally to me. I always find a little slip in even 1 word and can change it around to my liking.

Graphics: I am not as good in the section compared to social engineering and Gaming, but I do have experience in graphics. I do more blank canvas edits.

Gaming: Probably my most promising section. I started gaming when a little bit after the GameCube came out and since then, I have played on the Xbox, Xbox 360, and now, PC gaming. From this many years of gaming, I would say I am very experienced in gaming.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I try to post more often, but find myself lurk around Innuendo. I have also been asking in the giveaways section because I only have a job in the summer, since I referee. That being said, I ask for more than I give. Once I get back on my feet, I will give way more. I also post frequently in the League of Legends section.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I want to join Empire for many reasons. First of all, I would like to say how every member of The Empire actually acknowledges others equally. That is one of the best qualities of a group because I have been taught from my parents to respect others, which I do. Not to mention the userbar is so sexy as well as the purple and silver colors to it. I also want to join because I feel that this group makes the most high quality posts out of all groups.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I deserve to and should be accepted because I am not afraid to try new things and venture out of my comfort zone. I feel more comfortable not being comfortable (if that makes any sense). I am also energetic and lively to others and not afraid to say what's on my mind. Is that a bad thing? No, I only say what's on my mind when it is appropriate. To my friends, that is another story, but in a formal setting or where there are others, I try to keep myself composed and try to get to the point and try to not criticize anyone. We all know that could be hard, and maybe once or twice that has happened, but it happens to even the best of us.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Like I said in the previous question, I am outgoing, and not afraid to step outside my comfort zone. This being said, I am a natural leader and not afraid to stick up for someone, no matter who it is. My life motto is to never back down. I have always followed by this rule. The most life changing event was back in middle school. I had a soccer coach, and he gave me this one tip: "Even if you kick the ball away, you need to have that desire to get it back, and show everyone else what you were meant to do with the ball". This didn't only apply in soccer. This let me try harder in school, since my future now depends on it. This has so far kept with me through high school, and am getting A's in all AP honors classes, which will go towards college credit.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

In life, I have only a couple of priorities, and others that fall close to it. My number one priority is school. My parents have pushed me to do good in school because of a future I could have. I am in all AP classes, so you see I do in fact take it seriously. My second priority is family. Friends will never be there 100% of the time like your family. I am an only child, but pay for my own things, and I try to take care of my parents to the best of my ability. My last priority is Soccer. I have played soccer since Pre-K and have not taken a break. For some odd reason, it has never been boring to me. I just started this year with my travel club a youth leadership program. I volunteer with first and second graders at their practices and days of extra training. What falls right next to Soccer, and everything else is my computer, I can live without it, but have just recently gotten into coding, so I am trying to learn programming code for classes available next year.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Anything else you would like to say:

I would like to say thanks to whoever is reading this application for taking time to read and acknowledge this application, and it means a lot to me. I am completely fine if you don't accept me. I will not break out in tears, or call you a noob, or anything along those lines.

Thanks,
~Compulsive

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

My Skills:

My skills are wide spread, from being able to host COD lobbies to knowledge about animals. I am a very big car enthusiast, I can almost answer any questions you have about cars. I am a very adaptive learner and a quick learner as well. If someone gives me the basics to anything I will catch on and learn in no time.

Which sections am I most active in?:

I am very interested in the lounge, because it is a mix of every day to day things. Runescape, I love playing runescape I have played since I was 14. Pet, I have a dog and my uncle runs a 340 acre dairy and beef farm, also goats, chickens and horses. Personal Life, because I believe that I might have went throughout the same scenario so I am willing to help. And Xbox, because I love me some xbox.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Why I want to join The Empire:

I have noticed that you have the most HQ members on the site, and think that I will get a long with everyone in the group and I feel that I could better benefit to and from the group. Also, you have the most amazing USERBAR I have ever seen.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Why I think I should be accepted into The Empire:

Well I believe that everyone is entitled to a chance, and I feel that when I see a opportunity that I go for it, even if I get shot down, it was worth a try. I deserve to be in this group because I have confidence and am able to adapt very quickly, and the fact that I am willing to learn ANYTHING, and when I do learn I will give it 200%.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

About me personally:

I have recently joined the Free Masons a couple months ago, I am also a member of Kappa Sigma at my university. I am a junior and have a GPA of 3.6. I was closer to my grandfather than anyone in my life, and sadly a misdiagnosis lead him to colon cancer, it was a huge shock to me I was around 17 at the time, I was closer to him than my parents or anyone, I looked up to him. I watched and heard stories how when he was a kid he couldn't even afford a shirt for his youth baseball team so he went out and collected cans so he could buy the shirt at that young of age is amazing. He had no education and build a cleaning business that my father still runs today that skyrocketed and made him a millionaire and over. He was also the Grand Master of Free Maonry, in 92. He is the reason I wanted to join the Mason, also one of the most charitable organizations in the world. I am just a good ole country boy, that believes in hard work, blood sweat and tears. I also Drag Race on the weekends I have a Chevy S10 with a 405 Big block engine, that is wicked fast, it is just the most fun anyone could have. I am also trained in firearms and am very knowledgable in forearm I shoot every weekend.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

What caused me to stay active on HF:

A friend told me about the site so I checked it out and made a account, well I started posting and realized it is amazing how much knowledge is on this forum, I could learn so much from each and every individual, that reason I am staying on this set for as long as they will have me, I want to learn as much as possible. I also plan on buying L33T very soon.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Anything else?:

Thank you for reading this, and I hope I am a prospect, I always keep my hopes high and I am willing to get right to work to help benefit and to benefit to the Empire. And if you would like me to make a video I would gladly love to do so, that would be no problem whatsoever. Hope everyone has a wonderful day. And thanks again!

Delevingne - January 28, 2014, 2:07 am

Name: DaloSec (aka Avärage Dalo)

Age: 15 years old

Gender: Male

Religion: None

State/Country: The Netherlands

Time Zone: GMT +1

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

My skills are Graphical Art, Marketing, and have a good talk with a customer.

I've been support of many big companies, and I'm still support of a big name on the market.

I've been Admin of BlackShades, Live-support for Elyxa-Stresser, and I'm currently support for Big Bang Booter.

I am always in the mood to create a design for my friends, for free.

I also enjoy making userscripts, and currently learning more about it.

I'm busy with some tutorials, and love to share what I know to other people.

Which section are you most active in and why?

Currently in the Complexity-subforum because there is a rule.

I have to complete graphical assignment's and have to make discussion-related threads.

I'm also active in the marketplace because I sell a few things.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

In my eyes The Empire is the best group. It's been here since I was active on HackForums. The Empire does have high quality members, and that is making The Empire a HQ-group.

I never see something bad from The Empire, and it always had nice products.

I would like to join, to meet new members, and help people with what I know.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I can offer The Empire workshops, and tutorials. I can contribute to The Empire a lot.

I can also do give-away's under The Empire's name, but also only for The Empire.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

When I joined HackForums I only was looking for some hacking tools, Tools like "facebook_hacker.exe" and "twitter_bot.exe", well.. ending up that are fake programs, and viruses. I came in contact with Skiezo™ and in that time he was owner of the stresser named "Elyxa-Stresser" and he showed me that he could take down people, and website's. This made me very interested in a stresser, the only problem was that I didn't had PayPal. So I made PayPal, putted my first €25 on it, and bought Elyxa-stresser. It was a wonderful service and did enjoy it. That made me stay on HackForums.

Since I already did graphics, I made some for Skiezo™ and his stresser. I became a sort of "co-owner" from Elyxa-stresser and I did all the GFX work. I became really active in graphic-sector, did not post much, but followed a lot tutorials and that made me better and better. At the moment I'm (my opinion) pretty good in minimal designs, and have a pretty good sight on the designs.

HackForums is something I browse everyday for a couple hours, else my day isn't complete. I enjoy reading everything, and like to see how to community changed. (In the time I'm on HF) It has not changed 100% positive, but the HF-community is the nicest community I know, online. The groups on HF is something I really liked from the moment I joined.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My friends, my family, and my money.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Stressers, it really intrested me. (Also the community is the nicest community, that made me also stay.)

Anything else you would like to say:

Thanks for the opportunity.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples): Things related to finances, promotional related subjects and marketing. Explaining further in my voice portion aswell.

What section are you most active in and why?

I'd say the marketplace is my primary focus point, as I often have either things to sell or things that I need, it can be used in so many ways and that's what I like about it. I wish to aspire to be better at helping other users in those related sections, which I'm trying to get myself to do more.

Why do you want to join The Empire?

The Empire, as I've seen it go through the years is a group that I've always held significant respect for. It's a group that has always held the most high quality, ambitious and positive users on the boards. I'm wanting to learn something from everyone, meet new acquaintances and share my knowledge to dedicate it.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?

I'm a very dedicated and loyal person. I'm a user of many capabilities and qualities and I am certain that you won't regret me as an addition. Also further explained in my voice portion.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you

Explained in my voice portion.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

To get out there and do something that means something to me, and to dedicate my time to something that I truly enjoy, something that I feel like is worth it. I want to make something of myself, and my priorities mainly lie in associating myself with people as well as studying hard to expand myself personally.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

The name was catchy firstly, as back in the day I just wanted to be a "pro haxor", but well I changed my mind when I chose to look at it as a community. I found it to be interesting and I stuck around ever since, I just did.

Anything else you want to say?

Covered in my voice portion.

Thank you for taking your time to read my application for The Empire.

Just to note, reserving spots does not matter, it's probably worse to be honest. Leaders review as applications are posted usually to have a list growing so they don't have to do 40-50 pages at once. So sometimes they don't go all the way back to pages they've reviewed already.

I reserved my spot for like 5 seconds so I could add banner and align everything I hope that was okay. If not I'm sorry.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Firstly, I am a beginner in Visual Basic. The reason why I am learning this language is because I chose GCSE Computing as subject to learn throughout year ten and eleven. As practice I made a little Cookie Clicker which was inefficient but I learned how to do a few things by creating the program.

Secondly, I have recently got back into E-Whoring and have earned $75 in about four-five days, which I am proud to have done. By E-Whoring I have learned how to set-up everything needed to E-Whore successfully and start earning. With this knowledge I have taught some members whom have asked me for help or needed questions answering, which was pleased with my reply.

Thirdly, I am and have been very interested in gaming from a young age. I enjoy playing games and have became quite good when I get back into them such as; The Call of Duty series, Halo series etc.

Concluding this, I am very confident and learn new skills and have two main skills which can benefit me.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'm currently most active in the Lounge section. I love expressing my opinion and seeing other's opinions on the thread's topic!

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I look-up to The Empire as a "role-model." I want to better myself to achieve the attributes The Empire has. The Empire stands out more than any other group, is high quality and is the one I respect the most. All its members reflect these different attributes within each thread and post they make.

The Empire has been the group which has been the group which has stood out the most since I have joined Hack-Forums. It's probably because its members are high quality and create amazing threads to contribute and stand out to the community.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think I should be accepted into The Empire because I have dedicated my time contributing and helping our community despite their rank or reputation. This is because I live by the motto, "Treat others the way you want to be treated" - if they don't disrespect or hate me, unless it's constructive criticism, I will be nice and respect them in return.

I would love to wear your user-bar with proud and give The Empire a good image publicly by contributing and helping our community with their needs.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Hey Tibit, the Leaders and The Empire, my name is Connor and I'm 15 years-old. I'm the typical British person as I love my cup of teas with my digestive biscuits!

I have two interests which I have hung on too from a young age. I love gaming and the mechanics behind the games such as the coding etc. As I have mentioned in the above I'm learning Visual Basic in GCSE Computing, I'm thoroughly enjoying my computing lessons and are extremely interested and are eagerly learning computing topics.

My grammar has improved tremendously over the last one and a half years. This is because I joined a Garry's mod community, became admin and was always shouted at by a individual about my grammar. I use to read back my posts and I wondered to myself, "How could anybody understand me?" As I was shouted at about my grammar, I started learning more and more to the point of having nice, good quality grammar which was readable.

Well that's me and my interests.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My priorities in life are school and education. I have been moving up sets in school progressively moving into higher groups to learn harder topics which will effect my GCSE grade for my subjects. Education is very interesting to me, I try and try at the topic till I understand it then are proud I have learned how to do the topic / question.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I always looked for an extremely popular forum where I could post and discussion various topics with others, ultimately making friends. As the forum was popular I stuck by it enjoying the variety of threads and sections which are very active. I slowly started to post more because at first I was too scared to post because I thought I would be hated on, but I overcame that fear. That's why I stayed with Hack-Forums.

Thank you for this opportunity.

I love making graphics for people. I help with networking infrastructures for small businesses. Taking classes at gateway to further extend my knowledge on networking. Video editing is one of my passions.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

Mostly the Market. I love viewing and posting on what people are selling and what their product has to offer. Once in a while I like to post in the Lounge or in other sections.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

From what I understand and have herd, the Empire group has been a great group from the start. I see many people that are great at what they do that are in this group. The users that are accepted into this group are very friendly as well. I would like to be accepted into this group because it will allow me to further access more forums and open myself up to a whole new community. I will be active in the forums as required.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I believe that I should be accepted because I am willing to be active and respectful to all of the members in this group. I will be helpful and have a positive influence on the members of the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Growing up I never really had a father figure. My dad left my mother before I was even born. The thing is, my dad never knew about me until I was four years old. That's when my mother went to see him and give him pictures of me. Currently I still have never had any contact with him in my life. When I was four years old my mom met this guy, at first they were not serious. Then it started to get serious. Him and I would always go do activities. He was my father growing up and I am so lucky and thankful he came around. They are still together to this day going strong. My point to this story is that I have found a real dad. That is what is so memorable about the story. That he has been there forever. Once other thing that was memorable was when I was first learning how to hack. The school that I was going to didn't have a lot of things blocked. This allowed me to spread a virus everytime someone opened Internet at school. Sadly someone told on me. I ended up getting expelled at that school for doing this. I was in fifth grade while doing this.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My family is one of the most important priority in my life. I also am very thankful for all of my friends that I have had my life. My priority right now I graduate High School and go to college for a four year degree in computer science.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on HF after first joining?

One of my first impressions of HF was that it was interesting to see how many people were really on this forum. I stayed because I wanted to be active on a big community forum site. I loved all of the things that HF had to offer.

Anything else you would like to say:

Thank you for giving me the opportunity to apply to be in the group. Have a nice day.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

What stands out about me is assisting oneself and others. I am somebody who always tries to find ways to improve this site. I have made countless(sometime pointless) suggestions that Emylbus will attest to. I have yet to make a real forum changing attributes and I cant wait till the day I come up with an idea to help the community as a whole.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I understand you are looking for somebody with class. High standards. But, I also understand that you are looking for somebody with good intentions at heart. If that is true, I am not ashamed to say I have participated in Habitat for Humanity. I have been apart of outward bound. I have gone to soup kitchens 2 times. I have given money to the homeless and I also tell webmasters where they need to improve on their site.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

On HackForums, I like to be the kind of guy who is carefree. That gets me in trouble sometimes :p Posting etiquette, Black-hat activity, and mine-craft hacking has been in my warnings. I can give an explanation for each. And tell you why I deserved each one. I have a loose tongue, so yes I do not plan on being the guy that is always gonna be uptight and "purse lipped" so to speak.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?
Get a girlfriend. Marry her. Rule the world.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?
In all honesty it was to gain knowledge. And because of other members. I made a post a while back asking for help on revenge because an exbf beat up my GF when I was not in town. So, I had requested a hack saying "Ub3r In Need Of Revenge Assistance". So, I had several people to SMS bomb his phone, rumor has it, it was about 3000 messages. He called the cops. They did nothing. I had somebody give me a step by step on how to order pizzas to some guys house. So, I sent him about 200$ worth from all the local shops. And this was all because I got the respect of fellow members. I was extremely pleased that because I designated myself as an ub3r that I got the help I received because of sympathy and respect. I honestly, when i saw all the response from the members I teared up a little. But, "somebody" eventually confronted the dude with a bat to his car and that was the end of that.

In regards to my rep?

My rep was only ever negatived when I called somebody out for Flaming. Because of the flame I made a vent post causing more people to flame on me and -rep me. However, ALL my other rep os for HQ postings and for great feedback.

What do i intend to do with this group?

Honestly I have no clue whatsoever... I have no idea what I would do, however, the people who definitely put in the effort to do these applications and make them 500 words long in the about yourself section are absolutely the most interesting men in the world.

In summary, I am a laid back guy, able to give help when I see it and I strive to have a better HF experience.

A Quick Overview of Me

Age: 17 Gender: Male Religion: I do not believe in religion, I believe in a relationship with my creator, God. Country: United States. (State I live in will be sent through pm if requested) Timezone: Central Stranded Time Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are

I myself enjoy coding, ratting, social engineering, and music. Among my project have been a python irc clone, a c# encrypter. I am currently working on a java crypter. I consider my skills to be in the social engineering area more than the coding area. I have successfully socially engineered many games, amazon/ebay items, and many other things. As far as programming languages i know include java, python, c++, c#, c, inline (and outline) asm. I also enjoy the guitar and drum set, along with my trumpet. I do not have much GFX experience, only a few fakes paypal statements and receipts (for SE'ing). Which section are you most active in and why?

This is hard for me to answer, instead of sticking to a particular section, I generally browse all of them. More often than not I am hitting the view new posts button. I am also active in the give away section, although not how most members are. I generally give out the btc I collect to the people hosting giveaways. I have not done much recently because I have had no btc to giveaway. As far as a home section I would have to say the marketplace is definitely where most of my posts go. I'm always keeping my eyes out for a way to make some cash and simulate the economy here on HF. Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?

Wow where do I begin? I'll start off by saying the quality of The Empire's members is astounding. I can not go through a single section in this forum without finding HQ posts, and threads by The Empire members. I would love to associate myself with such a respectable group. It is best to surround yourself with people you aspire to be. I think it can safely be said anyone would aspire to be a member of such a HQ group. Next, the leadership. To opportunity to learn from people like Tibit or Judge Dread is one I do not take lightly. These guys have knowledge and experience. If you are going to learn, why not learn from the best? Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?

I have been on HF a while now. My rep is not extremely high, but it is decent. The contributions I have made, along with the threads I have posted, are those of a HQ member. I feel acceptance into The Empire would allow me to contribute even more to not only The Empire, but also the HF community as well. Pride is an evil thing, so I do not wish to boast myself up, or provide you with a polished false image of who I really am. Simply put, I think I am worth considering as a member of the empire. In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you. Also, where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

I have a goal in life that might be different from most people. My goal is to make an impact on everyone I touch. If it is at school, home, even work, make people happy. That is how I choose to live my life. I am NOT a religious person. I am a relationship person. I guess I could be considered a christian, as I follow the frame of beliefs they use,, however after that I get a little weird. I hate modern day "Christianity". Jesus was a hippy, not a republican. To me science is huge. I have some beliefs others don't. I think that science proves the existence of God. I love to discuss religion (NOT argue) simply discuss. Some of my friends are atheists, which is fine with me, believe what you want. We often get together to chat about religion and talk about topics such as God. If any of you have not had a good talk with someone who believes differently than you, I think you should. That being said I'm a very outgoing person, I like meeting new people, and exposing myself to new knowledge. I have a thirst for knowledge. I try and learn a new subject every day. To me I can not see how people go through there days not learning. If I had to list my priorities in life they would be One: My God. Two: The people I surround myself with. Three: my impact on the world What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

The sheer amount of knowledge. Like I said learning is very important to me. I continue to find new tutorials and info I missed even since I have been here. Anything else you would like to say

I hope you guys consider my application. My video application will be uploaded soon. I geneually hope you see the effort and honesty I put into my answers. Also any feedback on my application is very much welcome, as it helps me learn what i did wrong, and how to do it better. Thanks and have a great day

My Skills:

I have a number of skill sets. Most of them aren't to do with online stuff but I do have some online skills. I am not amazing at these things but I am good to some level. Most of the time, if I am good at my level then I am happy with the skill. Listed below are some of my skills:

Web Design - I can work with Wordpress|HTML and other CMS as well as forums. I have been doing this type of hobby for about 3 years now. Starting with a forum that I launched alongside my Minecraft server a while back. I would love to start a new forum one day, but only if I have the time. Some of my work includes. RampageHosting

- LucarioHosting and now defunct - FotoStik - NCISForum - Collosus-Gaming

Graphics - I can do basic and medium level graphics. As you can see, I like to keep graphics nice and simple. I have designed graphics for other people. However, my most recent work includes a thread design for a hosting company that I work for. You can find it here.

Customer Support|General Support - I actively apply for support jobs. However, most recently I am working for a minecraft hosting company called "RampageHosting" as Co-Owner + Support

Video Games - I am good at certain online FPS Games. I am also experienced in Minecraft. I enjoy playing online FPS games, some which include: Combat Arms|APB and Contract Wars

Cooking - I like to cook. I cook for my family. I woudn't say that I am amazing. However, I do remember certain recipes now. Which is a drastic improvement from last year. My specialities include, Russian Dumplings|Chicken Stuffed Pepper.

Russian - I can speak|Read|Write Russian fluently. I was born in that area (Not in Russia) so I have studied Russian when I was growing up in school.

Witchcraft|Potions|Defense against the Dark Arts - Taking a 4 year course at Hogwarts, I have learned a great deal of the above listed things. I wish to thank Professor Dumbledore and Hermione for helping me with my studies.

My Most Active Sections:

At the moment, I like spending time in The Lounge. I often try to help users with queries or just comment on every day stuff. Furthermore, I am starting to get more active in the Website section as well as the Hosting section. (Helping users with various MyBB|Wordpress queries.

Also, I do admit to spending a increasing amount of time in the Member Contest section. However, there is a reason for that. Along with my earnings from my time at HackForums (A sum off it) plus some of the things I win in these contests I want to launch a big end of 2014 giveaway.

However, My favourite sections would be..

The Lounge

Website Section

Graphics Section

Why do I want to join The Empire in particular:

Well, being honest. I want to join a group. I have looked at the number of different groups out there and I have come to a conclusion about some the groups that I would want to join. Those being

The Republic

The Empire

Void

However, I want to join "The Empire" because I feel like it's more of a close group to me. In reality, it's between The Empire and The Republic.

However, another reason would be.. That I have seen some really great people from The Empire up and around HackForums. It would be a really nice experience for me to meet and greet all those members.

I have to admit, I love your graphics work. Who doesn't?

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

Well.. I have seen some really nice applications for The Empire and I have to honestly say, that I don't match some of them. I try to be nice to everyone I see and meet and I hope to carry this trend on forever. Niceness is something that HackForums lacks in some people.

I can't really say anymore for this section. I am who I am, if you like me.. I am open ^^

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I think, to start off. My fondest memory would be my Christmas that I spent with my Family last year. We were on our way back home down from another town when we encountered traffic.. (On Christmas Eve!) - My father suggested that we take a country road and so we did. It was dark and quite frankly.. Scary. However, it was getting close to 5PM and we were all thinking that we are going to miss Christmas.. However at around 10PM after a long time driving, the car started to slow down and smoke coming from the engine. Obviously at this point, everyone was tired and annoyed. We all got out and looked around. We were in a road inside a small forest of trees (more like a park).. I had an idea, I looked into our boot to see if we still had those decorations from last year and I started putting them up a tree. The others had not noticed till I told them "Do you like the tree?" - To my amazement, they all agreed and we decided to spend the night around the tree (We bought food down (left-overs)) - It wasn't exactly luxury. However the most important thing was that we spent that night as a family and that's what I remember the most.

To answer the second question. I don't really know. I have always been "against" in some ways to the common stereotyping that used to occur and still does in school/college. For example, I always said that personality mattered more than looks or that both genders should be treated equally and that female's aren't just sex idols.

My way of life got a lot of hate. However, I had learned to deal with back in Primary School (11 Years old) when I was often bullied for being quite short for my age. Luckily, I grew up ^^ - I had learned to ignore the haters and hold my head high. And that's why, in some sense I associate myself with the Character Luna Lovegood. She is in some ways, me.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?:

I have a simple list to answer this question...

My Family

My Friends

My Loved ones

And those who I care about

I focus on those above all. However, I also must say that I like to keep my standards and those prioritize my life in some sense. I always get my work done before enjoying my time and regularly try and spend time with My Family and My friends.

Also, I believe that Real Life ALWAYS comes before Internet Life.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?:

After first joining, I actually quit HackForums after about 1-2 weeks of being on here. I did not understand the inner workings of the forum and dedicated my time to something else. However, Only recently (back in 2013) that I started to be more active on HackForums.

I think the thing that drew me back is the wide range of people that you see on HackForums - along with this, I feel the need to help others who are in need (for example, in The Lounge) and share my tips on various subjects with the rest of this forum.

I also think that, out of all the forums that I am a member on, this happens to be one of the best. It's safe, It's huge and it's never-ending.

Anything else you would like to say?:

Even if I don't get picked. I wish to congratulate all those who have been picked on a long and prosperous stay in this wonderful group.

I also want to wish all the group leaders and all those who read this thread a wonderful 2014. I wish you peace, happiness, love and above all freedom and safety to express what you love. Keep loved ones close, never let them go.

I leave you with a quote from Luna..

"My mum always said the things we lose have a way of coming back to us in the end." - Luna Lovegood

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Gaming

Since I was very young, I have been interested in video games.

I remember when I was three years old and I got a Nintendo Entertainment System from a pawn shop along with Mario and Duck Hunt.

I remember it taking me at least half a year to beat Mario and at least a full year before I could do it every time.

That was my first experience with video games, I have obviously grown up, and have enjoyed this new age of the video game industry.

Graphics, gameplay and the flow of the games have really improved, and so has my skill with video games.

Now a days, I play games like League of Legends, Call of Duty, Starcraft and Diablo.

When it comes to LoL and Starcraft, I'm honestly not good at either of them by my standards, I make really good decisions when it comes to team based strategies.

Call of Duty, I'm fairly great at. I don't see it in the way most people see it, such as "run here, shoot that guy, shoot shoot shoot shoot shoot!!!!" I put a lot more thought into everything I do, because I feel that strategy is the most important aspect of being good at any game.

I over-think every single play I make down to the last detail just because I don't want anything going wrong with the game, or with any of the people counting on me. This applies to real life as well, but I'll get to that later.

Computer Repair

I've grown up around computers, using them for school and gaming my entire life.

I never had high-end computers, so all maintenance was done by me.

Most of my computer knowledge has come from my dad who used to be an IT technician for various companies.

When I was young and my dad wasn't around, I probably screwed up my computer every other week, and because of this, I always had to find the way to fix my computer myself without any real help because this was back before the smart phone era where you could just pull out your phone and do a google search.

Usually, I'd be able to fix the problem that I caused, but other times I'd have to reformat and start from scratch.

Now I'm pretty talented with computers and computer repair; whenever I screwed up, I'd learn something new.

There is still a lot for me to learn about computers, such as programing and website development, but I'm sure if I set my mind to it, I could easily learn those skills.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

My most active section is the lounge, but I'm also in love with the League of Legends section.

I love the lounge because it has a lot of fun people, and it's very easy to make friends in it.

Added, there are also a lot of trolls, but that is what makes the lounge what it is; a lounge.

As for the League of Legends section, it is my most played game, so I like to go in there and read threads by members that give tips or answer members who are looking for tips.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

The reason I want to join The Empire in particular is because it seems like one of the most high quality and friendly groups here on Hack Forums.

When I look at groups, I see them as a place to learn new things, meet new people, make friends and make an impact on the community.

Basically, groups to me are like a family.

I think that The Empire is a family I want to be a part of, and hopefully a place where I can put my skills to the test as well as adding more to my skill set by interacting with the great members and reading the tutorials this community has to offer.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I'm not going to say that I'm better than anyone else and you should pick me.

I feel that I should be chosen because I have a willingness to learn, to expand and to make friends. I try to be the best that I can be, but sometimes that just isn't enough, sometimes you need to be a part of something bigger than you before you can really make a difference in a community or society itself.

And I think that is why I should be accepted into the empire, because I can make a difference; I just need somewhere to start.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

In late 2011 I was involved in a head on collision with my best friend and his sister, I was unconscious for a few moments, and when I came to I could smell gas, radiator fluid and a fire.

My best friend was saying we had to get out of the car and his sister was in the back seat screaming at the top of her lungs.

I had to pull my best friend out of the car and carry him to a side walk before returning to the car and carrying his sister out as well.

Luckily, my best friend had only broke his leg and had a slight concussion, I messed up my knee, had lacerations and bruises and his sister only had bruises.

But at the time, I was honestly worried that one of them was seriously hurt.

After that, I realized how important life is and how quickly something can be taken away from you.

And that realization changed me as a person, I started to really appreciate who and what I have in life.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

To be perfectly honest, I don't really know as of right now.

I used to prioritize friends above all else, but I'm not entirely sure if that's the right thing to do anymore.

I love to educate myself in a little of everything, but I don't really make that my priority.

So to me, I believe that I need more time to discover who I am as a person before I really set some major goal for myself, and I think that being part of this group will let me experience more here on HF that will better me as a person as well as help my HF career and might even help me find where my priorities lie.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Well, when I first joined hack forums, it was to learn about ddosing and if there were ways to prevent it.

But then I discovered the Social Engineering forum, and it really made an impact on my life. It helped me get out of the house and talk to people and stop being so shy because I started understanding the way OTHER people thought and looked at the world.

Honestly, if it wasn't for the Social Engineering forum, I really wouldn't have been able to interact with anybody the way I do today.

But then, when it was closed, I stopped coming on HF for a while; but then one day I was bored and stumbled upon HF again looking for information on overclocking computers and then found that there was an Anime forum! I spent about 2-3 weeks just lurking and posting occasionally, but eventually outgrew it, so I moved on to the Xbox forum and The Lounge.

Anything else you would like to say: Thanks for considering my application and if there is anything that you feel like I didn't answer thoroughly, please don't hesitate to pm me about it.

Thank you, and have a nice day.

Requirements

[?]Must have acceptable grammar

"i has perfekt grammer"

[?]No LQP or Harassment Warnings

Nope. When I just joined, I once got one for typing "3535" to bypass the character limit, but that was back in 2011. That was my only warning I've gotten.

[?]No trolling or flaming other members

I don't do that.

[?]No legitimate open or unresolved scam reports

None. I've never had a report against me. Fortunately, I've never had to open one on someone else, either.

[?]Around 60+ posts per month of the account's age

Yep. I took a long break during last summer when I went to China for a long while. But my post count is still 80+ per month. $2.76 \times 30 = 82.8$

[?]Usually an upgraded member or a very committed non-upgraded member

Very committed upgraded member. :)

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are

Graphic Design - One of my hobbies, and growing skills, is Graphic Design. I enjoy making thread designs, signatures, and avatars for people. I remember the first ever Photoshop picture I did. Another amazing user helped me learn, and I posted it in the "Rate my Graphic" section on January 7th, 2012. It got some harsh reviews, which made me want to get better at it. Over those two years, I have watched tutorials, played around, and most of all, practiced. I am still learning, but I work hard every day. I currently run a shop called "Poor Man's GFX Shop" which offers cheap graphics to members who don't have much money, like me.

Drawing - Drawing is one of my favorite hobbies. I love drawing. I have been making art since before I can remember, and to this day, I draw everywhere. My desk is full of doodles, and I post some of my artwork on Hack Forums for others to critique. I have made a thread where I was offering to draw members if they posted a picture of themselves. I had such a fun time doing that, and people loved it. One of my most recent pieces is a drawing of Walter White from the show "Breaking Bad." great show!

Spoiler (Click to View)

Giving Things Away - I love making others happy. I do many, many giveaways. I remember my first giveaway. I saw other members giving Minecraft accounts back when it was allowed. I thought that was very nice of them, but I wasn't L33T or UB3R at the time, so I couldn't participate in many of them. I then decided to host my own giveaway. I walked to my local Walgreen's and bought a few bottles of Dr. Pepper. There was a promotion going on where the codes on Dr. Pepper caps could get you in-game content in some EA games, like Battlefield 3. It was really tempting to redeem them for myself, but I ended up giving them away. It was my first contest, and I was looking forward to all the entrants. Yea, long story short, nobody entered. Now I do contests like Steam Games. I've given away 2 copies of ARMA II and a copy of ARMA Tactics. I also have done 5 Halo Double XP code giveaways, many Minecraft giveaways (When they were allowed), a PayPal giveaway, and various smaller contests, too. There will be a list of most of my contests and giveaways later below.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

One of the sections I am most active in is the Lounge, with 611 posts. I love to engage with the community and just chill with my fellow members. Another section I am active in is "Gay F-cking Requests Because You Want Free Sh-t." (Note: This link will only work for upgraded members.) I help as much as I can. Although I don't keep a stockpile of Netflix accounts to give away, I help the people who need graphics, ad clicks, or YouTube subscribers/comments.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I've always had my eyes out for this group. I never had the full desire of joining, until a user named BlueTigerSlayer sent me a message asking for critique on some of his graphic work. I talked to him a bit, and he was a really cool guy. This sparked my longing to join The Empire. From what I know, it's a great group with some awesome people in it. I am not doing it just for the userbar, either. I just think that the people in this group are great and it would be awesome to be a part of it.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I personally feel like I should be accepted because I contribute a lot. I can help the group with anything from small tasks to stocking up their Steam library with games. I also contribute by writing reviews of goods I buy. I have a review of the Logitech G600 Gaming Mouse, $1 Custom Mousepads, and the SDLaser 303 Laser Pointer. Also, I make people happy. My drawings (which will be linked below) make lots of people happy. Below are some snippets from the reviews. They will also be linking below my application.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm just a normal guy who lives in Tennessee, USA. I came upon HackForums in 2011, when I was looking for a game client that I couldn't find on other sites. I got it and kinda left HackForums for a while. I would check back every once in a while, and one time, I saw someone giving out Minecraft Accounts. Paid Accounts! I thought that this was amazing so naturally I stuck around. Well, my Minecraft Griefing phase kinda passed, so I looked around the forums and saw people doing all sorts of giveaways. I thought this was extremely nice of them, so I wanted to join in. I went to my local store (a 45 minute walk, really short) and bought a few sodas. I was planning to give them away (The codes on the caps could get you BF3 Dogtags and things like that). So I posted a thread. Well, long story short, nobody entered, which was a huge bummer. I ended up just hanging out in the lounge and I did that for a few months until I entered a L33T upgrade contest hosted by Leaf™. I won, and a little later, I entered another upgrade contest, and I won UB3R. I had won both my upgrades for free and have learned so much from the HF community.

I decided I wanted to be more HQ and give back. I ended up doing Minecraft account giveaways, as they were always in demand and I had learned how to crack them. (Which I don't do now) I got super into HackForums after I posted a thread asking if anyone wanted a "Jr." I ended up picking Notorious™ as my "dad." I did more giveaways to try to pay back the community all that I have gained. I started giving away Halo EXP Codes, and I did 5 of those giveaways. I also did a little PayPal giveaway. I was his "son" for many months until he changed his name, so I went and made another thread. Phybe? posted and I chose him, and I made the right choice. :) He helps me with lots of things and we're good friends now. I still look up to him, as he is really nice and gives a lot to the community.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

First of all, one of the most important things in my life is my family. I couldn't imagine losing my family. They are such an important part of my life. I would not be alive if they didn't exist teehee! Another major priority in my life is my Education. I study hard every day, and I do my work in a timely manner.

Top 5 Reasons I why I want to join The Empire

1. The people - The members and leaders of The Empire seem like awesome people, and I would love being a part of it.
2. Sense of close-knit community - Long time ago, I was in the Minecrafters group. When they shut down, I didn't really have a place I could go to chill with all my friends.
3. It's place to give things away - I love doing giveaways. I can give away Steam games, money, and drawings. :)
4. It's place to chill - Sure, the lounge is nice, but there's no sense of brotherhood.
5. It's a place to have fun - Being with all your friends is great, and it's a lot of fun!

Anything else you would like to say:

I would like to thank you for reading my application. I also understand if you decide to deny me. I wish the best of luck to all of the other applicants.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I'm a very good curler (the thing with the broom), I've been curling for over 7 years now. I'm very interested in video editing, and I'm decent with Sony Vegas, and I know my way around Adobe After Effects.

I'm a quick learner, and a very hands on learner. I can read about something all I want, but I can learn a lot more by doing it myself.

When it comes to video games, I'm fairly decent unless it involves Minecraft. Minecraft is the main game that I excel at. I'm not the best builder, but when it comes to the other aspects of the game, such as mining or mob slaying, I'm very good.

I apologize if I seem a bit cocky, but you only asked for skills.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'm most active in the Lounge and Minecraft sections.

I like reading about other people's lives, and their experiences. That's why I like the Lounge. I can get other peoples opinions on various subjects, and if I have a general question about life, I can always ask it there.

As I stated earlier, I love Minecraft. So, I spend a bit of time browsing the Minecraft section so I can learn more about the game.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I really like learning new skills involved with computing, and I think the Empire might just be the place to learn new skills, and nurture old skills.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I am aware there are many qualified members who may be more qualified than me, but I really want this opportunity so I can become more qualified than them. I am willing to learn new things, and I would help the group in any way I could.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I've been very fortunate to grow up in a great household with parents who care about me, which is why I don't make many bad decisions. I don't want to become one of those "cool" kids whose parents don't care about what they're up to because they do so much "bad shit". It's better to have people who care than not in my opinion.

I'm very good friends with the user Mastery in real life, and because of that, I've really become more social and outgoing. By nature I don't like going out very much, but he's really helped me push myself so that I don't miss out on my life. We go out quite a lot now, hang out with other friends and come up with crazy-stupid plans that shouldn't work, but do anyway.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

To me, my offline life would take priority, however there isn't much stress in it, so for the most part I don't need it to take priority.

My family and friends are very important to me, so if something is going on with them, I'll pick them over the internet.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Well, to be honest when I first joined I wasn't very active. I only became active over the last couple of months, and I hope to become more active.

The reason I became decently active was because I really wanted to find an easy way to make a few bucks online, and I realized that this forum is a gold mine of information to help you become a successful online money maker, you just have to know where to look. I also like reading other members' stories, because most make me chuckle. :P

Anything else you would like to say:

I would like to thank the staff at the Empire for reading my application, and that I'm thankful for the chance to join the Empire.

Also, if I'm not excepted, I'd like to know why so that I can improve for next time.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: My skills mostly contain RATing which I know is easy but I am good with it anyways. My most strongest skill is Social Engineering. That is how I earn most of my victims via RAT'ing. I have a few other skills that I can bring to the table and have knowledge in a lot of things because I am in AP classes in school.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I am mostly active in the beginner hacking section because I like to help out the new members that join and would like to get a start in hacking. I'm also active in the lounge which doesn't really matter here. I used to be really active in the gaming section and will most likely get back into that section very soon.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I want to join The Empire because I've seen a lot of the leaders around and know that they do a good job helping other members while being as high quality as they can. Mostly I heard that a lot of groups are slow and shift a lot between leaders causing a mass mess of a group. I know that Tibit would be a great leader and this group would be a great for me because I would learn a lot of things for the future career that I would like to partake in.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I deserve to be in The Empire because I do my best to help members out and be as high quality as possible. I'm not one of them post count whores who camp in the lounge all day but I help on any thread I can possibly help on. I enjoy helping other members and making them happy cause it makes me happy. I'd bring a lot of good reputation and respect towards The Empire when helping other members and I am very active as I check my UserCP almost every 10-20 minutes.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: I grew up and have been raised in the same place my whole life. I've moved from house to house and school to school making new friends every few years. I am mainly on PC cause my internet friends seem to last longer then the ones in real life that I move away from all the time. I really take interest in anything computer related and am always learning more about computers. I can never move away from a computer right? Anyways I basically a non-social nomad who likes to hack.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Things that are most important to me are family and friends. They always come first in my life and usually I like to make them happy before myself.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? As I said before I like to help other members learn and prosper and want to be respected here on the internet since it is basically my home. I also love learning and this site has helped me learn a lot since I've signed up here. I am basically paying back the community by contributing to the other members.

Anything else you would like to say: I am a friendly member but I am in fact not very rich which is why I don't have I33t/ub3r. I like to give back to the community but I can't money wise because I can't afford to upgrade to I33t to be able to make member contests. Anyways I hope you are still reading and if so thank you and have a good day.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Spreading Efficiency

I got really into R.A.Ts when I first joined Hackfourms and I believe that it one of the basic that helped me into deeply to learn about ways to increase my methods in order to get more slaves in a short amount of time. I know that many people decide that R.A.T.S is not a skill but the way you spread your virus and disguise it as a program to increase slaves require a lot of deep thinking and social engineering.

Visual Basic

The only reason I got into a bit of programming is that I wanted to learn how to create spammer and email bombers just for the fun of it.

Video Editing

Before I got into Hackfourms, I knew a lot about video editing and making simple clips look very high class, I used programs like Sony Vegas Pro 12, Adobe after Effects, and used Cinema4D for Intro making.

Graphic Design

I feel I get better every day in graphic designing, after school the first thing I do is come on HF and go to the Graphic section "RATE ME Graphics" and look at new designs people post asking for ratings. Not only does it help me out in new future ideas on what I can make for people but also it helps on views to what other people are able to make based on the programs they use. I use Photoshop, Cinema4D, Adobe Illustrator.

Current Contribution in the section: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3986465>

Web Designing

I am a beginner in web design, because I receive many requests asking for it but unable to complete it, later on I will have this done and ready to help people on future designs.

Business Marketing

I sell products on Hackfourms and it is my first time, but it is working out very well, I will soon be able to collaborate with more members on future products.

I am currently in MmM an Unofficial Business in Money Making group, this will be another step to help on future projects.

Thread here: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4000667>

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I am mostly active in the Graphics section, because i love making designs for people and learning new ideas and tips on future designs.

I am also active in the Ebook Bazaar and Monetizing Techniques because i sell products in those locations.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

It been around for a long time and many of the members in there are associates of mine and said it is a great group to be in, many support and HQ users that are in the group, meet there standards always.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I am very active

I try my best to help around the community which involves Graphic design and Beginner Section.

I like to increase my skills everyday and try to sharpen them up for future request.

It would be a great experience for me and can be a great learning experience from other members in the group.

This group has been on top for a while and i would like to be apart of that system

I will try my best to fit that part as being in the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

When I was younger, I always made fun of because of my obesity and never really had friends. I always been on my computer playing games and just been a lazy child and did not participate in sports.

Later on around 8th grade I met a girl that actually wanted to talk to me and been my best friend ever since, then it came to a point where she encourage me to participate in sports and make new friends.

I joined Football; my mom actually told me that I am doing a good job in trying to make new friends and going out more with workouts, Diets, and after school practice. Made me a lot of weight to help reach my decent size, I now weighs 198 pounds from 289. It was a great change that changed my life, I am now more active and I watch what I eat from now on, after a while I got used to sports and wanted to try more, Last year I was in baseball and this year I am in Powerlifting.

To this day, I appreciate the girl who stood against everyone else in order to make me get to this day.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

I priorities my life to Life, Family and Pursuit of happiness.

Also there is a movie about it >HERE<

I stated this because my life goal is to become a Computer Engineer and a Graphic Designer on the sideline. Family; i want to provide for my parents for everything they have done in my life, i want to make sure i complete my goals and being able to support them as they grow older.

Pursuit of happiness; Life is short, i want to make sure i do not waste my time and enjoy every bits of pieces i have. I want to make sure i follow my dreams and become to best person i believe in.

As told before, What is important to me?

Life

Family

Pursuit of happiness

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

The community is just amazing, there are many things you can do on this site that you cant even think of. Who wouldn't want to be a part of this, not only does Hackfourms help increase your knowledge in technology and certain type of skill aspects but it will help you in personally agendas or problems that you are afraid to ask anyone else.

Anything else you would like to say:

I have always wanted to be in the group, let this be my first.

I promise you will not be disappointed

Thank you very much for reading my application.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:Gaming i've played games basically my whole life and I have won random tournaments throughout the years, I am good in thievery not like steal like gum or some shit from a store more electronically speaking, the gym I go to has 2 computers that are left unattended and logged on for a good 2 hours. That's more than enough time for me to swoop in and plug in my usb and steal from stuff that could be useful. Also on a day back in November during my schools monthly fire drills in math class we all were told to go outside and shit while I sat in the back of the classroom barley noticeable. Just as I was I about to get up and follow my class I saw that my teachers computer was still logged on. So very quickly plugged in my usb and copy and pasted a shit of random files that was labeled "Period 5 math". After the transfer was complete and I grabbed my usb and then ran into the hallway and followed another class outside were I found my class and sneak back into there line.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.I'm active in a lot of sections I usually just click on new posts and reply to posts I find interesting.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:I want to try something new for a change. I've never joined a hackforums group before so this'll be new for me

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:I feel that I'd be a great and fun asset to the group. I can bring some methods on how to obtain data and share my crude humor :)

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well i'm the funny kind of guy who uses humor to cause laughter to lighten the mood or try and get out of rough situations. I've started to do wrestling this year and I love it. Sure it's hard and all but it's really all worth it because you become open about your weight and not scared about other peoples thoughts. I hang out the average kids in my school we all play games with each other and tell crude humorous jokes to each other. If you wan't to pick a fight with me i'll try and use humor to defuse the situation. But if that does not prevail i'll punch you in the fucking nose and kick your fucking balls till you can't have any kids. I'll then gut shot you and when you react to it i'll punch you in the nose again. Then rinse and repeat till someone pulls me off.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Money, friends, games, adventure. I seek money and adventure more than anything I dream of going to places in the world that change who you are.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Well I joined to buy GrimBooter because my friend Derezz_(Peter) was staff on the support team. After I bought it I went inactive on the forums for like 4 months and then I got active again and became a bit of a lounge whore lol.

Anything else you would like to say:

I hope you do accept me I've really said things in this app that I usually keep to my self :)

Tom` - January 28, 2014, 10:47 pm

Good luck to everyone applying.

Make sure you put time into your application, don't just half ass it and expect that it'll be enough.

vitafortis - January 29, 2014, 4:27 am

I've seen some applications I like, but I'm starting to get pissed.

You're more then welcome to post saying good luck to those that apply, but please, for the sake of all that is natural, stop fucking posting about how "Oh, I was going to make an app before, but not this time." It's irrelevant, and it shows you care more about your post count than anything else. I'm going to start reporting everyone that does it from here on out for off topic/low quality posts. There's no need. Who cares if you thought about making an app before? You're wasting my time having to sort through the posts, and your taking up space other people could be using.

Also, I agree about the "reserving spots," just don't do it.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: ?Social media boosting :
I can boost anything , anytime. Can load major ammounts of boosting in everything regarded to :
YT , FB , twitter , instagram.

?SEO :

One of my forums is 3rd on first page in google and 10 of my PPD videos in number 1 or 2 of the first page in youtube. Can teach anyone in the brotherhood for free and can offer my services to improve your videos / sites

?Mybb site constructing : My 3rd forum is now on internet with over 100 users in just 2-3 days. Premium subscriber on Mybbcentral and a file loaded with all paid themefreak themes and all premium mybb plugins like ficons.

?PPD : You can check my e-book (WTF money) and my free project I recently opened to HF audience. I am getting 150+$ everyday out of PPD and I'm not even counting my refferals' income. I can be asked to teach for free any brotherhood member and even give my 20$ e-book completely for free.

?E-whoring : I can guarantee for myself on this. I can teach anyone and even do live lessons via TV or Skype. My highest goal is 980$ in a day out of it.

?Spreading : I am working about 9 months on spreading. I can spread anything like an advertisment or can load a major amount of downloads/installs to any number up to 10.000

?RATing : I am RATing for over a year and I have reached a load of 10k bots. I can be asked to get you bots, downloads and installs of everything.

?Writing : I can prepair a HQ essay 300 words for Michigan in less than 14 minutes. I can work on presentations , job applications or reviews. Finally I can be even asked to correct anything as my English is 99.99% perfect.

?Doxing : I don't have much time working on this but with some good information can gather some more. I am still restricted on europe countries as my information sources are not worldwide spread yet.

?Graphic skills : I can pretty much master photoshop, gimp and paint.net. I can make HQ hackforum designs, signatures or everything else can be asked. I have been working for almost a year on xat (biggest chatbox company); Especially I am a permanant mod on xat.com/graphics and have talent on xat avatars/xat spaces and signatures.

?Gaming/Gaming knowledge : Well... I can't say everything on this as a thread character limit will stop me :P. I can let you know some things for me on this. First of all I am moderating for some years now The Darkness Project 4 (TDP4) on it's original site. Moreover I am working as a worldwide tournament organizer at their forums aswell. Beside this specific game I own almost every kind of console, 2 laptops and 3 tablets. My total ammount of games is about 200-250 console games and another 150-200 pc games.

?Online marketing : For some time now I am working as an online marketer, I am usually working as a reseller as I have a talent on convincing people buying useless stuff so I always get a profit of what I sell ; And that's not a few. I can be used to promote stuff in or even out of HackForums for free or just for a small fee.

?Speech and online debating skills : Well, as about this ; This is one of the most important talents of me. It maybe occurred from the many hours I spend online everyday on games, chatboxes and forums or it's maybe something I got from my parents. This is a skill that has helped be a lot untill now. I never lost a paypal dispute and that's not because of my luck. That's because I know how to talk and mostly convince people about everything. I think I can even sell a boat to a homeless person. My skills can be usefull for debates, argues and even with promoting products of the brotherhood.

?Programing : I know how to create the basic .exe programs needed for PPD

?Coding : I know html / css / javascript /php

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'm a proffesional marketter and monetizer. The section I am most active is "Marketplace". Especially :

Free services and giveaways

(why?) I enjoy giving away stuff to people. You can search through my threads and check it so

Premium Sellers Section

(why?) I am an everyday buyer from HF. I've bought countless things like programs or books , hostings , social media services , graphics etc.

Secondary Sellers Market

(why?) I never though that upgraded members have sometihng more compared to not upgraded ones. I enjoy reviewing, buying products from normal members and helping them get closer to upgrade

Ebook Bazaar

(why?) As reffered before, I've bought countless e-books and sold many. Some examples are (Sex Rampage, 45 minuted day work, WTF!? money)

Member Auctions

(why?)I'm setting like 1-5 auctions everyday

Buyers Bay

(why?)I have many stuff to offer. Got thousands of jobs/sales through this section

Service Offering

(why?)I can make graphs, so I sell them. I can provide social services ; so I sell them.I provide many minijobs through the rewards and small favors and finally can do a lot of things so I hire/get hired a lot in the Partnerships, Hiring, and Personnel section

Currency exchange

(why?) I'm a marketter ; I know how to market currencies

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

Empire is a group I always wanted to be a part of. Maybe it's the HQ image that provides through HF or maybe the HQ members in it. Who knows! Maybe even the cool userbar :P. I really want to be a part of the empire as I want to make people see that being a "L33T" is not actually so bad. You can be HQ without being a ub3r. And that's somethine people in HF should learn.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I deserve to be a part of the empire to due to my many skills and variety of jobs and services I can offer. I can help people of the empire with their monetizing/marketting questions/issues and provide discounts to each one of my products/services. I can be helpfull to a big variety of stuff and can contribute with my knowledge to an even bigger one.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

{As this is going to be a way long essay, I am getting out of the align.

First of all I would like to express my deep sad for this forum as I was for a long time a normal user and got against all this "upgraded members' hate." I would also like to say in public that I am not waiting for an approval in the brotherhood because of the same reason.Ub3rs count for more; Or this is what I assumed from my experience in HF. Even though I would like to give a shot with my application essay.}

Hello to everyone and especially to the empire.

My name is Panos, I'm 19 years old and I'm curenly working / living on Athens. The capital city of Greece.

I am a dedicated internet worker and I can guarantee that I get way more money from the internet but in real life. Things in Greece keep going from bad to worst, more and more young people are hungry and live a life that most of you cannot even imagine. Luckily, I'm not one of them.I was always a clever kid that never wanted to study and was especially naughty at school; So I decided that I will do something different and everyone will like me for this. And yes. that's true ; Untill the age of 14 I was studying Html and shit like that while teens in my age were doing their homework. Indeed! It worked. At the age of 16 everyone in my school was like " He is a h4xor " just because I used to know how to phish a facebook, "bad" boys of my hood were asking me for brazzers' accounts as that was something that they could not even imagine.Now, I'm 19 years old and I can say I'm Fing happy I was a nerd all these years. I am getting about the double income from way more studied people than me and I think I'm from the "rich" guys in Greece. I am walking down the street and can see people sleeping under bridges and others begging in bus stations. I am happy and proud of what I did and I'm sure that one day others will see it aswell.

I will now move on to the period of time I entered the "underword" of the internet. I was at the age of 15 when I first googled : "how to hack facebook" when I realised that the first page on YouTube was fulled of "facebook hackers". I tried plenty of times to download one of them but everytime I had to pay for a survey.. About a week later I got it, wtf was that? YouTube was supposed to be free, what happened. That was my first google search about all these surveys.... Blackhat PPD got in my life a month later when I got my first 3.60$ from a site locking survey to my unverified paypal. I was so happy and exited... I started looking at forums and sites about the PPD world untill a guy asked me : "Why don't you get a youtube video and boost it? " Boost it? What's that? I replied, he explained to me that everything on internet is fake. People pay or trade views,likes comments etc. My idea for social media sites got broken. It was the time that I hated facebook,youtube and every other site that offers a fake image of things.It didn't took me long untill I realised that I can use this for my own personal purposes. And that's what I did. I am now 19 years old and getting 150$ per day from PPD. I have already launched my first e-book and it's sales are going more than great.

I had to do something more though, I was not satisfied from the 10$ per week...I started studying about RATs. Paid some bucks and got a load of bots. My second income source was there. I started selling installs,loads and the bots themselves for some money. Finally after ticking RAT as done I moved to something more illegal as e-whoring. It will sound ... Not funny...Not hilarious.. But.. Retarded I guess. I started doing e-whoring at teen-chat.org with my mother's clothes with a fake skype and an unverified paypal... It worked! I got 50$ from it and I bought a e-whoring bot. That's all. I got addicted. I spent the next ... 2 weeks doing it... I got a total of 3000$ in 2 weeks and got bored of it. I had to do something else.. I am from the kind of people that aren't satisfied with anything.. I started doing GFX for some bucks. Well. I have passed the 500 words way back before, but I had to tell you some things about me. I am not up for saying more in public.. At least for now. I would be happy to pm a full review of my life to any owners of the brotherhood and a list of my future goals or anything if be needed.

After being a pain for your eyes with such a big story about me, I would like to leave a big wish for the rest participants and tell to them to follow their dreams and do what they like; Never give up and always fight for your survival. Try every time your best because it will may be your last chance to prove what you deserve.

Good luck to everyone and long live to the empire.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

In Greece things are really bad. I won't lie ; my only income is my internet income. That's what is my basic and only priority in my life. I want to get better and better in the monetizing sector and will try leave off this. My sites will maybe help to this aswell.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I will just say a few words for this. 1 year in HackForums made me able to do stuff that 10 years in real life wouldn't

Anything else you would like to say:

Good luck to every participant!

Finally would like to link you my own monetizing forums and my soon launched new project!

Skills

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

GFX

I started doing GFX about a year ago, I love to create, help and use creativity in my work. I run a free GFX service for the people who don't want to pay for their graphics and I'll give them the opportunity. I usually design thread designs, YouTube backgrounds, signatures and logo's. I'd love to make graphics for "The Empire".

Hacking related

Spoiler \(Click to View\) Ratting & Botnets

This is the first thing I've learnt on Hackforums. I did this at the start back in '12. Ratting is not a big deal, but I can help people if they got problems with this. Ratting is a part of "Social Engineering" for me, to manipulate people and with this I got many accounts hacked. But I'm a Gray Hat hacker. Last time somebody was planning a vacation with his wife and kids so I just uninstalled him.

Social Engineering

This is my job, manipulating people and confusing them. Let them believe you aren't trying to get them etc. SE'ing helps me with "Ratting" and "E-Whoring". I can learn people how to improve there SE skills. "Their trust is the key."

E-Whoring

This is one of my most powerfull tools to earn some money. I can easily get money out of this because of my SE skills, it gave me a lot of pizzas I could eat ^.^

Gaming

This skill is the most fun one for me, I'm an experienced gamer and played a lot of games; from Mario to League of Legends since 4-5 years old when I was playing Pokémon Yellow, I play(ed) on a lot of consoles like: PS1, PS2, Gameboy, Nitendo DS(I), PC and more and I'm going to buy a new console. My passion is to game and to have fun. I'm always open to play a new game that I (n)ever played. I'm always improving in games like League of Legends and want to help the community with feedback, usable tips and tricks and help.

[img]<http://www.imgdumper.nl/uploads6/51338a352c71d/51338a352bb81-seper.png>[/img]

What section are you most active in and why?

In the gaming, hacking, GFX and some other sections, but I try right now to post everywhere I can. I'm there most active because I feel I can talk and post there about things where I can talk about or where I have knowledge for. I don't like it to talk about something where I don't know something about. Because I like to help other people and let people improve in what they do with feedback and more.

[img]<http://www.imgdumper.nl/uploads6/51338a352c71d/51338a352bb81-seper.png>[/img]

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I would be a valuable asset because I'll help out people and learn more things. I try to improve myself everyday and be a better person for everyone. Just want to be a part of the great group and want to be a good guy, learning and sharing.

[img]<http://www.imgdumper.nl/uploads6/51338a352c71d/51338a352bb81-seper.png>[/img]

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

Because I'm a high quality member, I would benefit The Empire by sharing my knowledge and support the people there like it would by my own family. I will be active in the sub-forum and will post most of the time there. I'll learn from other people and become better and better.

[img]<http://www.imgdumper.nl/uploads6/51338a352c71d/51338a352bb81-seper.png>[/img]

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Hello best reader, I'm Marouane. I use the name "Asterea" a lot online. I'm 17 years old and I joined Hackforums when I was 15 year old. I live in the heart of Belgium, Antwerp (diamond marketing happens here) and I'm a boy Whistle

I'm a very nice guy who like to help other people. I still sit on school and I follow IW (=Industriële Wetenschappen in Dutch) that means Industrial Science, this study is to become an architect or even an ingenier. Sometimes I'm like this ? in the class because it's a very difficult study.

[img]http://www.imgdumper.nl/uploads6/51338a352c71d/51338a352bb81-seper.png[/img]

My skills are coding, my favorite coding language is: php
I also do: html, css, and java

Experience:

Html: 100%
Php: 80%
Css: 45%
Java: 25%

Im still learning as much as I can to get it all to 100%

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

The coding section is my favorite section, I love learning new things and methods to do something and if I have a problem I first look there and if I can't find a solution I will ask it.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

Because the Empire in my vision has alot of HQ members with alot of knowledge each with his own skills, and i would love to learn from it and maybe learn them to something.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think everybody deserves a chance and ofcourse I wanted to be accepted, but i think i deserve a chance because I'm a very active user that always wants to learn new things, I help other members on HF and will reply to them as soon as possible.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

When I was 13 years old i lost alot of family members almost rapidly it was a hard time for me as i lost 4 family members in a year and a half. This had also a huge effect on the family, my aunt was depressed for a long time and i guess that made everybody sad.

By the time I was 14 I was getting my interests in coding mostly because my dad was working at an IT company, and almost everything i know now is what my dad taught me.

On this day I develop websites for fun and sometimes for requests I love doing this for creating more knowledge. And now I'm a fully happy person and there is nothing else to say really.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? My family is the most important for me and this will never change. My friends are also really important for me.

I go to school every 5 days of the week and when I get home i mostly will think of new ideas and if not I mostly listen to music.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

That it really helped me out with coding and to help people gives me a good feeling. It always has threads to learn new things.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I got a big love for music, especially EDM. I am producing EDM music for over 2 years now. I love to learn new things about EDM and hear new EDM releases on labels like spinnin', flashover etc.

Some examples of productions i've made the last month's:

Beside EDM i do like to make money, like everyone. I do know some monetizing techniques. I also love gaming, especially League Of Legends. I play this game for 2 years now so got much experience. I've also got a little bit coding experience (java/html), wanna learn more about coding in the future. Maybe gonna start the study "Programming" when i've finished school.

I also got a bit photoshop skills, not on a really high level but can make some simple things.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I am active in different sections, ofcourse i am active in the EDM section but i do also like to read things in the giveaway sections and the marketplace. That's the thing i really like about hackforums, it is a really wide forum.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

Beceause all members of the empire i know are pretty friendly. Never had problems with one of these members, so i know it has great and frienly members. I also like the empire beceause of it has the biggest sub-board of all HF groups. (Friend in Empire told me)

I think i can have a great time in The Empire and i hope i can also learn something here. I am a helpfull person so i do like to help other members of the empire. The empire also got nice and good products, they got a nice userbar and reputation on HF.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

Beceause i will be nice and helpfull member, I am pretty long member of hackforums. 2 Years already, so got much experience out here and i'm in for helping members. I got much experience in producing music, especially house music. I can help new producers with making their own music and i can give them tips to make it sound better. I do also like to talk about and share ways of money making.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, my real name is ramon.

I am 15 years old and i live in the small country called "The Netherlands".

I am a house producers and i also like to hang out with friends, my hobbies are soccer and i love gaming.

I still go to school, in 1 1/2 year i got to choose a study, I don't know what i'm gonna do yet but i'll see that later on.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

The most important thing to me in life is to be happy, i think this is the most important thing for 99% of the world.

I mean if you are not happy you won't have a nice life.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Well, because of the wide range of subjects etc.

I've learned much hear and i did meet much nice persons.

That's the reason why i am still here, i just love the community.

Anything else you would like to say:

Well, not really to be honest.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

eWhoring.

I used to ewhore alot. Because I thought it was funny. I made around $700-$1,000 In a month. I quit it because I needed more time for my college and some personal stuff. I recently got approved for Ub3r, but didn't have the funds for it. I was like, let's ewhore for a bit and we'll see what we get. I made $90 in literally 2 hours. Bought Ub3r and P0w3r on the Hackforums Minecraft server HackerCraft straight away. I've been enjoying the ub3r alot. Alright, that's that.

Designing/GFX

When I was around 13-14 I was always playing around with Photoshop/Vegas pro. Editing really old Warrock videos. A friend of mine is a full time editor and I always wanted to be the same as him. He could do alot of crazy effects and all that. I tried it, but it just wasn't something for me at the time. When I was messing around in photoshop. I figured something out. I made a sick background for a Clan Channel. If it was good enough they would let me join their clan. I actually did get in the clan after I sent it to the leader. That gave me such a motivational boost. To work alot harder than I already did. Since then I made a couple of backgrounds and banners for YouTube. When I joined HackForums I saw some crazy Thread Designs. I recently made my first ever thread design which you can see HERE. Don't look at the spelling mistakes please.

Marketing.

My first year in college was all about Marketing and organizing stuff such as sports tournaments and so on. I love to organize things and i always want to make the best of the things that I do.

Gaming.

I've always enjoyed video games. Bought a PS2 together with my brother when I was around 9-10. Used to grind all of them sick Old-School games like Sonic and Mario and such. I stopped playing the PS2 and moved on to the xbox. Been playing xbox for about 4 or 5 years now. I love Call of Duty and FIFA the most. I have a Hauppauge HDPVR and I used to record alot of clips and gameplay that I got while gaming. I mainly enjoyed sniping and trickshotting in particular. When Black Ops II came out I moved to the Competitive Scene. Me and 3 mates of me were grinding League Play 24/7. It was amazing. Recently bought and built my beast (PC) and I love it! Downloaded CSGO and I think that I'm already pretty good at the game. These are my "skills"

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'm most active in the Upgraded Lounges, which you can see on my profile. I've always been, and always will be active in the L33T and Ub3r lounge. Just because I love it. It's great to meet new people and to talk about alot of funny and random subjects. I've made a lot of friends in both of the 2 lounges already. I'm a very talkative person. On the internet and IRL. I love to make some new friends when I'm in The Empire hopefully. I'm very active in the Free Services and Giveaways section aswell. Just because I like to give stuff to people. I've hosted many Contests in the Member Contest section aswell. I'm also very active in the Ewhoring section aswell. I learned alot from that section when I was a little ewhore noob. Now it's time to give my knowledge about ewhoring to the other people in that section. I'm currently writing one of the best and most in-depth Free Ewhoring Guides on HF. I'm always in to give some help to whoever ask me something. About eWhoring or any other question.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?

I've been talking on Skype to a couple of Empire members. I asked them why they like this group so much. They said it's because of the active Subforum and the most active lounge out of every other group on HF. I love the lounge. It's my second home as we could say. As I stated above I'm very active in both of the Upgraded Lounges for L33T's and Ub3rs already. I also want to join The Empire to learn some more things such as Money Making and Coding. I can make money already, but I want to learn some new methods. Also I've never been in a group and I hope to join The Empire because it seems like a very very nice group with one of the best Userbars on HF.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think that I should be accepted because I'm a HQ user. I'm very studious aswell. I'm always open for new things and got a lot of good ideas for in the future already. I always want/ try to make things a bit better. I'm a very precise person. I always think that I can do better with something that I made. I also should be accepted so I can finally be in a group with my mates Smexy and Mommy. They're in The Empire aswell. Nah as I said earlier I think that I'm an HQ user with alot of potential in the future. I'm currently learning the basics of coding. I wanna try and code alot of big projects when I'm older.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Hello guys. My name is Tommie. A 17 year old boy from The Netherlands. I currently live at mom's house, because my mom and dad divorced when I was 7. The divorce between my mom and dad had a big impact on me and my younger brother. I'm currently in year 2 of College. My course is Sports based. I chose the section Fitness to specialize myself in. I'm a bit behind with all the coursework and stuff but i'll probably pass this year. In year 3 of college I can go for physiotherapist. I really want to become one because bones and muscles have always been interesting me. And yet again I want to help people when they have sports injuries. That's all I have to say about Me, Myself and I.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? My priority in life are my parents, family, friends and college. I can't live without them. My mom and dad have always been supporting me every second of the day. They always say: "Don't stop, always continue with what you're doing" That motto has motivated me for a long time now. I really want to pass my college these 2 years. I'm a young boy with a lot of potential. This is what I wanted to tell about my priorities.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on HackForums after first joining? At first I wasn't really active. Did post some things about a 3 character instagram and that was it. I then started to think about doing some other things. That's where I found Ewhoring. When I earned money with that I was finally able to buy L33t. When I was l33t I was scrolling around in the HF L33T Section. And I saw The Upgraded Lounge. I posted 1 thing in there saying that I just got l33t. They were all very friendly and stuff and I made some friends. Since then I've been really active in both of The Upgraded Lounges. I stayed active because of the 2 lounges and the Ewhoring section at first.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: ?Social media boosting :

I can boost anything , anytime. Can load major ammounts of boosting in everything regarded to : YT , FB , twitter , instagram.

?SEO :

One of my forums is 3rd on first page in google and 10 of my PPD videos in number 1 or 2 of the first page in youtube. Can teach anyone in the brotherhood for free and can offer my services to improve your videos / sites

?Mybb site constructing : My 3rd forum is now on internet with over 100 users in just 2-3 days. Premium subscriber on Mybbcentral and a file loaded with all paid themefreak themes and all premium mybb plugins like ficons.

?PPD : You can check my e-book (WTF money) and my free project I recently opened to HF audience. I am getting 150+$ everyday out of PPD and I'm not even counting my refferals' income. I can be asked to teach for free any brotherhood member and even give my 20$ e-book completely for free.

?E-whoring : I can guarantee for myself on this. I can teach anyone and even do live lessons via TV or Skype. My highest goal is 980$ in a day out of it.

?Spreading : I am working about 9 months on spreading. I can spread anything like an advertisment or can load a major amount of downloads/installs to any number up to 10.000

?RATing : I am RATing for over a year and I have reached a load of 10k bots. I can be asked to get you bots, downloads and installs of everything.

?Writing : I can prepair a HQ essay 300 words for Michigan in less than 14 minutes. I can work on presentations , job applications or reviews. Finally I can be even asked to correct anything as my English is 99.99% perfect.

?Doxing : I don't have much time working on this but with some good information can gather some more. I am still restricted on europe countries as my information sources are not worldwide spread yet.

?Graphic skills : I can pretty much master photoshop, gimp and paint.net. I can make HQ hackforum designs, signatures or everything else can be asked. I have been working for almost a year on xat (biggest chatbox company); Especially I am a permanant mod on xat.com/graphics and have talent on xat avatars/xat spaces and signatures.

?Gaming/Gaming knowledge : Well... I can't say everything on this as a thread character limit will stop me :P. I can let you know some things for me on this. First of all I am moderating for some years now The Darkness Project 4 (TDP4) on it's original site. Moreover I am working as a worldwide tournament organizer at their forums aswell. Beside this specific game I own almost every kind of console, 2 laptops and 3 tablets. My total ammount of games is about 200-250 console games and another 150-200 pc games.

?Online marketing : For some time now I am working as an online marketer, I am usually working as a reseller as I have a talent on convincing people buying useless stuff so I always get a profit of what I sell ; And that's not a few. I can be used to promote stuff in or even out of HackForums for free or just for a small fee.

?Speech and online debating skills : Well, as about this ; This is one of the most important talents of me. It maybe occured from the many hours I spend online everyday on games, chatboxes and forums or it's maybe something I got from my parents. This is a skill that has helped be a lot untill now. I never lost a paypal dispute and that's not because of my luck. That's because I know how to talk and mostly convince people about everything. I think I can even sell a boat to a homeless person. My skills can be usefull for debates, argues and even with promoting products of the brotherhood.

?Programing : I know how to create the basic .exe programs needed for PPD

?Coding : I know html / css / javascript /php

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'm a proffesional marketter and monetizer. The section I am most active is "Marketplace". Especially :

Free services and giveaways

(why?) I enjoy giving away stuff to people. You can search through my threads and check it so

Premium Sellers Section

(why?) I am an everyday buyer from HF. I've bought countless things like programs or books , hostings , social media services , graphics etc.

Secondary Sellers Market

(why?) I never though that upgraded members have sometihng more compared to not upgraded ones. I enjoy reviewing, buying products from normal members and helping them get closer to upgrade

Ebook Bazaar

(why?) As reffered before, I've bought countless e-books and sold many. Some examples are (Sex Rampage, 45 minuted day work, WTF!? money)

Member Auctions

(why?)I'm setting like 1-5 auctions everyday

Buyers Bay

(why?)I have many stuff to offer. Got thousands of jobs/sales through this section

Service Offering

(why?)I can make graphs, so I sell them. I can provide social services ; so I sell them.I provide many minijobs through the rewards and small favors and finally can do a lot of things so I hire/get hired a lot in the Partnerships, Hiring, and Personnel section

Currency exchange

(why?) I'm a marketter ; I know how to market currencies

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

Empire is a group I always wanted to be a part of. Maybe it's the HQ image that provides through HF or maybe the HQ members in it. Who knows! Maybe even the cool userbar :P. I really want to be a part of the empire as I want to make people see that being a "L33T" is not actually so bad. You can be HQ without being a ub3r. And that's somethine people in HF should learn.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I deserve to be a part of the empire to due to my many skills and variety of jobs and services I can offer. I can help people of the empire with their monetizing/marketting questions/issues and provide discounts to each one of my products/services. I can be helpfull to a big variety of stuff and can contribute with my knowledge to an even bigger one.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

{As this is going to be a way long essay, I am getting out of the align.

First of all I would like to express my deep sad for this forum as I was for a long time a normal user and got against all this "upgraded members' hate." I would also like to say in public that I am not waiting for an approval in the brotherhood because of the same reason.Ub3rs count for more; Or this is what I assumed from my experience in HF. Even though I would like to give a shot with my application essay.}

Hello to everyone and especially to the empire.

My name is Panos, I'm 19 years old and I'm curenly working / living on Athens. The capital city of Greece.

I am a dedicated internet worker and I can guarantee that I get way more money from the internet but in real life. Things in Greece keep going from bad to worst, more and more young people are hungry and live a life that most of you cannot even imagine. Luckily, I'm not one of them.I was always a clever kid that never wanted to study and was especially naughty at school; So I decided that I will do something different and everyone will like me for this. And yes. that's true ; Untill the age of 14 I was studying Html and shit like that while teens in my age were doing their homework. Indeed! It worked. At the age of 16 everyone in my school was like " He is a h4xor " just because I used to know how to phish a facebook, "bad" boys of my hood were asking me for brazzers' accounts as that was something that they could not even imagine.Now, I'm 19 years old and I can say I'm Fing happy I was a nerd all these years. I am getting about the double income from way more studied people than me and I think I'm from the "rich" guys in Greece. I am walking down the street and can see people sleeping under bridges and others begging in bus stations. I am happy and proud of what I did and I'm sure that one day others will see it aswell.

I will now move on to the period of time I entered the "underword" of the internet. I was at the age of 15 when I first googled : "how to hack facebook" when I realised that the first page on YouTube was fulled of "facebook hackers". I tried plenty of times to download one of them but everytime I had to pay for a survey.. About a week later I got it, wtf was that? YouTube was supposed to be free, what happened. That was my first google search about all these surveys.... Blackhat PPD got in my life a month later when I got my first 3.60$ from a site locking survey to my unverified paypal. I was so happy and exited... I started looking at forums and sites about the PPD world untill a guy asked me : "Why don't you get a youtube video and boost it? " Boost it? What's that? I replied, he explained to me that everything on internet is fake. People pay or trade views,likes comments etc. My idea for social media sites got broken. It was the time that I hated facebook,youtube and every other site that offers a fake image of things.It didn't took me long untill I realised that I can use this for my own personal purposes. And that's what I did. I am now 19 years old and getting 150$ per day from PPD. I have already launched my first e-book and it's sales are going more than great.

I had to do something more though, I was not satisfied from the 10$ per week...I started studying about RATs. Paid some bucks and got a load of bots. My second income source was there. I started selling installs,loads and the bots themselves for some money. Finally after ticking RAT as done I moved to something more illegal as e-whoring. It will sound ... Not funny...Not hilarious.. But.. Retarded I guess. I started doing e-whoring at teen-chat.org with my mother's clothes with a fake skype and an unverified paypal... It worked! I got 50$ from it and I bought a e-whoring bot. That's all. I got addicted. I spent the next ... 2 weeks doing it... I got a total of 3000$ in 2 weeks and got bored of it. I had to do something else.. I am from the kind of people that aren't satisfied with anything.. I started doing GFX for some bucks. Well. I have passed the 500 words way back before, but I had to tell you some things about me. I am not up for saying more in public.. At least for now. I would be happy to pm a full review of my life to any owners of the brotherhood and a list of my future goals or anything if be needed.

After being a pain for your eyes with such a big story about me, I would like to leave a big wish for the rest participants and tell to them to follow their dreams and do what they like; Never give up and always fight for your survival. Try every time your best because it will may be your last chance to prove what you deserve.

Good luck to everyone and long live to the empire.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

In Greece things are really bad. I won't lie ; my only income is my internet income. That's what is my basic and only priority in my life. I want to get better and better in the monetizing sector and will try leave off this. My sites will maybe help to this aswell.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I will just say a few words for this. 1 year in HackForums made me able to do stuff that 10 years in real life wouldn't

Anything else you would like to say:

Good luck to every participant!

Finally would like to link you my own monetizing forums and my soon launched new project!

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I have been doing graphics for almost 2 years now, and I am mainly good at editing images, and make them look real. As photoshop should be used ?

Lately I have been more into InDesign since it is easier to operate and works a lot more smooth. Besides graphics I like to market products such as eBooks, make money online and offline, and do some blackhat related services here and there.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I am mainly active in the Upgraded Members lounges, official groups' subforums, and the Marketplace Discussions. These sections attract me as there is always something 'happening' and if there is anything you will quickly get the latest info.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

To be honest to see what The Empire is like. I have never been in The Empire before (except that one time when Vinnie haxored Tibit's account and added everyone in of course). I also just like to 'be there' for other people if they need any kind of help/assistance.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

Because I am a quality member that likes to spread knowledge.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

What makes me who I am, eh? Well, I am this individual online because I am less socially accepted by the general people of my age, and therefore I browse forums. Not saying I dont have friends but I think that what makes me me is because I am different than others in my life.

Something quite memorable that happened to me? One of my best friends passed away 2 months ago, and he was such a good friend to me that I just cannot forget it.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

At the moment;

- Earn money to pay for expenses
- College

In the near future it will just be the usual, earn money to keep myself healthy and alive and be happy. I dont have much to wish for.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Hmm, that is quite a good question. Honestly I cant answer it because my opinion on this website changes quickly.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Graphics: I'm skilled in graphics design and gaming. I do 3 Dimensional youtube backgrounds for HF members, I also do desktop backgrounds. I keep my quality as high as possible to make sure my customers are satisfied with everything they receive. 3D Portfolio:

www.weakdesigns.carbonmade.com

Gaming: Gaming wise I play LOTS of games on the PC such as League of Legends, Minecraft, and World of Warcraft. I'm currently using an Xbox360 250GB and I can help play with any members interested. I'm also very active in Hackercraft I'm currently expanding my carrot farm.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I'm most active in The Lounge and the Graphics Design/Minecraft Section.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I want to join The Empire because I feel Tibit is running the group quite well with his other leaders, moderating and keeping everything under control. I would personally like to join because the members are high quality and I would have plenty of people to talk to and support everyone verbally and not LQ spam post.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because I can do graphics for everyone, and talk to people who are down or just need someone to talk to. I'm also good at playing League of Legends and Minecraft if anyone needs help or wants to play.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: The most memorable thing that has happened in my life is that when I was younger I was out with my friends, thinking I was all cool I was chillin' with some trashy kid and he was doing all this craze parkour. I decided I could do some and I decided to get on top of an AT&T electric box and 360 off and ended up spraining my ankle and missing 3 days of school. That isn't very important but it has changed me because he persuaded me to do that, I don't trust or hangout with people like him anymore.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? My Priorities are quite simple.
School>Family>Friends>Hackforums

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? I realized how friendly the community can be, and what good it would do to stay. I now do marketing, gaming, and graphics design for the community. I also noticed you must contribute, I don't just post low quality posts in random places to make myself look good. I make HQ posts to show that I am a valued member and that I enjoy being here.

Anything else you would like to say: Tibit you are a good guy, you have a big group to run best of luck with recruitment! ?

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: A few skills I have include but are not limited to: PHP, Social Media, Grammar and Web administrating The only example I can think of would have to be my old site Hallway Insider. The site was extremely successful with over 40,000 members. The topic of Hallway Insider was the site "spam" when spam died down from their original concept, my site died as well. I eventually decided to close the site when the contract was up on my hosting. My job title at work is "Social Media Adviser"! This means that I manage the companies website, Facebook, and Twitter accounts. I know how to grab someones eye and draw them into the product. I then send some ideas off to the Graphics department and let their minds go to work. I also have worked as customer support for Time Warner Cable, dealing with irate customers who are mad there cable is broke.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I do not have a specific section that interests me any more than the other. I tend to stay out of the actual "hacking" sections. When it comes to the PHP, Graphics, and Money sections, I enjoy reading and posting replies in all of these sections. All of these topics interest me.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I would like to join The Empire because it seems like a group full of a handful of down to earth people. You all have a great marketplace and I see a lot of potential in this group. I would love to be a part of the group and contribute towards its success in any way possible.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: squeaky peasant voice I am not worthy, I am not worthy I am not sure if I truly deserve to be a part of the group. However I know that I can contribute to the groups sales and help improve the already amazing quality.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: I am a 19 year old college student at Austin Peay State University. I believe that dreams don't work unless you do. When I was eight years old my parents got divorced, my dad was in the army and my mom is a doctor. I had to stay with my mom, and I visited my dad every other weekend. On my ninth birthday I received a card in the mail from my dad. Inside was a note to my mom and my card. The note to my mom read "It's up to you to tell him that I'm not his real dad, but I'm choosing to drop visitation privileges." I had just found out that the man I had come to know as my father was not who he said he was. I fell into some trouble, and began hanging out with the wrong table. I got into some trouble with the law at age eleven for breaking into a house. After that my mom decided that she was going to make me work for what I want. Nothing was handed to me. The day I turned sixteen I began filling out applications around town at any place that was accepting them. I got a job at a local catfish buffet washing dishes in the back. After a year of work there I had saved up a few dollars, my mom matched the money I had and bought me a vehicle. I now work as a social media adviser for a local company, promoting the company on Twitter, Facebook, and I maintain the website.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? My priorities right now in life would have to be my educations. I'm enrolled as a Freshman at Austin Peay State University here in Tennessee! I'm currently Majoring in Criminal Justice. However my dream is to be a Motorcycle Injury Attorney.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? I think the people here is what kept me around. There are constantly new people joining, and confused about the place and I love to help them. Also I love the old members who know me and my name. (Formally Mozilla). I also like that there are so many new topics to talk about each day! If you stick around HF I'm sure you will see everything.

Anything else you would like to say: Thank you for reading my application and considering me as a candidate for The Empire!

I'd personally work on your application a little bit. xadamxk mentioned in the second post of this thread to put effort into your application. Your application doesn't have to be all graphically done up, but it sure as heck be detailed. The more attention of detail you have in your application, the higher chance of you being accepted. I will note that there is a leader (vitafortis) who has a programming sector. Within that sector he has subsectors too. I wouldn't recommend you private messaging about you applying for that sector, but you could always message him about any questions you have.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:Marketing Products

Setting up minecraft servers

Installing almost anything in a linux server

Making deals

Doing business

Setting up WHMCS sites

Configuring servers to perfection

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

The section i would probably be most active in would be gaming or linux/server management sections if you have any.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I look up to almost anyone i see in the group and almost anyone that is in it has hackforum history and has helped the site in some way. To wrap it up i want to be in because everyone in is known to help people.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

It not really my decision if you don't accept me into the group. All i can do is sit here and hope that you will invite me to join the fine group. On topic though i feel i should be invited because i have a lot of potential to give to HF and i feel being dedicated to a group is a start.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I've always been the type of person that wants to constantly get shit done. If you want to game or anything like that it would normally have to wait until i am done doing what i am doing. I also don't like to be corrected by people that have no idea what they are talking about. More things about me i guess would be that some day i want to make stable income online by selling some sort of product. I have a lot of things i "hope" happens but at the rate i am working it won't belong until i accomplish these goals.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My priorities in life right now would probably get through my programming class in high school and after that make programs to sell online and make money from and maybe get a job working for a company programming for them and things. I haven't really decided what I REALLY want to do in life yet, but the most important would probably be once again getting through high school.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

The very lively market place here. I joined back in I think August to vouch for my friend selling his product here. Then I soon realized the potential of money making here and I instantly wanted to stay and continue marketing products. Everyone here is very helpful I have noticed as well.

Anything else you would like to say: Not really I felt I made my application simple and to the point not to waste anyone's time reading it. Good day ?

I think you're getting confused. I hope you don't mind if I explain the basics of actually applying for something such as a group. Heck, this may even help you in the real world.

You can clearly see in the first post of this thread there was one specific criteria that had to be met. I will quote it for you as you are confused: "To elaborate on the general information, we want to know more about you, other than how "high quality" you are. Be sure to be truthful and honest in your application, this could make you or break your application." (Post: #1)

In terms of your application, you gave us nothing of who you are. The only information you provided was the very basics of who you are. I understand you write in PHP, but you never gave any examples of who you are. You need to understand that we (The Empire) do not understand who you are. Imagine me writing a résumé for that neat car mechanic job. I obviously want to impress the company so I'll give a list of what I am excellent at with cars. Heck to make it even better I may even 'elaborate' on what I know. Without any documentation or proof, would you (Zap) believe in that I work with cars? Obviously if you knew me you would probably accept me, but if you didn't then you wouldn't.

That basically is how we would feel accepting you without any effort in your application. I perfectly understand things happen when rendering/compiling videos. It would be common sense to either redo it, or put effort into typing what you said. In this case you didn't, and you're arguing about writing some sort of essay. Just because I am a nice person, I will give you a shot at redoing your application. Once you have done that, please notify me in a private message that you have done so. If you do not want to do that, simply look for another group that is recruiting.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I am skilled in the values of typical networking and remote administration tools, keylogging software and proxy/VPN connections, and can help to teach the understanding and logic behind such items. I am also a businessman here on the forums and do my best to serve as many purposes as possible.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I believe I am most active in Premium Sellers as well as the Lounge.

I love to see what new products are emerging in the marketplace as well as read and catch up with members about their personal lives, maybe stuff their doing on the forum or something they need help with.

I also spend quite a bit of time helping out in the Beginner hacking sections.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I was in this group once before, and would love to be in it again. I feel I am even more worthy of a spot in this group then I was before because I have contributed much more in terms of knowledge and passion. I release as many walkthroughs as I can atleast once a month and try to stay in contact with as many people as I can. I feel I would be a great addition to your group.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

Well as I said I feel I would be a great member to have in the group to help set an example of how a member should communicate and help customers and non-customers. I would love to help set the standards.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm a college freshmen for computer programming. Most of my life I have been pretty adept to learning new things online and offline. I have worked numerous odd-jobs in real life and currently hold a part time job which despite being part time keeps me pretty damn busy. I spend a lot of time taking care of my family as most of my family is quite older then me, along with step brothers and a step sister. Between hospital visits, school and work I'm usually out with friends and hanging out online here on HackForums and Skype.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My main priorities are to get my school documented onto paper - pass everything and get school finished for now before deciding a next course to take. I want to get as much school done as possible so I can prepare myself for the future. I have enough money to buy all my courses without loans so that will help me greatly not have any debt in my life.

Other priorities are work, I need a better job but that can wait til after school TBH.

My last important to me priority is taking care of the family and making sure life goes on as usual.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I realised this forum was more then just a website - it's a gathering place and community with all types of people of all races, this is one of the best places in the world to learn and communicate with others about something you need to sell/buy, learn or teach.

Anything else you would like to say:

I would just like to say thanks for reading, and I hope I can once again be part of this amazing group and help to set a unique example.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: Because its Tibit's group and I like his tweets + he follows me on Twitter. And idk really, to bond with more members maybe? Not sure.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: Loyal + Tibit follows me on Twitter.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: I'm a loungy, relaxed guy but sometimes I get hyper, I enjoy gaming and like been happy and just chilling.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? To be happy at whatever I end up doing, hopefully internet related as I cba talking to people and having to go to a job.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I have a wide range of skills, from various topics. I would say that my three main skills are marketing, gaming and computing. Beginning with the first skill Marketing, since I first started frequenting internet forums and marketplaces I always liked to sell and market my products. I have learned the ways on how to make a product sell well, and fast. On to gaming, I first started gaming when I was four on the N64 with my brother, and from there I kept growing. I have had nearly every major console since then and have developed my skills on all of them. I even made a little money from game battles and the like. I would say that I got into computing in the second grade on my dad's old 17 inch HP laptop. Mostly just playing Miniclip and that damn Pinball on Windows XP. Ever since then I have been devoloping and gaining knowledge on all operating systems and platforms.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I would say that I am most active in the Mac OSX, IOS, and Minecraft section. I have always preferred mac and grew a knowledge of both OSX and IOS that far surpasses the average. I like to help others who are in need and even have a little fun. For minecraft, I always loved playing it and try to make sure that everyone has a top 'notch' experience.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I want to join the empire because I believe it is one of, if not the most prestigious group here on Hack Forums. I believe, if accepted that I will greatly enjoy getting to know everyone in the group and discuss a variety of topics. I love to become part of new things, and enjoy new experiences.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I love to laugh game, and generally do anything that makes me happy. I am always willing to help others and do nearly anything reasonable thing someone asks me to do. I would say that the internet has shaped the way that I grew up and what I learned. I think that I have learned far more online then I have in school. In addition, I will probably apply what I learned online a lot more than what I learn in school. A memorable event in my life, was probably the day I joined Hack Forums. I found a place that accepted me, and that I felt comfortable. Hack Forums has changed me for the better and I really enjoy it to this day.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My major priority in life is to stay happy. No matter what I just want to maintain mental wellness and control of my life. If I feel that anything is altering or affecting this I will try my best to terminate it. Indeed, I always want to be successful and make a little money on the side, but as long as I am happy, then I have succeeded.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I stayed because I love it. I might even be addicted. I stay active because, the more time I spend here, the more fun I have, the more I learn, and the more I can teach others. I love being the part of the community, because I feel like I am part of something big, and special.

Anything else you would like to say:

I thank you for the opportunity and I hope I get accepted!

Some of my skills are...Ratting mostly and crashing my schools internet all the time and watch the sysops run around like rats trying to figure out whats wrong. Haha...I have also RATTED teachers computers around the building to screw around with them if I am home sick or something. I have some basic skills in HTML coding and am currently learning how to code CSS. Tiny bit of Basic as well.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I am active in the gaming section...Also the Rat section, I am active in the gaming sections because I love to play FPS's and RTS's Competitively/Non-Competitively and I'm active in the RAT section because I love answering other members questions about their RAT's and crypting.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

Because this seems like an awesome group. With amazing members as I have seen all kinds of HQ members in Empire around on HF posting HQ stuff and would like to be apart of that ?.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:
I believe I can be a great addition to a gaming sector...I probably game about 4+ hours a day on the PC...and have a vast knowledge on Rats and could help people a lot with setups etc.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?
I would have to say my biggest priority is school.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hack forums after first joining?
Wow..When I first joined the forums...I was amazed at all of the stuff on here. All of the knowledge it holds and how kind the members are. About after a week on the forums I upgraded to l33t. I have met a lot of very nice people and love this great community..that's why I stay active.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I make a decent amount of money. I started business maybe 2 years ago with social engineering and with grey hat and went through all that and finally came into white hat. Now I am buying a selling Doge Coin and I make anywhere from 30-50 dollars a day. When I first started I made a k in 2 weeks.

I am also playing around with 1k in stocks as well.

I have learned quite a bit around those fields and I am quite good with business in general. I also game a decent amount if that means anything.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

If you look at post activity it would show that all of the marketplace sections would be my most active. Once again the reasoning of this is because of my business interest.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

The Empire. I believe that this group is by far the most notorious and infamous. It seems like the kind of group that you don't want to mess with yet be close with them. I see it as Al Capone running the Alcohol Game as The Empire runs the Marketplace with your most HQ products.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

First off I think I should be accepted to maybe become a student. As I told you I have done business for years. And 100 dollars a week is very nice, yet there is still more to learn. As well I can teach other members method and get them up on their feet as I was back when I started.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I don't really know where to start. A few years ago I sat at the xbox thinking well, I receive allowance but what my parents supply for all my purchases simply what does that accomplish. I tell my parents, "Stop. I will be self sufficient from now on." From there outward I began to learn. I received A's in school as my parents wished for but I focused none of my attention to school. It was on business, money, and the importance of all of it.

Throughout the starting year I did multiple things. I first decided to start a little bit of social engineering and went on to that got a 3ds and a Kindle. Sold both to make maybe $300 and that was my starting ground. Then I tried to make ebooks and sell them. I finally came up with an EBay method that was greyhat but worked pretty well for me. That month with the method I went on to make $200 and I was relatively proud of it. In the following months I was just selling products on EBay completely White Hat. Then I was playing with that game for quite a while.

A couple months go by if not a year, and I finally find myself a partner. However this kid wasn't all that rich. He didn't have a dad, and he didn't have any money himself. We together went on to make quite a bit of money. I in the following 6 months made around 1k whilst he made like 200. I went on to teach this kid all he knows today and he finally was able to get himself a gaming computer, xbox, and multiple other small items.

We fast forward to 3 months from present day and I decide to start doing something completely legitimate. A dogecoin business. I went on to sell dogecoin for those next 2 weeks and make a k. Now we fast forward to present day where the income is less but in the past 2 weeks I have made 150 dollars. I have been busy with school and sports which was the majority of the problem.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Well I would like to say Family, Business, School, and Friends. Almost in that order. My family is quite important and the welfare of them matters. However the welfare of them doesn't necessarily match up to the welfare of me. I focus so much on Business that on the list of orders it is more important than school. I still continue to get A's however I find economics and business much more interesting. I also care about my friends.

Name: Banana in HF ~ Panos in real life

Age: 19

Gender: male

Religion: none

State/Country: Greece

Time Zone: (GMT + 2:00)

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: ?Social media boosting :

I can boost anything , anytime. Can load major ammounts of boosting in everything regarded to : YT , FB , twitter , instagram.

?SEO :

One of my forums is 3rd on first page in google and 10 of my PPD videos in number 1 or 2 of the first page in youtube. Can teach anyone in the brotherhood for free and can offer my services to improve your videos / sites

?Mybb site constructing : My 3rd forum is now on internet with over 100 users in just 2-3 days. Premium subscriber on Mybbcentral and a file loaded with all paid themefreak themes and all premium mybb plugins like ficons.

?PPD : You can check my e-book (WTF money) and my free project I recently opened to HF audience. I am getting 150+$ everyday out of PPD and I'm not even counting my refferals' income. I can be asked to teach for free any brotherhood member and even give my 20$ e-book completely for free.

?E-whoring : I can guarantee for myself on this. I can teach anyone and even do live lessons via TV or Skype. My highest goal is 980$ in a day out of it.

?Spreading : I am working about 9 months on spreading. I can spread anything like an advertismment or can load a major amount of downloads/installs to any number up to 10.000

?RATing : I am RATing for over a year and I have reached a load of 10k bots. I can be asked to get you bots, downloads and installs of everything.

?Writing : I can prepair a HQ essay 300 words for Michigan in less than 14 minutes. I can work on presentations , job applications or reviews. Finally I can be even asked to correct anything as my English is 99.99% perfect.

?Doxing : I don't have much time working on this but with some good information can gather some more. I am still restricted on europe countries as my information sources are not worldwide spread yet.

?Graphic skills : I can pretty much master photoshop, gimp and paint.net. I can make HQ hackforum designs, signatures or everything else can be asked. I have been working for almost a year on xat (biggest chatbox company); Especially I am a permanant mod on xat.com/graphics and have talent on xat avatars/xat spaces and signatures.

?Gaming/Gaming knowledge : Well... I can't say everything on this as a thread character limit will stop me :P. I can let you know some things for me on this. First of all I am moderating for some years now The Darkness Project 4 (TDP4) on it's original site. Moreover I am working as a worldwide tournament organizer at their forums aswell. Beside this specific game I own almost every kind of console, 2 laptops and 3 tablets. My total ammount of games is about 200-250 console games and another 150-200 pc games.

?Online marketing : For some time now I am working as an online marketer, I am usually working as a reseller as I have a talent on convincing people buying useless stuff so I always get a profit of what I sell ; And that's not a few. I can be used to promote stuff in or even out of HackForums for free or just for a small fee.

?Speech and online debating skills : Well, as about this ; This is one of the most important talents of me. It maybe occured from the many hours I spend online everyday on games, chatboxes and forums or it's maybe something I got from my parents. This is a skill that has helped be a lot untill now. I never lost a paypal dispute and that's not because of my luck. That's because I know how to talk and mostly convince people about everything. I think I can even sell a boat to a homeless person. My skills can be usefull for debates, argues and even with promoting products of the brotherhood.

?Programing : I know how to create the basic .exe programs needed for PPD

?Coding : I know html / css / javascript /php

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'm a proffesional marketter and monetizer. The section I am most active is "Marketplace". Especially :

Free services and giveaways

(why?) I enjoy giving away stuff to people. You can search through my threads and check it so

Premium Sellers Section

(why?) I am an everyday buyer from HF. I've bought countless things like programs or books , hostings , social media services , graphics etc.

Secondary Sellers Market

(why?) I never though that upgraded members have sometihng more compared to not upgraded ones. I enjoy reviewing, buying products from normal members and helping them get closer to upgrade

Ebook Bazaar

(why?) As reffered before, I've bought countless e-books and sold many. Some examples are (Sex Rampage,45 minuted day work, WTF!? money)

Member Auctions

(why?)I'm setting like 1-5 auctions everyday

Buyers Bay

(why?)I have many stuff to offer. Got thousands of jobs/sales through this section

Service Offering

(why?)I can make graphs, so I sell them. I can provide social services ; so I sell them.I provide many minijobs through the rewards and small favors and finally can do a lot of things so I hire/get hired a lot in the Partnerships, Hiring, and Personnel section

Currency exchange

(why?) I'm a marketter ; I know how to market currencies

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

Empire is a group I always wanted to be a part of. Maybe it's the HQ image that provides through HF or maybe the HQ members in it. Who knows! Maybe even the cool userbar :P. I really want to be a part of the empire as I want to make people see that being a "L33T" is not actually so bad. You can be HQ without being a ub3r. And that's somethine people in HF should learn.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I deserve to be a part of the empire to due to my many skills and variety of jobs and services I can offer. I can help people of the empire with their monetizing/marketting questions/issues and provide discounts to each one of my products/services. I can be helpfull to a big variety of stuff and can contribute with my knowledge to an even bigger one.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

{As this is going to be a way long essay, I am getting out of the align.

First of all I would like to express my deep sad for this forum as I was for a long time a normal user and got against all this "upgraded members' hate." I would also like to say in public that I am not waiting for an approval in the brotherhood because of the same reason.Ub3rs count for more; Or this is what I assumed from my experience in HF. Even though I would like to give a shot with my application essay.}

Hello to everyone and especially to the empire.

My name is Panos, I'm 19 years old and I'm curenly working / living on Athens. The capital city of Greece.

I am a dedicated internet worker and I can guarantee that I get way more money from the internet but in real life. Things in Greece keep going from bad to worst, more and more young people are hungry and live a life that most of you cannot even imagine. Luckily, I'm not one of them.I was always a clever kid that never wanted to study and was especially naughty at school; So I decided that I will do something different and everyone will like me for this. And yes. that's true ; Untill the age of 14 I was studying Html and shit like that while teens in my age were doing their homework. Indeed! It worked. At the age of 16 everyone in my school was like " He is a h4xor " just because I used to know how to phish a facebook, "bad" boys of my hood were asking me for brazzers' accounts as that was something that they could not even imagine.Now, I'm 19 years old and I can say I'm Fing happy I was a nerd all these years. I am getting about the double income from way more studied people than me and I think I'm from the "rich" guys in Greece. I am walking down the street and can see people sleeping under bridges and others begging in bus stations. I am happy and proud of what I did and I'm sure that one day others will see it aswell.

I will now move on to the period of time I entered the "underword" of the internet. I was at the age of 15 when I first googled : "how to hack facebook" when I realised that the first page on YouTube was fulled of "facebook hackers". I tried plenty of times to download one of them but everytime I had to pay for a survey.. About a week later I got it, wtf was that? YouTube was supposed to be free, what happened. That was my first google search about all these surveys.... Blackhat PPD got in my life a month later when I got my first 3.60$ from a site locking survey to my unverified paypal. I was so happy and exited... I started looking at forums and sites about the PPD world untill a guy asked me : "Why don't you get a youtube video and boost it? " Boost it? What's that? I replied, he explained to me that everything on internet is fake. People pay or trade views,likes comments etc. My idea for social media sites got broken. It was the time that I hated facebook,youtube and every other site that offers a fake image of things.It didn't took me long untill I realised that I can use this for my own personal purposes. And that's what I did. I am now 19 years old and getting 150$ per day from PPD. I have already launched my first e-book and it's sales are going more than great.

I had to do something more though, I was not satisfied from the 10$ per week...I started studying about RATs. Paid some bucks and got a load of bots. My second income source was there. I started selling installs,loads and the bots themselves for some money. Finally after ticking RAT as done I moved to something more illegal as e-whoring. It will sound ... Not funny...Not hilarious.. But.. Retarded I guess. I started doing e-whoring at teen-chat.org with my mother's clothes with a fake skype and an unverified paypal... It worked! I got 50$ from it and I bought a e-whoring bot. That's all. I got addicted. I spent the next ... 2 weeks doing it... I got a total of 3000$ in 2 weeks and got bored of it. I had to do something else.. I am from the kind of people that aren't satisfied with anything.. I started doing GFX for some bucks. Well. I have passed the 500 words way back before, but I had to tell you some things about me. I am not up for saying more in public.. At least for now. I would be happy to pm a full review of my life to any owners of the brotherhood and a list of my future goals or anything if be needed.

After being a pain for your eyes with such a big story about me, I would like to leave a big wish for the rest participants and tell to them to follow their dreams and do what they like; Never give up and always fight for your survival. Try every time your best because it will may be your last chance to prove what you deserve.

Good luck to everyone and long live to the empire.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

In Greece things are really bad. I won't lie ; my only income is my internet income. That's what is my basic and only priority in my life. I want to get better and better in the monetizing sector and will try leave off this. My sites will maybe help to this aswell.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I will just say a few words for this. 1 year in HackForums made me able to do stuff that 10 years in real life wouldn't

Anything else you would like to say:

Good luck to every participant!

Finally would like to link you my own monetizing forums and my soon launched new project!

Evangelist, get some sleep noob.

As for all the applicants, I am seeing a lot of people complaining as to why they can't apply. If the video crashes, redo it. If all you have is a phone, record a voice application, upload it, and lost the URL here, not that hard. When an opportunity presents itself, both in the virtual world and physical world, either do everything you can do, or give up. If you're just gonna give up, you're obviously not worth inviting because you don't care enough to even try. Honestly, I could pick the guy that made a voice app using his phone over the guy who re types his app for every groip simply because the guy with the phone put mor effort in.

This is pretty much it.

Obviously the leaders are going to consider an application where the user took more time and effort, over someone who copied/pasted their application text.

I'd like to see some more video applications, haven't seen many of those for this recruitment period :P.

Because it's rarely done. Also, a video app takes more than five minutes. You have to prepare the content, repeat until satisfied, edit if you desire, make sure the video works, etc. Besides, video apps themselves don't work, it's when they highlight certain things such as showing off artwork you've made, things you've done, etc.

I don't see why not, but we are not looking for members that want everything spoon fed, you are supposed to make an app that comes from you and impresses. If we tell you how to do it what will you have proven? That you can follow what people say? It's ultimately your choice, though personally I prefer you to stumble and stumble until you get it right.

I feel my application is prepared enough and took me plenty of time but I would like to add some extra material aswell. I will probably add some extra texts and images tomorrow. Maybe a simple program aswell..

The only issue I'm facing is that I'm in the middle of an exam period and lacking of time.

Anyways I think that a video application could be easier than a well prepared written one Guys, I'm only going to repeat this once, stop complaining about your app. We don't need a narration about what you think your app has that other people's don't, what you can do to improve, etc. From now on, if I see people complaining about applications or asking how to improve their app or whatever, I'm going to ignore their app regardless of how good or bad it is.

?Banana, no offense, but please stop posting about what you think you can do to improve or what you think about your app. If you have questions, ask a leader. You're posting, quite frankly, unneeded posts. If you feel you can improve your app, improve it. Otherwise, leave it as it is.

I've met plenty of new people, and I've highly enjoyed my experience within the group, I hope to stay in it for the longest time possible. I can't say too much about the SF without leaking it, but I can tell you it's totally worth it. The conversations and discussions we have a great. The group really is worth it.

Tasty, maybe if you waited the 30 seconds for me to edit the post and make it into an image...

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

My skills are as follows:

PC Building

I have built and modified many computers in my lifetime, and recommended builds for people who have not. I know my way in and out of a computer; put me in front of one and ask me to name every single part and I can do so without effort. My knowledge also extends to system troubleshooting, if someone comes to me and says their machine is not working properly, I know the signs of an error and I can usually diagnose the problem within 5 minutes of working with it. My extensive knowledge may prove useful to the group, whether we're brainstorming or problem solving, I'll do my best to provide an accurate estimation based on my knowledge, when needed, of course.

Audio/Video Production

I have been editing videos and audio for about the same amount of time that I have owned a computer. I maintained a 90%/100% average in my news production class in high school. I was previously active in the Call of Duty editing scene, and at one point has 1,700 subscribers, as well as a network partnership, on my main YouTube channel. I would list some of my work, but I don't want to come off as an advertiser or a braggart, as I am neither of those types. If you'd like to see my material, feel free to PM me.

Semi-Professional PC Gaming

I do not consider myself a professional gamer; I have only attended one public tournament many years ago, of which I did not win. The main video games I played/practiced were Call of Duty and Counter-Strike. (1.6 and Source.) The last game in the CoD series I played, Black Ops II, I had kept a 2.8+ kill/death ratio throughout the entire Multiplayer ranking system. Before that, on Modern Warfare 3, I maintained a 2.5+ K/D ratio, and placed in the top 100 in Team Deathmatch leaderboards, top 500 in the Kill Confirmed leaderboards, and top 1000 for overall score. I also have put a lot of hours into SMITE, a real-time strategy game similar to League of Legends. I have been in and out of clans, the last of which split up because two members got recruited to a higher-position clan. I can still play, though, and know how to play well with a team. (Calling MIA, knowing when to gank/ward, god/lane combinations, etc.) All in all, I'm okay at playing video games. It's one of my specialties.

Networking/IT

I have experience in the networking field, have taken a proper class, maintained an 85%+/100% average in the class, and would have, more than likely, graduated and obtained my CompTIA A+ certification if I hadn't moved to a state where the class was not offered. I know the basics of networking, understand programming to an extent, and have been brought up with computers and worked on them since I was born. I am a fast learner, self-motivated and willing to learn.

Currency Exchanging

I have done many exchanges throughout my history on HackForums, and previous forums, most of which without a hitch. I'm not afraid to haggle, I do extensive background checking on the user before I deal with them to insure the user I am dealing with can be trusted, and I have a general understanding of supply and demand, and can use that knowledge to create a fair but profitable offer.

Psychology

I am a very sociable person on the internet, and in being close friends with many people, I have learned to understand the human body and mind of others as if it were my mind and body. I have helped many people get out of dark and fatal times just by typing on a keyboard. I am told that I can be a very motivational speaker. I am a very caring person at heart, but I can be stern and serious when needed. The reason why I'm capable of motivation and harness the ability to change minds is because I have been through many a rough patch in life, myself, and can usually connect with people I'm helping due to the fact that we share similar experiences; the only difference being I walk out of every problem with a smile and without a care in the world. I believe that everyone has the right to be happy, regardless of what people think of you, what you do for a living, where you live, whatever, because without trials and tribulations, rewards and information you do not gain.

I have many other small skills, although none worth mentioning on this application unless desired.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'm mostly active in the upgraded lounges, but have been known to roam the Marketplace and Computing/Gaming sections just about equally. If I'm not talking about soft drinks in the lounges, I'm recommending/discussing hardware/games and reviewing purchased software. I do not tend to have a primary section I reside in, as I lurk throughout the new posts link and post on whatever I see fit.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?

The main reason I'm applying to The Empire is to make new friends and learn new things, as I've heard from multiple sources and experienced first-hand that members of The Empire are informative, helpful, respectful, and overall nice people. I would like to have the ability to represent such an astounding group in my legacy on HackForums, as well.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I was brought up to chase my dreams, and that everyone should deserve a chance. I am self motivated, calm and collected, a fast learner, and a good friend. Every single friendship I've gained in life I have maintained and kept alive. I am a hard worker, but know how and when to slack off. While some may think of that and consider it as reckless and a sign of impotence, I tend to think of it as using my knowledge and skills to better manipulate the current situation to get the most out of it. That skill does come in handy in many situations, due to my ability to think outside of the box. I feel as if I can not only share my knowledge with the group and be useful to the community as a whole, but learn more information about the things I don't know with other group members. That is why I believe I personally deserve the acceptance; to not only be able to better myself, but everyone else, as well.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Who am I? I am C---. I don't like leaving my name out in the open, but I've made it very easy to guess. I am an 18-year-old IT student from the east coast of the United States. I have graduated from school and earned a standard diploma, and I am currently considering attending a community college. I know a lot of things about a lot of things, to put my knowledge into general terms. I'm a very optimistic person, and I'm not afraid to speak my mind. I think before I type, don't try to start arguments, and am usually respectful in my speaking/typing.

What makes me, me... that's a hard question to answer. Normally I would explain that I am a sentient life form comprised of hydrogen, oxygen, and carbon, but you're not looking for that, are you? You're not looking for what I am, you're looking for who I am, not at a cellular level, but at a mental and physical level. To be honest, I'm no "special snowflake." My childhood was decent, and my adult life has been decent so far, no major ups and downs worth listing. Therefore, I implore you to base your analysis on not what person I have been in the past, but the person I am before you.

Think of me as a key, and your group, a house. There are many keys in the world, and I am but one key. I may open your front door, I may open your dresser, or I may not open anything in the house at all, but you won't know until you try me out.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Family and friends matter most to me. Without them, I would not be in the position I am today.

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/empire2-f.png[/img]

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on HackForums after first joining? To be honest, I wasn't active at first, you've probably guessed that due to my join date and post count. I would do an exchange here and there every couple of months, maybe post on a few topics, buy a few products, and so on; but as of now, I'm posting at least 10 times a day in various sections, which is more active than I have ever been, and I plan to stay active. The main factors on why I decided to stay with the community is because of It's broad spectrum of members, information research, and to have an overall good time.

If you didn't get in last time you applied, doesn't mean you won't this time. There are different leaders looking through applications this time so you may have a better chance than you did before, you may also have changed since the last time you applied.

Also, video or voice applications are a great benefit, majority of those that use voice/video apps end up getting accepted.

And don't worry too much about a couple of the leaders, they are nicer when you get to know them :P

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Games: Played a wide variety of games since I was very young. Currently I play WoW and LoL the most, but I often trend on to games such as Habbo, Runescape, Minecraft, Starcraft 2, Diablo 3 and Hearthstone. I have played at multiple Lan tournaments in my city for LoL which I really enjoy. I consider myself very competitive and will most likely play games for many years to come.

Design: I have done 3 areas of design work for just over a year now. I have done Industrial design, Graphic design and Architectural design which I all very enjoy. The programs I use are AutoCAD, Inventor, Revit and Photoshop. I have always loved drawing designs such as buildings, logos and what not. It's a big passion of mine which I wish to apply in my future working career.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

When I come to Hackforums, I mainly look to post in the gaming sections, just because I feel like it's a form of discussion where people generally have the same views and don't always start a keyboard war. Not only that, but I am generally interested in what others have to say about whatever they play. Some categories I also use are music, videos and movies, rate my graphic and the Infamous Sub-forum.

Oh shit. I just realized I missed half the questions. If I am interesting enough, just tell me and I'll do the rest.

First of all, we never re-open threads, we create new ones. If you posted in this thread, it is fair to say your application has been viewed. Actual invites have not been sent out.

Like people have said, do not post here unless it's an application. PM me any and all questions you may have about the recruitment, your app, etc. From now on, any people that I see that post non-apps that are applying for Programming will not be considered. This is the only warning I am giving you.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I believe I have got a comprehensive skill set which I'm trying to improve daily.

Program languages.

I'm familiar with different coding languages such as HTML(5), CSS, PHP, MySQL, Java and Javascript. I'm still keeping myself busy to improve my knowledge regarding several other languages such as C# and Batch scripting. I kept myself busy studying these languages for atleast 5 years and I'm still trying to improve my knowledge regarding this daily.

I'm currently using these languages to offer people my Web-Service which includes editing / creating websites and coding scripts / systems such as a secure login system or leaderboard as example. I'm also able to solve or prevent errors related to pieces code in a website / system.

Hacking related.

A long time I kept myself busy studying hacking related subjects which I really enjoyed. I'm familiar with installing, configuring, modifying and spreading of different Remote administration tools. I successfully used different kind of MySQL injections to grant myself access into someone's database. Pentesting was the latest subject I also kept myself busy with which I don't fully constrain yet but I'm planning to soon.

Different then many others I like to know how something works and how it could be executed instead of only knowing how to execute something. As example I prefer to know what a Distributed denial of service is and how it works then simply buying a license on a booter website.

Computer related.

I've had alot of errors and issues myself regarding the usage of a Computer including finding and deleting Malware as example. Due to these issues and errors I'm well known how to fix the most common problems on an useful way. I can portforward on almost every router lately which can be really useful in case someone needs help with it. I've had several kinds of Virtual Private Servers with different operation systems such as Windows and Linux which really expanded my knowledge regarding the basics of Linux.

I know how to use the command prompt properly which makes it alot easier and smoother while using an Operating System.

Loyalty and Communication.

I see Loyalty and Communication as an useful skillset since It's required and / or useful in almost every situation. I always try to get the best out of something for both sides. In my opinion Loyalty is needed to reach your goal on a proper way instead of unnecessary escalating a situation.

I'm highly convinced that a well maintained relation always leads into success, fun and trust for both sides.

Graphic related.

To be honest, I don't see myself as a professional designer. I know the basics to properly create a signature or banner as example. One of my goals is to improve this since I do enjoy creating my own designs for things I need.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'm active in multiple sections since my interests and skills are related to different sections. I'll number them on activity.

[1] Webmaster Section

- [2] Hacking Section
- [3] Coding Section
- [4] Computing Section

Note that this list isn't based on posts. It's based on my interests and the times I'm reading threads in these sections. This also doesn't mean I'm not browsing other sections.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

The reason I want to join "The Empire" is because I always admired the group based on their great contributions, appearance and members. I always wanted to be a valuable asset for "The Empire" and being able to share and increase my knowledge.

From my eyes, I see "The Empire" as a Mature and active group on HF with a collection of skilled Members regarding different subjects and I'd like to be a part of them. I've communicated with several members already and none of them were Low quality, unloyal, disrespectfull or anything which makes me wanting to join even more.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I can't say with certainty that I should be accepted since I'm not sure how The Empire thinks about me, my skills and my appearance. also I'm not sure if The Empire thinks I'm a valuable asset for their group. well do I try to be and do I hope I am. The reason I think I could be accepted to The Empire is because I'd like to have a chance to proof myself towards the other members, I want to share / increase my knowledge and experience with the rest. Also I'd like to enjoy communicating with the members to create a nice, professional and fun relation with the others. I'm daily active in several sections as stated above, and I'm always willing to help people if I'm able to.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

About myself.

I'm a 21 years old man from The Netherlands. I enjoy browsing the internet and increase my knowledge in different areas. Solving problems and helping people is something I like to do. I'm a patient guy who wants to know everything about a subject where I'm busy with at that moment instead of trying / executing things blindly.

I enjoy watching movies and series which I do quite often lately. I use to play games alot such as Call of duty and Battlefield but I recently quitted gaming to focus myself on new subjects like my Web-Service, designing and studying other program languages.

The reason I am who I am today.

I think the reason I am who I am today is hard to explain. One of the biggest poignant reason is that I've learned from my own and from others mistakes. I've currently had 21years of time to think about who I wanted to be and which path I'd like to choose which is also a big reason for who I am today.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

The most important thing in my life is becoming a happy and successful person. I'd like to have a huge knowledge regarding the subjects related to my interests to use this daily. I'm willing to work and spend time in these goals in order to reach them.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

As stated before, I'm a person who likes to increase and share my knowledge. I'd like to communicate in a friendly community in order to reach my goals. Since Hackforums is a great source for information which also has plenty of skilled and loyal members I decided to stay and work on my reputation here. (I don't mean the Rep system)

One of my goals is joining a skilled, nice and known usergroup from the first day I joined Hackforums to share / increase my knowledge and having fun with the members. This is also a reason I'm applying for The Empire.

Anything else you would like to say:

First of all, I'd like to thank you for your time reading my application. I'd like to announce that I'm always open for questions regarding my application and I wish everyone a nice stay on HF, no matter what my outcome will be.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I like film and video editing. It's something that has always interested me since I was very young. I haven't done it as much lately, but plan on picking it back up soon. I've used many different editing programs such as Windows Movie Maker over to Adobe After Effects. It's something that interests me greatly and am always happy to learn new things about.

Going from that, I love learning new things. It's great to wake up one morning, do the usual stuff, and then go to bed with new knowledge, as cliché as that sounds, it's something that I like. I'm always willing to learn, or know what I'm doing wrong. Like anyone else, I don't like being proven wrong, but I won't deny it. If someone points something out that I did wrong, I'd learn from that mistake. The best way to learn is by messing up.

I like designing quite a bit. I don't consider myself a pro, but it's something that I enjoy doing. If there's something that doesn't appeal to me, I'd try my best to find a way to make it look nice in my eyes. For example, when the new modern theme was released, I thought it was ugly, but then I saw the Glossy Black Theme, and that made me realize how easy it is to use userscripts, so I've been working off that script to change minor things I don't like.

Programming-wise, I only really know Java and a decent amount of HTML and CSS. HTML and CSS aren't really anything to brag about since I figured it out quite quickly at a young age, but it's definitely something that everyone should learn. I know a bit of Java, but I wouldn't consider myself an expert. I work on Huzuni with my friend Halalaboos, which is a lot of fun. I've been mostly doing the menus and stuff, but it's been great!

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'm most active in the Griefing section. It's what brought me to these forums, but I'm sure I'll slowly start becoming more active in other forums. There are many other forums such as the Video Editing and Graphics-related boards that would interest me quite a bit, too. I'm just more used to the Griefing section as I play (and grief) Minecraft quite a lot, and client development is one of the more popular topics there, which is something that interests me a lot.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

From what I've seen, The Empire is an incredibly high-quality group. Not the kind of group that just tries to make everything look all flashy and such, but more so informative and interesting. As I said above, I'm sure I'll be slowly branching away from the Griefing section, and I think The Empire will help me a lot with finding more interesting forums and even people to talk to. It appears to be a very well organized group, which is something that I haven't really seen much from groups I've been in in the past. Groups have always been a lot of fun to be a part of, and I miss that. It's a great way to meet new people and learn new things.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel like I will do my best to be as helpful to other members in The Empire as possible. If someone needs help editing a clip, I'd be there for them. If someone needs help with a basic graphic being made, I'll help them out. I just want to be as helpful as possible.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

When something goes wrong in my life, I try my best not to mope about it. I like to make light of shitty situations, and help people out when they need it. I know that's not the most believable thing to say coming from someone who is active on a forum that is mainly focused on bullying people on a video game, but it's true. I'm always there for my friends. If something shitty happens to them, I try to make them feel better. I like to make people laugh. It's one of those things that everyone needs to do every once in a while. Life isn't something that you always need to worry about. I just try to take whatever is going on in life and make it positive. I try to make good out of bad situations, for myself and for others. If my friend needs someone to talk to, I'll help them out.

Nothing really memorable has happened in my life. I've lived an average life so far, and just try to look forward rather than focus on things that happened in the past. It's nice to look back every once in a while, but it's not something you should always be doing. I think my family and friends have helped me become who I am today. They've always been supportive of my decisions which has helped me greatly become who I am today.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My priorities are mainly that real-life related things come first. If something happens to someone in my family, I'll stop whatever I'm doing and be there for them. My family is one of the most important things in my life. They've always been incredibly supportive of me throughout my life, and I do my best to be the same for them. Nothing to me is more important than my family.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

The people. If it weren't for all the friends I've made on HF, I'm sure I would've left by now. It's a great website to meet new people, and that's one of the main aspects of the site that I love. I've been active in many other forums in the past, but HF has been different; I've learned so much from this site, and met so many awesome people that I don't plan on leaving any time soon. I take occasional breaks, but nothing permanent unless something personal in real life happens.

Anything else you would like to say:

Thanks for taking applications. It's great to see The Empire recruiting again, and if I don't get accepted, I'll still be looking forward to what this group will be contributing to HF.

Religion: Christianity(I'm not a judgy Christian like a lot of people are. I think my God loves everyone regardless of anything)

State/Country: Illinois(US)

Time Zone: Central

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Since I have so many skills in many different areas, this might get kind of laborious.

I feel like I am a good video editor. I have made a 10/15 minute documentary on the Special Olympics which I competed with at the Illinois History Fair, and it could have competed on a national level, however I could not fly all the way to DC to compete at the time.

I am a website developer/designer. I've made many different websites, to forums, portfolio websites, or social network-type sites. A good example of a website I've worked on would have to be www.ingre.com. It's basically a social network for asking questions. And yes, Jelly.co took our idea ?. Anyways, I know HTML, CSS, JS, A little PHP, and Python.

In my free time I love to play Video Games. I used to be a PC gamer however I had to sell my rig to get a Macbook Air for school. That was a sad day. But now I have a PS4 and love playing games such as BF4, Ghosts, and others. I see myself as being a fairly good gamer because I am normally at the top 3 of game leaderboards 80% of the time.

Lastly, I'd have to say I'm good at Graphics. I am no-where near "pro", but I've made some cool things. A good example would have to be that Omni used my "HF Halloween Banner" submission for a few hours until I got my friend who is basically a pro designer to make one, which was chosen. Some example works that I can find, but these don't really scratch the surface compared to some of my other works:[/spoiler]

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I don't think there is 1 section I am really active on inside of HF, because I like to spread myself evenly across as many sections as I can. I found that by only sticking to one section can get boring, and spreading myself out helped me to be more active. However, I would have to say that inside of The Empire, I would be most active in any Gaming, Coding, or Graphics sections.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

Ever since I joined HF and found out about groups, The Empire was one of the groups I looked up to. Everyone from the group that I encountered were nice and active members! I've also received some help from a few. Since, in my eyes, The Empire is a group of such HQ members that aren't as ignorant or arrogant as people are from other groups, I would love to be apart of the little community! I have joined Innovation however I dislike how inactive and LQ it is. I love small group situations where everyone knows each other and would greatly appreciate the opportunity to be apart of that family. Also, one of my close friends Pillows is a part of the group and I will love to work with him in the group to improve it and do some other stuff.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I could bring many things to the group as a whole. I can help people debug their code if they happen to need help with a language I am familiar with. I could post tutorials on how to create certain effects in video editing programs such as After Effects. Critiquing someone's design and not being arrogant about it would be another thing. It would also be cool if I started a project, such as a website, with a few members from The Empire as well.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I see myself as being smart(for my age), funny, and compassionate. I volunteer locally and like to help others out constantly. I volunteered for 3 years straight at a gathering called "The Rockford Air Festival" which was a huge event every year where thousands of people came to the Rockford Airport to watch some cool planes and stuff. There were some big groups performing there such as the Blue Angels, and many other military-grade airplane pilots. At the Air Festival I volunteered at the main booth. So I sold tickets, merchandise, etc. Sadly this event is no longer being held because of new management to the Airport.

As stated above I am a Christian. However I am not the type of Christian a lot of people think of. I am not "good" because I want to impress my God like others. The Holy Spirit compels me to do good things. And I do not like to judge people, because I believe the my God will always love everyone regardless of what they have done. We are all sinners. Now you won't find me talking about this a lot as I see it being a touchy subject here on HF, but to just get this out there, I am not a stuck-up snob just because you don't believe in my God. I've worked with people of other religions, and no religions at all, and I don't mind it.

I absolutely LOVE music, and in particular EDM(Electro Dance Music). I am constantly listening to it no matter where I am. I've tried to make a song around a half a year ago but it wasn't good. I am now playing with production a little more though.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My priorities, in short, are these:

- My spirituality
- Schoolwork
- Family
- Learning things on my own to be able to use those skills in future employments, such as coding
- Loyalty to my friends
- Helping people where I can
- Staying active on HF as best as possible(duh)

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

At first I didn't really like HF. My friend introduced me to it and it sounded cool, but most of the people here just looked like arrogant assholes. But once I found some good areas on the forums that I like and felt comfortable in, I started to post more and more. I have found very useful information here, and there are a LOT of people who need help here. That's why I did a free GFX service, and am currently giving away Skype vouchers.

Anything else you would like to say:

I'd just like to say that I would really like to be in The Empire. It looks like an awesome group full of nice people and I just wish to be a part of that.

Oh and to explain why I have a 25% warning is because when I started giving out Skype codes I had the rule to only reply and not PM me. Silly me didn't understand that "post to PM" wasn't having people post then PM me, but post to get a PM.

Anyway, peace guys! ?

(Feb 1, 2014 07:59 AM)Operate Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) If anyone would like me to review their application for them I would be more than happy to do so.

Please do. I'd love to know where I could improve in some areas.

Thanks! ?

Ok ill try to keep this nice and short, no ones likes reading big old life storys! Im 21 and was big into football as i was growing up but i was in a tragic RTA when i was 16, which pretty much was the end of my promising career in the sport. After i recovered and left hospital it took a while for it to set in due to the disability i now live with is the reason why my dream of playing professional football is over.

At the age of 18 i started studying about computer malware how it works and what it dose. I had a friend that made alot of cash from the internet that got me onto some decent boards for coding ect and got into hacking that way.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

- I'm only 16 so i'm definitely in the process of learning, but from my experience of computing since 2010 I would still say I have acquired many many skills. Recently I've been coding a crypter in VB.Net so I can safely say this is a familiar language for me along with C#. I'm also a blackhat so I do know many things about hacking programs such as RAT's, botnets, and anything of that sort. I also am knowledgeable about SQL injection, meaning I can manually check any website for your most common vulnerabilities. I'm also very educated in removing viruses and any type of malware with the help of utilities however I can usually remove the virus without them by checking startup processes, rootkits, etc. Other then that I wouldn't say I have any special skills besides coding HTML, designing websites, and doing basic graphics.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

- For this I would definitely say i'm most active in The Lounge and that is also according to my statistics for posts. I enjoy communicating with other members and taking into knowledge what happens in their everyday life. Second in line is the Freebies & Giveaways, this is just for my contributions toward the community. When making money on the forum I feel like it is my duty to give back somehow. This is why I've donated and held several member contests/giveaways.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?

- The Empire was always that group that attracted my eye and I even have a couple of friends in the group so for me to be in that group myself it would really be an honor. I want to join The Empire because I feel like it's the group for me and I have never applied for another group this is the only one that I would look forward to. I also feel like The Empire is one of few groups of quality and that I would fit in fine since I don't have any existing problems with anyone on the forum. My reputation is %100 positive and I do not have any open scam reports open.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?

- To this question I do not have a solid answer, I just feel it would be an honor to be in a group of such and that this could be the group I could actually put under all my contributions to the community. I'm not trying to be arrogant in any way however I also feel like I am one of the quality members of the forum.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

- I'm just your typical high school kid who loves learning things everyday whether on the net or in real life. I've been a computer maniac since '10 and really have acquired many skills in the duration. As for the memorable moment i'd definitely say when my house alarm went off when I was 15 and my reaction was to use my BB gun to protect my family (Father was on vacation) however it just ended up to be the door slipping open because of wind.

Where do your priorities in life? What is most important to you?

- My priority in life is to succeed in whatever I put my mind to. Right now my priority is to get my shit straight in high school so I can follow my dreams in attending Cambridge College (UK). Another main priority of mine is to stay active on the forum and keep working on a very big project that I am coding in VB.net (A Crypter) I hope it will be a success when finished.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

- HackForums was always one of the biggest forums of all time in my eyes and simply the activity and contributions of the whole community just caused me to contribute myself. I find HackForums a center for learning basically anything on the net. I've acquired many many skills here and without the forum created by Omni my computer knowledge would definitely be limited.

Anything else you would like to say:

- I don't really have anything on my mind but I would like to thank whoever is reading my lengthy application for taking the time to actually review this. Even if I am not accepted I would like thank you in the first place for opening a group of such because I can definitely say this is one of the quality groups of HackForums.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: Only marketing and gaming.

Marketing because.Spoiler (Click to View)I mostly buy and sell online usernames also some other things I dabble in but mainly that, I have made quite a nice amount of money off of it all. I have also made somewhat a good name for myself in the gamertag section.

Gaming because.Spoiler (Click to View)Even tho I don't think you take a interest in gaming I still put it as it is something I do. I am a avid gamer mostly console but I do PC on occasions. I play Call of Duty competitively and I am quite good.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.I'd say generally Appraisals and Pricing I like to give appraisals on the items I feel I know the value of since I have bought and sold quite a bit of items I feel confident in what I say. I'd say besides that group sub-forums just because it seems to be more conversation in them.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I am trying to broaden my experience here as the only reason I joined was to buy/sell gamertags, now I have been working on becoming a helpful member over all. I feel empire would help me out with that as it is a pretty popular and known name on HackForums.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel the name I built for myself is a good one and I am proud of my accomplishments I have done.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: Well I am 20 I work for a company as a copier/ printer technician, I also do the IT work but it isn't my strong suit (I am working on it tho.). I also have been in a relationship for almost 2 years, I have been to quite a few places around the country and have had a lot of fun doing it. I enjoy gaming, sports (playing not so much watching), and I try to help anyone when I can.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Well my real life always would be more important than my virtual life, I hope to own my own house sometime in the next few years. I don't have to many other goals in life as of right now.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Meeting new people, and venturing to other sections on the site the person who made me join this site was Saturn one of my closest online friends.

Anything else you would like to say: Nothing really, just thanks for taking time to read my application. Also enjoy the game for everyone watching the Superbowl.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I have quite a few skills which I'm willing to openly discuss. My primary skills are the following:

Programming

I have been programming for the past six or seven years. I have only begun actively programming in the past three of four years however. I used to simply dilly-dally in programming. I am an active programmer and have (in my honest opinion) mastered several languages. I am primarily a desktop application developer however I have quite a vast knowledge of web application development. I have designed several websites in the past for game servers (my past game servers that have since expired). One thing that I have learned I am specifically good at is designing Wordpress templates. I have designed so many for different game server blogs that it is one of the best things I can design.

HTML

CSS

Javascript

Visual Basic .NET

Visual Basic 6

C#

PHP

Python

C/C++

Most of my coding work has been off site, minus these two contributions. The rest has basically been a few questions regarding RegEx in desktop application programming.

Free XNA Developer Membership

Free XNA Developer Membership was a limited time thing which surprisingly wasn't documented on HF which allowed developers to gain access to the XNA program which was usually $100 a year, which allowed developers to develop for the Xbox 360 game console. Which is what Xbox Indie Games are built on.

YouTube API Bot

This was a bot that utilized YouTube's API which allowed for people to use pre-created YouTube accounts to boost the likes, dislike, subscriber count, and more. At the time of release, the only bots that were on HackForums which utilized the YouTube API were sold for $20+. As far as I can recall, I was the first person to "break the barrier" and to release a YouTube API bot for free.

Hacking

I am also very knowledgeable in just about every form of exploitation and hacking. I know a lot about computer exploitation, however my main focuses are in web-based exploitation. I know a lot about tons of different topics. Primarily:

- SQL Injection

- Cross Site Scripting

- Local File Inclusion

- Remote File Inclusion

- Rooting

- CRSF

- Reverse Engineering

and much more. However I'm going to let my posts in the respected sections show my hacking knowledge and skills compared to just rattling off everything that I know.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I am primarily active in the following sections:

- Beginner Hacking

- Website and Forum Hacking

- Botnets, IRC Bots, and Zombies

as well as I occasionally post to Visual Basic and .NET Framework

I am primarily active in these sections because as you can already obviously tell, these are my hobbies. These are the things I am interested in. I post to the hacking sections in particular to assist new up and coming hackers who I believe deserve the assistance that I wish I could have gotten back when I was beginning. I want to be helpful and contribute to those who don't know what they're doing.

I occasionally post to the Visual Basic and .NET Framework section because the three languages that I believe I am best at are:

- VB6

- Visual Basic .NET

C#

Which obviously fall under all three categories.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I want to join The Empire specifically for a lot of reasons. The first thing is that I had the pleasure of being in the group once a while ago and the group grew on me like a family. It was just like an online family and everyone was so nice to each other and it was just such a positive atmosphere. There was no bullshit, everyone was tolerant of each other. I want to be able to be in that atmosphere again. I recognize quite a lot of people around the forums from my past experience and I want to re-connect with these people. I want to join The Empire also because I want to be apart of a high quality group with tons of high quality, mature people. I feel like would fit in here. I want to be able to work in a group and contribute to the rest of the community overall because I know that we used to do a lot of group projects and contests. I want to be able to do those types of things again and overall promote the name of The Empire and try and help raise the bar of respect that The Empire has in the overall community. Primarily, I just want to be apart of something bigger than myself, and more productive than myself.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

This is going to be a hard one because I have already been kicked from The Empire due to inactivity in the past. I feel as if I personally deserve to be in The Empire because I am one of the more knowledgable, mature, and respected members of the community. Hell, even if you just look at my reputation you can see that. The only negative reputation that I have ever received is from someone who was from someone who stole my name, and negative reputed me when I asked them to change it. My reputation tells you, that over 300 people have interacted with me and all of them had a positive experience with me. It's very hard to find someone with the characteristic that they're well liked and received by the 99%. I deserve to be in The Empire because I am a previously contributing member of the community before my long self-chosen hiatus from the community, and am quickly helping people in the hacking sections, plan to be releasing more threads soon, and will continue on this path with, or without acceptance to The Empire. Overall I would just be a positive and helpful character to The Empire. Lastly, I have no intentions on going AFK for a long period of time again. I had some personal issues cause me to distance myself from The Empire and HackForums in general. I doubt you care but Tibit since we used to be on very personal terms until I suddenly left, if you must know my reasoning for leaving I would be more than happy to explain privately. :)

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'll tell you something personal that kind of shaped me as a person and overall changed my outlook on life.

We'll go back to around 2010 and 2011 back when the RAT's crew was still a thing, and I had personal issues as every teenager does. I was heavily addicted to HackForums and specifically the RAT'S crew. I was one of the highest ranks in the group, was one of the most active and helpful members of the Remote Administration Tools section. I was also very heavily depressed and primarily relied on my friends in the RAT's crew, and my helpfulness in the section to boost my spirit.

Everyone loved me, and I was a huge help. However due to my depression, I was constantly hacking and skipping school to do so. Which is where this story starts.

As you should know if you live in the United States, skipping school (truancy) is illegal in the United States. You can be punished and sent to a non-secured/secured juvenile detentional facility for it. I was constantly truant from school and was hacking and helping others with RAT's almost 24/7 minus when I slept. I eventually angered the wrong people in the school system because I had a court date set for me to appear in front of a judge for a criminal prosecution for this issue. I got off for a while after my court date, and continued to hack and not show up to school. I eventually angered my judge enough that I was sentenced to a year in a secure detention facility, a year after of foster care afterwards, and a probation for 2 years. This changed me because I was rocked from being a constantly depressed kid and I was immediately thrown out into a world that isn't so kind as a computer. I had to endure a lot of personality changing, I had to deal with a lot of horrifyingly cruel people in secured detention. Which seeing as our "rooms" were cells, and I was living in the same environment as kids who had unlicensed gun charges, armed robbery charges, assault with a deadly weapon charges, and more but were too young to serve in jail or for whatever reason, you can imagine how this for a year would change and shape me as a person. I was essentially a kid with no life experience behind bars in jail.

This changed me a lot and I was eventually able to be released early due to good behavior while serving. I am finally off all government assigned services and have since had my record expunged so it will not affect me in the future. This overall has changed my life in a lot of way. It's changed how I take things for granted, its helped me re-arrange my priorities and what comes first and what comes second, it's also shown me how negative the world is behind bars, even for kids, let alone in an adult facility where things are much worse. I left out all the boring details, but this is a general outline of how life was for me for a long time. On the brightside, during foster care I was able to get my computer back and resume hacking and helping people, but in a lot more moderation.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

I have pretty straight forward priorities in life. The important things come first, and the lesser come second. Meaning I will pick helping my family any day over hacking. I'll pick helping someone over sitting around smoking a bowl with my friends. I like to think that I'll always do the right thing, and always make the right choices in life when needed. The most important things in the world to me personally are my family, my friends, my hobbies, my girlfriend, and my job, and I wouldn't trade these things for anything else in the world. Nothing is more important to me though than family. I'm a family man.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I originally joined HackForums to learn how to DDoS people on Xbox LIVE because I wanted an edge in matches, but after I failed hard at trying to do that. I became an active member of the community, learned a lot about hacking and RATing, and have been here ever since with one large break in between. I just love the atmosphere and the people here which makes up this large diverse community. More importantly, I'm still here because the topics are relevant to my interests, which you can't really find anywhere else.

Anything else you would like to say:

I would just like to formally apologize personally to Tibit for suddenly bailing off Skype, and off of HackForums back during the creation of the Empire RAT. It was completely wrong, regardless of reason and I'm sorry for destroying our friendship, our potential product line, and I'm sorry for leaving you with the aftermath of the Empire RAT. You didn't deserve any of that.

I meant recruitment... Thanks for the answer. Appreciated.

And the members I guess some days later.

Dseko - February 3, 2014, 12:12 pm

[img]<http://imageshack.us/a/img90/6030/bannermo.gif>[img]

Who you are?

Hey. I am Dseko. I'm applying for you, The Empire because - well I will get into that soon.

I'm male and I do live in Europe, Finland.

My native language isn't English, but I think that my grammar is all right.

Time zone here is UTC+02:00.

I don't really "have" any kind of religion really. It's not thing what I would be worried about.

Well let's just get into my application.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Well let's start with listing my skills:

- Computers

Just basically I do build/assemble computers hardware together.

Then I do a lot of things like help with people computer problems, and well I know things about a lot of inside computer things.

I know how to edit videos. I have been very good with that and I still think I'm fine.

So just basically I have pretty much knowledge of computer softwares too, and including that I'm trying to help people here on HF.

- Gaming

I have been gaming for a long time. I have been playing on really many consoles, and just PC.

I have been made some content of playing to youtube, and I have received about 1000 subs in there. In videos I did use video editing programs like Sony Vegas and After Effects.

I don't anymore though have my channel, since I did close it. I just didn't have enough time to do videos, and I didn't feel like doing them anymore.

I do have experience of FPS games, MMORPG games and well pretty much every category. At this moment, I'm playing pretty much CS:GO. I'm mid skilled guy in CS:GO. Also with same with gaming, I'm trying to help people. So if someone would need help with youtube channel, or just help with some gaming stuff he could contact me.

•Monetizing

I have sold a lot of things on here HF and on other marketplaces. I do like making money so that's why I'm interested in some techniques to get money. Last bigger thing I did sold on HF was selling 07RS Gold, which made me quite lot money overall. I have been also very trusted on another forums with selling all kind of stuff. I don't visit another forums anymore though. I plan getting bigger selling guy on here too, when I will/would get some great new and unique idea which would also help HF community.

•Marketing

I have to know this because, like I told you I have sold a lot of things. On another forum I did need to marketing pretty much so I could get my thing more popular and to get them sold faster. Marketing has been always pretty easy and interesting to me. I've also enjoyed it.

•Hacking

I do have such a big interest in hacking. Hacking is the thing which I have always wanted to learn more and more. I really enjoy learning it. I do think that it's really great that you do have skills on hacking. I myself are really experienced in Remote Administration Tools and Keyloggers. I'm also experienced in Doxing and cryptography stuff.

•Coding

I have learned pretty much about coding in short amount of time. Nowadays I do know basics about C++ and Python. Then I'm more experienced in HTML, Java, Lua and Visual Basic. I do also enjoy to code stuff. I plan to get better on these things. I could also help people with coding stuff. Not that much, but still maybe something.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I think I'm most active in lounge, premium sellers section, counter strike section and few other gaming sections.

Lounge, because well a lot of really nice conversations happen there and there are usually a lot of great info.

Premium Sellers Section, because I've sold stuff and I'm interested in all kind of stuff which includes selling.

Counter Strike, because I do play myself CS a lot, and I do wanna help out people there and have discussions about different things.

Runescape, I still have such a high rate posts there because I used to sell 07RS gold.

E-whoring, since I do wanna help people with it.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I feel like The Empire does have such a nice and intelligent people, and I would like to discuss about things with them.

I really like to be part of something big. The Empire would be the big thing.

It would help me personally for sure, and it would help me to get new ideas.

I could have really deep discussions with people in The Empire.

I could chat with intelligent people who are in The Empire.

I would really like that I would get like new "family" in HF.

Also you might have noticed, that I do wanna help people pretty much so that's one reason also.

Then I do know a lot of people who are in The Empire and have told me it's really active and so on so I would like to be part something like that.

Basically I just want to share my knowledge while I do actually enjoy it with members of The Empire.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think it's because I know really much about that and that. I do have huge skill set, and with it I could really help people on The Empire.

With my personality and energy I think I would really be great member to The Empire.

Also in my current group Legion, I have been really active. In there I have made 630 posts, so I guess that does tell you something how active I am when I'm in a group.

I hope and think that in The Empire I would help more people.

Also of course, I could probably get help when I do need some.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm myself really great and funny person. I do have a lot of energy, which I can put in to stuff I do want and like.

I have always wanted to help out people, who are like me.

Well basically I was just a kid when I did get into computers. They did simply take me into them.

I have always like to game, and learn things about computer and anything which is include in them.

To money making I did got when I did first join some forums.

I did love to see how powerful can marketing scene be and how I can help people and they can help me.

Whole money making stuff and hacking has made me more intelligent.

I try to not make any stupid mistakes anymore.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Family and friends.

To be honest, without my family and friends I would be nothing. I would have never been anything.

They have helped me on so many things, that I do wanna help people to.

They have made me who I am right now.

I would do anything to keep my family and friends with me.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Well when I first got in to HF I was really amazed how people were well not always but usually here really kind.

I did like when people did help me when I did need help.

They didn't go mad on me, and I could just grow on HF.

It did really make me wanna help new members, and of course older ones too.

With my knowledge and their desire to learn did really make me want to teach them.

I did also love HF's lounge and marketplace.

I do like both, because lounge is full of nice discussions and marketplace is full of things that I'm interested in.

Anything else you would like to say:

I would say thanks to anyone who does read my application.

I do want to say thanks for making this recruitment.

I do also wanna say sorry for my grammar mistakes.

Thanks.

Amphibious Garbage - February 3, 2014, 12:45 pm

If anyone would like me to review their application for them and give them feedback, I would be more than happy to do so.

SKUZZ - February 3, 2014, 4:45 pm

Well I changed my application immensely.

Made it look better, added more of my works and removed a few. Also added a documentary that I made.

Video application might be posted soon.

I don't know if you invite people to the group mid-recruitment, or after you close the thread so sorry if this post was possibly pointless.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Hi there, and first of all thanks for reading my application. I am a 23 year old test engineer from the Netherlands. I have a bachelor in IT focussed on software engineering.

My main areas are: Java and Android. Also I am TMap certified (Test Management Approach). Furthermore I love to experiment in PhotoShop and my social life is even as important to me as my digital life ;).

During my student period I have been working as a teachers assistant for the programming classes aswel as a computer aid for the common people.

I have experience with customer services, making communication one of my skills.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I try not to focuss on one specific section. My interests are widely spread, and so I aim to be active on any section that I am interested in.

Tho I love to hang out in the GFX section, and the sales section.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I dont want to ass kiss anyone. The reason I would like to join a group is to be part of a steady, friendly and awesome community.

Making friendships that will last a lifetime and meet people whom are to be trusted. On whom you can count when it is needed the most.

Having said that, fun and socializing is equally important to me, being a part of The Empire will contribute to that in a good way.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

Deserve? I dont think one need to deserve it to be part of a group. One should be given the opportunity to prove himself. My believe is everyone has the benefit of the doubt at first.

When one f*ckes it up, it is his/her own fault and they can only blame themselves.

I am a person who loves to socialize, has a passion for the digital world and looks forward to meeting people to share this passion with. Does this mean I deserve to be part of The Empire? That is up to you guys :)

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

During my study I have been in China for 6 months for an internship. Having tasted a bit of the world I only want to see more! Different cultures and believes is a facinating topic to think and talk about.

Overcomming a drug addiction I am currently clean for 5 years and loving every single bit in life. No one can kick me down, ill stand up over and over again.

I believe in the better life for the many people, power is within yourself!

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My priorities are my girl, my family, my friends and my passions. Enjoi life by the day, every day.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Different people, different cultures and amazing skills all over the place. There are many low lifes on HF, but the part that is HQ is nice, friendly and trustworthy.

Seeing this, made me want to work even harder to be part of this awesome community.

Anything else you would like to say:

Quis custodiet ipsos custodes.

Thanks for reading!

Mahdy - February 4, 2014, 3:51 pm

Name: Mahdy

Age: 19

Gender: Male

Religion: I don't really know where I stand from here, so won't answer this.

State/Country: Michigan, USA

Time Zone: GMT -4

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I'll be completely honest. I'm not very creative with many things. I am a a gamer, I do graphics on the side. However, I do have great people skills and IMO, I feel this is the best thing I have. I am extremely good at making new friends, getting a long with people, and just being in their presence in general. Again, I'm not an expert with a lot of things, however, I do put my best in everything I work on.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

Graphics, gaming, webmasters, my group (of course), hacking, SSRP & the lounge. Mainly because I have an interest in all these things and all these things suit me well.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I was in this group before and due to an argument spiraling out of control with another member, it escalated and asked to be removed. Aside from that particular moment, I actually really liked the Empire. From my POV, I feel like I got along pretty well with the members in there. It was a great group and people were really straight forward.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I liked this group from before and I really want to be apart of it again. I believe what happened, has happened and it is in the past now. I think I could get along with a ton of members in this group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Honestly, the constant hospitalization trips made me the person I am. Being so sick made me appreciate the little, tiny, things in life. It's the little things that put a smile on my face, that make me happy throughout all that has happened and will happen. I know it's nowhere near the end for me, I know a lot of complications are still going to come my way, but I'm trying to see everything with a positive mindset.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My loved ones and my life, really. I just care about making others happy.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

After joining my first group, Serenity. I became very very sick, and everyone in this group helped me through my rough times and I stayed for them. And after awhile, I began to meet more and more people. And as my sickness progressed and got worse, these people would stay by my side and support me through it all. You really could meet some pretty bad ass friends online. And the people I have met, the people who have been by my side, I don't regret any second of meeting them.

Anything else you would like to say:

I'm not the smartest or the most brilliant person on HF, but I do try my best to get along with everyone and be there for anyone who needs it. I might not be able to give a lot of hacking advice, or services other people provide, but, I do, regardless of who it is, give people the best emotional advice they can ask for. I'm there for anyone who needs it, regardless who it is. Thanks for just taking your time to read this.

Recruitment will be closed sometime Friday evening, then the leaders will review all the applications, members will be added by Sunday night.

Nobody to borrow from, and my phone isn't too good either. I know it sounds like I'm avoiding a video, but there's no way it'd turn out good. My upload speed is also horrid, so...

I'll make a killer text app though, by Friday. Looking forward to applying!

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:I have many monetizing skills such as crypto trading. My skills range from gaming all the way to love. I can help with almost anything. I am very passionate to what I do and can set my goals and reach them. I constantly create ways to make money and improve my gaming skills.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. The lounge as you can tell from my post count, But I browse the marketplace and crypto section a lot too.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:I see empire as an amazing group, I have always looked up to tibit and it would be a dream to join.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I can help with anything, I will dedicate all my time after school to the sub forum and helping members.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I have always been fascinated by technology. Ever since I got my first computer I have fallen in love. I was the average kid until I discovered the internet. Hackforums has changed my life and for the better. Lately I have been depressed and Hackforums always cheers me up. I am a really nice guy and I strive to help others. I do my friends home work for free just to help them improve and I teach them. I will go out of my way just to help someone cross the street. Love is my passion.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

School. I want to go far with it. I do my homework on time and all my assignments. My second priority is setting goals up in the future. I plan to live with a friend to split costs like power and internet. I also plan to have a steady online income(Which I can currently do but I haven't had the time since of history class) Oh and my family. I love them so much and would take many bullets for them.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? The members. So many have touched my heart and made me want to give so much. I try to help as many members as I can. I have loved this place ever since joining and always will.

Anything else you would like to say:Nothing. I currently do not have time to right up some fake sob story and suck my way into the group, this is an honest and quick application. Thanks tibit.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I have many useful skills. I have knowledge in the graphic design field including photoshop and cinema 4d. Also, I know many coding languages at the beginner level. On top of that I have lots of knowledge in technology, and I am good at problem solving. I think of myself as a "grammar nazi" but I sometimes do make mistakes. I also enjoy socializing with other people and brainstorming. I enjoy making decisions and working through hard time in life. Lately I have been enjoying beatboxing and feel I am skilled for the time I have done it (a little over 3 months). I have had many emotional problems throughout my life. I have over come a lot and I enjoy helping others with emotional problems. I also volunteer at my local boys and girls club during the summer and weekends to help younger children play basketball. Some of them don't know how to play at all and it brightens my life to see the look on their face when they make their first shot. I believe that helping can change the world. If we all help out others, they will help us and we will all prosper.

I am mostly active in the lounge. I also enjoy rating others graphics and browsing the gaming section. If I am feeling super bored I read some guides on different coding languages. I try to learn as much as I can here on HF. I am also a very diverse member however and I enjoy posting and getting involved in almost any subject.

[img]http://www.dodaj.rs/f/2R/le/4uQMw7uX/untitled-6.png[/img]

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I have looked up to The Empire ever since I joined HF. I feel that it has a lot of active and high quality members. I would love to be involved in such an awesome family. If I was to be granted access into this amazing group I would not take it for granted and I would cherish it forever. I want to support The Empire as much as possible. I will be active and I will ALWAYS be posting in the sub forum. I hope to make tons of friends within The Empire group as well. I have gone through many emotional issues throughout my life, and having a group of kind people to talk to would benefit me greatly. The Empire is a well respected group though out HF and it would be amazing to be a part of it. I have great leadership abilities and can help take control of any situation. I also am very friendly and helpful towards everyone. I enjoy helping others when they have problems and it warms my heart to see me fix their issues. I am a very active member and I will keep the sub forum active and make sure there is high quality threads representing The Empire all across the forum. With dedication and hard work I will aim to improve The Empire even more. I also plan to be doing giveaways in the name of The Empire to bring more attention to the group. I am a film fanatic as well and enjoy reviewing movies in my free time. When I review movies I have to pay attention to detail and It bothers me when I see things wrong because I am a perfectionist! When I create things I work hard on it for hours until I feel that it is ready. So, when I am involved in an sort of project I always take my time and put every drop of effort and heart into. I only make great things and do not settle for rushed work. Many members respect my enthusiasm and tell me that I am high quality and it makes me feel special. When I get feedback from the community it makes me feel wanted and special and motivates me to keep going! That is a big reason I love hackforums is because of the amazing community. I feel this group will allow me to become friends with some other high quality members of the HF community! Just remember, If you accept me you will not regret it. When I join groups I tend to bring a breath of life to everyone. I will cherish the experience of the group and I know it will further me as a member.

[img]http://www.dodaj.rs/f/2R/le/4uQMw7uX/untitled-6.png[/img]

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that I should be accepted for multiple reasons. The first is so I can learn new things from more experienced users. There is always something to learn and I am up for any challenge! The second is because I am very kind and just cool to talk with. I tend to open my heart up to everyone which is both a blessing and a curse. The third is sharing my knowledge with members who are willing to learn. Overall, The Empire will allow me to improve as a member.

[img]http://www.dodaj.rs/f/2R/le/4uQMw7uX/untitled-6.png[/img]

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am currently in high school pursuing multiple scholarships. I am working to be certified in adobe photoshop, and CompTIA Security+. My dream is to major in computer science or information technology. Ever since I was about 9 I have been fascinated with computers. It started when I had an old dell desktop. It wasn't even connected to the internet and it had that big old box shaped monitor. I would install random softwares from the box I had in my closet. I didn't even use them I just enjoyed putting a disk in and installing things. From there I began my love for technology. I remember back when I would play in ms paint, and now I am designing in photoshop.

[img]http://www.dodaj.rs/f/2R/le/4uQMw7uX/untitled-6.png[/img]

Where do your priorities in life like? What is most important to you?:

My main priorities right now is my mother and education. My mom is recovering from lung cancer. She is all I have since my father left me as a child. I spend most of my days now taking care of her. I love her with all my heart and I know she is strong. I am not financially stable right now so I do most things a professional nurse should be doing. I give her medicine and shots, walk her to the bathroom, make her food, etc. I also have learned to monitor her heart rates and blood oxygen levels. I literally read an entire textbook on nursing just so I could take care of her. She means the world to me. And as far as education, as I stated earlier I am trying for scholarships so I have to get my GPA up. The scholarships are the only way I will be able to pay for college. I am working hard everyday in school and I strive to become successful.

[img]http://www.dodaj.rs/f/2R/le/4uQMw7uX/untitled-6.png[/img]

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?: I admit when I first joined hackforums I was very inactive and just lurked. After talking with a few members on skype I was inspired to become a quality member. I now stay because of how friendly the community is. The HF community is helpful, kind, active, and inspirational. There are so many member through out this forum that I strive to be like one day. I look up to so many people here. HF is my true home.

Anything else you would like to say:

Thank you for giving me this opportunity to join this amazing user group. This application has taken me a little over 3 hours to write and it comes from the heart. I really do respect this group and I honestly have tried my best with this application. If I get denied I will still always look up to The Empire and I will strive to join. I joined the forums a year back and got to learn almost everything from here. I am good in making money online as well as trading crypto currency. I made $1500+ using AdSense and over $1000 by trading crypto currencies (mostly alt coins). I am also good in using Wordpress/Google/Facebook. I know almost every trick hidden in the stated platform. I also play counter strike but I am not pro neither noob. I just play CS to pass my time.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I am most active in Currency exchange section these days. I usually don't do big big deals here but still I use it a lot.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I have seen this group around for while now. HQ members with HQ posts can be found here. Also people in groups believe in helping other and I am always ready for it. So I want to join this group.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I have been a loyal member to the community.I never tried to scam anyone or never did any blackhat activities.Also I don't want to leave this community. And getting in a group would be a pride for me.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I personally don't like introductions but still I would love to introduce myself. My name is Hemant aka Blogger™ and I am from India. I am currently studying Engineering in Information Technology. Internet is my passion,my life,my hobby,my world,in short I love internet.So I am online on HF atleast for 8-10 hours a day.

When talking about my personal life,my mom is the very first person close to me.My dad left us when I was just 18 months old and never looked back.And from that day my mom,being a single mother,took care of me,gave me education,proper food,tutions,manners,etc. The only motto of my life is to keep my happy by any means. So I give 90% of my online earnings to my Mom.

The most memorable moment in my life was when I got my paypal unlimited. At first,I had limited paypal which can't do most of the transactions.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Most important thing for me is my Reputation in front of others.I don't want to be hated by others so I always keep doing good :)

I will tell you a little story that changed my life. When I was a kid, I was a little chubby and people made fun of me, so I grew up making fun of others. I pushed my friends away, I felt drifting apart. One day, I realised that I was doing wrong, so I changed. The best way to learn respect is to do martial arts, so I started Taekwon-Do. Now, I am a respectful young man, helpful and caring for others, always trying to please everyone around me. That's about how I became who I am. That changed my life, in good. I'm a premiant student in my college, I drink the ocasional beer, I take trips every month and I like to enjoy every kind of fun.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

The reason I want to join "The Empire" is because I always admired the group based on their great contributions, appearance and members. I always wanted to be a valuable asset for "The Empire" and being able to share and increase my knowledge.

From my eyes, I see "The Empire" as a Mature and active group on HF with a collection of skilled Members regarding different subjects.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I can't say with certainty that I should be accepted since I'm not sure how The Empire thinks about me, my skills and my appearance. also I'm not sure if The Empire thinks I'm a valuable asset for their group. well do I try to be and do I hope I am. The reason I think I could be accepted to The empire is because I'd like to have a chance to proof myself towards the other members, I want to share / increase my knowledge and experience with the rest. Also I'd like to enjoy communicating with the members to create a nice, professional and fun relation with the others.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

About myself.

I'm a 18 years old man from Ireland. I enjoy browsing the internet and increase my knowledge in different areas. Solving problems and helping people is something I like to do. I'm a patient guy who wants to know everything about a subject where I'm busy with at that moment instead of trying / executing things blindly.

I enjoy watching movies and series which I do quite often lately. I use to play games alot such as Call of duty and Battlefield but I recently quitted gaming to focus myself on new subjects like my Web-Service, designing and studying other program languages.

The reason I am who I am today.

I think the reason I am who I am today is hard to explain. One of the biggest poignant reason is that I've learned from my own and from others mistakes. I've currently had 18years of time to think about who I wanted to be and which path I'd like to choose which is also a big reason for who I am today.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

The most important thing in my life is becoming a happy and successful person. I'd like to have a huge knowledge regarding the subjects related to my interests to use this daily. I'm willing to work and spend time in these goals in order to reach them.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

As stated before, I'm a person who likes to increase and share my knowledge. I'd like to communicate in a friendly community in order to reach my goals. Since Hackforums is a great source for information which also has plenty of skilled and loyal members I decided to stay and work on my reputation here. (I don't mean the Rep system)

One of my goals is joining a skilled, nice and known usergroup from the first day I joined Hackforums to share / increase my knowledge and having fun with the members. This is also a reason I'm applying for The Empire.

Anything else you would like to say:

First of all, I'd like to thank you for your time reading my application. I'd like to announce that I'm always open for questions regarding my application and I wish everyone a nice stay on HF, no matter what my outcome will be.

Alright, could you explain why you're using my application?

Well, after comparing his application with yours

They are indeed identical. Nice catch, he'll probably be blacklisted from joining, or something of the sort.

Guys, making video applications definitely increase your chances, as it shows you're dedicated. Good work on this.

I wouldn't say it makes you more dedicated, rather shows who you really are and that you have balls to show your face. Tbh, writing GOOD apps takes much longer.

Writing good apps takes a while, yes. But text doesn't show you, but rather what you can emulate. I'm not saying textual apps are bad, I'm merely saying that video and voice apps are more "personal".

Note: Quality is not dependent upon the type of app, but the effort put into it.

As long as you're understandable, that's fine. Just make sure we can hear you and understand what you're saying.

I did a website/written application for the last recruitment.

You could make a website that has a video presentation and a text based presentation. All in one!

Good luck :)

Yes. Guys, if you have skills that can contribute to your application, use them! It greatly improves your chances of being noticed by a leader. Good luck everyone!

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I have great management and communication skills. I have extensive experience with things like Web Design, Web Developing, Graphic Design, YouTube (I run a channel with 11k subs), I know how to manage and uphold a server, I know how to deal with customers and people in general, I have a great knowledge of computer hardware, and just overall am a techy guy.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'd say the section I'm most active on is the Graphics Section. I love to go there and critic others work, and possibly help them improve!

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I just feel like it would be the right group for me, it was kind of love at first sight.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel like I'm a very knowledgeable person when it comes to most things, I believe I could be a great helping hand in any types of projects we do, or if anyone needs help, and overall just feel like I would be a great member.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, I'm a 17 year old Canadian boy currently in College getting a degree in Marketing and Entrepreneurship, and am loving every minute of it. One of the most memorable things in my life was probably hitting 10,000 subscribers on YouTube, it has always been a huge goal of mine!

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Currently the things most important to me are happiness and family, after that I would put education and YouTube right up there with them.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I'm going to be honest, I just joined HackForums 2 days ago, but as you can see by my post count, I love it! The community is just so insightful and helpful, and I'm having a ton of fun being here.

Anything else you would like to say:

I hope you can consider me in joining Empire, you won't regret it.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: Coding, mostly in Java and Python; PM for examples. I am passionate about programming - I love it. Java was my first language and then Python followed. I'm focusing more on Python at the moment because I will be suing it for a large project soon.

I've been studying classical violin with a private teacher for 6.5 years - PM me for a raw recording (if my mic/Internet connection will allow me). I take this very seriously and I enjoy it.

Classical piano, for about 4 years.

PPD - all of the money I've donated/given to HF (total of about $1,000) came from PPD.

I'm in the process of learning Linux, and I have the bare bones basics down. I love Linux, simply because it gives me freedom.

Drawing. Please do PM me for examples, I would love people to see my artwork. I won't include it here so as not to clutter the application, but please do PM me for examples.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I'm active in the Coding section, mostly in the Python and Java sub-forums, although I venture into the general programming sub-forum sometimes. I'm actively aiming to improve my coding, especially Python. Other than coding, I'll sometimes venture into the hacking forum, and possibly the money/marketplace forums.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I've seen much good come out of this group and I would love to be part of it. There are many good and quality people in The Empire and I would love to get to know them more. I feel that if I were to join, it would be a second family for me. It's time I stopped being shy and started to get to know people and build meaningful friendships. I don't got to public school (I'm home-schooled) so I don't get to see much of society - I don't have the luxury of seeing my friends every day. The Empire would solve that problem.

I challenge you to find even one reason why I wouldn't fit in or benefit The Empire.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I am diverse in my skill-set, as well as in general (as you will hopefully see in the next section). I'm not your average Joe and I feel that I could bring something new to the group. I'm generally a friendly guy and I love helping people out. I'd love to share any of my knowledge. While I may be busy in real life with school, I still strive to stay active when I can, helping people out.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: Hi, I'm Jacob. A 14 year old guy who loves life. I'm quite possibly the cheeriest person you'll ever meet. I fluently speak two languages and use both on a daily basis. Russian was my first language because it was spoken in the home from a very young age, and I was forced to learn English when I went to school. My family is Russian (parents and both brothers were born in Russia, sister and I in America). I'm proudly Jewish, and I'm not afraid to admit that. You'll also find that I absolutely love math. I do a lot of stuff pertaining to it: I teach and participate in math programs in Harvard and NYC, and I'm currently working on a math problem for Intel STS. I recently discovered that I LOVE to write. I'm not very good at it, but I love it.

I am very big on education. With a proper education, you can get far in life. I'm planning on (and executing that plan) finishing school early - I'm home-schooled, so I'm free to do things at my own pace, which in my case is faster. If I finish school a few years earlier than I would in public school, I'll be able to dedicate my time to other things that will hopefully diversify my education. I'm learning a third language, Chinese, among other things. Chinese is becoming very useful, all over the world. I love music, and as I mentioned above, I play classical violin. If I find something new that interests me, I will probably take a few days to familiarize myself with it - I love new things because they give me a different perspective on life and my current situation. I've mentioned that I love helping people. One thing I do to actually help people is play for patients, individually, in my local hospital. Every week, I volunteer and cover 3 floors, asking each patient if they would like to hear some music. It really opened my eyes to the world around me and allowed me to genuinely help people. I would love to be able to help HF and The Empire in similar ways that I've helped those around me.

In summary, the word that I would use to describe myself, is "diversity". I feel that I am indeed diverse in my education and skill-set, and I love trying new things. I'm a generally friendly and an approachable guy. As far as I can recall, there hasn't been a memorable event in my life, save for my Bat Mitzvah (Jewish rite of passage, for those of you who do not know). I enjoy life and I try to take the opportunities that are given to me and make the most out of them. That pretty much sums me up. I could probably write more, but I feel that this is enough to give you an idea of who I am and how I'm different from the user next to me.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? As I currently stand, my priorities lie with my family and with education. I am particularly passionate about math, as well as coding. My goal is to eventually get into a good university where I can study math, biology and physiology. After that, med-school and on to be a doctor. I may be thinking about too much into the future, but still, that's what I'm eventually aiming for. My family is also very important to me. Not only my real-life family, but any friends that I have made on this site. I'm passionate about helping people, and I currently do community work in my local hospital. As for coding, I still have much to learn and I'm aiming for mastery of Python, and later web-development. In the modern world, coding is an important skill to have.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? I first came to HF because I thought it would be cool to learn to "hack". I've since strayed into coding, but what really made me stay was the fact that the community is very diverse and I realized that there was a lot to learn here. I saw that there were genuinely helpful and friendly people on the site who contributed and made the forums better. Recently, I joined Void and I enjoy it very much. I feel as if it's a sort of family where I can discuss things at an intellectual level. I stay because to date, I've probably learned more from this site than from anywhere else.

Anything else you would like to say: If you would like to clarify ANYTHING about my application, or simply inquire further, please feel free to PM me. I'm an open and friendly guy, and I would gladly clear any concerns and/or questions.

LONG LIVE THE EMPIRE!

Whitehat:

- Informations about actual hardware
- Experience with nearly every OS [except mac]
- Very Interested in Networking but not really experienced
- Total Linux freak :D

Which section are you most active in and why?

I'll be most activ in the White hat section - i like it to help other peoples with their problems and give advices. :)

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?

I've only seen very experienced guys in Empire. I think, i can learn much from you guys and may you'll learn something from me :)...I think it's very important to have friends which supports you in every situation and i think this group will do that.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?

I am a friendly, social and very cooperative person. I think you guys will have much fun with me. If anybody needs help, i am the first one who is there to give advices and try to help them out. And, of course, I have many knowledges and i am willing to share everything i know.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, i'm sitting in the wheelchair since i was a 3 year old kid because of spinal muscular atrophy. The doctors gives me only 2 years to live at this time... but now i am 16 years old and i still enjoy my live. I have many friends, great parents and the best girlfriend which a boy can wish himself. Over the years i've learned that it's not important what other people say or think about you - it's still important what you think about yourself. And i've too relized that nothing is impossible.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My priorities are clear: First off all are my family/friends - Friends and Family are, in my opinion, the most important thing in whole life. After that comes school - i study IT first year and i'll do my best to get the best grade possible.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Well, how you can see i am totally new on this forum but i give my word to stay active. The reason why i joined this forum (after a classmate invites me) is that i want to learn many stuff as possible to get a big knowledgebase

Anything else you would like to say:

Yea, sorry that i post this very late - i hope it isn't too late :)

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: My only skill I could claim to have is being able to start my own small business from just $5. I run my own hosting company with great and excellent profits to bad times just like the economy. Just enough money each month to save-up and then move into a different business.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. : I am mainly in the webmaster section because I just enjoy it and love being able to help and guide people on where to go for picking a host if it's in the US or CH.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I am not here to BS you saying I want to be in the group due to being part of blah blah. like most of the people would say. I just want to join because I really like the logo :)

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel i should deserve a spot on The Empire so I can meet new people, I'm one of those socially awkward people that rather meet people online.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Some bits of information about myself:

I first started going into "hacking" being more of a noob with MapleStory and selling "mesos" in there for extra cash. I never really got much into "hacking" mainly just amazed how people do it overall.

My home town would be Bremerton, Washington. I just love the weather there and overall everything about it, if I had a chance to live on a place for the rest of my life I would pick Alaska, Washington, MI. Or any place that has snow during winter time (heavy type) and just sunny during summer. And living on a country side with mainly only 3,000 living there.

I am currently working as an assistant but still not making enough to make a living so each day im trying to promote my company so I can then get it working and taken off so I then get to have some fun with money such as eating at decent places, yes this includes Outback Stakeout, TGI, RedRobbin, etc. I am just sick of not being able to go to at least McDonalds for a burger because I need to save up cash for bills. But one day I know I will grow up and have a good living.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Getting paid and paying my bills right now, if not then i will end up in the street and no food. I've been living check to check recently to pay my mum's car off. So for the next 12months ill be living CHECK-TO-CHECK. So that's important right now to me, just staying in top of my game.

The jewish stereotype is to sort of "horde" your money. So spending that much on just a reward is absurd for a "jew".

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I have many skills that range from Web developing, Gaming, PPD and more. I have been developing websites and forums for 3 years now.

I would not consider myself the best but I think I am decent. I play GTA and Call Of Duty most of the time because those are the only good games.

I am skilled in Grand theft auto because my stunts and in Call Of Duty I'm a really good at quickscoping.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I am most active in the Cryptocurrency section because I love mining new coins and learning about new stuff everyday. Also because I think it is the future. I am now working at a faucet website where I take care of two of the coins offered. I am also most active in the giveaway section because I like giving away stuff and making users happy. I try to do a giveaway every week.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I want to join The Empire because it is an awesome group and I feel like I can share my knowledge with other members. I am not a member of any group at the moment and I think that I would be a great addition to the Empire. Some of my friends go are in The Empire and they said it is a really good group. Also because this group is the only group that sounds good in my opinion.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think I should be accepted because I am active and I can get along with people easily. I should be accepted into The Empire because I am Legit, Helpful and Trustworthy. I enjoy helping other people and making tutorials. Also because I am good at advertising sales like an ebook I know how to get more buyers. Both the Empire and I have the same goals, which is to make Hack Forums a better place.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am a very social person. Using a computer is like eating for me, ever since I was a kid I have always loved the internet. I always try hard and I never give up. I always liked Math and Science more than any subject in school. I enjoy watching Cryptocurrency's rise. When I was 12 I started playing Runescape witch made me become a Web/Forum Developer. I am a PlayStation Gamer I do not like Xbox at all because the controller and the software.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

School is my priority right now because knowledge is power, and I like to learn. I am trying to study history to become so I can become the best in the class because im currently the second best. I want to be a computer engineer because I know a lot about computers and I can code.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

The vast amount of knowledge that can be found on Hack Forums has kept me coming back time and time again. You can find almost anything on these forums.

Anything else you would like to say:
I would really love the opportunity to be a member of the greatest group on Hack Forums.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

My skills lie mainly in the .NET programming languages, but I have been educated in Hardware/Software as well as Networking.

For a programming example, please see the gif I've included. ^_^

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'm most active in the .NET programming section because this is where most of my interest lies, both professional and hobby oriented.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I genuinely enjoy helping people, as well as doing what I can to further my own knowledge. What better than a group with filtered, hand picked members to learn and grow with?

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that while I may not be an 'elitist' in terms of knowledge, I definitely have a substantial comprehension of a large number of topics, and I know I can be of use to the group. Be it contributing code, troubleshooting tips, and/or my time.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, I was treated with a lot of resentment by my parents growing up because I was the child of a father that was/is no longer around. My parents have even told me that they treat me the way they do because I remind them of him. (Like a child chooses his parents.) Anyway! To cope with my less than enjoyable home conditions, I delved into computers when my grandmother brought over an old mac she was getting rid of, and as soon as I turned it on for the first time, I was so fascinated and drawn by the computer that I knew it would be my calling in life.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Well my priorities center around my family and girlfriend, she's the most important thing to me. As far as outward priorities, I'm always aiming to better my life, be it living situation, employment, education, knowledge. My main priority is to move forward.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Well as I stated earlier, I enjoy programming, and a large portion of programming I learned from good ol' HackForums, being a member since 2010. And to me, once you join HackForums, one does not simply leave HackForums.

Anything else you would like to say:

Well, I like to eat ice cream, and I really enjoy a nice pair of slacks.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I am most active in the botnet section as well as helping out in the beginner hacking section.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I want to join Empire because it seems like a high quality group and I would like to be apart of it , this will also be my first try at being in a group.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think I deserve it because I am a helpful person and can contribute to others especially with guidance and I would love to learn more.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am usually an athlete when I'm not on the computer, I play basketball and football. Basketball is my main thing, I am really good. I am a starting point guard in the last year in high school and I can windmill dunk. When I am not on that side of my life I am using on the computer chatting with friends and helping out others. I do a lot of free set ups and teach people how to do them themselves. I do plenty of giveaways of all sorts also.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My most important thing is basketball at the moment, and starting my own online business. I want to start a business that I will run for a long time, a whole line of products.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I stayed active because the community is a nice place to help people and pick up knowledge. This is also a place to sell a few products and I want to become a trusted member with no bad comments on my name or products.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: Monetizing - I don't make $40,000 on some secret autopilot PPD method, but I make a fair amount of money from personal methods and investments.

Crypto Currency - I've been a supporter of it since a few years back. I've mined Crypto coins, traded them, and helped out numerous members on HF with their questions regarding this topic.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I am most active in the Crypto Currency section mainly due to the fact that I have a lot of knowledge in the field. I enjoy learning about them and often find myself teaching others. I'm not sure if The Empire has a Crypto section, but I'm sure members would like to be a part of it. Crypto Currency related discussions have recently exploded due to all the new Alt-Coins and rising price in Bitcoin.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

Simply because it is one of the most prestigious groups on HackForums. I also feel that I can learn from members in the group as well as shed some of my knowledge to some members.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I really don't know if I deserve to be in the group. I wouldn't consider myself a well known member, but I try to stay as active and helpful as I can to the community. I would be active in the subforum as often as I could.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Maybe the day hasn't come yet in my life. There hasn't really been anything too memorable in my life. Sure, there have been good moments in my life, but I don't know if anything has changed me yet. If anything has changed me, it has been from negative past experiences and bad decisions.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My main priorities include family, friends, and the power to make an impact for others around me. Obviously other priorities include a good education and a career I enjoy.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I found a ton of interesting things ranging from tutorials to hacking tools to the Innuendo section (I don't like that section, for the record, it's just funny to read through). I've also met to knew people and have made multiple friends that I talk to almost every day. I have also sold and bought multiple things on HF; well, more selling than buying I'd say.

Anything else you would like to say:

Even if I'm not accepted, thanks for the opportunity. The Empire looks like a great group.

More so the Marketplace as of late, myself and my partner have been working on our product for a few weeks now and plan to have it released within the next 2-3 weeks.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I've only really ever heard great things about the group, all the members seem to be extremely friendly and helpful.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I always try my best to help people wherever I can, I believe this has to do with why I've come so far within Infamous already.

I'm always there to lend a helping hand when someone needs it.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'll tell you about myself as of now.

Well I'm currently supervisor at a company that specializes in Mining supplies, we're also contracted with one of the largest mining companies world wide. (Rio Tinto)

I currently live with my 2 best mates although I'm saving for a house deposit as of now and plan on buying one around the end of the financial year.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Obviously family comes first before anything, although it is hard to place many other significant things in my life in order, my Girlfriend of 3 years and my best friends would definitely come next tho.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? I met a few great people on the site that I actually made quite good friends with, kept finding new things on the site that would interest me, and now I'm just loving it really, you can always find something interesting on here if you look around.

Time Zone: GMT -5:00, Eastern Standard Time.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Gaming:

Well, this is one of my top skills. Not something to be proud of and to have the title of a "gamer" isn't one of the best things in the world, but I like doing what I do. I've been playing video games ever since the Sega Genesis days.

I haven't gotten into competitive gaming as of yet, but during 2014 is when I'll be making my debut. Note that I'm not the best gamer, I just loving playing video games and if I get into competitive, I'll only get better the further I get. The more practice I put in, the more tournaments I'll get to go to. I actually plan on pursuing a career in gaming or I'm going to be studying Computer Science when I get to College.

Music:

Another thing I've grown up to. My dad has been a DJ for pretty much as long as I've been alive. Throughout the years, he has taught me a thing or two. He's probably the first person I'd go to if I have a question about something.

Why is this included in my skills? Well because, about two years ago. Me and my cousin decided to start writing music. We made up our own music group and that's all we did. After school, during school, etc. We would just continiously write music, no matter what we were doing. We then started to record and what not. Majority of the time, he was the "rapper" and I would sing on the hook. Mind you I wasn't that good, but a lot of our friends supported us. We had a few people in the group and then it just died.

I moved cities and ended up meeting other people and we started recording together with my dad's help. Sometimes I wrote verses for some of the people we were recording with.

One day, I went on the internet to try and get recording studios to notice us. I probably emailed 100+ studios. I had friends telling me that their friends/family had a studio in their basement, but I was striving to get that phone call. I actually ended up getting a call, but it ended up being a scam, so those plans failed.

Technology:

One of the few things I can actually have a future in and something to be proud of. I've always kept up new and upcoming technology and I love discussing and reading about things related to tech subjects. I'm more knowledgeable when it comes to computers though, just the stronger subject of mine. I've taken a few computer courses, a few hardware and software courses and I've learned about a lot over the few years. Once I get a new laptop, I'll probably want to open some help desks for a few things. I also really want to learn all the coding languages, because that's also nice to know. There's still a lot of things I need to learn, but I'll get there.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'm getting more active in the gaming section, specifically Sony and Xbox 360/One. I have a lot of experience in gaming so I usually just try and help members that are looking for answers. Not only that, but I'm a huge gamer myself and I always try looking for new people to play with.

I'm not really a "Lounge whore", so I try to stay away from that section, because I feel as if I have nothing to contribute to that section.

Anything to do with gaming, media or technology, I'll be there.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

To be completely honest. When I first joined, The Empire, 143 and Instinct stood out to me the most. Having said that, my goals could be unrealistic.

Freddy Krueger was one of the first people I met on the site when I was in Skill. He was always talking about the group and how superior it is and it just got me really interested in it. Now that I've talked to more people and have more friends on the site, some that are in The Empire, I've realized how great the group actually is and the members that are in the group are very friendly. I haven't seen anything that's given the group a bad name, and it's really a group that you want to be in when you first join the site.

I always see giveaway threads and help desks that the group sets up. I think it's cool to see a group giving back so much and wanting to help so many people.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel as if I should be given a chance to be accepted into The Empire because I'm a very friendly and interactive person. I try to contribute as much I can towards certain things when I can. I follow all rules, and I've only received two warnings during my time here on HF. I'm quite knowledgeable in certain topics and I hope to learn from others, as well as being able to teach others.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Alright, let's get this started.

So I'm 19 years old first of all. My birthday is in August, so I'm a Leo. When I was a little baby, well a toddler, I was trying to be a "big boy" and I attempted to take my bike down the stairs frontwards and feel straight to the bottom, hitting my temple a few times. That damaged my brain a little. Shortly after that I started stuttering. From what I've learn over the years, if I wanted to fix my speech, I would have to basically retrain my brain. So it's not a fix, just a simple retraining. On top of this, I also have a lazy eye, and this is why I wear glasses. The prescription for the lens' I'm given is rather strong, this being so it can strengthen the lazy eye and this strengthens my eye and makes it appear straight.

When I was a very little kid, around 10 years ago, I lost my uncle. He was definitely more of a father figure to me and he's literally done more for me than my father has, well up until he passed. He died of a heart attack if you're wondering. I remember the day clear as day. I was playing with my friends behind a green fence in the survey(town houses) I used to live in. I seen ambulances passing and parking in front of his house and my grandma ran over there as fast as she could. I asked her if I could come and she said no. To keep this short, I woke up the next morning and my mom told me and my little brother and sister(twins, 5 years younger than me) the news. It was a horrific day and our family was traumatized. I lost it, I turned into a kid I didn't want to be, not having that father figure in my life. A few years later, I ended up losing my grandma on my dads side and my grandma's mom(on my moms side). I've lost a lot of important people in my life, it's hard to stay happy.

I turned into a bad kid. I used to smoke weed everyday, and I began to do so in grade 7 up to grade 9. When I got to high school, that all changed, but things got worse. I started stealing from family and friends, and I broke into a snack shack and ended up getting arrested. My mom had to pick me up from the station at like 3 AM and she wasn't too happy. All of this changed though, 2 years ago my attitude changed towards everyone. I knew that if my uncle was here, he wouldn't of let any of the things I did slide. The only thing I didn't fix was my school problem. I dropped out last year and only have a few credits to go.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Well for one, I want to get my high school diploma before I think about anything else. I know for sure, after I get my diploma, I want to go to a university in the US to study Computer Science. Not sure what I want to do after that, probably start my own business if possible. Anything is possible, I just need to work hard to get to where I want to be.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I just thought I could do well in this community. I registered and a few days later I decided to upgrade myself and another member. I wanted to stay because I wanted to learn how to earn money using techniques that others have used. I figured I couldn't just move straight into monetizing, so I started to get comfortable with the community. There are some really cool people on this forum, I have yet to have a problem with a single member.

Anything else you would like to say:

I would firstly like to say that I'm sorry that my effort lacked at the end of this application. Majority of this application was done on my Nexus 4 and it was much harder than writing an app on the computer. I stuck with it and decided I'd finish before the thread gets closed and I lose my only chance of being let in the group. Also, I'm very sorry if there are any grammatical errors, as I said earlier, I wrote this on my Nexus 4 so it was quite the challenge.

I'd like to thank anyone that actually takes the time to read my application and I wish everyone the best of luck.

I really try to keep my voice deep just because people don't take you seriously if it's not. Hopefully that doesn't affect my application in any way.

Honestly, why would it? As long as the only thing that is "changed" is the tone of your voice, then your chances aren't affected.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Graphic Design

I am a freelance graphic designer I have been for about 3 years now. I started out making YouTube banners and now I am making logo's for professional companies! (exaggeration). I have a lot to show for what I do and I always try my hardest. My main strengths with graphic design are thread designs, logo's, and signatures. When I do graphics, I try my hardest at them unlike others that are just in it for the money. I feel I could be a valuable asset to the Empire with my graphical creativity. It would be a good change for the Empire.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I am the most active in Rate my Graphics. I like to give help and let other members know what I have to say about their work. I try my hardest to post a lot in other sections but the majority of my posts happen to be in that section.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I feel this is a very prestigious group and would be a good learning opportunity considering the vast range of skills in the Empire. I just know this would be a very good group for me and could teach me a lot. I need to open myself to more categories and this group could help me with that.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I should be accepted because of what I bring to the table. I look around and see not a lot of graphic designers in the Empire. I could bring a lot more into the group if I were to be accepted. It would be a good addition to the group having a graphic designer. I have a lot to learn with other stuff also and this would be a great opportunity for me to learn other skills.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am a very laid back guy. I am fun to be around and I always lighten peoples moods. I am very nice as long as you are nice to me. I treat people how I would want to be treated and that is how I roll! What makes me who I am is the people I am around. I have a family of graphic designers and coders and that's why I think I take such a interest into graphic design.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My priorities are to finish school with a GPA higher than a 3.8. I try to be the best that I can be no matter what it is. Family and friends are the MOST important things in my life without them, I don't know where I would be in my life.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?
What caused me to stay active is the whole concept of Hackforums. I think that is what makes everyone stay. It is just a really fun forum to browse and it will never leave you bored.

Anything else you would like to say: I would like to say thank you for giving me this wonderful opportunity to apply to this group and I hope I can see all you in the near future!

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I have many skills that range from Web developing, Gaming, PPD and more. I have been developing websites and forums for 3 years now.

I would not consider myself the best but I think I am decent.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I am most active in the CryptoCurrency section because I love mining new coins and learning about new stuff everyday. Also because I think it is the future. I am now working at a faucet website where I take care of two of the coins offered.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I want to join The Empire because it is an awesome group and I feel like I can share my knowledge with other members. I am not a member of any group at the moment and I think that I would be a great addition to the Empire.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think I should be accepted because I am active and I can get along with people easily. Both the Empire and I have the same goals, which is to make Hack Forums a better place.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am a very social person. Using a computer is like eating for me, ever since I was a kid I have always loved the internet. I always try hard and I never give up. I always liked Math and Science more than any subject in school. I have never failed or gotten close to failing a grade.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

School is my priority right now because knowledge is power, and I like to learn.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?
The vast amount of knowledge that can be found on Hack Forums has kept me coming back time and time again. You can find almost anything on these forums.

Anything else you would like to say:
I would really love the opportunity to be a member of the greatest group on Hack Forums.

Great application & Great member! Good luck!

Coding (Somewhat Fluent VB.Net), I am a Contributing member, I love helping other people to my best ability, so you might see me helping a lot of people. I am also a videographer, avid Graphics Designer and Youtuber. www.youtube.com/Furroh

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

Ub3r Junks for some reason, other than that. Remote Administration Tools and Premium Seller Section. I like to see what people are buying and if anyone needs help in the Hacking sections. I am starting to be really active in the Crypto Currency section.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I feel it would be very prestigious, Empire is one of the best if not the best looking groups here on Hack Forums. The Empire shows you worked your hardest and got accepted. Because you are chosen, Empire is not open to everyone. You have to meet personal qualifications made by the Leaders.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I have really proper grammar as stated you need that. I am very active, contribute a lot. I would still act the same as I do, helping other people etc.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Most memorable? When I fractured my Pinky. I didn't know what had happened, couldn't feel it. Here's the thread, <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3777717>

I am a Skateboarder. I love doing what I do. Everything in my life is really important to me. May it be websites, a girl, my family, anything. I also do Youtube as I said before and just started a small company. I probably will get a lot of hate for this, but it asks to tell personally about myself, I am Emo. Its just the way I am. Also, I get very depressed. But I try to keep my head up and keep doing what I love. Not a sob story.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Definitely education. I try my hardest at school. Without school, how would we know how to spell? Do most things involving math? Most coding is math based. Also, Language Arts helps you understand spelling, correct grammar etc. Also, most importantly, (sounds stupid) but music is very important to me.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

A DDoser caused me to join. I wanted revenge. So I signed up, contributed as much as I could. Became L33T then kept it up, applied for Ub3R, was denied. I waited longer than 60 days. It was months. I wanted to make sure I was ready. It all paid off when I was accepted. To this day I still contribute to members. I love doing what I do. I am on this site everyday doing what I can to help and contribute. I am all about helping and contributing.

Anything else you would like to say:

I would love to join The Empire. I really hope you guys take the time to read my application and consider me.

Name: Travis

Age: 17

Gender: Male

Religion: I like to consider myself unaffiliated.

State/Country: United States, North Carolina

Time Zone: Eastern

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

My skills... I am a very quick learner. When teaching me something i usually only have to be shown once. If i don't understand I am not afraid to ask questions. Forums I have ran several forums in the past so i consider myself an amateur webmaster. My most successful project was a walking dead forum that i sold for around 200 bucks.(Biggest mistake ever because that was an extremely underpopulated niche when i sold it.) I feel confident in CSS and html. However i am learning how to program focusing most of my attention on python at the moment.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

Ever since i have joined Hack forums back in December of 2012 I have never really picked a section to be active in. I posted some in the Beginner hacking section. Then for some reason i went pretty inactive until about October of 2013. When i came back i joined Hackercraft in hopes of getting the award. Which i finally did. So i was pretty active there for awhile. Now i find myself in the hardware section asking noobish questions on since i am in the process of building my computer.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

Well when i first joined the forums i had no intentions of upgrading myself to l33t or even ub3r for that matter until a friend of mine did both for me. Once i got l33t i decided i would make the most of his generous contribution. So since then i strive to be as high quality as possible. I feel like i am and would like to be apart of a group a place where i can meet some cool people and perhaps teach some people a few of my skills and maybe learn some new skills along the way.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I don't feel like I deserve to be in The Empire. In fact i don't feel like anyone deserves to be in the group. I feel like you should have to earn a spot your spot in the group. To be in the group i feel like you should be willing to learn or willing to teach others. Not to sound like a conceited asshole , but i think i possess both of those traits.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: Well i consider myself a very smart well rounded individual. I focus most of my time on school striving to make the best grades possible, so i don't end up like so many people living paycheck to paycheck struggling to pay there bills and support a family. My hard work is paying off, because this year is my junior year of high school. I have worked and worked and have a 3.8 GPA. My school gave me the chance to dual enroll in College and High school and do three classes at high school and two at college. This is a really nice accomplishment in my opinion because not everyone has the chance to go to college whether it be to money or didn't apply themselves when they needed to, and I am getting the chance to go to college absolutely free.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? My priorities in life are very simple Family comes first. I would do anything for my family no matter what. My one stipulation with that is that I do not let my family interfere with my school work because that is also very important to me.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? This is simple because like everyone else i joined Hack forums hoping to be a hacker. Hacking into school databases and changing grades etc. When i left there really was no reason why. I guess my real life needed some attention. What caused me to stay active? Well the community here is awesome. I have made some great friends here and i would have it any other way.

Anything else you would like to say:
Nope nothing at all. Have a nice day. ?
