Money Maker Mike - April 13, 2014, 4:02 am

everything has been resolved, thanks for the responses.

Moggadeet - April 13, 2014, 4:04 am this guy is legit I have no reason to believe this is fake. He has no reason too. Good luck on getting this resolved.

Sasha Grey - April 13, 2014, 4:05 am

Backing up Money Maker Mike. If you wish to see more proof just message me or Money Maker Mike and we would be happy to show you proof.

?Boom - April 13, 2014, 4:07 am known this guy since long time did many exchanges with him

i hope he gets his money back

M. Shadows - April 13, 2014, 4:07 am

I can assure you Money Maker is legit!
GI mate, hope you get you're money back.

Hope this gets resolved rather quickly. Hate to see members get scammed.

Also, when he has an attitude like that, I would deal with caution if dealing with him.

Noisy - April 13, 2014, 4:16 am

Seems like a legit scam report, hope you are able to get this resolved asap.

ItsFluffy - April 13, 2014, 4:17 am

though i completely believe you, 0x68 tends to be very legit and i hope he responds to this thread resolving this b/c he has been straight forward with me through and through so i really hope you guys resolve this cleanly from this point

good luck though mike

Yeah my partner has done deals with him before, successfully, but I don't understand why he just wont refund me or anything.

Sasha Grey - April 13, 2014, 4:20 am

We would just want a simple refund for our money because now we do not need the server and he has also not delivered when he said he would. It could also be a while before we even got the server due to the other 45 pending setups.

i totally understand and im not saying at all that i'd be less ticked than you one thing i know for sure is that the DC recently had node issues forcing them to replace an entire node but idk if that's effecting your end of things or not i hope he talks with u respectively and clears it up

fair enough
but honestly im almost never on skype unless for business again, im not saying you or mike are wrong, i'm simply saying that i do know of issues at the DC and i've not had issues with 0x68 but if he's not refunding and you're without a server then this needs to be resolved somehow

I only purchased because he said 24 hours MAX setup, but he won't even refund me. he said because of the setup fee which is 5$, if he deducts 5$ from the payment I wouldn't mind..

The delay in setup is most likely because of the node

Your case could be different but that's nothing more than me notifying you if he didn't

Still, not my problem, and I'm not waiting more then 24 hours, as he advertised, It's been 2 days.

Understandable

I've had orders take more than 24 hours because my techs think it's ok to be lazy but I keep my clients updated as often as possible

I did pm him asking about his dc issue though

Sasha Grey - April 13, 2014, 4:58 am

Do you guys think we should just charge back?

Money Maker Mike - April 13, 2014, 5:00 am

I doubt he will refund, he's just arrogant as fuck, Idk whether to chargeback or not.

-DarkByDesign- - April 13, 2014, 6:27 am

I hope you get this issue resolved, but do take into consideration that delays may occur if there are issues at the Data Center, but he should refund you if he cannot deliver upon the request you paid for.

Kind regards

Definitely a legit scam report, MMM's shown me everything there needs to be shown via teamviewer.

Goodluck with the report.

ItsFluffy - April 13, 2014, 6:33 am

I'm being 100% honest, even though it's a lot of money being withheld right now, I'd wait at least 2 more days before charging back.

Why? Because sh happens and sometimes things just aren't as they seem.

E.g. two weeks ago I couldn't get on hf for 5 days during which time I had server orders to be delivered, server orders to place, new stresser logins to address, but I had irl things that mattered more so when I got back to hf I had like 60 pms among many emails and other things to take care of.

Ultimately it's your choice I'm just being honest. Paypal allows plenty of time for chargebacks so proceed as you're comfortable.

Gotta agree with ItsFluffy, it's being just 2 days, things happen, sometimes you just have other more important and urgent priorities. I would suggest ya do a chargeback after 2-3 days, you never know he might just come online and get this resolved but if you do a chargeback, things just go downhill from there. (:

First, good morning to all.

Second, are you serious lol?

I've already specified that there's a crap ton of requests at our Data Center and that it might take more than 24 hours. You did request a request a refund but first of all, that cannot happen since most of your money went into the setup fee. Second of all, I clearly state in my ToS that all sales are final.

You need to understand that I've clearly specified in my ToS that "The setup time can change at anytime due to overload at the DataCenter. If it does take longer, I will contact you ASAP." and which I did.

I'm not in the wrong here, you're actually in the wrong for not being patient. After you then start blaming me for hacking your website "lulz" because you're pissed off but anyhow that's a story for another day.

Here's my Terms of Service, you agree with them by sending the money and purchasing the server.

If you want to go ahead and open a chargeback, feel free but you'll be losing two things here. Your money and the server for failing to deal stand by the Terms of Service.

You can go ahead and ask anyone I've dealt with, I've always fulfilled whatever they needed especially when it comes to servers but you've got to understand that this is not a VPS, it's a dedicated server and it usually take 24 hours to setup unless there's an overload at the Data Center and that's the case due to being the weekend.

So you have these following choices
Continue whining and being really impatient

Be patient and wait until you receive your server

Attempt to chargeback and lose everything

PS: Both of you are lying fucks, you haven't spoken to me in two days? Please, you came crying to me just 10 hours ago because someone deleted your whole public_html. So please keep your shitty lies to yourself. Here's a picture of your partner stating it and me talking to you just 10 hours to refresh your memory (Apr 13, 2014 04:23 AM)Phixy Wrote: CITE I havent seen him on skype for the past 2 days but I have seen that he has been on HF.

PPS: You stated the deal wasn't from HF, all of my servers sales originally came from that thread so your poor excuse means nothing since in fact, it's still a HF deal even though we made the deal on Skype. You just deleted your post on the first page of my thread to hide it but it's alright, staffs got logs of everything

I've rest my case here, just do the following on top, but think twice before taking the wrong decision.

Sincerely,

THIS DEAL WAS VIA SKYPE YOU STATED NO TOS VIA SKYPE, YOU STATED NO TOS ANYWHERE, I HAVE NOT AGREED TO ANY TOS, YOU EDITED YOUR OP YESTERDAY WITH THE DEDICATED SERVERS, SO AS FAR AS I'M CONCERNED THE TOS YOU STATE WAS ONLY FOR THE VPS'S YOU HAD FOR SALE.

You know exactly what I'm talking about mate. Anyway, remember what I said about the charge back. You're free to do it but there's consequences with some of your actions. Isn't using your TOS as an argument, when you never said anything about your TOS in the Skype history?

Also, if I were you, I would change that attitude, because your attitude is fucking shit.

(If he was informed about the TOS before the deal took place, then your argument is of course valid.)

He got the offer by the thread itself. I don't need to tell him anything about the ToS when it's on the main post and it states that by purchasing the server, you accept to follow the ToS.

PS: I've got over 60 other customers that are gladly happy with my service and that are patience. My attitude is bitter right now due to this all being so stupid. Making a scam report because you're impatient about a setup? Like really? Then spamming my skype and accusing me of hacking your website. If you were in my shoes, you would understand but you're not.

Ox you're a scammer, he paid for a server that was meant to be setup within 24 hours, you didn't follow up with this, he hasn't recieved his server, and you will not even partially refund him, you stated no terms of service, Mike deserves a refund, and an apology from you.

I specifically stated it might take longer and will be notified ASAP if it does and I did told him ASAP. So I'm not a scammer here, learn the definition of "Scamming".

Anyway, I'm done with this thread.

haha, if I would've known it was gonna take more then 24 HOURS MAX I would'nt have purchased, any host that had this problem, and had a custom request a refund would request a refund, he said it's because of setup fees, but it hasn't even been fucking setup yet.

If this is the case, I agree. However, as the dedicated server was agreed to be delivered within 24 hours, which it in this case wasn't, I would suggest that Mike gets a refund if he would like that, or that the dedicated server will be delivered in another 24 hours.

If there should be any fee's paid for the setup of the dedicated server, I am sure Mike wouldn't have a problem of getting refunded a little bit less then what he paid.

Like stated above, you two should work this out in a proper way. Blocking each-other on Skype is not the way to go.

To not make this any worse then it already is, you should either be given a refund, or allow 0x68 another 24 hours to deliver the dedicated server.

Also, simply because someones 'TOS' are broken (I do not know if they were in this case), it does not allow the seller to simply keep the money when the buyer has not even used the service he paid for. That is just ridiculous.

I haven't broke any TOS, you won't refund, I don't see why I'm not entitled to my money.
YOUR TOS DOES NOT MEAN YOU CAN TAKE MY MONEY WHEN I HAVE RECEIVED NOTHING, AND NOT REFUND ME WHEN I REQUEST A REFUND BECAUSE I HAVEN'T RECEIVED THE MONEY, IN THE AMOUNT OF TIME YOU SAID I WAS, IF I WERE TO HAVE USED YOUR PRODUCT, FOR A WEEK, OR MORE, FOR INSTANCE, AND I WERE TO BREAK YOUR TOS YOU'D HAVE THE FULL RIGHT TO NOT GIVE ME THE SERVER AND KEEP MY $, BUT SINCE I HAVEN'T RECEIVED ANYTHING YOU CANNOT DO THIS.
THEREFORE YOU'RE A SCAMMER.

You obviously missed the point here.

I had to take some of money personal money to pay for the fees. The fees costed $35 in total + the server.

Then he tries to say I hacked his website.

Then he tries to say I scammed him because the server has not been setup in 24 hours even if I put a fine print on my ToS stating it could take longer.

He then starts to rage at me on Skype and starts threatening me.

He then tries to get people to "gang rep" me.

He then tries to lie stating we never took the deal to skype.

I wouldn't have mind giving him a percentage back but after all he has done, nope. I'm sticking with my Terms.

Even though the terms of service were 'broken' as you said, there is no reason not to refund the payment, as the buyer did not even get a chance to use the server.

If he had been using it, and then broke the TOS, there wouldn't be a problem with this.

Also, if the server is set up, why not just give him access to what he paid for, and let all of this go.

If the request wasn't sent out, I wouldn't mind.

Plus you need to understand, we're Sunday. His server will probably be processed tomorrow morning but we'll have to wait and see.

If he just waits and doesn't open a chargeback, he'll get his server once I receive it.

But if he does open a chargeback, I'll be taking that server and selling it to someone else due to him breaking the ToS again.

Then again 0x86 isn't in control of dedicated server setup times, i own a hosting company and when i have to purchase new dedicated servers it takes a full week for them to be setup appropriately.

here to support 0x , great support. i have a server of him atm, works like a charm and when i have any problems he is always there to help me with some things or questions. just because u dont have any patience, doesnt directly mean that he is a scammer. i also had to wait a day or 2 , but now everything is up and running so not a scammer .

0x68 promised 24 hours set up time and he didn't deliver, there were so many other ways to approach this rather than opening a scam report.

Sometimes better communication would just decrease the scam reports here eh, glad this is resolved though.

Money Maker mike is legit, wouldn't scam. Hope you get your cash back OP.

Why can't people just wait before pointing fingers and calling others "scammers" 0x68 just had issues I think and it took longer to complete your order than usual. He said he will get it for you so just wait. I really think that if you had not opened this scam report and had not threatened to charge back. He would of refunded you.

Also if you said that the deal was out of HF why are you making a scam report on "HF" ? I don't get it...

Anyway I know 0x68 is not a scammer I have bought from him before and he's legit.

Anyway I hope this all gets solved. Good luck

So are you going to close it or I'll have to contact a staff member to take appropriate action?
