Thread: Hotmail/gmail Account Creator Coded in Java

~HF~ - April 19, 2014, 2:46 pm

What would a hotmail or gmail account creator be worth? It will be coded in java and should work pretty fast, just need to type in captcha's.

Also would a lot of people be interested in buying it?

Thanks.

I would be interested in this, but I dont like to appraise stuff I am seriously interested in. I will be lurking here...

I'd say $30 if you include a proxy scraper and DBC.

Ok thanks do you think it will be very popular or will only a couple of people buy it?

Thanks.

I would say only a few people would buy this at the moment, there is currently a tool being sent out in the freebies section that creates these accounts and many more.

Although other than that, I would see this go for around $20, maybe even less.

~HF~ - April 19, 2014, 3:40 pm

Oh ok thanks I won't waste my time with it then, do you know of something people want ?

Like any sort of creator or bruteforcer etc?

Thanks

Scrandy - April 19, 2014, 3:42 pm

If you can get a bruteforcer for Kiks I would pay 5$ for it. Assuming it was iPod compatible. The thing is, there are so many. Yours would have to be unique.

Looking for a program/bot that would be at least worth $10 and be popular to sell

Try to get one that would work on iPod for:

Twitter

Skype

Hotmail

Yahoo

Gmail

Live

Kik

Snapchat

If you cover all of those you could get $20.00 a pop.

~HF~ - April 19, 2014, 3:48 pm

Can't work for ipod as its coded in java and all of them are too saturated for my liking

Scrandy - April 19, 2014, 3:49 pm

OK. I may not be as interested personally but I know most still will. By the way, I remember your name, do you remember where?

~HF~ - April 19, 2014, 3:53 pm

Refferal for a site I believe :p

and I know just want something unique.

Scrandy - April 19, 2014, 3:54 pm

Yep site referral. Something unique would be a PSN or Gamertag jacker/cracker, not entirely sure this is possible though I dont know this stuff.

And referral would make since, idk why people hate on me I do all kinds of giveaways and referrals for free.

Hmm well how about downloading from survey sites for free? :o

Like $hareca$h of File-Ice?

~HF~ - April 19, 2014, 4:51 pm

That's quite impossible lol don't think you can download them for free just like that :p

Aha it's been done quite a lot before until they just stopped. Like in 2011 and 2012, they were VERY common.

~HF~ - April 19, 2014, 4:55 pm

Yes because they could be exploited easily but not anymore :(

There is already a great number of these out there, really depends on how good it performs. Up to 30 would be my guess.

Keybored - April 22, 2014, 11:45 am

If you had one for hotmail I would buy it off of you for $10.

Raft - April 22, 2014, 1:56 pm

For people that do PPD/CPA and accounts deleted a lot, this would be really profitable.

podjescott - July 29, 2014, 11:22 pm

Hey bro do you have for Gmail if you do PM thanks

Unaffiliated - September 12, 2014, 2:00 pm

Am creating my own Account Creator,

Did you code yours with Java EE?

And I would pay $15 to $25 for your program
