Why do you deserve this:

I believe I deserve this award as I do as much as I can, personally to give back to the community, whether it be giving advice, writing tutorials and even doing little giveaways. It'd also be nice to finally have another award added to my profile.

What have you done for the community:

I have written a few detailed graphics tutorials and done a few minor giveaways and free services. You can find them here:

[\[TUT\]How to make a Cracked 3D Text in C4D](#)

Skype Premium Codes

Sasaki Haise - April 17, 2014, 8:15 pm

Why do you deserve this: I've been always roaming the forums and helping people out whenever I can. Although I joke from time to time to give the mood of a thread a light atmosphere, I also write up pretty detailed replies from time to time accordingly to the problem at hand. I'm always in the League of Legends section, helping out those inexperienced or just asking for help whenever I can.

I'd consider myself a pretty active member on the forums and would like to have a reward or too just for the beauty of it!

What have you done for the community: Well I since I always check out the League of Legends sub forums. I had one good turnout for a small event here, and I want to get a bigger turnout when more people are on for the NA server. It was fun and it was my first time shoutcasting but everybody had a great time so I was pretty happy with that.

I haven't really given anything out in terms of pp money, skype codes, or anything of the kind, but I hand out knowledge from experience :)

Abdilo - April 17, 2014, 10:25 pm

What have you done for the community: I've given lots to the community itself. Content, giveaways to members, and many helpful tips to people. I have a thread that has been sticked; which is full of knowledgeable content. I've done many giveaways and a few of those threads got to 500+ replies. I ALWAYS give my best input or idea. I have created tutorials, I have owned shops + buy things from others, and I have never had a deal gone sour which really says a lot since I've done hundreds of deals through HF. I frequently hosts giveaways/upgrade contests (you should know this Mr International). I am a constructive, positive member, who consonantly has something in the works. I also wrote a beautiful song about HF, I mean c'mon, that's love. I also Write for the HF News every week and I think you're handsome.

Paypal Tutorial (100+ replies)

Given back with upgrade contests, GT giveaways, and netflix giveaways (with 120+ replies), occasional PP give away's (FOR NON UPGRADED MEMBERS TOO)

Contribute to the forums with my constructive posting, and positive attitude.

Very funny and provide comic relief to hundreds if not thousands.
Assist members with their site related questions, or with coding/general computing.

Thanks for reviewing my application Junior.

What have you done for the community : I like to help people - I give out Free Methods ; Shopping Online for FREE. I am currently planning to start a MineCraft Server Helpdesk where I'll help anyone with any needs or problems within their MineCraft Server.

Spam404 - April 21, 2014, 8:21 pm

Why do you deserve this: I have been on this site since i was 14, and since the 2 years i have been on this site its been a great time just trying to learn new things. I have been through everything the site could throw at me from at first being a kid trying to learn how to hack to a person learning how to sell to others and how to appeal to them. I have always thrived to find new information on the website and to pick up some new ideas. I have always tried my hardest to bring new ideas to the website as well, such as contests in the gaming section and participation in the contests as well. I try and help other members that need or deserve the help needed to guide them on a correct path on the forums.

What have you done for the community: I have posted in the gaming sections mainly, and hosted a competition as well and gave out a cash reward. Even though the cash was not a great amount, it still meant giving something atleast back to the community. Gave people options for cheap options to buy in the marketplace, and a cheaper option overall. Given some free giveaways as well of steam accounts and did a member contest of a custom mouse pad for anyone that did not have money to purchase one. When i was first introduced on to the forums, i gave out a ebook for everything that i had known of hacking and wanted to share to knowledge to all. Overall I benefited greatly from the experience i have been on here. If i was given the decision to go back in time to back the choice, I would live this all over again.

Thank You for Reading

Championship Riven - April 22, 2014, 4:19 pm

What have you done for the community: i've done couple of giveaways and thats about it

v???? - April 22, 2014, 5:45 pm

Why do you deserve this: I Deserve to win this, as I feel that I have given back quite alot to the community - And it'd be nice to have my first award!

What have you done for the community: I have ran multiple giveaways and contests, offering Free Paypal Money, Ebooks, Steam Games and Money Making Methods. On top of that, I try my very best to help anyone that PM's me, Ive even sent well over $100 to date to members that were in need of it and asked me via PM. I also plan on giving alot more away in the future.

Plain - April 22, 2014, 6:00 pm

Why do you deserve this: Because it looks cool

What have you done for the community: Paypal giveaways and I gave away random crap

Trisomy 21 - April 22, 2014, 6:45 pm

Why do you deserve this: I've been active on HF for a little over a year now.

What have you done for the community: I've donated to the site, been active in the C++ and Java subforums, helping out newcomers, also ran an essay writing service that I had to close because I could not handle it alone.

Anyway, cool contest, gl everyone.

JustHayden - April 22, 2014, 7:10 pm

Why do you deserve this: I believe I deserve this award because I have been an incredibly active member within the crypto currency section of the forums, along with being a member of the Crypto sector of The Brotherhood. I'm an early adopter of the crypto world (since 2012) all the way back to when Bitcoin was only $4. When Litecoin was $4 I saw the same potential as bitcoin so I bought 38 litecoin for $4.50/ea on HF and get scammed as I watched litecoin skyrocket to $40 each. If I haven't been scammed I probably would have this award already.

What have you done for the community: I don't really have many skills to open services, or knowledge to open help desks, but I have been an active member since 2009 sharing my insight on many topics outside of hacking such as gaming, movies, crypto currencies, and I have been a daily user of the SRPP seciton. As I grow as a person and learn more about the world, I'll have more stuff to share with this community that has grown on me.

scam. - April 22, 2014, 7:11 pm

Why do you deserve this: I don't deserve it but I'd like it.

What have you done for the community: Not much.

vqs - April 24, 2014, 7:21 am

Cool,I'm already a part of a litecoinage contest and this is the second one.Hope I win both the contests.

Edit: Sorry I didn't read the "Why you deserve this part"

Why do you deserve this: I've been a very active member in the past.I'm still active but not as much as I was earlier though.

I always try to help people in every possible way that I can.Check my rep, most of them have been given for giveaways and tutorials.

I won my L33T and UB3R upgrade through similar contests, where I posted all the helpful threads , tutorials and giveaways I've done.I'm not posting those here because it'll become too lengthy and I'll have to go far back and it'll consume a lot of time.

What have you done for the community: Well, as I said above, I've done a lot of giveaways.Mostly, I gave away verified Youtube/Yahoo accounts for free and I've posted some cool tutorials.I am very active in the "Crypto Currency" section and I try to help people out with getting them started with cryptos!

Paul Allen - April 27, 2014, 4:24 pm

Why do you deserve this: I believe that I personally deserve this award as I am a new (March 2014) member on HF and I'm trying everyday to help other members in many different ways. A few is with my various knowledge about things on the internet. I try to give advice in the Education Nation section and even in the marketplace for appraisals. Although I currently have not given out any monetary things I believe I still deserve this award. :)

What have you done for the community: For the community of HF I have everyday helped other members out with their choices and decisions not only in the marketplace but also as stated above, Education Nation. I try to help them with their choices and help them improve with their issues (if any). Soon I will also be doing a large OMC give-away!

Thank you for holding this give-away Maximum I appreciate it!

SIM-964740 - April 27, 2014, 8:28 pm

Why do you deserve this: I believe that I deserve this award for my honesty, trustworthiness and helpfulness. When I see a member of Hack Forums (or any person offline & off) I will do my best to help them to the best of my ability. I strive to maintain this reputation of myself.

What have you done for the community: Sometimes you have to reverse the question and say "What haven't you done to the community". One of those things I haven't done is: scamming. This is a major part of Hack Forums, the market. I have never, and will never scam anyone. If I were to do so it would tear apart not only who I am but my willingness to help.

Aura - April 27, 2014, 8:52 pm

?pth?n - April 28, 2014, 9:11 am

Why do you deserve this:

My award is lonely and needs a new friend to play with. I have been on HF for over a year, always helping out others without getting something in return most of the times. I love to help new people on HF with their questions and everyone is welcome to ask me via PM. Furthermore, I've lost alot of money on mt.gox, so a crypto currency award would actually mean something to me. In fact, I've lost more than $2000 because of mt.gox. I'm not one of those rich marketers so that is alot for me.. I don't cry about it, but such an award would be awesome ?

What have you done for the community:

Helping others via pm, teamviewer, email or any other way possible. Furthermore, I've created alot of helpful threads for other members. I wrote around five HQ tutorials to contribute to the community and make HF grow ? In other news, I'm regulary reporting rule breakers to keep the forum clean ?

Thanks for holding this contest!
