

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Avoid These 4 Mistakes in your Online Money-making Career || Beginner DELUSIONS

iClick - February 19, 2014, 10:30 am

Are you trying to earn money by PTC, GPT, MLM programs or Microworking? If you are, you are probably making a big mistake! In this text we will discuss some of the popular methods of earning money online that just aren't worth your time.

Just by deciding to read this text, I believe you can make money on The Internet! There are many ways to do business over The Internet, and I'll help you find them (at the bottom of this text). But some of them just aren't worth your effort and time.

Here are the 4 biggest mistakes that beginners make when they want to make money online!

#1 - Microworking

Sites like Microworkers or Amazon mTurk are offering simple, dull, boring jobs that are usually paid couple of cents. The required completion time for those jobs is from few minutes upwards. Now while Microworking can make you some money (for waaaaay too much effort), by microworking you will hardly ever learn anything that will help you in the future, when you want to find a better paying job.

People that are offering jobs on Microworkers for example, are making money on you! They are making you download their apps, promote their content, market their products, whatever. You should be one of those people. You should be on the other side, on the side where you have people doing things for you, not the other way around.

#2 PTC (Pay To Click)

PTC, as well as Microworking can make you money. But the point is that you're wasting too much time and effort for a small wage. Now as we all know by now, sites like Neobux pay you to click on ads. Sounds easy? It's easy, yes, but it's not worth it. Why? Because the money you will make by clicking few ads a day won't even cover the cost of electricity you spent while doing it.

And your time should be worth more than that!

But having a nice strategy with such sites could earn you some passive money. But to do that you need to have a bunch of referrals, and it's quite hard to get them today, since almost everyone has tried these.

And everyone tried sites like Neobux because they thought "Why not? It won't cost me anything.". Wrong!

It will cost you your time and effort that could be invested into more productive things such as learning things that will make you some serious cash in the future.

By the time you get to the Withdrawal limit you will waste hours and hours, for just a few bucks.

But even if you are able to get referrals, in my opinion you're wasting your time. Why? Because with just a little bit of education you could do business with better programs that would benefit you much more than PTC will.

#3 GPT (Get Paid To)

I'm sure that you've come across many sites that are promising you a load of money, and all you need to do is give your honest opinion by doing a survey. Hey, that sounds easy and profitable, so why not?

There are at least 2 problems when it comes to GPT.

Firstly, majority of GPT sites are scam. There are a few legit ones around, but most of them are not. You can recognize a scam website by not offering enough surveys to reach the minimal withdrawal, most of them use that tactic.

Second problem is that surveys are endless, and are just leading you from one to another. It's a neverending cycle. Now if you were to put a lot of effort and time into this, you could make some money, but my opinion still stands - it's not worth it.

#4 MLM (Multi Level Marketing)

A lot of MLM systems are presented as "revolutionary" programs. Bullshit. The thing is, MLM is usually about classic pyramid schemes where people on the top might earn something, but others won't. And trust me, by the time you hear of a new 'revolutionary' MLM, it's already too late to be on top.

The system depends on bringing new members, and when it reaches the top - it breaks. For example, look where is Banners Broker, a popular MLM system, now

<http://finchsell.com/2013/06/26/banners-broker-scam-get-your-money-back/>

Now, don't get me wrong. Not every MLM system is a scam. Some of them do work, but that's another story. However if you are interested, drop me a PM. I don't want to discuss anything here because I'm not sure if it is allowed.

Now let's talk about positive sides, the methods that actually work.

Making money online IS POSSIBLE. But there's one big delusion every beginner falls for - easy money. While making small amounts of money since day 1 is possible, I don't recommend it. If you are a beginner, invest your time into education and knowledge.

I really believe that within 3-10 months everyone can learn enough to find a good online job, that will provide you for living. If you agree with me, [/1mWlxSW\]check this out](#), it will help you get started.

In one of the future texts I will explain you how to get a lot of education about the niche you're interested in, so stay tuned.

Meanwhile, check out [/1aH1APZ\]how to boost your sales](#) and finally get yourself to [/1gFYNVq\]start making money!](#)

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

This guide is fully copyrighted by me (iClick). You do not have the right to share it without my permission. If you want to add this guide to another forum / website, PM me.

If you have any questions, or want to discuss anything PM me here on HF.

I hope you liked this thread and learned something.

Also, I will be creating more informative threads like this one. Some will be methods I use and some will be general info such as this one. So I'd love some feedback, thanks!

Erwin Schrödinger - February 19, 2014, 10:32 am

Thanks for the HQ guide!

I really think this will help me. :)

Regards Erwin! :3

zgreatest - February 19, 2014, 11:22 am great share! thanks for tking time to post this. was going to get all over the ptc

SIM-611976 - February 19, 2014, 11:28 am

I recommend many people in this subforums to read this thread.

Too much neobux and other low earning offers discussion - I always wondered on these if people really care about earning 50 cents a day or so - or if they just dont know the real methods.

iClick - February 20, 2014, 12:58 pm

Thanks for the feedback guys, appreciated! Glad you liked it. :)

formatix - February 20, 2014, 1:24 pm

Thanks for the awesome man. I am new here and this has helped me a lot. Just one question, what it the best way to educate myself without spending money on ebooks - which I do not know if they are scams or not?

iClick - February 21, 2014, 10:47 am

(Feb 20, 2014 02:24 PM)formatix Wrote: CITE Thanks for the awesome man. I am new here and this has helped me a lot. Just one question, what it the best way to educate myself without spending money on ebooks - which I do not know if they are scams or not?

Thank you for replying, and I'm glad I've helped.

About your question, keep an eye out, I'll be posting something along those lines soon!

Sautéed - February 21, 2014, 11:34 am

Nicely written guide. Thanks a lot.

fuku222 - February 21, 2014, 8:14 pm

Thanks for the share, well written guide

iClick - February 23, 2014, 10:22 am

Thanks fuku222, I'm glad you liked it. I have more of them in my signature so check it out if you're interested. :)