Thread: [\[RELEASE\] INSTAGRAM USERNAME GRABBER - COMPLETE IN 1 HOUR 30 MINUTES - HIGH QUALITY!!](#)

Vigor - February 6, 2014, 5:47 pm

Hey guys,

After issuing myself a 2 hour programming challenge, I am finally done with my program: An Instagram Name Grabber. What it does is it grabs usernames off of google and Webstagram and adds them to a list for your personal use.

Yes I do actually. PM me my good man.

Personal use is just general data harvesting and such things.

Thanks.

It's clean.

No, it collects usernames that are already taken so you can either follow them or just store them for later usage.

Mind asking what language did you use? Thanks!

Seems like its built for 64-bit? Not working on my 32-bit machine

Nice job fulfilling your goal dude. You are really good! If you made it so you could add your Instagram name on the program and click a button to follow all the people you could sell it.

Congratz, it works perfectly. dont you have the power to make an almighty password cracker(ubernooob friendly). Like just with 1 click cracking passwords for example. sometimes i and alot of other people that try to crack password with hashcat(or something like that) get really confused. so maybe in the future if its possible, when you are a little bored with alot of spare time make that. But again in 1 and a half hours making such a program is crazy!
