Thread: Scammed by Basix | UID = 718564 - Scammed \$500

Viet - April 15, 2014, 6:24 pm

So it seems pretty clear to me that I've been scammed.

I was purchasing a method that ??s?? posted over a year ago and it came up again as I was looking around Premium Sellers area, he posted in it saying how much money hes made and all of this other information. I believe it because a really good private method will cost anywhere from $500+ other than these eBooks being sold. Anyways I went ahead and contacted him on PM, here is how our conversation went.

The thread where I was purchasing his niche can be found here;

That's how our conversation went, so as you can see I sent him proof that I sent the payment, here is the proof; <https://blockchain.info/address/19F6MFXMDfttJjSQ2rM7SJAWVG1PTPPVWL>

And I just recently checked so he knows the money is in there and is already moving it. He was last on today;

Anyways its really unfortunate that a member with this much reputation is out to scam because he isn't active anymore.

Even if this is true that its not Basix anymore his account should be closed/banned/IP banned for selling or giving away his account, or it could be his side kick friend covering up for him.

Unfortunately all the info I have is a name he gave me which I'm not sure is true and he says he is a Regional Manager for You Fit, the $500 isn't too much of an issue since its just money but just him taking advantage of his trust is extremely unethical. If the admins or mod could send me IP addresses or any information on Basix it would be really helpful, my dad is an attorney and I've already spoken with him to track this individual down and he has his resources to find background checks etc. but any extra help of identifying who this individual is would be great help, like his name, address, phone numbers, etc.

I know it's only been one day but you can tell he logged on today and checked he got paid and just dipped.

Edit: I've been clearly scammed <https://gyazo.com/d65a61276b4ccd934666984c69281391>

He says he's been out of the online loop and doesn't what BTC is yet; he has a thread purchasing BTC <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=3829518>

You have to right click on the image in gyazo page and copy the link. Otherwise it won't work.

I won't get it back, it's been a couple of months now, I just want his account banned so he doesn't pull any bullshit like this again.
