(Jan 21, 2015 04:02 PM)Kill?Muvz Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What makes you say Galaxy Crypter is the "most advanced" crypter in the market?Any user saying their crypter is the "most advanced" crypter in the market is lying. There is no most advanced crypter in the market. They all have different strong points. For example, Cryptex Reborn could have the most features, and this crypter could use a powerful RunPE and have very fast support.

This crypter is not good at all, I had purchased this crypter with multiple errors. How do you people vouch for such things when it is not good? Please stop fooling people and be serious in business if its not stable and effective dont sell shit to people.

Nex+ - May 18, 2015, 7:25 pm

This is clearly not shit, everyone else loves it, have you tried contacting me for support? No you havent urbaninvest - May 21, 2015, 12:41 pm

Does anyone know if this works with Insidious AIO Bot?

I haven't purchased it, but I think barys detection are icon-related. Use a higher quality icon and you will get a much better ratio.

For the IKARUS Detection , just compress your DarkComet using UPX, and for Nod32 it need a refud right, for the binded file, your binded file need to be FUD otherwise it'll be detected of course.

I saw that galaxy was refunded so I made a new stub with LL.

I got 7 detections, so I added a new icon and it went down to 3 detections, all minor ones.

I saved it and went on with my day.

2 hours later I come back and before I use it to update my slaves, I scan it again.

This time it's 10 detections.

I haven't used the stub yet...

I wait another hour and scan it again.

19 detections...

and I still haven't used it.
