Thread: [\[Infamous\] Web Dev Recruitment - 4 spots](#)

Ventures - April 30, 2014, 3:48 pm

There are three spots open for a small, internal web development group within Infamous. Members of this group will have access to the userbar:

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/images/modern_bl/groupimages/english/infamous.gif[/img]

as well as access to the subforum:

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/uploads/ficons/infamousf.gif[/img]

They will take on group-based tasks as well as individual tasks.

Note: This recruitment DOES require you to have access to Skype (preferably voice communication, but not required).

Infamous Leaders

Tibit

Judge Dredd

bugga

iNviZ

TheHackersLove

Prerequisites

Applicants should:

Be experienced in the working environment

Have key characteristics which include activity, professionalism, and maturity.

Express an outstanding grasp of the English language

Be engaged and competitive

Be prepared to show previous work; no exceptions will be made for anything less than the exemplary

Possess patience and the desire to solve problems

We are looking for:

ONE (1) Developer - JS and/or PHP and/or Ruby and/or SQL and/or Database knowledge, etc
ONE (1) System Administrator - Server setups, management, familiar with web-based languages
ONE (1) SEO Professional - Familiar with SEO and internet marketing
ONE (1) Graphics Artist/Designer - Brownie points if you do web design AND know how to code them.

Activity Requirements

Very few. As long as you follow the Infamous handbook, you'll be fine. Projects will not take up too much of your time, and we'll work around your schedule. However, be prepared to sacrifice or set aside time to work on a project.

Name: Pentatonic

Time Zone: GMT +3

Which position: Graphics Artist/Designer

Experience?: I can't really say, maybe 7/10

Tell us a little about your goals: Right now my only goal is to learn Adobe Illustrator and the mechanics of the pen tool so I will be able to expand my Minecraft Graphics shop.

Describe your personality and how others view you: Well, I am a 18 years old male. I don't really like talking a lot and spamming, that's why I don't have a lot of LQ posts. I like designing and playing sports(:football and basketball).

Notable websites, designs, or threads (include portoflio): Here is my portfolio:

Time Zone: Pacific Time

Which position: Designer

Experience?: I am currently taking classes for web design, but have been doing it for around 2 years

Tell us a little about your goals: My goals are to go to college for either Web Development or Network Security. I also would like to learn Javascript very soon. I can read it decently, but when it comes to writing my own code, it gets to be a bit difficult.

Describe your personality and how others view you: I am very anti-drama. I know there has been quite a bit of drama in groups recently, but I can assure you guys that I will not cause(and hopefully attempt to stop) any drama. I try not to get involved in other people's business and what not. I am a very laid-back guy. I really love music, I play the guitar and trumpet(I know that has nothing to do with this, but I feel like it is a pretty big part of me).

Notable websites, designs, or threads (include portoflio): Here is my site I am currently working on. I will get a better domain when I am finished(I am working on some CSS for the table right now):

Which position:SEO

Experience?: I have done lots of research on SEO. Firstly, I know how to rank websites higher, And what little tricks will help rank the website higher. I know what to do, And what can help optimize results. I have put this into play a few times, And it dosent seem to have plaid off too bad. I have experience with algorithm so that can help. I know so many little tricks, And put together will rank our website higher.

Tell us a little about your goals: I want to become a successful penetration tester and be able to further my skills and web development and everything i find an interest in.

Describe your personality and how others view you: I think i would describe myself as opinionated, I come up to conclusions too fast normally. Others view me in ways like "I hate him". I think that is because i state my opinion as i observe it, Which in my opinion is a good perk.

Notable websites, designs, or threads (include portoflio): I dont have anything for SEO, as there is not much i can note. Although, I have helped raise previous site's stats.

Thanks for reading?

Which position: Developer, System Admin

Experience?: I've taken classes at Porter and Chester for System Administration and have been developing apps on Roku for years.

Tell us a little about your goals: My goal is to eventually meet enough people and make the proper contacts to put myself in the best possible position to get a job that I can later turn into a career. My goal to support my family is what has kept me going this long!

Describe your personality and how others view you: Most of my classmates at Porter and Chester would describe me as an outgoing individual that will not stop until the task at hand is completed.

Notable websites, designs, or threads (include portoflio): Roku app developer, manager for the RUDOS application "Zenith" - <https://owner.roku.com/add/Z0Ee1N11e6lbTdH> RUDOS, also known as Wrestlingbay was a website dedicated to combat sports content. We had one of the largest archives on the internet. Mishaps got the best of us and we eventually had to close down. Also, content manager - distributed media across different servers and organized into appropriate sections.

Which position

Developer

Experience?

I have a couple semesters of web design in college but mostly personal experience. I ran my own website with ~30,000 posts and have done a lot of freelance work the past few years. Mostly PHP. I haven't done much web programming with Ruby but I've created a few bots in it, among other things. I'm pretty familiar with it. I also often use jQuery in combination with PHP (AJAX). All my databases were/are managed in SQL so I'm comfortable in that as well.

ComponY - April 30, 2014, 8:35 pm

Name: We'll go with ComponY for now.

Time Zone: MST

Which position: System Administrator

Experience?: I've personally ran a few forums myself. I started when I was thirteen and am now 18. That's five years of experience. I've dedicated my time and myself to learning how setups work such as which kind of server to host from, how to maintain up-time, and what to do if something goes wrong. I've maintained forums, secured the site, and made sure that my plug-ins weren't vulnerable. I used to develop for IPB (Invision Power Board) and still have my profile for proof. I've done everything from creating websites, to designing them. I'm pretty much the all-in-one package type of deal. I tend to still use my leftover time for web development. I'm now in college for networking and am learning that whole area now; That way I'll be able to not only secure my sites code, but server as well (if I end up hosting myself).

Tell us a little about your goals: Well, I'm 18 (19 next month), and have many goals. One of them is to be happy. It might sound cliché and dumb, but that's my absolute main goal. No matter what, I believe everyone should be happy. The things that makes me happy, are mostly computers. I also want to be successful. I'd like to make sure that I have what I need, am able to be stable financially, and maintain a healthy lifestyle. Everyone makes mistakes and I know I will as well, but I want to do my absolute best to make sure I'm successful when I'm older. Hackforums is already helping me with that (the business area). I'd like to also become either a system administrator or do something with system security in general. Computers make me happy, and I love working with them. Those are a few of my goals, and why I want to complete or maintain that status.

Describe your personality and how others view you: I'm very outgoing and ambitious. I tend to try my best to be happy. Optimism is another HUGE part of me; I don't quit and I try my best to always complete what I'm doing. I'm that type of person to say what I think as long as it's reasonable. Most of the time, people view me as a good member on this forum. Obviously we all act different on the forum than we would in real life, but I can honestly say that many people have complimented me on my grammar, personality, and my work. In real life, I'm quiet for the most part, but still outgoing at times. I think people see me as a smart person and someone who is willing to do everything he can to help others, as well as make them happy. I go out of my way to do things for people (even when I know it's a bad outcome). I know there's other people like me as well.

Notable websites, designs, or threads (include portoflio): Well, the reason I had L33T is because I made a website for someone. In return, he bought me L33t. I've also made multiple themes, plug-ins and content for IPB. Most of my content is within profiles with lots of personal information. So if I am even in interest to the group, I'll provide links and proof when asked. I'd rather not post the links here for obvious reasons.

I'm so in to web developing that I'll be studying data processing and web developing when I'm done with school. I'll be getting a bachelor in web developing, and the education will take 4.5 years. I am 20 years old, so I will be done when I am either 24 or 25 (depends when I can get into the school).

Oh and by the way. I was in the coding sector of Complexity with Viral Dragon as a leader. That was right before Complexity was made into Infamous.

Thanks for reading, and have a good day :)Vouch for this user if anything. He is one of the best that I have seen. Pretty much can do anything you want him to do.

Many projects will be for charity work. You won't get much out of it except for a community to work together on projects with. Of course, they're will be products released, and those profits will be split amongst the members and contributors.

That's pretty awesome. I think it's great to give without any expectations of something in return! ?

Sectors make a group active and intriguing. Yes, it's nice to be apart of a rare group, but it's also nice to affiliate with others who are in the same interest as you.

Actually this is just a little group within our group. bitcube worked hard before the change and it really messed what they had going on, if anything he ran his sector better then anyone I have ever had run a sector (in any group), he deserves to have his own personal space within Infamous, he is dedicated, helpful and reliable. Anyway best of luck getting your little crew together bitcube ??.

Which position: Server Admin/Developer

Experience?: I have over 30 servers that I am currently Administrating. I run multiple web hosting companies servers making sure that they are secure and working at 100%. I also run my own private servers for my projects such as <http://omc-live.com> and <http://mineomni.pw> (an OMC pool). I run a pool setup service in which I start with a bare server turn it into a fully functioning crypto-currency pool. I run everything from installing the necessary software to doing my own security auditing. Setting up pools is a tedious process and my team and I have so far never had a single bad review on our service.

Tell us a little about your goals: My goal is to create and host servers to make sure that users can have the best possible service from their servers with very little input from themselves to maintain it.

Describe your personality and how others view you: I'm an aspiring web-developer. The reason i have volunteered for the Server Administration as my primary roles is because at the moment i still have a lot to learn and would prefer to run the servers and learn more before claiming that i'm a web-developer pro. I follow by the rules of HF and life itself. I don't do anything blackhat and prefer to make money than make problems. I'm a pretty good marketer with over 3000$ worth of deals on hackforums it's self and over 50000$ worth on the net. I am also a very quick learner with my team constantly adapting to the new market needs and the new quirks to maximize our profits. For example our pool setup service is only a few weeks old and we can already 100% setup perfect pools in a matter of minutes.

Notable websites, designs, or threads (include portoflio): Current projects: <http://sasdayz.com> <http://omc-live.com> <http://mineomni.pw> and a few government sites that i'd rather not mention and about 10 charity sites.

Which position: SEO

Experience?: Been working with websites for the past five years, including three successful ones, I have slight knowledge in coding (enough to swap some thing around, not code an entire website). I have been studying SEO specifically for the past year or so specifically, and I only work with WHITEHAT SEO, if your looking for quick 24 hour turn arounds using Blackhat SEO I'm not your man.

Tell us a little about your goals: My goals are simple, make money, make friends, and have a good time whilst doing it. I'm not in need of money, I have enough of it to keep me going, I always am looking to make more, but I'll never sacrifice things to do so, I'd value a friend over money any day.

Describe your personality and how others view you: Around HF I'm seen as an easygoing person, I like to have fun and I'm always up for a good chit-chat, anyone in my groups will know I'm active in the lounge, as I love talking. I prefer to keep business on the down low, because It's my business, so I deal mainly through PM's, I'll also happily call out anyone I think needs it, as can be seen from my 35 negative reputation.

Notable websites, designs, or threads (include portoflio): I don't have a portfolio, as any website I show you isn't actually coded by myself, so it's stupid to take credit for other peoples work. If you want a website I run and do SEO for, feel free to message me, as I'm not about to include a link referencing back to HF.

Which position: Developer

Experience?: Assisted coding in multiple projects but haven't done a lot of projects on my own. Planning on coding a booter source code AGAIN since the last one failed (CSS wise), now I've found someone who's going to help me (he's better at CSS)

Tell us a little about your goals: I hope to become a full fledged web developer and designer able to code good looking, flexible, complex and easy to handle websites that are able of doing what they do fast.

Describe your personality and how others view you: I don't know how others really view me. I try to be as HQ as possible and help as many people as I can
I try to keep the forum clean and good for everyone, that's why I'm rarely in the lounge and instead help others in the beginner hacking section.
Even though my native tongue isn't english I still try to stay away from spelling mistakes to a point that everyone is able to understand me without a lot of hassle.

Notable websites, designs, or threads (include portoflio): Nothing in particular sadly, I'm planning on creating a portfolio with bootstrap soon since I'm to new to CSS to actually create something extremely good looking.

^ really basic css tutorial (not development but though I'd put it in)

Extra: This is how my coding life has been

13 - 14 years old - just got into programming with batch and learning myself how to create a game

14 - 15 years old - Still randomly coding a game but slowly start to get interested in web design and development

15 - 16 years old - here and there learning to understand PHP, HTML, MySQL and so on.

16 - 17 years old - Can code pretty complex websites with PHP, HTML & MySQL and learning CSS slowly but surely.

17 - 18 years old - Plan on learning C# to create programs that work with MySQL & websites and some other stuff, also hope to improve my web design to an expert level. (this is the year I graduate (I'll die if I don't))

I played a lot of games in these years and not all of it was spent on programming

I wasn't that dedicated at all :)
