Thread: Closing "Requests for hacking" section

Lotos - May 9, 2010, 7:15 am

I'm tired of threads like "paying 100$ for hacking facebook account", "500$ for admin pass" etc. from guys with 1-20 posts. We all know they just want to rip-off other people.

What about You? Staff got more work too because they are deleting a lot of these threads.

Example:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=406341>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=409961>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=409150>

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=408968>

Remember it's only a suggestion, but HF would be more clean without this section. Post Your opinion.

bad idea, those people generally do pay out

The Requests for Hacking section is there so those type of threads don't cutter up our other sections. I'd rather them their then having to report them and get them deleted or moved everyday. Plus there is a pretty easy solution, if you don't like a thread then don't read it.

I'm not sure on this one. If anything I say that only members with over a certain amount of posts should be able to access that area.

Inventor - May 9, 2010, 7:19 am

I disagree with this idea. Just because people post request which rewards with huge sum and the whole section should be closed down? I doubt it will happen.

hey robb, ive seen quite a few of your posts like this, I dunno if its meant to be just a quote or not though, is your message sticking?

Request for hacking section also serves for members asking to hack accounts or sites without paying.

It serves as well as the beginner hacking section. ?

It is there because then those request will flood the Marketplace forum. If you don't like that section

I suggest don't visit those threads. There are plenty of sections on HF to keep one occupied.

@ OP

If your question is resolved I suggest you request a thread lock or if you have permissions lock this thread.

Thanks.

I'd rather they post it in that section, then Beginner Hacking or the MarketPlace.

Isn't HF supposed to be a white hat forum? ?

I Don't get this, if you don't like that section of the forum, don't use it, that section is there for people who want too use it, if you don't want too, simple dont.
