Thread: [\[MyBB\] Custom 404 Page Without Plugins!](#)

• ????c???? • - February 17, 2014, 5:04 am

First of all, you're gonna want to add this code to the last line on your .htaccess file.

Code ErrorDocument 404 /filenotfound.php

Now, you want to create a new page, called 'filenotfound.php' and add this code to it.

```
Code <?php    define('IN_MYBB', 1);
    require_once("global.php");

    add_breadcrumb("404 Error", $_SERVER['PHP_SELF']);

    eval("$page = \"\".$templates->get("404").\"\"");

?>

Now, upload the filenotfound.php file to your main website's directory.

Then, create a new template on your main theme with the name 404 and add this to it:

Code <html>
<head>
<title>Your title</title>
{$headerinclude}
</head>
<body>
{$header}
Your 404 Page Content
{$footer}
</body>
</html>
```

Edit where it says Your 404 Page Content to whatever suits your needs.

That page gives a 404 not found error, which it is supposed to.

"{$header}

Your 404 Page Content

{$footer}"

You never put anything where it says "Your 404 content" thus it's a blank page. Your bread crumb is right as it states 404 error.

Post your code here and i'll take a look at it.

Here is the code that I am using:

```
Code <html>
```

```
<head>
```

```
<title>Gaming Palace - 404 ERROR</title>
```

```
{$headerinclude}
```

```
</head>
```

```
<body>
```

```
{$header}
```

Oops! It looks like you have tried accessing a non-existing page. This error is caused because the page does not exist.

{$footer}
```

```
</body>
```

```
</html>

This should help out some beginners. I do it a little different though.
