Thread: This Warning Isn't Fair

Imminent - February 26, 2014, 9:11 am

I don't think I deserved this warning, as the item I was selling came under none of Omni's "disallowed" categories.

Tell me if I'm wrong.

It's just a warning. Not a big deal and this isn't going to help you any. Just PM the staff member who issued it and ask why if you really need a reason, though staff don't HAVE to give you one anyway.

Though it's a fair warning after seeing the screen shot.

Those DLC downloads and shit are warez, hence the warning.

Rule #5 in the Free services & giveaways sector; Free Services and Giveaways

Quote:5. No warez, serials, or keys (this is for all of HF).

Yeah I have a 20% from the same thing after I tried to make a contest giving out a beta key for TESO..

Not that warning levels matter much though unless you're gonna apply for ub3r

If you feel the warning you have received is not fair, take it up with the Staff member that gave you it.

You will more than likely get nowhere, so it's better to just accept it, wait for it to go away and move on.
