Thread: [\[Open-Source\]\[C#\] EloBuddy, open source League of Legends Bot](#)

Rayfi - March 25, 2014, 3:08 pm

-- This bot was supposed to be sold, however, the project got canceled. It doesn't work with the current patch, it is for learning purposes only --

Description/Documentation available here: <https://www.finn.lu/elobuddy>

Sourcecode: <https://github.com/finndev/EloBuddy>

THIS PROJECT IS NOT MY PRODUCTION

I don't have many knowledge in C#, someone can add the addresses for this patch ? I think you can find it with a Lua debugger.

Okay then, I have a few questions.

- 1) If it's not your program why are you giving it out
- 2) If it doesn't work what is even the point?
- 3) Why should we trust this?

Work the source to good programmer for hackforums and we can have a work program...

Thanks, this is excellent. Finally a good language rather than that no-natives only-Lua BoL garbage.

Because it's a source code. Last time I checked, you don't get viruses from reading some code.

Haha yes C# is a good language, but C++ (BoL) is too a good language ?

All you have to do is update the offsets and it should work just fine.

I'm just sharing, if someone want to have they're own League of Legends Bot (BoL-like) and don't know who they can start, the sources is here.

Lua is good, with the BoL API you can do a lot of things.

those of us that have the knowledge to already have, what you gave won't really teach people to create it, since they still won't know how to RE the client, what you gave is just a learning tool. I'm not saying you gave something useless but you're not going to make the next BoL out of this since if you had the motives and knowledge to do it before, you've already done it :P. I have a personal leveling bot, might make it into something more but that's all i need it for, so :P

Hammylein - June 10, 2018, 12:05 pm

Is there anything new and better out there? I see GoS and BoL still being around are they worth it? I miss EloBuddy :(I had so much fun just making a new account and scripting my way up to ranked and get banned after 5 games of ranked... i want to do that again. got over 15 accs banned lolol

Timem604 - June 16, 2018, 9:32 pm

there was Hanbot and Coreshine but they're all outdated now. As of right now I believe no platforms are alive due to the new AC cheat they released a couple days ago. I think a couple platforms that are still running/starting Biksoon.gg, EloSuite.com, and Entrophy.top
