So he repped you first or you did it? I am assuming he went first.

He was halfway right you probably do make dumb threads in the lounge. You should have pm'd a staff member about this instead of making an ass out of yourself.

The funny part is that you are only bitching about him calling your girlfriend a bitch because he doesn't know her. So would that mean she is one? Because you didn't defend here on that.

My girl friend is far from a bitch, i have no reason to defend her, this guy doesn't know her. So what's the point wasting my time, and i've been told to post this in here. I'm not making an ass out of my self one little bit.

rep abuse gets pm'd to a staff member and a staff member will decide wether or not it is abuse. Making threads about things only aggravates the admins when it could and should be handled through pm. Look at whos currently online before you make a report and just message them.

Flaming in a reputation is not allowed as long as I know and I have a glitch on my post?!

Solved.
