Thread: Portable version of Windows 8.1 Pro on USB - Need help

<http://lifelifehacker.com/how-to-run-a-portable-version-of-windows-from-a-usb-dri-1565509124> - I need help involving this tutorial.

I currently have this window open for my USB drive.

Do I need to partition, or will it do that automatically for me for both the system and boot partitions?

When in doubt, partition manually. 150-200 meg should be good for boot. Use built in partition editor or MiniTool Partition Wizard software. Keep NTFS as default file system

Would I need to create two partitions other than a main one for both system and boot?
