I know this guy. And I know 961host.net. This is a reputable company and their prices are amazing.

I like your design for the most part but I would change two things.

The images of the servers seem a little small. I would make them look bigger (bigger is better, help sell the fact that your servers are powerful).

And the 2nd thing I would change is the payment methods image which seems a little blurry. Good luck with your site.

I don't like the design of it, I've seen it before and I got bored of it easily.

Are you using a template?

If so, I think there are much better looking ones. Especially for hosting providers :) There is literally unlimited choice in this case.

Pricing looks okay. I hope you can find clients in this saturated market.

I have already clients . Im not new as new in market but in domain name yes...

For templates I choose this one clean .clear . And not much confusing. Because there is templates with allot of texting there. And I dont like that . Its make the client confuse
