Uhhh, the thread design isn't really as high quality as it should be. It's blurry and doesn't attract customers, also the the whole "Stab me with a pm" etc sounds really cheesy and you should probably remove it. Also make the Images transparent, just voicing my opinion to help others.

Aired - April 5, 2014, 10:09 am

(Apr 5, 2014 09:47 AM)Varosion Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Not trying to trash or anything, but try learning how to design first.

I saw your signature and I thought you were a graphics god, but then I found the template for it as well as:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

Thread design is completely boring, and it says on your website you only do "Minecraft Styled Thread Designs"

Which leads me to believe it's just another template.

Sorry, but all these icons suck, the typography was clearly not thought out, and there's no balance, alignment, contrast, or anything!

Also; this

Spoiler (Click to View)

Is completely unneeded, it looks like most of your icons are just there to be there which is a big no.

Please learn how to design, and then open a shop, I'm surprised you have that many vouches.

I should say the same about you: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3931242>

With your logic, you really should not have a graphics shop either.

As opposed to your comment about the design being boring, although amateur, this thread design is quite engaging for the users with its vibrant colors and big icons. There's also contrast and balance in the design.

It seems like people are trying to act like smartasses after multiple threads regarding these issues came up in this section. His thread design in my opinion exceeds most of your works I've seen, so you really should not be the one to tell him to learn how to design.

Sheep.

Let me stop you right there.

I don't have a graphics shop <https://i.imgur.com/ovcAqu8.png>

If you could read basic English you'd know that.

Your logic != Accepted

I closed it down to practice more, I knew I was stealing sales from people when they were better, but I was cheaper.

I doubt I'll even open it again, graphics are just a quick way to make money; open up an unsaturated template, fill in the information, get payed! That's all graphics are to anyone and everyone on this forum (except a select few).

I'd say about 75% of graphics on this forum are from templates, and out of that 75% about 50% were payed for.

The one posted the icon(s) pack did not put any copyright,

It's stated that you can't resell those icons, however you can use it on "your design" "final render" without requiring backlinks.

I'm not sure why you two are arguing but the simple fact is Varosion is the better designer in this case. By going off his work it looks like he has more experience than you, Igniter, and he knows how to implement his icons, and his spacing better than yourself. Just drop the argument and call it a day.

It's not about who's a better designer or who makes everything from scratch, it's the fact that this ignite guy is dishonest and shouldn't be trusted. So far he has opened a graphics shop using a design he bought on fiverr, used paid work as his own, and posted a piece following my tutorial step by step as if it were an original. At this point he doesn't sell graphics, he sells a collage of other peoples' work. It's borderline scamming and ripping.

Don't make false accusations, he didn't rip. He just tried to swindle customers into buying graphics when he bought the thread design himself.

GraphicRiver:

Quote:You can make any number of copies of the single End Product, as long as the End Product is distributed for Free.

You are licensed to use the Item to create one single End Product for yourself or for one client (a "single application"), and the End Product can be distributed for Free.

You are the one who should shut up.

Kind Regards,

It's the same matter to my eyes. He's selling other people's work as his own.

You can Sell and make any number of copies of the single End Product.

Yea, but all the fuss is just a warning to your potential clients that you've got no clue of designing.

I don't have a shop because even though people like my work, I still need practice. You should re-think your plan. Own preferences I agree my style is to comfort the costumer, and yours is to copy and paste everything you see and make a mash-up. I have seen your work and your sad. Your icons I could tell where just downloaded.

and you're agreeing we have our own preferences.
you should stop now then.

I agree you should'be selling work that isn't even yours. Your still using the sign in your signature to can you prove that you created the text in it? ?

My review:

It was a pleasure working with Igniter. He took everything I said textually and made it pop out visually! Every time he changed something he made sure I reviewed it before continuing with his progress. He was very prompt and professional! Overall, he saved me a lot of time and I would definitely use him again! Thanks for everything!

P.s. His prices weren't bad either ;)

General Zodddd - April 7, 2014, 11:00 am

Even with ripped graphics, your thread design is no where near good enough to sell. So seriously, just shut this down for a while and I suggest you spend a couple of months / years honing your graphical skill. Just a friendly suggestion.

Weebex - April 7, 2014, 5:13 pm

Can everyone chill the fuck out? Please? Yeah I know he used paid work as his own and just edited test, but we dont want a damn warzone in the graphics market..

Jollibee - April 7, 2014, 6:52 pm

LOL i don't know why everyone is going crazy about this.. seriously focus on your own..

DEADPOOL - April 7, 2014, 7:32 pm

I don't really think it matters if he took work from others as long as the product he is selling makes the customer happy. I wouldn't really care if the product he gave me was stolen as long as I enjoy the way it looks it doesn't matter.

Well i dont use that, i just use "Icons" that's all not that kind of shit.

I dont want a premade thread then resell, i will make my own thread design but the icons came from free resources.

Hey look my thread designs is on google top page. ?

The good part was I wasn't using it to get it commission, and I gave it away free of charge.

As for the people saying it's okay for what Igniter is doing, well it isn't you can face copyright issues for selling certain images.

Eeluminati - April 9, 2014, 10:38 pm

Maybe you should focus on the OP? At least he's trying to make money unlike Mr. SwagByDay who's still in High School with no money. How unfortunate. :/

Great comeback, I commend you. You really got me good!
Now let's let this eloquent businessman sell his designs in peace.

Look at the first 'icon' on the thread design, that'll explain everything.
