yes, but if your using cracked solar then don't forget to setup plugins coz I've been seeing lots of people that dont..

Which plugins are u talking about? Cause i also just setup solar and also looking for a crypter

It depends, you must look through each crypter and see if it supports solar botnet. If it does then with your compilation of crypters that support it, go through each one and choose which one best suits your needs and is most compatible (meaning all features work and are FUD and stable with solar botnet)

I can tell you that this is not true, I cannot get razor to work ever with solar.

Try Dark Eye Crypter.It may work well.Check if solar bot is in the list of its compatibility.

I recommend the Crypter in my Signature. It's FUD and native!
