HackerCraft Pimp Start Up Thread!

So, you've just joined HackerCraft and don't know how to get started just post on this thread with your IGN and I'll personally make you a 10x10 farm!

Now you're wondering what's the point of this?

Well, here at HackerCraft Pimp's we want to try to make people enjoy HackerCraft and the best way to enjoy it would be to get a small but decent head start.

This is free, just leave your IGN and we'll make a 10x10 farm, get started on HackerCraft today!

I would suggest new players not to allow anyone to build them a farm, but rather accept the supplies to do it yourself, so you don't give out your location. I would suggest to provide anyone who are interested in this service with 1 diamond shovel and 2 stacks of desired crop to get more than enough dirt to make several 10x10 farms in less than 10 minutes. You should never accept someone in your farm, neither a good Samaritan.

Nothing like this would ever happen as this is a free service provided by HackerCraft Pimp.

It isn't even worth it for him. All the travelling time,etc makes it not worth it to raid. Unless it was like a 50x50 farm

If they want a 10x10, they use their own RL and I make it then leave because I'm not going to waste a home at their bases :c
