this week - handwritten

#1 - Happy FoxThis is a 'happy' feeling font that can lighten any graphic

This font should be used sparingly

If it is used, try to make it very colorful and attention grasping, it's meant to be bold

#2 - LeHand FontOrganic font that draws the viewers attention all the way around the font

This font should be used very sparingly; if this is overdone you might get a graphic that draws too much attention and looks over-complicated

Looks best with formal capitalization (don't make everything lowercase)

#3 - L'Engineer FontA 'cloud-like' font that does a great job at giving a title to something without distracting too much from the original graphic

This font comes with a regular and italic version

Was created by the same creator of "LeHand Font"

#4 - Skinny Font A very thin, almost horror type font
Draws some attention, depends on how large you make it
Should be used sparingly
Free for commercial use

#5 - Hand of Sean :D Very clean
Used for small text or sub-title text mainly
Great for setting a playful or casual mood
Only permitted for personal use unless you buy the 'Pro' version

Thanks for the 500 views and 1 reply everyone.
I also appreciate the 1 star I got ;)

I guess there won't be a next week.
