Is a USB keylogger better than a normal computer keylogger?

Braco Asshole - May 15, 2010, 6:00 pm

I think both are good, as long as you use them the right way!

I really Doubt there's all that much of a Difference. They do basically the same thing right?

I believe a USB keylogger just installs the keylogger when you plug the USB into a computer. Otherwise it functions exactly the same as a normal keylogger.

I prefer to infect remotely because infecting with a USB can lead to getting your ass kicked, if you want to do something with a USB i recommend a USB stealer. It doesn't install but it does get all their saved passwords and saves them on your USB as text files, What more could you want!!
