Thanks for the vouch but due to your actions in game this service is temporarily closed until cars are back online, please follow directions next time

You were told to leave session but instead killed other players and caused vehicals to depawn.

It's not literally NOS but it's like when you get a "turbo start" during a race, or the boost power up. You press down on LS to activate the boost, I don't know why you're doubting him.

It's fine, I offered him a speed test to show him the difference, we will later tonight or when he is ready

Btw closing in a half hour, gonna let family play, may host later tonight

I didn't say this was fake did I?

I said I can't see the difference.

Yeah will do, but for the time being I may have to temporally suspended this service, I switched service providers and they provided me with a faulty router/modem so I can not connect to live to continue this unroll it is replaced

I am terribly sorry for the inconvenience.

I will be online tonight but I am not home and will not have access to GTA V

Anyone who has helped me previously may attempt to help with this but as for now I am unable to help :(

Hey pm me when you can do this I want a sultan,adder, tailgater. All fully upgraded with Nos no bullet proof tires. And for the tailgater can you make it matte light gray with Pearl dessert tan color. There was this glitch you could do and make it work I don't know if you can do it with hex editing.
