USERNAME: Reama GT: Un Stylo (New GT Other got banned)

Xbox360/1 Games:Xbox 360, Halo 3, Halo 4, Gears of War 3 and Judgement, Black ops 2, Black ops Ghosts,

Are you willing to participate in game nights? I will be able to participate, however I must be notified the dates of these events.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself: Been gaming pretty much all my life, I was good at it, so I simply kept playing it.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I want to join Respawn as it's a really unique gaming group, reminds me and sets me back when I used to watch "Arby' And the Chief" I want to vs other groups on Hackforums as I am very competitive. I dominate Call of Duty so if I got in, I would be a Call of Duty recipient. I get along with others, and I'm a team player.

Kept the response short and simple. Hope you enjoyed my response.

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Yes, I love participating in game nights, I find them very fun and something I enjoy doing.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself:

I have been gaming ever since I can remember, my console of choice is the Xbox, don't get me wrong PS3/4 is fun too but just not my cup of tea. Gaming is one of my biggest hobbies, and something I really enjoy doing in my spare time, especially playing with friends. I have been console banned once which was a pretty bad experience for me, because at the time I wasn't working so I was without an Xbox for a little bit, but ended up finding the money to purchase a new one.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I want to join Respawn because I basically have a love for gaming, as I said before it's something I really enjoy doing, and I think I would fit perfect in the group, and hope to meet some new people to game with, I would be more than active, I can assure you of that. I love game nights and think I have have a blast with you guys.

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Definitely.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself:

Well, to say I'm 15, I have been playing PC games for a few years. I remember sitting on my dad's lap as I wasn't tall enough when sitting on the chair playing Counter-Strike / Counter-Strike: Source. Good times.

I then proceeded to play a wider variety of first-person shooter games to get a taste of the different multi-player atmospheres. My skills have increased tremendously throughout the course of doing so making me a better player.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I want to join Respawn because gaming has been a good chunk of my life, a chunk of it I really, really enjoyed. Being in Respawn would feel like my virtual home, somewhere, I. We. Can communicate and have fun, together. That's truly why, thank you.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? Always ready and available.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: I have a lot of experience with gaming from the BF series. In Battlefield 2 I have been and played in Creme de La Creme and won the ESL world champion cup. Other than that I have always been playing on a high level of gaming and will continue with that in the future also.

Why do you want to join Respawn? Because it's awesome and I really like to game and want to be engaged in a group where I can share and care!

PC Games:

Are you willing to participate in game nights? Yes if it's on the weekend, I can't play that much during the night because of school monday-friday, but I can play after school!

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: I've been gaming since I was about 5. I started with the PlayStation 1 and then moved to PlayStation 2. My favorite game of all time from those was Dark Alliance, sadly they have stopped making it. I moved on to PC when I was about 8 I believe, and have never gone back since. I like it on the PC a lot more than console, and now I'm 16, 17 next week and still gaming on the PC. I never went back and I never will.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I've never been in a group and I've always wanted to be in one. That is one reason why I would want to join. The other is that I'm really into gaming and this group would really suit me the best. I would become more active than I am now and maybe start up some tutorials for games under the name of the group.

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Definitely am, would love meeting and playing with other gamers!

Your experience with gaming and PC itself:

I have been gaming for over 6 years and started on the Playstation 2, after I grew out of Call of Duty on the Playstation 3 I moved onto the PC which is where I am today. I believe it is the most stable and best gaming console there is.

As for experience with computers goes I have my custom gaming computer set up, I wouldn't call myself a guru when it comes to the technical side of computers, however if you give me a task then I will complete it.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

To find other avid gamers and build a network of trusted friends who I can game with on a regular basis, taking part in Game Nights and sub-forum discussions plus other activities would be really fun.

I would also like to share my ideas on game-servers and a variety of other topics.

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Yes, I am on all the time at the weekends. I also have the ability to cooperate with other members and know how to have fun, after all its only a game. I love winning but I wont cry if I loose.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself:

Well it all kinda started with Minecraft, In 2010 I had just gotten my iPod, I had never really been into youtube or videos before that and on one night I opened up the youtube app and saw the

Yogscast Shadow Of Israphel I believe and I started to watch every single other episode, then I found another youtuber upon another youtuber. I had a PC at the time (an all in one), it wasn't very good; 2gb of ram Intel Core Duo and some crappy integrated graphics system. Before I even knew if I could play Minecraft or not I went ahead and bought it 3ish weeks after I first started watching the Youtube Videos about it. Turns out I could get 15fps on it which wasn't the most enjoyable experience at the time but I made it work. I look up mods like Risugamis Biospheres and wanted to play it so bad but I could never get it working. So at the end of 2010 I begged my dad for an actual PC. We looked around forever in shops etc until I looked online and saw it was better to build one yourself. I had never touched a PC component before then. Every night I would be watching videos and how to build them, what part was what and so on and so forth. I finally convinced my dad I could one after explaining what all that parts do and what they were for. It was a decent PC 4gbs of ram, a quad core processor and a dedicated graphics card. It wasn't the best but it worked. I loved to play minecraft, it was at most times the highlight of my day when I was going through some rough times. I met many friends through, whom of which I still speak to today. I can even trust them, then I went on to find out about Steam. I started playing Garry's mod it was the first what I considered actual game I had ever purchased. Then my love of Steam and PC games began. I now currently have over 150 games in my Steam library and it is expanding everyday. Currently my rig today is a: NZXT Phantom 560, GTX 770, 750w PSU, 8gbs of ram, a Blue Yeti Microphone and a pair of Senhieser DJs

Why do you want to join Respawn?

This is kinda of hard question to answer really. Why do I want to join Respawn. Well first, I love gaming. I love meeting new people. Playing new games. Having new experiences with other players. Playing as a team. Helping people out, that is what I like to do best and I think I could do that with Respawn. Playing with a bunch of like minded team players is something I could see myself doing. Purely having fun on weekdays and weekends. Helping out the wider community with leveling or general tips when gaming. How to make new friends and people online. It's a passion of mine, Respawn can not only help me but help everyone with gaming, collaborating on projects like in Minecraft, Battlefield, Rust or DayZ. What ever game is out.

Thanks for reading my application.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? - Give me a time and day and some time to buy supplies and I can.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: I'm an IT Technician - starting gaming around age 10 playing Halo CE on PC. Got a nice little set up going, going from a 0.3MB/s internet to 40MB/s in 3 weeks - can't wait. As I said, I started when I was 10, I am 19 now, I started with Halo CE and moved onto CoD:MW because my PC couldn't run GTAIV - moved onto GTA:SA (SAMP and MTA) and when MW2 came out I think I managed to get about 2000+ Hours on Steam with it. I still play it to this day, however I play the AlterIW version. Currently playing random games I find, currently it's South Park: The Stick Of Truth.

Why do you want to join Respawn?:

I'd love to be in a group of fellow gamers, in my imagination, the sub forum is filled nicely with new release discussion and strategy ect - the gaming nights sounds fun as well, is there a TS3 server?

I'm not very good with the whole, graphics and looking good thing, I prefer to keep things simple..

Enjoy my BF4 and GTA videos though... I was high both times - this is the shit me and friends do, we play for fun most of the time..

Are you willing to participate in game nights: Game nights are fun, enjoyable and helps me enjoy games more than I would if I was playing on my own! I'd be happy to participate.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself: I have played games since I was a very young age, although my first 'proper' game was probably a Call of Duty game. I like first-person shooters, but other genres too. I have been an Xbox Live Gold member for around 7 years and have become accustomed to the console. As well as the Xbox, I also play PC games although I mainly play MMO-style games. My Steam library is fairly small with only 80 games.

Why do you want to join Respawn: I would really enjoy being a part of a group of dedicated gamers like myself and it would be great to get to know some new people. Respawn seems like a friendly group and it's something I'd like to invest a lot of time in! I would be a perfect addition to the group and I think I'd have a 'whale of a time'!

Are you willing to participate in game nights? Of course. When I first read the description of the Respawn group I noticed that and immediately wanted to get my application sent out. I have no problem hosting game nights for Respawn either, if it comes down to it.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself: I've been an XBox gamer since about 2009. I purchased an XBox Live membership a year later and I've been with them every since. A lot of talk about the next-gen XBox console was that it was going to be a load of garbage and the PS4 would dominate.. But I recall reading that XBox One had just won a Product of the Year award. So, you know where my feelings are on that.

Why do you want to join Respawn? This looks like a group that I've been waiting for to come to HackForums. Great members coming together to build a positive gaming community. I feel as though Respawn will be a huge success in the upcoming months!

Thank you for your time and I hope you enjoyed my application. I hope to hear from you soon!

Xbox360/1 Games: I currently have the xbox one and have the games Battlefield 4 and Forza 5 for it.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? I would love to participate in game nights they sound like a great idea and a fun experience.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself: I've played xbox for a couple years now and just love it. I'm into first person shooter games mostly like call of duty, battlefield, and halo(my favorite). But I also enjoy to play elder scrolls game like fallout and Skyrim, I can't wait for elder scrolls online.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I want to join because the group seems high quality and overall great group to join. I would like to expand my skills in gaming and have people to play with so we can help each other out, I love gaming and I'm pretty good at most of the games I play and feel that this group fits me perfectly and hope to be part of this great gaming community. Thank you for your time

Are you willing to participate in game nights?: Yes, i do!

Your experience with gaming and PS itself: I've been a gamer since 3 years old with my PS and PacMan! By then, i have been a competitive gamer, taking part in MLS contest with my team! Right now i'm a casual everyday gamer!

I can modify PS controllers and repair common PS problems... I once tried to fix Yellow Light of Death but the result wasn't permanent!

Why do you want to join Respawn?: I've been a Respawn member in the past! I want to join because i want to be a part of a gamers team, have fun and play games with other members! I can help and share other members with my knowledge as well!

Thank you!

 - COD BO 1 & 2

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Ofcourse, I would love to actually, been searching people to do this with, none wanted, but hopefully you guys will.

Your experience with gaming and PS itself:

Been gaming since I can remember, I had all the PS's (except ps4, but it's coming) had a gameboy, n64, nes, wii, never had a xbox but yeah, kinda experienced with gaming. Also I game a little on the PC aswell, but I prefer console.

Why do you want to join Respawn?:

Because I believe the fokes in Respawn are the same as me, true gamers and I believe I'm going to have a blast with you guys.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? Yes I am!

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: I am a gamer that has been playing video games since I was three years old. I play all sorts of games including; Pokemon, Chess, Minecraft, Halo.. ect. I am a hardcore gamer, I play almost 24/7. I think the group could use my expertise in any sort of game system/game they need. I own a; N64, Gamecube, Gameboy, DSI, DS, Computer, and PS2. I like to play in groups with Skype as well. I like to play the game "Minecraft" thats why I registered here on HackForums. I have lots of skill in that game, whether it's server management or PvP, I'm good at the game. Minecraft is my favorite video game while my computer and PS2 are my favorite game consoles. Me and my brother play Xbox 360 ocsionally and we both play PC games together all the time. I have great skills in gaming and I'm willing to share my expertise. I play online games most of the time, and I do it for fun. The games I play are usually the ones I'm good at playing. I'm willing to help other people at certain levels, or aspects in the specific. Video game they need knowledge on.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I want to join Respawn because I want a group I can discuss games and there's other people that are willing to discuss and debate with me. I think this group is for me.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? Yes, that's the reason I applied.

Your experience with gaming: I've been an avid gamer ever since I could remember; I started gaming from a young age, playing games such as Star Wars Starfighter, WWII dogfight games, Mech Warrior, Time Crisis and Age of Empires. I have recently moved over from PS3 to XBOX because of my friends hence the small number of games I have on XBOX.

Why do you want to join Respawn?: I look to join a community of people who share the same amount of interest in gaming I do. I am also very eager to participate in game nights.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? Most definitely. I play games about everyday.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: 4 years. I started out on Garry's Mod, as it was my first game. Then it moved to Left 4 Dead 2. As it was my first game on Xbox 360 in the year 2010. Then I built a gaming PC and I now play lots of DayZ, Arma, and Battlefield.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I love gaming. I started on the Nintendo 64, playing Banjo Kazooie. I also have a heart for Zelda on the Gamecube. Then, Xbox game out. Halo one was out and I loved it. THEN Xbox 360 came out. I got one in 2010, picked up Left 4 Dead one and two. The next year, I got Call of Duty Black Ops. My first shooter such as Call of Duty. I still game to this day. I upload gaming videos on Youtube just about every week. I know I have over at least 4,000 hours in my gaming life. <http://raptr.com/Furroh/wall> I just made an account again this year for Raptr. Are you willing to participate in game nights?: Yes, that actually sounds pretty fun. I am more than willing to participate in game nights whenever I am available.

Your experience with gaming and PS itself: I have been a huge gamer since I was a kid. I own a PS1, PS2, Xbox 360 (unfortunately, I was forced to switch because I got it as a gift), and a PS4.

Why do you want to join Respawn?: I would like to join Respawn because gaming has been a huge aspect of my life. By accepting me into Respawn, you are giving me a privilege that I will highly appreciate. Another reason I would love to join Respawn is that I do not have any one to game with (none of my friends have a PS4), so gaming with people I know from HackForums would be great, and it would allow me to extend my communications with people.

Are you willing to participate in game nights?: Yes; I've been looking for a group of people to play with for a long while now. It'd be great to finally find someone who would enjoy the same games that I do and be readily available to play with. I really love this idea and it's another reason why I've really been itching to get into Respawn.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself: I've had an original Xbox since around the time it first came out. I was big on Halo 2, which I actually played before I played Halo: Combat Evolved. Many a summers spent playing Halo 2 with the ethernet cable stretched out across the house. I didn't end up buying an Xbox 360 until 2010. I played. It. Non. Stop. I still play as much as I can. My main game to play is Halo: Reach, but I'm down to play all sorts of other games. My gamertag is: Ratattas (which is a Pokemon, in case you didn't know. ? Which is another one of my favorite game series.) General gaming wise, I started out with the Gamecube and it is still my favorite system today. I collect consoles now and a list of consoles I own along with pictures can be found here. I absolutely love Nintendo and I have a soft spot for Sega, I grew up with Mario and Sonic and I still play them today, I own every retro Sonic game and I'm working towards buying every Mario game. My two games of all time are the Paper Mario series and the Fable series. (I suppose it's not a single game, but I love the series' so much I couldn't choose just one. ?) Gaming is not just a hobby for me, it is a passion. It provides an outlet for me, a place to get away, and I'd just love to join a group with others that share the same mentality.

Why do you want to join Respawn?: I've been wanting to join a gaming group forever. I felt that instinct was more about trolling than gaming, so I decided to steer away from them. I just want to join a group with good fun, a competitive spirit, and friends to play with. I feel as though Respawn would provide me with just that.

Thanks for taking the time out of your day to review my application, it might not seem like much, but I literally spent a full two hours on it trying to make sure it was just right. Thanks for the great opportunity to join Respawn. ?

Are you willing to participate in game nights? Of course I stay up pretty late every night and love a good skype/coms/vent group.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: For the last like 10 years I've done nothing but play games, I really started getting into things when cod4 came out, I was still pretty young but I loved it. My favorite games were Red Faction and Lost Planet, the multiplayer are unlike mot others and I loved them.

PC wise I'm relatively new to PC gaming, only got into it 2 years ago after hearing about league of legends wise. But PC in general I have been on forever, I built this PC, I taught myself all I know about c# and Java (though it's not too much), and I spent a massive amount of time doing graphics.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I want to join because I don't have a lot of people to play with, I have 4 people I play league of legends with and 1 person I play battlefield with and it gets pretty boring, I want to play with more people. I also want to play league with people better than me so I can improve a lot more.

I also can stream all games besides Crysis on 1080p.

PC Games: Diablo III, Hearthstone, DayZ, Arma 2 (wasteland) and League of Legends (used to play this, but it might be fun to pick it back up with a group of people).

I'm pretty much open to any game, so it's not a concern which one it is. I've been a PC gamer for as long as I can remember and I'm willing to get new games to learn them and enjoy with a group of people.

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Of course! I find games much more enjoyable when played with other people. Especially when you can use voice communication.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself:

I've been a gamer ever since I was little. The first PC game I ever played was Diablo. I then got into Diablo II: Lord of Destruction which I played for the majority of my childhood. After that, I proceeded to Warcraft III: Reign of Chaos and The Frozen Throne. All of these games were made by Blizzard, but they're some of the most fun games I've ever played. From those games, I moved onto Call of Duty. I played Call of Duty quite regularly until the newer ones came out and I began to get sick of the game. FPS games are very enjoyable, but the good ones are getting harder to find. From the Call of Duty and FPS scene, I moved onto League of Legends. This was a game I played on and off for a good two years, but eventually lost the enjoyment and I quit playing it. After League, I moved onto survival games like the DayZ mod for Arma 2. DayZ is the best game to play with a group of people. It's always enjoyable, unless you run into cheaters obviously.

I used to be a fairly popular and partnered YouTuber:

<http://www.youtube.com/user/BoomShotKapow>

I totaled almost a million views and 7k subscribers. I don't do YouTube anymore, but this shows my PC gaming experience when I used to play a lot of Call of Duty.

Not only am I an experienced PC gamer, but I'm quite experienced with the actual computer itself. I've built my own computer multiple times and love learning about computers in any way possible. Which explains why I enjoy computer programming so much. I've enjoyed programming so much that it became more than a hobby, but a passion. Before gaming, I never had a passion like that.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I want to join Respawn because I'd like to play some games with a group. I lost the enjoyment from video games because I quit playing them with friends. Respawn seems like the group that I could try new games out with other people and actually enjoy them. The experience from playing games in a group is unforgettable because of all the weird, funny and just straight up awesome things that happen when other people are playing a game with you.

I use the computer everyday, mostly for work, daily browsing, email, hf, some gaming here and there whenever I'm free.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I've been in the group before just before it got shut down or whatever and was fascinated by it's subforum. That's the only group I've ever been apart of on HF, and I would love to get back into it so I can participate in interesting topics involving fellow gamers to help better my knowledge in taking and hopefully to spread some stuff I know around too. Are you willing to participate in game nights? Sure! Why not.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself: Played Xbox before the 360 came out. Halo 1 was my favourite game and I loved it, later on bought the 360 since Halo 3 would only come out to it. Always loved the Halo Series. I currently own the largest Xbox One Fan Page on Facebook, link: (<https://www.facebook.com/MSNewXboxOne>) (I'm the person posting as "- Alex"). Have been unable to grab myself an Xbox One yet (Maybe ironic when I own the largest X1 fan page on fb :/ but anyway..) Im looking forward to getting one when I can afford it.

Why do you want to join Respawn? Well, I'd like to join respawn because since Black Diamond disbanded I have been group less. I miss having a subforum with only a few people that you can talk to / learn to know. Also gaming is awesome and more people to play with would be awesome ^_^. I was wellknown in the modding scene a few years back, but left that behind, still have my CFW right enough. I got into Minecraft a few months ago and I loved it, I always get looty raids and just love it. For PS3 my first online game was Call Of Duty: Modern Warfare 2, I loved it and its still my favourite game to this day. I think its the best Call Of Duty. For PS4 I've only played it a few times, think PS3 is better tbh, its cause the selection of CODs ain't too good, time will heal this.

- All Call of Duties past Cod 4 (Do not have ghosts on 360, only have on One)
- Nba 2k14 (One)
- AC4 Black Flag (One)
- DR3 (One)
- Forza 5 (One)
- Skate 3
- Forza Horizon Only listed the popular/better games I have. I traded in most of my 360 games to pay for my Xbox One. I only kept the good games

For your enjoyment I have included some pictures of my setup in the spoilers below. Sorry I did not resize them, but I put them in a spoiler for your convenience. Also figured I would just link the direct imgur photo so there are no problems with the [img] tags and such bugging.

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Yes. I would even help organize them if needed.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself:

I have been gaming ever since I first picked up a Play Station 1 controller when I was in grade 1. I remember playing Spyro, Crash Bandicoot, such good games. Later on, I ended up getting a Game Cube for Christmas. Played that for a few years, games like James Bond Nightfire, Everything or Nothing, From Russia with love. These games are what made me realize my love for FPS games. Then I got a Play Station 2, and picked up this strange army looking game called "Call of Duty WaW Final Fronts". That game, is what made me turn into the gamer I am. Sticking with PS2 for numerous years, playing FPS games and racing games, I totally missed the Xbox era and ended up buying a Xbox 360.

This is where my gaming career took off. Right off the bat, cod 4. Played it, got good, looked into gamebattles and competitive. Starting playing solo. Went the whole game playing solo. WaW then came out, hated it. I was good but I hated it. Did not play competitive on it. Then Mw2 came out. The best game in the world game out, and I was good at it. Played GB's and then later found out something called "Quick Scoping" ? So I started playing Sniper Leader boards.

Bo1 came, hated it. My life was tough around this time, so I did not get into competitive. Mw3 came out, did a bit of competitive. Once again, as a solo player. Bo2 came out, loved it. Started to play doubles, even tried 4v4s. I would take part in team scrims, even ran some solo tournaments. I loved bo2. Its the point I can actually say, "Wow, I've found something I enjoy and I am good at"

Cod Ghost comes out, and I just hate it. Piece of shit game. At least on Xbox 360, so later on I bought a Xbox One the first week it came out, got ghosts on it and I've just been practicing on it for when competitive moves onto Xbox One.

I do enjoy playing other games, that are non competitive. Games like NBA, Forza, or games with just a good story mode to it.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I want to join Respawn, because you could say I belong in it. I know this may sound cocky, I apologize. I was in Respawn since the first week they started recruiting, and I was in it until it turned into Innovation, then I left on my own accord. When I saw the thread Astonish posted saying #Respawnisback I have been checking the group section daily for the recruitment.

I want to join Respawn because my experience as a gamer will benefit the group and as well as the community of HF. I want to make some friends on HF, and as well on Xbox. My career has been very lonely, I look to Respawn to maybe find a partner to run GB's and just have a fun time.

Also, this is a message for Astonish. Not sure if you remember, but the Respawn youtube that we tried to launch? I still have it. We could attempt to get it rolling again, if I get accepted. Ill leave you with the reminder of our terrible montage we made :P

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Yes, I am. In fact I would love to participate, and share knowledge about games with each other.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself:

Well, I'm a 19 year old guy which is playing games from the age of 10.

So I have definitely experience with gaming on the PC.

My gaming career started when I was going to play Runescape, I'm playing CoD 4 most of the time now.

Besides, in about 2 months I am going to a LAN located in The Netherlands and hope I can win there.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I'd love to be a part of a gaming related group, and Respawn seems to be a nice and friendly group.

Besides, making new friends is never bad. I'm also able to talk over Skype / Teamspeak and compete with friends against other teams.

Kind Regards,

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Yes, I'd gladly participate in game nights, they are a fun way to meet new people, but also a interesting way to compete against each other or with each other against other people.

Your experience with gaming and PS itself: I've been gaming for as long as I can remember, I remember playing Super Smash Bros Brawl on the Nintendo 64 with my brothers, and playing Pokemon FireRed with my best friend. My experience with gaming, I think of gaming as a way to relax and let the stress fall, it's fun to game with friends and I'd like to play with fellow respawn members. My experience with the PS3 is good, I like the console, I can get a PS4 anytime, but my friends don't own one, so I don't see the point in getting one at the moment, I will probably buy one around November 2014.

Why do you want to join Respawn?:

I would like to meet new people in Respawn and game with them, I'm easy to get along with and I hope that members of respawn have headsets too, so I can actually hear them too. It would be cool to get to know all of you, and I hope that we could have a great time together. I'm in for competitive gaming, but I lean more towards casual gaming, it's fun to compete, but it is important to relax too.

Extra information:

I hope that I will be accepted, it's a great opportunity to join a gaming group and I would love to play with each of you, I recently made a Call of Duty mega-thread located here

Are you willing to participate in game nights? Yes, Especially this week when i am on Spring Break, i am hoping we have those every night. I love meeting new people and having fun in competitive gaming.

Your experience with gaming and PS itself: Yes, I've started from the PSP and worked my way up. I have been in the PlayStation Network since it came out with the PSP Basic. I do not make alternate accounts, i have one main account that i have been using since 2008.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I want to see what this group is made of and this will be the first gaming group i have ever applied to. Since this is a new group, i want to be able to experience the changes that will be happening over time.

PC Games: On Steam I currently own BO2, L4D2, CS:GO, CSS, Garry's Mod, Just Cause 2, Payday The Heist, Team Fortress 2, and a variety of cracked games. I also play quite a bit of LoL when I have friends playing with me.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? I usually play Xbox every 2-3 days but I have been inactive for quite a while. As long as I know there is a game night, I'll be online ?

Are you willing to participate in game nights? I'm gaming on my PC almost everyday and I would love to participate in game nights. It would be something that I would look forward to.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself: I find that the Xbox is a great console and I love playing competitively on MW2, MW3, and BO2.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: I find PC gaming to be a lot more laid back and fun than Xbox gaming where it's more competitive (for me at least). That's one of the main reasons I play PC more.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I want to join Respawn because I would love to game with some new people. I'm a hardcore gamer but I don't have many people to play with so that turns me off. I play Call of Duty (mostly), but I love Halo none the less. For my PC I would love to have a LoL group of friends to play with and a good team of Payday players.

I love to play Minecraft/Hackercraft aswell. Obtained the HC award a while ago which gave me alot of motivation to play MC again :D

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Yeah sure. I always love to play all-nighters. For some reason I'm so much more focused on the game when it's late.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself:

I've been playing PC games for a really long time. I always used to play like CS 1.6 and CSS on my crappy $500 laptop. I recently build my own 'Beast' Where I play on now. I'm honestly in love with Counterstrike: Global Offensive. I'm working on a fragmovie at the moment which will be fucking amazing. I also really like to play DayZ. Such a funny game. I started of with having a xbox when I was like 12. I played on it till I was 14. I then moved to PC. I prefer PC above everything now.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I want to join Respawn because I love gaming. I've never been in a Gaming group before. I really want to get better at LoL. I hope that once I get accepted some people will help me get better at League of Legends. And I also hope to play some all nighters :D. I fucking love them.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? I am always down to get in a queue with friends and play, so yes. ?

Your experience with gaming and LoL itself: My experience with gaming was stated in the last application. I started playing League of Legends in early Season 3. I hopped around different accounts, always getting them banned around level 20 or so. I was inexperienced due to myself buying the same champions every account I played on. I finally, around 5 months or so before Season 3 ended, I got set on one account and went from there. I am confident in my skill in League of Legends that I am able to play very well.

Why do you want to join Respawn? As stated before, to connect with other gamers that I usually have no where else to talk to. Game nights and playing with others is always something I like to do, and I thought this group would be the perfect place for that.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? Yes, at any moment in which I have time I'd be willing to play a few games with the group.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: I've been gaming since I was around 8, me and my dad had owned a fairly large clan on "Delta Force: Black Hawk Down". We also participated in tournaments somewhat often. That was the beginning of my gaming experience. Since then I've moved on to many different games. I've played games of all genres and I'm willing to try new games to play with the group.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I believe joining Respawn would be a way for me to find new games to play and make new friends. My friends aren't available to play all the time so it would be nice to have people to play with at all times. I also think joining the group would be a very good educational experience for me as other group members could teach me and give me tips on multiple games. Joining Respawn would be a very good experience in general for me and I look forward to hearing back from you.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? Yes of course.

Your experience with gaming and PS itself: I have been playing for about 5 years. My first console was a Nintendo 64 then I got a sega, then ps1, Gamecube, then ps2 and eventually ps3. I also play minecraft on PC. I have been getting into modding lately and I find that very fun, I even made a thread on it located HERE.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I want to join Respawn because I love gaming and love gaming with other people. And Respawn is a very HQ group as far as I can tell. It would be an honor to join ?

Are you willing to participate in game nights?: Yes.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: I am a minecraft developer, that is the main reason I spend so much time playing minecraft. I am an ex console player and just moved to PC 2 years ago. I used to be a cod kid, and I played only cod for almost 3 years on my xbox 360. I simply wanted a PC and had to sell my console in order to afford it. I don't have the money to buy every new PC game that comes out, but I have a vast knowledge in gaming on all systems since I read gaming magazines.

Why do you want to join Respawn?: I would like to join Respawn so I can meet other dedicated gamers, and nerd out with them over new releases. I don't have many gaming buddies so it would also be fun to chill with some cool people and play a game for a few hours. I am a very kind person and I get along well with all the members I speak with. I will not take being in Respawn for granted and I will be very active in the subforum.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? Sometimes. It really does depend what nights.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: I've been gaming my whole life, I'm not kidding. Starting with my PS1, I played Spyro all day. Then I came across PC, and I started to play flash games and Tonka disk games. That's when it all started.

Throughout my life I loved gaming after those fond memories of my early childhood playing Spyro on my Playstation 1 and 2, and playing all sorts of games on my PC. I gamed all the way until I got my first computer, where I took it seriously. I gamed all the time, and I still do. That also sparked my interest for hacking as I wanted to be able to hack my enemies computers and minecraft servers.

Why do you want to join Respawn? Simply because I remember it being a HQ group. I've also always wanted to be in a group of one of the three types: Hacking, Gaming, or Anime. I'm in a hacking group, and I'd love to be in a gaming group as well. Those are my two favorite activities in the digital world, and being in one would be absolutely fantastic.

Thank you for this opportunity, whether I get in or not.

I am buying more every month.

Are you willing to participate n game nights?: Yes! I have been looking to play with others for quite the time.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself:

Nintendo 64:

Like every other little kid, this was the prime of my childhood; I loved this console. Whenever I would go over to my Grandparents house I would look forward to playing on the system with my siblings. This was obviously my favorite console (if we can call it that) at the time, it was my only one. The only game I would play on there was Mario Kart. Countless hours went into that game.

Nintendo DS:

This was the first gaming system (if I can call it that) that I owned, I was obsessed with this 'platform' instead of hours going into it, there would be weeks. Some games that I played on here were almost all the mario games, nothing else.

GameCube:

After the N64, this was my favorite platform, this was my life at the time (9 or so). By this time I had become addicted to playing games as there was nothing to do; I didn't like to go outside at the time.

Wii:

Out of all the consoles that I played on this was the worst, I didn't really like the controllers; the only game I played on here was Super Smash Bros.

PS1:

I can't remember when I got this; I never used it.

PS2:

I played only about one game on this system, I can't remember the name of the game, I didn't enjoy it much so instead I would play games on the PC.

PS3:

At this time of year, CoD was the fab. Like any other kid, I bought MW2; I actually enjoyed this game to a fair amount; other games I played on this console at the time were Gears of War.

I had eventually lost interest in these games so I stopped playing it for the time being.

When Black Ops I came out, I found a new interest in the system, like before; I enjoyed it fairly well. Everyday when coming home from school I would only play on this console before I went to sleep, awaiting the next day.

I also own Black Ops II, MW3, and Ghosts.

Gameboy:

This was a very early platform and I enjoyed just as much as the last.

PC:

This is where the fun started for me, I don't wanna sound too repetitive now but I enjoyed playing on the PC.

For a couple years I had only played Arcade and Flash games (stickpage, etc.).

When I was about nine years old or so I started to play RuneScape, like always I enjoyed this game also.

Other games that I had played were Train Simulator, Roller Coaster Tycoon, and other games nobody liked.

I started to get into the more advanced gaming side of the PC around two years ago (Steam, Origin).

The first steam game I owned was Garry's Mod.

I never liked playing on the PC before, mainly because I didn't have a computer that could really run anything.

I played Minecraft and Gmod for about a year until I bought more games from steam.

Once I got a sufficiently better laptop I started to enjoy playing on the much more than previously.

A year ago I decided to start playing games on Steam, ones which I have linked in the first question.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

Well, there are many reasons regarding my intent to join Respawn.

I want to join Respawn so I can become more active in the gaming community, at the moment I do not have anyone that I play with on a regular basis; however I would like to. I think that Respawn is a high quality gaming group that I would like to be apart of, it looks like a generally friendly group full of kind individuals. I hope that I get my opportunity to contribute to the group. Respawn seems like a group that offers a lot, I love to play games.

I know how to build my own computer, and customize most of the the parts.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I want to join respawn to be part of a community that hack forums lacks in. I spend lots of time on Hackforums in the gaming sections, such as Counter Strike, and World of Warcraft, In fact they are 2 out of my top 5 most posted sections in Hackforums of all time. That is pretty intense. I have a unique skill set for the games I play, and how I play. And lately I am getting tired for pugging League of Legends games ahah :). I think I wold be a great edition to respawn at the end of the day, and I hope I see my self finally involved once again into the Respawn Usergroup.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? Certainly.

Your experience with gaming and LoL itself: When it comes to gaming I generally have good experiences with positive attitudes and scores generally reflect that. I've been playing games across all consoles for the last 12 years. With LoL itself I have been playing for a year next month, and during that year I've had great experiences and tend to win more often than not, however after provisional games my mmr was too high for my skill and I've been playing against unfavourable matchups.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I want to join Respawn because prior to the group changing I was the top poster of the time, aside from +Pirate. I managed to accumulate 1277 posts in the old Respawn before the change, as you can see here:

<https://hackforums.net/postactivity.php?uid=1342661>

I was a very active member and unfortunately due to health and personal issues with one of the leaders I left HF just weeks before the change to whatever Respawn became. I spent a lot of time working with the group and new members, and offered some small services as well. All in all, the reason I want to join Respawn is so that I can regain what I lost and help rebuild Respawn to its former glory.

I've been addicted ever since and have gotten myself a decent rig built. I currently own alot of games (Check those screenshots :D) And would love to have a good time with fellow Respawn members. I currently spend every moment that I'm not using to do school work, for gaming! I've owned pretty much every console: N64, Game Cube, Xbox, PS1 PS2 PS3, Xbox 360 and now PC. I dont really want any of the next-gen consoles since PC is now my life and especially leauge of legends. I absoulutely love PC gaming, I'm not an elitist though who goes around screaming PC MASTER RACE. I respect the choices of everyone to go to their own consoles but PC is the best in my eyes :)

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I'd like to join respawn to converse and interact with likeminded gaming enthusiasts. Are you willing to participate in game nights?: Yes, sure! (If i don't have exams etc.)

Your experience with gaming and LoL itself:

Well it all started when my brother started with playing LoL in season 1, I joined in season 2 but i didn't really like the game when I started. A year after that in season 3 some class mates were playing LoL and i've joined them. We trained to level 30 together and playing much matches together. I've fuck'd up my ranked =3 but that doesn't make me a bad player. I got much experience on different lanes and I love League of Legends. My main lanes are Jungle / Mid / Adc, and I don't really got a favourite champion. I can play different champions and i know all the abilities, passives etc.

When I started playing LoL I was a big noob, but my brother (Platinum I) Teached me some stuff and i know how to play LoL now. The problem this season was my MMR from last season, it was pretty low so i won 8/10 first ranked games and was placed into bronze IV....

But I am omw to Silver!

I hope Respawn does not fully decide on your ranked stats if you may join, but also on your normal game stats and yourself as person.

Why do you want to join Respawn?:

Username

My username is Moseby. Both in-game and on HF my username is Moseby and it's been my in-game nick for about 3-4 years now.

PC Games:

I mostly play FPS games and these are the games I own and play:

- Call of duty Black Ops
- Call of duty Modern Warfare 2
- Call of duty Modern Warfare 3
- Call of duty Black Ops 2
- Counter-Strike:Global Offensive
- Counter-Strike 1.6
- Garry's Mod
- Minecraft

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Haha, yea of course? I always play in the nights and I would love to actually play online with people I know, and it would be really cool playing with guys from HF.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself:

Well I have been playing the PC since I was 8-9 years old, when my dad bought a really old computer that was really "good" at that time. It was a reeeaaally big computer and slow as hell, but it had games, and I sure played them.

I've been studying computers for a long time and I've always owned a computer since I was 9 years old, I've been getting more and more games and more and more I play. I love computers and I'm learning more and more about them for every day that goes. I have games on both Origin and Steam and I love it. I love computers and their games, I believe it's better than consoles. It's its own console. Love it.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

Well I believe you guys are really cool and I would really like to play with you guys and get to know you more. I play all the time and I don't really have a lot of people on HF, I don't have anyone from HF to play with, except on Minecraft, hehe.

But yea, I would really love to get to know you more and play with you guys.

Thank you

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Yes, I'll be always willing to participate in game night.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself:

My Experience with gaming over the years has been overall great, I started gaming with I was about 7-8 years old. I recently just got a Toshiba 23" Monitor & Turtle beaches x12's. That ed my gaming experience up a lot, and I've been loving it ever since.

My experiance with Xbox also has been great, I met a lot of people & I lost tons of people over the years. But, I've made a lot of good friends off playing Xbox. That being said, Xbox has changed my life on how I think of people & how there's other great people out there just like you.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I'd like to join Respawn because, This will first off be my first ever group on Hack-forums.

Also, I'd be very productive & active in this group at least 6-8 hours per day.

And I'll have the chance to meet a lot of new people & see there perspective on gaming & other games and consoles.

That being said, that's why I'd like to be apart of this group.

Thanks for taking your time to read my Application, have a great day.

PC Games: I'm a huge fan of the Battlefield series. I own BF2 (including all expansion packs), BF3 (including Close Quarters), and I have BF4 (including China Rising). You may also see my games on Steam (<http://steamcommunity.com/profiles/76561198071551029/games/>) but I don't play a lot of it. I do spend quite some time on Minecraft. I only play a handful of games and I am looking forward in expanding it in the near future.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? I have never participated to a game night nor have I got invited but I would be very happy to be a part of it! I love the idea of meeting new people and making new friends who has the same interest in gaming. It is one of the reasons why I want to join Respawn.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: I am fascinated with technology. I started using computers at a young age and I just love it. I learn new things thanks to computers and when I got introduced to PC gaming, it certainly made a big impact on my life. During depressing times, I turned to games to lift me up and I often play to relieve stress.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I already mentioned one reason, and that is to meet new people who has the same interest with me. Another one is to be more out there.. Most of the time, I play singleplayer, alone, and I am sick of it.. I want to be out there and playing with friends. Third is to expand my knowledge and experience in PC gaming.

Thank you for your time reading my application. I wish the best of luck with Respawn and to everyone. Happy gaming :)

Are you willing to participate in game nights?Of course! I'd love to participate in game nights and have a good time with other people.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: I've been gaming on my PC for about 4 or 5 years. Never have been too amazing at anything, but I always enjoy it and find a way to have a good time. It's usually pretty relaxing and I always enjoy getting better at things. I don't quite have the best computer for gaming so my gaming library isn't that large, but I plan to get a new one soon with some decent specs. I haven't decided quite yet though.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I would like to join Respawn because I love gaming and I remember the old, very HQ group. I love meeting new people and playing games with those new people. It would be a great experience and sort of community that I would love to be a part of.

Yes of course! I've never been in a gaming group earlier, but I will try to join as many game nights as I can.

Your experience with gaming and PS itself:

I have been playing the PS3 since 2007, and my first game was Call of Duty 4. I played this for a long time until I bought Call of Duty MW2, which still is one of my favorite games (apart from the fact that hackers are ruining it).

After that my PS3 decided to break down so I bought another one and used the old one for hacking a couple of games and doing a couple of hacking services at my school (This PS3 is still jailbroken but I don't own it at the moment).

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I am simply looking for a group, and because I game quite a lot, and Respawn just reopened, I though why not just sign up for recruitment?:D

I'd love to join this group to both expand my gaming experience and to meet some people that I can play with :)

Yes I am willing to participate in game nights.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself:

Ouh, I got alot in my mind, but I'm just going to make it short. My experience memory started in my childhood. Since the computergames in the cornflakes-packs at the age 6. I've been playing alot of different games. I have been attracted to games all my life, and have gotten alot of consoles aswell. PSP, PS1, PS2, PS3, PS4 3 laptops, iMac, Nintendo, Wii and now a HP gaming laptop. My first PC was back at the age 7 where I was playing Habbo. (I got a picture IRL of me at the age 6 and Habbo on my old computer in the background, pretty scary huh).

Why do you want to join Respawn?:

Respawn for me is different to all the other groups. Respawn is something for itself, and I've always had a different overview for it. I've been a member of Respawn aswell. Respawn is about gaming, and gaming is what I do.

Your experience with gaming and PS itself:

I've bought the PS3 about 2 years ago. Before I gamed a lot on PS2, and on PC. I have the PS1, 2 and 3, saving up for 4. On PC I played a lot of in-browser games, and that's how I got into multiplayer gaming when I was young. Made friends online, lost them as I got inactive because I wanted to try other stuff. I've basically played all kinds of games; shooters, puzzles, RPG's, you name it, I played it.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I've never really had a tight community of gamerfriends that I can game with and chat with and all that stuff. I've applied before, but I was denied. Now I'll try again.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? Yes, every night I will participate. A time where all the members of Respawn join together and have fun? Count me in. ?

Your experience with gaming and PS itself: My experience with gaming is a positive one. I started gaming at the age of 6 on the Xbox and picked up playstation a year after. I played for a couple of years you know, Trophy hunting and pub stomping in COD mostly. I got bored and I wanted to get known in the community. I wanted to gain something while having fun at the same time. Which why I began playing games at the competitive level. I started this on COD4 on the PS3. My team went 43-32 it's not the best record, but after that I started to get really good at competitive gaming. I always had to find time for GB matches because I play sports and I'm training for the upcoming basketball season in September, but it all seems to work out.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I want to join Respawn because I want to join something bigger than myself and make an impact on the community. A group is a large step for me and joining Respawn would be huge milestone for me and it will make me work twice as hard to achieving my goal as a competitive player. I also want to take Respawn to the next level in the competitive scene. I want to help Respawn in every way possible while at the same time making new friends and just having fun gaming. I can also give Memebbers advice and tips on gaming in general and I would love to learn stuff from other members as well and exchange knowledge with each member and become better gamers. I want to be apart of the Rebirth of Respawn and help make a difference. Thank you guys for giving me an opportunity to apply and make a difference.

Thank you for your time and have a nice day ?

Of course I am. I love gaming with others.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself:

Well, the first time I played Xbox, it was the original black and green one, back in 2004, I believe. Then, in around 2005/2006 I got my first Xbox 360 for Christmas, and I started playing games like Guitar Hero. Then my family got GameFly, as my brother and myself played games a lot. I decided I'd get Modern Warfare 2. My first game I went 1 - 18, and although I was terrible, I fell in love with the FPS type games. Since then I've been playing Call of Duty and racking up that K/D (3.4). I take the game pretty seriously and I hate doing bad or having a bad team. On HF, I've been in two groups, both gaming, Respawn (before Innovation), Legacy and I loved both of them for the fact that I was finally able to play with a somewhat decent team without some terrible teammates.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I want to join Respawn because it is a place where I can make new friends and find other half decent players. I'm tired of getting put into games where my teammates cannot hold their own, practically just sitting there not even shooting back, and just giving the other team kill streaks. I want to join because it allows me to join a group of better teammates and actually win for once, while making friends in the process.

Willing to participate in game nights?: Yes. I play literally every night and I hate playing by myself.

My experience with gaming: Ratchet & Clank, Jak & Daxter and Metal Gear Solid we're my childhood games back before the ps3 came out. I beat Metal Gear Solid 2 when I was 6 or 7. I didn't play much xbox until the xbox 360. The only time I played it was when my family would occasionally go to my aunt's house for dinner or something. Me and my cousin would grind on halo2 all night. I bought the ps3 & xbox 360 when they first came out and got addicted to cod4 and I have just been a cod player and a fan of FPS since then. I have been on competitive sniping teams and top GB Teams. I am on and off with gb & competitive. Currently I just like to chill and play with friends.

Why I wanna join Respawn: I wanna join because I have never been in a group and this group is the only one that really suits me here on HF. Also, I like playing with people from HF and getting to know them :)

Edit: I mostly play ps3/4 now over Xbox.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? Yes, would love to participate in group events.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: Was in the Amateur competitive scene for COD as well as Halo, never got so into it to get into pros. Always been around gaming, since I was 6. PC gaming in my mind is the best sort of gaming considering there is nothing like a keyboard and mouse feel when playing a game, you are more into it. Switched from Xbox to PS3 to PC and now stay at PC considering it is the best in my mind.

Why do you want to join Respawn? It is the best gaming group here on HF, and considering I am a hardcore gamer I think I would fit in perfectly. It will also allow me to meet new people and participate in massive events that will only be laughs and fun. Would also be a great place to get info on games and get reviews on new games that are coming out, I also think I could contribute in this aspect because I'm looking to starting up a commentary youtube channel to help gamers learn about games to come as well as glitches/tutorials on games that are already out.

Your experience with gaming and PS itself: Was in the Amateur competitive scene for COD, although I was in the Amateur scene, going to LANs and what not for COD I was offered by Team Vintage to join their professional team but denied due to life issues and just an overall busy schedule. Always been around gaming, since I was 6.

Not sure if we were allowed to apply for different divisions in the same application form.. But I would like to emphasize that I have both PC and PS systems to play on and that I am not limited to just one system.

Thanks for your time & warm regards, Clone

Are you willing to participate in game nights? When I can I'd be thrilled to!

Your experience with gaming and LoL itself: I absolutely love the game. I like games where you can advance and climb, where you can skill and keep improving. I love that with each season and patch things change and it's always something you have to adapt to.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I love League of Legends, I quit Runescape after playing for 9 years because I enjoyed this game so much. Unfortunately the one thing I'm missing is hanging out with people, being on a teamspeak, and not having to go in queue alone. I loved the communities in Runescape and would very much enjoy having a group of people I could hang out and game with.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself:

My experience with gaming and Xbox? Hmm. I would say I have been playing Xbox since umm Madden 2008 I think, that was my first game, and have been obsessed with the console ever since.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I would thoroughly love being able to join Respawn for the following reasons, I am a hard gamer, and would love to be part of a gaming group on HackForums, and probably also because this group seems badass overall with some amazing and intelligent leaders (Not asskissing.)

As for PC, I mostly only play Minecraft with skills in building that Skitz_ already knows of.

PC Games: Minecraft and possibly going to start playing league of legends.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? For sure, I think it would be fun to play with the members of the group. Maybe we can get a faction going on a minecraft server?

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: I actually just switched over from xbox to pc. I have become quite addicted to minecraft since I decided to switch over. I currently play a lot on the server extronus and I am a member of one of the best factions on the disco realm and have a pretty awesome faction on the ice realm. My friends and I raid daily on there and rarely run into powerful factions anymore because we take a lot of them out. That realm has only been out for a week or so now, but we plan to remain strong. You can check out my faction if you want to. I plan to play a lot more games besides minecraft, but this is what I have been playing a lot lately. Before I was on pc I actually was making quite a few gaming videos from the xbox of mods and glitches. I also have even done commentaries, which were quite fun. One of my favorite gaming systems is the super nintendo and I know that probably does not really matter to this app much, but that is a big part of my gaming.

I have over 60 games in my super nintendo collection and it is still growing today. I also enjoy playing super nintendo games on my pc with an emulator.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I would like to be a part of a gaming group with friendly people, so I can make new friends and enjoy pc gaming more. Another reason I would like to join would be so I can find more games to play online. I don't know a whole lot about this group, but I would like to find out what it is all about and hopefully it will be fun.

About me:

My name is Bryce and I am 18 years old. I am currently in high school, but though a program at my school I do full time at the community college. I am currently working towards getting my AA degree and and my high school diploma. After I graduate I plan to high my education more and possibly go to a tech school for auto mechanics. I am still not 100% sure what I want to do, but I have some time left to decide. In my spare time I enjoy riding bmx and I have been doing that for over 2 years now. I plan to continue riding for years, but it is quite hard to ride in the winter with weather and school.

I've been on PC for about a year, I'm ok with computers, I know more than normal people in my area. I enjoy PC gaming more than consoles, I came from a Xbox 360, Witch I still play on.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

The reason I want to join Respawn is to have a nice Community to play with. A nice group of dedicated players, and people to hang with. that's mainly the only reason, I prefer to run in a team, instead of playing lone wolf.

^Not all of them as I don't have them all by me at the moment.

I have more games just not were I am now. So I may update the list later when I get access to them.

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Depends on what time and what games. But yes I am willing to participate in game nights.

Your experience with gaming and PS itself:

My gaming experience is wide enough imo. I have been playing games for a very long time. When I was a kid I used to play games on our old PC, Gameboy, Playstation and several other smaller game devices. I grew up when the games evolved a lot in terms of what was possible with the hardware and software. So I have played games that people will consider shitty because they were short on features and shitty graphics. Currently I play games mostly on my PC and my Playstation 3 (I am not going to buy a PS4 yet).

For me good games are not determined by graphics but rather gameplay and story, hence I like Singleplayer games a lot because they offer greater stories than most multiplayer (Not many multiplayer games offer stories at all)

Beside playing games I am also looking behind all the games meaning how they are made. It have become a hobby of mine and I hope that one day I can make my own game. I also have experience in making extra material for games (PC games mostly Counter Strike Source/Global Offensive)

In multiplayer FPS games I have a good understanding for tactics hence I used to be TL on my old Counter Strike clans. I think that is a good ability to have as it could mean winning/losing the match.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

Respawn is a gaming group. So I want to join it to meet other people who like to play video games. I can't see many other reasons to join a gaming group other than finding people to play with and discuss game related topics with. And maybe start some projects with some other members regarding games.

Beside I play games a lot on my Playstation 3 I also play a lot of games on PC.

Since there aren't much difference on PC and PS3 applications I will just post a link/list to/of my PC games:

Spoiler (Click to View)Steam games

Beside the games on Steam.

Minecraft

Diablo III

World of Warcraft (With most expansions except the last one)

Starcraft II

Sims 3 (With several Expansion packs)

Battlefield 3

And others on Origin and games just lying around.

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Yes, I am willing to participate depending on the day. Unfortunately, I have a lot of training for the upcoming football season and other sports so my schedule is kind of messed up. But I will try my best to participate. I'm always lurking in the game section. I know I don't have many posts, but I'm normally in the section looking and reading threads.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself?: I've had the Xbox since about 2010, I've had multiple accounts. I normally play with my friends, I usually play competitive on CoD sometimes. But overall, I just like having a great time. I can get very competitive.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I've never been in a group, and I felt like this would be my chance, so I mine as well apply. I'm more of a gamer than anything else, so no other group really fits my needs. Even know my football season is up and coming, I'm still going to try and find the best time to play and participate with other fellow members inside the group. So, hopefully I get accepted. Good luck to everyone else.

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Yes without a doubt. I'd love to game with others instead of playing by myself, because that's just sad and boring lol.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself:

If my memory serves me correctly I believe I started gaming when I was 6? On the gameboy and gamecube. I played a spongebob movie game about the goofy gobbers and blah blah. I also played pokemen and some nickelodeon games on it. I also had a ps1 and 2. I played shooter games on it like call of duty 3, and I also played some racing game dont remember the name though. I really started gaming when I was in 3rd grade and got an xbox 360. Since then i've been gaming on the same exact xbox without ever getting a different one. Never got a slim or a newer xbox 360 been sticking to the original :D. I've had the red ring of death of my xbox numerous times and managed to fix it myself. I also have my disk tray broken so I ended up getting that replaced. I game competitively when I can. Usually on Call of duty games. I play left for dead 2 on steam whenever I feel like gaming with my boys on Skype. I did some modding on old cod games like cod 4 and WAW but no other games, and i've only did like 7 times at most and it was private match with my friends. I'm very knowledgeable when it comes to the inside of the xbox it's self. As I stated before i've fixed things within my xbox 360. So if anyone within the group need help with say the disk tray. I can try and help them to my fullest ability. I game like 6-8 hours a day so i'm really always online if anyone needs something or just wants to game.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I joined The Empires gaming sector but that didn't work out so swell, there was really not that much "gaming" involved in it just talk of it. Never really happened that much so thats why i'm applying here! I'm really looking for a really good gaming group that has great gamers who are a challenge to face off with. I don't really know that much about Respawn besides that I remember seeing it around when I first joined hackforums. I'm honestly just looking for a group that's good at gaming and that I don't have to pay to get into, because it just means you're money to the owners. Nothing meaningful to that. I'd also really like to be apart of Respawns rebirth in hackforums :). I wan't to help the group and have a lot of chances to game with the members of the group who are as good as I am at the same time. And maybe i'll be able to meet new people through the group.

Note: I'll proof read this applications two times. Please excuse any spelling or grammar mistakes to this. I'll try and fix it as soon as I notice it :D. I really did try.

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Absolutely! I've been looking for a group to play with for a long time, so I'd be willing to participate.

Your experience with gaming and PS itself:

I've played Black Ops 2 competitively once, but never really tried since. I'm keen on playing socially nowadays, but am willing to give it a go. I know an awful lot about the PS3 as I spend a shit ton of time on it, and have two PS3s. One is Jailbroken and one is not, and I had to open the PS3 to install an E3 flasher to downgrade it for jailbreaking.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

Gaming = my life. Ever since I was a little youngling, I've grown up on all sorts of consoles. Handheld/portable, and consoles such as the PS1/PS2/PS3 and soon to be the PS4. I played the original Xbox, owned every game I could for every console I owned and dedicated majority of my time to gaming. I barely go out with my friends as we usually lay around and just play PS3 all weekend and most of the time during weekdays. When I heard about Respawn coming back, I was absolutely amped as I would love to join a gaming group, not only to game but to make new friends that have the same hobbies as me.

I'd be stoked if I was accepted.

Kind Regards,

Are You Willing to Participate in Game Nights: This is probably the thing I am looking forward to the most. I am a Night Owl, and if I had some other Night Owls to game with, I could see my personal skill (in and out of game) go up. Gaming at night is the best for me as no one is awake to disturb me.

Your Experience With Gaming And PS Itself: I was a pretty big nerd from Mw2 to Mw3, played Game Battles and my best was a 67-1 record which planted me at 7k. I bounced around teams and finally stuck to one, my best on Gamebattles was a 3.5k with a 184-17 record. (Two of those losses we lost disputes but won the games).

Why do You Want to Join Respawn: There was a period in which I didn't play video games for a good 3-5 months. Since I started making some money online, I've found myself at home more so I have time to kill, which means Video Games. I highly doubt I'll get picked because I don't have a Next Gen Console, I don't have a mic, and I don't have any "amazing" Gamebattles' feats. I'm a really chilled out guy and can personally make your team better, communication and skill wise.

Are you willing to participate in game nights? It depends on the time, but if I can, I most likely will.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself Probably as most people have, I was introduced to gaming at a young age. It started at parties and family get togethers, it was just all for fun and laughs. Back then, I only played on console games, rather than PC, as I didn't have a strong enough PC to handle games. That didn't stop my passion for gaming though. I would play for a couple hours daily with friends, family, or going at it solo. Some would say it was an addiction. Later on in life, I slowed down, to focus on other things at hand, but always made room for the games. A couple years back, I got into PC gaming, when my family got a gaming laptop, able to run many games. I mainly play on PC now, rather than consoles, but I still go on them every now and then for the memories.

Why do you want to join Respawn? Meet new people, who have the same passion I do. To have a great time, and have a laugh here and there.

Game cube and GBA was my main consoles for a few years. 3 years later I bought an XBOX 360 and played halo 24/7. Are you willing to participate in game nights? Id love to. Actually need more active people to play with.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself: I've enjoyed it as I've been a gamer for around 10 years now and it is a main part of my life.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I've been around this forum for quite a long time and decided its time to join a group. I love gaming and I'm sure I will meet many more people like myself.

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Absolutely, i will even buy games just to participate.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself:

I have a gaming PC that can run BF4 on ultra so i can pretty much play any game out there. I enjoy playing first person shooter games and adventure games like the dead space series. I first started PC gaming about 2 years ago when i got ban from xbox live and someone told me about how the PC community was getting bigger and bigger.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I want to join Respawn because i most of the time see myself not playing much video games because everyone i know isn't apart of the PC master race. I am looking to get more friends to play PC games with and have a lot more fun than i am having now on pc. I have heard from friends that this was the best place to start because it is centered on gaming and isn't just a group with a gaming subforum. I hope to get in to the group and start playing more serious gaming and having more fun. I hope you enjoyed my application. ?

My username is ?Special . My real name is Eric .

The most played game is League of Legends, followed by Counter-Strike 1.6 and Counter-Strike : Global Offensive .

Yes, I sure am and would love to do so.

I`ve been playing games for as long as I can remember. Why do I have the right to call myself a gamer ? Becouse for 1 year I was an admin on an international Counter-Strike 1.6/Counter-Strike : Source platform called playzeek, sponsored in Romania by PGL (Professional Gamers League) where I was an admin too. Being a high ranked admin, my job was to review all the other admins, see if their bans were given out correctly and check the banned user`s demos . I also participated in the organising of Dream Hack Balkan 2011 in Bucharest.

I want to join The Respawn because most members here have the same passions as me and strive for the same goals. I would love to play together and organise competitions :D

As I was saying to Skitlz in the last days, I could help The Respawn with graphics if needed. :)

Thanks for this great opportunity,

- Special

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: I've been console gaming (Still am) for a good 6 years, and PC gaming for around three. I've got good equipment, aside from the PC until I get a new one.

Why do you want to join Respawn? I'm currently only in Void, which does not have a gaming sector, and I am looking for a good gaming group. I'd really LOVE to join this group, as I do not have the money to buy into instinct.

Keeping this short and sweet.

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

I'll try my best. I'll be able to play, but not too late on school nights. I don't have a headset at the moment but I'll definitely look forward to chilling with some different people and having a good time.

Your experience with gaming and Xbox itself:

I've been gaming for a long time now, probably since elementary school. I moved on to Xbox after the GameCube, and I've stayed ever since. I started off playing offline with my friends and in single player games, and I got into online gaming a few years ago. I've been playing a lot of multiplayer games recently like Call of duty and Halo. Overall, I thoroughly enjoy gaming on the Xbox.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I want to join Respawn because I feel that it is the perfect group for me. I'm a dedicated gamer, and I spend a few hours every day on gaming. I've invested so much of my time in video games, I feel like I should go a step further. I would place myself amongst a group of gamers just like me. I would be able to meet new people, explore other games, and get to know some of my hf buddies. And I would be in a group with people that I have a lot in common with and be able to enjoy my passion with fellow members.

Your experience with gaming and PS itself:

I've been going through systems like the PS2, PSP , Wii , GameCube and some Nintendo systems for maybe about 6-7 years. I've had my ps3 since 2010/2011, and have really enjoyed the experience throughout the years.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

Because I believe I can make some new friends and be able to have people to play with at all times, because through my experience with PlayStation, sometimes it's hard to get someone to play with you because of time zones and whatnot. Having other people to play something with is what drives me to game. And plus respawn just sounds like a fun opportunity.

What level are you?: 30

Are you willing to participate in game nights?: Of Course, That would be a great experience. I already have game nights with some of my friends and to have it with some HF members would be really fun!

Your experience with gaming and LoL itself: I've been playing league of legends for about 1.5 years now (About Starting of season 3). I know I'm not the highest ranked. But My best role would probably be support and jungle, As you can see in my recent match history I been playing a lot of pantheon jungle. Its really great and OP.

Why do you want to join Respawn?: I think I'm a pretty dedicated gamer to league of legends. Just today I played 7 hours of league of legends with my friend (We don't see each other much so we make the best of our time). I've put a lot of time into various video games but league of legends would probably be my most played game. I'm currently playing with a couple of members in The Brotherhood and would love to play with some other members on HF (They don't play much). Respawn seems like a great group and would love to get in the League of legends gaming sector!

Your experience with gaming and PC itself: I've been gaming for years one of my first PC games was Urban Terror which i use to mod/hack on when i was younger, Later on i began to get interested in MMO's which i entered BETA for MMO's such as All Points Bulletins (RTW) and CrimeCraft which although i don't play anymore, til this day they're my favorite PC games.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I'm tired of gaming alone or with random strangers whom lack communication, I want to meet people and engage in tactical gameplay.

Are you willing to participate in game nights?

Yes im willing to participate in what game nights i can, for the games i have and will get.

Your experience with gaming and PC itself:

I've been a gamer for many years, started playing on my uncles Nintendo 64 and been a console player since then. Recently i was able to get a better PC which allowed to enjoy some very popular games such as WoW and LoL. Spending my time time on those very time consuming games i tried out many others but did not enjoy much. FPS games on PC are very difficult for me but i mainly play what my friends or the community enjoys. For a very long time i was staff on several different MC servers (nothing too big). And also enjoyed playing on many popular servers the most current one being HC.

Why do you want to join Respawn?

I want to join Respawn because im looking for a community of all types of gamers to enjoy new and old titles with. Gaming is my passion and would love to see other members similar to me. I would like to contribute to the gaming community with giveaways, tournaments, and anything i can under Respawn's name.
