I just re-thought of this. I have a friend who joined the forum on my IP. He saw me browsing and thought "Oh Hey I'll Join this to be a l33t hacker" I don't want our accounts merged and I don't want closed my either. He has some weird ass threads and seems like a troll, not like a big one just like weird threads and semi-LQ. Is there anything I can do? He isn't active at all, but he only logs in when he is at my house and sees me browsing. This could be deeeeeep shit for me. What do I do?

Am I fucked?

Send a private message to a Staff member and do not let him log back in under your IP address. If you let him login at your house, and he gets banned, you may as well too, even if Staff know.

Okay, which staff should I send it to?

Any of them really would be fine. Just don't send it to Omniscient as in all honesty other PMs should take more priority when any of them can handle this. Both Emylbus and Paradoxum are very nice people: <https://hackforums.net/showstaff.php>

Just take your pic, and they will leave a note on your account, but remember they are no promises.
