What do you need the xml data to correlate to in drupal? This shouldn't be hard. I can probably do it if you provide more information

XML data are the real estate listing information which needs to show on website based on drupal. In the theme option is there to manually enter the property but this way it becomes automated. Staff enters the property in CRM which populates in xml when ticked for website advertising and then it needs to be pulled in Drupal website which is based on Realia theme. Hope this answers your query
