Thread: How do I get the free unlimited country calls for skype premium?

Queers - February 11, 2014, 5:11 pm

Everytime I try to select a country, it says I have to pay $9.99 for a 1 month skype repmium subscription, even though I just redeem a year voucher. Can someone shed some light?

That offer just applies to premium membership bought on-site. Sorry.

I pay about $2/month for unlimited calls within my country.

It's only useful if you hate ads and if you want to do group video calls.

Some dude gave me a 12 month premium card for skype a while back, some people give them out and stuff but I don't think its allowed on HF.

Skype premium DOES NOT give you free calls, you have to buy skype credit to make calls.

Use Google. The gmail system allows free calls nationwide.
