Thread: Addiction's MyBB Helpdesk || Any MyBB Problem || Will Help Anyone!

• ????c???? • - February 17, 2014, 6:08 am

Hello guys, and welcome to my own MyBB helpdesk. I am starting this because from time to time, a lot of MyBB related questions get brought up in the Website Construction section that I can solve, so why not create one thread for everyone's problems? Before you read any further, you MUST agree to the terms and conditions that will be laid out at the bottom of this thread.

Before you read any further, here is a few links to my previously posted guides, as your answer may be contained there.

Terms And Conditions

The following are terms and conditions of my services which you must adhere to whilst I help you. If you do not do as I say or try to fix it yourself whilst I am involved, you will be refused support from me. You may also need to give me administrator access to your forum if your problem requires it. If you fail or refuse to do so then I will be unable to help you. I will get to every problem within 72 hours, so please do not post more than once on this thread about your problem, or PM me regarding it.

Well I will post here first see if you can get me a solution.

Problem: Spam accounts all with same GMail but random periods in it.
Anything you may have tried in order to counter the problem?: Ban IP, but they are using many IP's, and it is becoming difficult to manage.

Any ideas on a fix for this?
Thanks

We currently have a question asked, complex password, standard capatcha system, and email verification activated and they are still signing up. The issue is they are using the period in gmail emails to look like a different email when google redirect it to the real one.

Sorry to butt in but have you tried the stop forum spam plugin? It searches a database of known spammers and denies the registration. You can find the plugin over at mybb. I use it on my forum and it works a treat.

It is know to be buggy and randomly stop people who aren't spammers from registering hence why I didn't mention it.

Not necessarily, that may only happen when on the strictest settings.

Also he could try a different security question, something unique. That normally also helps with spam.

Having tested it myself on the lowest setting, it still blocked me on a brand new IP, hence it is buggy. I also already gave him advice (which was weeks ago now) so that matter is resolved, now if you do not have a MyBB issue please do not post here.

Yeah that is why I avoid software like that. I don't like to rely much on third-party list as they could be false, outdated, or as you said could simply just be buggy.

Here is a question. Say I want to make a plugin. This plugin has a setting that is either on or off, and when the setting is set to on, there would be a template change. When it is off, the template edit would be removed. I am not sure if there is a way to do this or not but I would like to know if anyone knows.

Only other method I know of is make the plugin global and just use a variable, but I am not sure if I want to make it global.

Thanks
-Ty

x0n - April 18, 2014, 1:26 am

Instead of creating a whole new plugin you can simply just create template1 (original)
And template2 (the edited one) and you could just switch between them on the acp.

You could technically do this using PHP but I am not skilled enough to tell you how, as I can't fully code it, however I do know that it can be done.

Carl Elias - April 18, 2014, 9:05 am

I know how to make template changes when you activate the plugin, but I wasn't sure if there was a way to do this only when the setting was changed. I guess for now I will use a global hook and do it that way.

Follow that tutorial and you will need to do the rest yourself. You need add the userbar images, name of groups etc yourself where it tells you to.

It's actually quite simple to do.

If you where to just have something like positive, negative, or neutral you can probably edit the language file, or make a plugin to do it instead of a number. I am not sure though I like the idea though because it is unique.

I really just have a problem getting members ~ glitch.sx

I had this great idea where members could link up there dogeCoin wallets and tip members 1->10 doge or whatever for good posts. An alternative system for rep-rewards and HQ members. What do you think?

I would totally need help writing it, but yea where would you start with something like that?

It seems like you would just have to add an attribute to the member so it knows where to send coins.

Depending on the number of users, just have them reset it. It takes all of 10 seconds.

The converter should work just fine though.

This would most likely require a lot of PHP but definitely is not impossible, Contact a plugin dev and see what they can do, as for getting members? Content is king.

The number of users is 50k+ with over 300k+ posts I would love to avoid resetting the passwords if possible. I have tried using the mybb converter but there were some issues but when i used the ipb converter no password resets were needed, everything worked perfect. So I am trying to fix a theme I accidentally messed up, I tried editing something and by accident deleted some code. I have recovered most of it, but now I want to make the length of the #panel the same length and match up evenly as the #thead.

Keep in mind, the #headernav is labelled #dolphinnav, and it is a separate element from #panel.

My code for #panel, my headernav and thead are below.

Quote:#dolphinnav {

That tells me nothing. What type of trouble? What error messages? Any screenshots you can give? You probably tried activating a plugin that isn't compatible with your version of MyBB or something.

I have recovered most of it, but now I want to make the length of the #panel the same length and match up evenly as the #thead.

Yours, I would need a link to the site so I could play around with the CSS locally using the web dev kit I have.

Hmm nvm, I didn't read your post correctly. Make sure the version you're using is compatible with the version of mybb you're using. If you could elaborate on your problem a little more then we may be able to help you out.

Just a quick question, Addiction. I'm kind of in a pickle right now and I'm hoping you can assist. I've created a custom profile field and I know there is a setting for limiting the maximum amount of characters. My question is, how would I go about limiting certain custom profile fields to a minimum amount of characters required? Thanks for the help!

Problem: Forum Icons are messed up

Anything you may have tried in order to counter the problem?: I think i messed up a template not sure

Images (If necessary): None needed.

Hi addiction,

i would like to ask you some questions concerning myBB but i can't PM you.

Can you PM me if you can help me out?

Thanks in advance

Erm hello, I have problems changing the background color of the sceditor "Full Edit" version. I have tried several methods including editing the office-toolbar.css in jscripsts/sceditor.
