I've reported the following posts for flaming;

- <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4125841&pid=39134781#pid39134781>
- <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4125841&pid=39136254#pid39136254>
- <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4125841&pid=39098114#pid39098114>

And many more, most of these goes abide the rules. Sales trashing, accusing for scam and flaming. Why are they not removed? Did i miss anything here? This user have been sale trashing this topic along with hes friends and other users. They've thrown accuses that dosen't make sense, i think we should get a option to report for sale trashing if not flaming will work when people say "you ride hes cock" is enough as reason for flaming.

1 Day of waiting is pretty much, HF Should hire more moderators if 6 isn't enough for sure. Should be moderated within a day at least :P Unless the report werent a valid reason

The answer is pretty clear. You're impatient and don't understand staff discretion. You reported two of those posts just today. Staff isn't a personal army to rush to the scene. And also, if they decide it's not flaming or sales trashing, it's not.

Well, we don't know wether staff have looked at the report or w/e they have done with it. Would be nice with some notification system to get control of what happend with the reported posts, if they are not flaming.

Telling someone that their cock riding is pretty much a flame lol

If you report anything and you believe something should be done then contact a staff member in a few hours after you report it. They can give insight to whether or not the post you reported breaks a certain rule or not.

That's ridiculous. It's none of our business when staff completes a report. Our duty ends after we hit the report button.

First one should get a warning. Since when is sales trashing a rule?

PM a mentor... I PM viral dragon if a post I report isn't taken care of. He can then tell me if it is right to be removed or not.

Staff have hundreds of reports to take care of, while more and more are piled on top (by the second).

You have to understand that all reports are viewed and taken care of, if a Staff member thinks action needs to be taken.

Be patient.

Also, next time make sure you actually report the posts if you're going to complain about it.
