I've got the VPN up and running fine. Give it some time, maybe there's just an issue with their autobuy system.

You could also try re-sending him the PM if he doesn't respond for a while.

All tickets have been answered. There are no open tickets. Drop me a PM and we can discuss this further. Anyhow the speed depends on what server you are connected too.

The website was down due to some ddos attacks, it is up and running smoothly again. Your account was not suspended unless you tried charging back the payment. As mentioned before I can't and will not offer you a refund unless the VPN is not working for you.

Please do try and stop sales trashing.

Warm Regards, Craze
