Zolft has many many side effects, one common one is serotonin syndrome. I would bitch my mom out if she took this.

Tell her about Ativan, Xanax, or Klonopin. Or just some natural teas like Kratom or others.

Nothing good comes from Zoloft. I've had an unopen prescription for months, plus many other generics not open, their worthless, dangerous, and harmful.

Yeah, no, I've seen my mom on Xanaxs and Klonopins, and I agree with what the user below you said.

inb4He'sAnActualDoctorIt did the last tiem she took it a few years ago, don't know yet so far. The doctor/hairdresser said it amy take a few days to take noticeable effect.

bk randy - February 19, 2014, 4:57 pm

I said tell her about them not tell her to go buy them or even ask to be prescribed them, simply a suggestion.

Just trying to help you out with the warning but in the long run I could care less about the outcome of your ignorance.

Peace

Reservjesus - February 19, 2014, 4:57 pm

I like xanax it helps me relax! :) I hope your mum stops begin depressed.

Twitch? - February 19, 2014, 5:01 pm

I took zoloft and it was fucking shit. Good luck nigga

realmoney - February 19, 2014, 5:02 pm

Yeah his mom needs xanax. What moron would even think that.

YeAt - February 19, 2014, 5:19 pm

she should try to stay away from those drugs. they're very toxic and are capable of causing permanent brain damage.

aerodynamic - February 19, 2014, 5:21 pm

Be grateful for you mom, and don't call her a "thundercunt" or any rude words, she is your mom. You never know how much you love her until she is gone, trust me.

Xinipot - February 19, 2014, 5:22 pm

Wasn't your mom also the one who won a bunch of money gambling.

I'm currently on Prozac (Started a month ago.) and I can tell you it has changed the way I act, a lot. I'm happy your mom got some medicine to help her, but be warned, the euphoric everything's good feeling goes away after a couple weeks and you start to mellow out, just a heads up.

Vodge - February 19, 2014, 5:50 pm

I'm glad your mum isn't being a bitch to you anymore but you really shouldn't be happy she's now on prescription drugs, especially anti-depressants. Just because they're legal doesn't mean they don't fuck your body and brain up.

Calm down your balls, son. Don't be like FKINGRTRDGAYCNT at me for no fucking reason. L33t ain't nothing, you can't even neg people so instead you curse wildly at me in its comment, yeah real smart alright. Take some of that Zoloft, you must have quite some anger inside, boy. ?

I was on Zoloft for about a year and it fucked my thought process up heavily.

I'd tell her to switch to something else.

Could you give a little more detail? I'm considering changing from Prozac to Zoloft and would love if you could tell me how it affected you.

The first couple months helped my depression (I assume that's what you take it for, can also be used for anxiety) but after the third month or so I felt really dependent on it. If I forgot to take it I'd spiral back to square one until I got it in my system again. I'm also fairly certain it has some pretty bad long term affects on your serotonin levels which is why I manned up and quit taking antidepressants all together.
