Okay then answer this... why are you selling your services like this if you already make more money than this?

Charging sixty dollars an hour isn't trying to help others .. it's trying to make cash.

Sorry but I just can't take you seriously... even if they use 30 minutes your still charging 60 an hour... there's no proof and I fail too see how your going to help anyone make money. I'd suggest getting some serious proof before thinking anyone would buy your time.
