Thread: Anyone have this? Skype spamming tools | FaceBook group spamming tools

?ain - March 29, 2014, 10:18 am

I need a Skype tool that adds people and sends a specific message. It'd be awesome if it could automatically find usernames, whether blindly or not, adds and sends a message and then sends my message. It'd be cool if I could load up multiple accounts and proxies as well.

As for the Facebook tool, Id like to load a list of URLs for the Facebook groups or their names, proxies and accounts, then the bot sends a message to the groups. It'd be great for SEO and spreading, and it'd be infinitely useful.

Does anyone know of any tools that could do this?

I'd also be okay with tools like this for any other social network or something similar, but these are ones that I prefer.

I have a skype spreading tool like that, for example, you bind the spreader with you file of your choice (the file you want to spread) then upload it to a hosting site, then you run it on say 100 people and it will send a custom message to all of their skype contacts containing dl link to file, e.g each person has 40 contacts 40x100 is 4000 say only 800 people download the file, you have then got 800 more people to download the file, pm me if you want the download link
