Thread: [\[French Help\] Assisting anyone who need help in French](#)

Increment - March 21, 2014, 10:35 pm

Hi,

So yeah, the title says it all, I'm doing my first giveaway on the forum.
I'm a french Canadian, doing my second year of university in Computer Science.
I decided to offer this service due to the fact that most of you have french classes and they might be hard for some of you..

I will help you with any essay, homework or correcting grammar of a French article. I will not write a 500 word paper for you, obviously.

Feel free to post here or PM me if you need any help :)

Kind regards,

- Increment

Be careful dealing with this user. Chatted with him on skype and he doesn't know how to speak good french. (Makes é / er , a / à , and a hell not more mistakes, like tenses and a lot more things).

Flooded me with his haughty, lordy tone but isn't quite the definition of remarkable.

Pretends to be intelligent because he knows how to script in VB.net (haha).

PS: I'm only here to inform you about the quality of this giveaway :) use it at your own risk

I am french-canadian too, and I could help users with french too. Simply contact me via PM, if OP isn't available, that is.
