My new collection of photos is finally here. Check them all out by clicking on the image below.

All of them are long exposure shots I took which have been edited in post production to produce the effects seen. Drop an appreciation if you like them.

It looks like when you're in a car on a rainy day and taking a picture.

Indeed, more photos will be coming out soon.

I like the second to last one; it reminds me of space.

The others aren't really my style. I feel that there should either be bokeh in the background with a clear foreground, or vice versa.

That being said, they are much better than I could do - Nice work :)

Hidden™ - March 12, 2014, 11:14 pm

Very nice and professional looking. Keep up the good work OP.

Yeah they do give me that feeling of being out driving at night.

Which is cool that I could recreate that just being up in my room.

This.

You can't even see what's going on really, but I guess you were going for that with the glow or whatever.

I don't know as I'm no expert in photography, just I don't see anyone looking at that and being like 'wow, that's so creative, I love it'. Maybe that's just me, but I don't like the whole glowy aspect it has to it.

You see what was intended to be seen.

It's different from a standard landscape or portrait photo sure, but that isn't what devalues it.

Critique on these photos is preferred rather than abstract or "glowy" photos in general.

Anybody else have comments on the album?

Nam Duong - March 15, 2014, 12:16 am

I like them. The first one is probably my favorite, the motion (flow, form, or whatever) that was captured looks really cool. And the other ones seem to remind me of something I would see in a sci-fi movie or something, but that's just me. I really like the colors in all of them though, that's for sure.

I haven't had the chance to look through all of the pictures.

I really liked, [Fallen Maple, Skies on Fire, There Goes the Sun, Landscape Photos]

They felt relaxing/peaceful. It's nice.

I'm not too crazy about the Blurry Art Pictures(Like NightGlow/WinterBlues) I used to love them, guess my taste changed.

Great album OP!

General Stalin ? - March 15, 2014, 4:10 am

Reminds me of the windshield of a vehicle on a rainy day. If that is what you were trying to do, good job ?

Orchid - March 15, 2014, 10:19 am

These would be great for a background for some white text.

Bad Meets Evil - March 15, 2014, 12:33 pm

Thanks for some better quality feedback guys.

I was indeed trying to capture a particular mood with them.
