Need some SEO done.If you don't know what you're doing, it's only going to hurt your site.

hitincreaser - March 23, 2014, 5:24 pm

no hands seo posts your websites to whois websites which will hurt your website. The only good seo tools are scrapebox and xrumer which both make forum accounts and blog comments. Whois websites kill you site with in days. I own all 3 xrumer scrapebox and no hand seo .

I also get paid for forum profile i make.

ShadowForge - March 23, 2014, 5:34 pm

all i want is my ptc referral link put in one of these programs to get more exposure

I prefer GSA. Earn some money the hard way and then manually create tier 1. Boost tier 2 and tier 3 with GSA. That is what it does best.

Due to the new update with google its almost idiotic to use a tool for backlinks to your site without a statagy .

No way. The best SEO out there is you.

Manually creating quality Tier 2 and Tier 3 links then using tools like this on your Tier 3 links yield pretty good results (if you know what you're doing).

Also, paid SEO services out there (if you know what to look for) also get the job done quite well.

This,

I may seem kinda sceptical but as a lot of my income relies on Google, i don't fancy losing my rankings for a quick boost in sales. If you want something doing, it's best to do it yourself.

As pretty much said above in various posts the only way to guarantee it works is either buying a paid service from a reputable seller or to do it yourself.

Using SEO tools never really goes well and often hurts your site.

False.

The guy that made no hands SEO is a popular member on BHW. I have used his proxy scraper many times, and was impressed. I'd suggest just buying it.

Wait I missed something what part of him being a member at BHW makes his software any good? I actually love his software, but I use for negative SEO because it gives such bad links.

Oh and by that logic I'm an expert hacker because I'm a member at hack forums.

I only stated my experiences with his software on BHW for his proxy scraper.

Your name is crash override so you do probably live by that logic.
