Thread: The Empire - Official Usergroup - Open Recruitment - One Week Only

Tibit - May 17, 2014, 9:05 pm

General Introduction:

Be sure to read the entire post, this will explain most of the information that is required to know, so don't skim it, actually read it or you will regret it later on.

Welcome to The Empire Recruitment thread! The Empire is once again recruiting, looking for members that are hard working, active, and will a good member in the group. Members who were kicked or declined in the past recruitment are welcome to apply again. To elaborate on our other recruitment threads, we want to know more about you as a person. With that said, creating a video or voice application is HIGHLY recommended, but not required. Though it will most surely separate the members willing to go above the usual basic application format, and the ones who don't, so keep that in mind. Members can nominate applicants for further review for the group, but even so, if you'd like to be one of the members to make it into the group, be positive that your application is full of effort and thought.

We had a video/voice application thread, but many of those were extremely boring to listen to, so we are allowing text applications again. As a trick to catch members who do not actually read the whole thread, when you put your age in a text or graphic application, be sure to spell out the number, for example say eighteen instead of 18. If you choose to make a video or voice application make sure it can actually be heard and you speak English. However, you have a better chance of getting into the group with a voice, video, or custom application rather than a plain text application.

The last Recruitment Thread can be located here. This recruitment thread will end on Sunday, May 25, 2014.

Userbar:

[img]http://x.hackforums.net/images/modern_bl/groupimages/english/empirev3.gif[/img]

Basic Guidelines:

Around 60+ posts per month of the account's age

Must have acceptable grammar

Usually an upgraded member or a very committed non-upgraded member

No LQP or Harassment Warnings

No legitimate open or unresolved scam reports

No trolling or flaming other members

Application:

Note: To elaborate on the general information, we want to know more about you, other than how "high quality" you are. Be sure to be truthful and honest in your application, this could make you or break your application. Remember, video and voice applications are highly recommended and those that create that type of application tend to have a higher chance at being accepted, but it is not necessarily required. The minimum time length for both are 3 minutes, you may do more but keep in mind quality is better than quantity.

Be sure to answer all the questions, regardless if you're also doing a video/voice application. You may reformat the layout of the questions however you like; you may use GFX.

Good luck to all that apply, this round of recruitment will only last for a short time.

Adam's Quick Tips:

xadamxk Wrote:I will repeat what Tibit and other Empire members have stated.
If you truly want into the Empire, prove it to us.
Show us that you DESERVE to be in the group.
I can promise you that you will appreciate the group if you are accepted.
Just some tips if you want your application to stand out:
Make your application unique.
Make it lengthy, but be sure for it to hold it's quality.

Use your personal skills to make the application: GFX, Gaming, Coding, etc. Show your specialty. Be sure to use a set format, colors, themes, etc. Organized = good/ attention catching. Show that you want in.

Again, the length can have something to do with the result of your conclusion, but ONLY if it holds quality from beginning to start.

Do a top 10 reasons why you want in, make a video application along with the required application. Do far more than the required application asks for. Again, show us that you want to be a member of the Empire.

Thanks to Tizzy and Tom? for helping with formatting.

Troye - May 17, 2014, 9:05 pm

Make sure your application looks appealing and has proper grammar. We read hundreds of applications, which can become boring. Make sure your application stands out in your application for a better chance of being accepted. Adding graphics or a video to your application will increase your chances of being seen by a leader.

Ventures - May 17, 2014, 9:06 pm

Awesome to see The Empire recruiting. Hope to see some great members apply.

To prospective applicants, be sure to make yourself stand out to the reviewers.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Marketing

(Learning and understanding what makes products sell)

Advanced Customer Support Services

(Certified) (I have a certification of customer support from a class I took on the matter, I guess you could say my interacting with people is friendly / like-able to some)

Advertising

(Mostly here on the forum, however I can build a brand with the right amount of money easily)

Social Engineer

(Usually I can get whatever needs to be gotten if need be if you know where I am coming from)

Project Coordinator

(I would like to consider myself good at leading groups and helping other interact with each other)

Which section are you most active in and why?

This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I would have to say the marketing side of HF

(Although my posting activity says I am more involved in the lounge)

Personally, I try to involve myself with market trends, happenings, and stocks / corporate offices are becoming more and more of my interest as of lately.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

To reconnect with some oldies, maybe sell a few items under the name, and try to help it get its name back.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

Before, I was removed for what I feel was a bit of a combination between immaturity, as well as a lack of knowledge of many aspects of the forum / business in general. Now however I can confidently say I am more qualified to handle and challenge myself with a group again.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

You are killing me with these questions. Where do I start, well a few years back I took an interest in mens fashion and luxury lifestyles. This inspired me to do research and became my main motivation to make money. If someone where to ask me what my drove me to want to do things, my only response would be money. This doesn't mean I am still not a people person, I love people and interacting. Diversity makes life interesting.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Family, Friends, Wealth, Education, Knowledge, Secrecy, and Security.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Some guy named Cy and Th3H4ck3r <- I think they are both gone but their capabilities were unmatched by anyone I have ever seen. They literally had the power to do any and everything they ever wanted. I aspired to be able to do that one day.

Anything else you would like to say:

Not much, just that I would love to have the chance to re-join and be an actual member this time.

This is my Application I hope you enjoy it!

Name: Hey my name is Mitchell.

Age: I'm currently fifteen years old.

Gender: I'm a male.

Religion: Don't have any religion but I do support some beliefs of some.

State/Country: I live in Victoria/Australia.

Time Zone:(UTC+10:00)

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: Some of my skills would have to be the following, philosophy debates, I can debate a fair amount of topics and absolutely love philosophy. I'm currently doing a class where you debate numerous topics of philosophy. Graphics, would be another skill of mine, Although I currently don't have any designs of what i've made due to the fact I get my computer wiped every 4 months or at school. I believe i'm quite decent at graphics, I wouldn't over rate myself because I'm not brilliant at it. I would rate myself maybe like a 5-6/10. I have quite a creative mind and love to write when I get in the moment I can go for quite some time, a creative mind helps me while i'm doing my graphics at home and at school. Gaming, I'm fairly decent at gaming, I currently have a PS3 and computer hopefully getting a desktop soon and a xbox one at the end of the year. If I got accepted into the group I would hope I could show of my skills of gaming to you guys. I love the genre FPS, racing, and action. Last but not least sport! I absolutely love sport, I play AFL on weekends and heaps of sport during school.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I'm active in all of the general topics, Although I don't have posts in all of topics i'm usually lurking around in all of them reading. I'm active in the general topics because it's all the basic stuff like the news, events, the lounge and stuff like that, it's all easy to read and help members out what i like to do.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I've heard a lot about The Empire as "the group to be in" I would love to join The Empire due to the fact that everyone in the group is nice and helps others, it's a nice chilled group, it's not revolved around black hatting topics from what I know, I believe I could learn more than I already know, and your sub forum is active from what I've heard.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I believe I should be accepted into The Empire because for one I've followed all the basic guidelines, especially the flaming and low quality posting, two I believe I'm a high quality member, and I've never scammed or done anything bad.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: One incident in my life makes me what I am because when I was three my dad left mum and I, me now being fifteen and had to live the whole time without a father figure in my life has made me a lot helpful then what I believe I would of been because in my house now it's just my mum and I. Another incident in my life has made me a lot more helpful is when my mum had a car crash and caught a disease off it what makes your muscles really tight and hard to move so I've had to help out a lot around the house. I believe these two mishaps in my life have made me what I am. I also think this is a better me then I would of been.

As you sort of found out i'm pretty helpful, I have a good personalty, i'm open for jokes I love people with humor! I love to get out of the house and play football(AFL) I'm a pretty sporty kid I love sport and hope to have a job in the sport industry when i'm older. I'm a happy kid I like to joke around a fair bit and can take a joke myself.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? My number one priority in life is school and just to finish school and get a good job. But family is more important to me then school, family ,school, friends, and sport are the most important things in my life.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Just the fact the I know staying here and posting in the general topics and making friends could and would expand my knowledge. I've also stayed active from the friends and fun i've had here.

Anything else you would like to say: Thank you for your consideration and time.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: Mathematics, Social (I am a very convincing talker in real life, I can even make people who don't like me like me). Well rounded with School activities and Academics.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

The lounge with out a doubt, although the saying HF is my family sounds kind of repetitive, it kind of feels like it, I love reading the odd stories, and I love humor

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: To represent a group that is long lasting and high quality, I have never scammed someone in my whole life, and never plan on it.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I am very trustworthy, and I love to try to keep a smile on people's faces

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am a 16 year old young adult male, who spends his life studying, hanging out with friends, and living the life. I don't feel the need to do drugs however, because I have a part time job at the hospital and McDonalds (odd mix), but I want the jobs for the work experience. I always wanted to be in the medical field to make people feel better, what catalyzed that idea was when my grandmother's life was taken away by a rare cancer, I visited her everyday for the 9 months after her diagnosis, taking care of her and feeding her, this was when i was 10 years old

Besides my career ambitions, I am very respectful to people's beliefs. I just wanted to say that because of how I told my religion, and how people might rant against me, I have no problem with your religion, in fact I love the diversity ?

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

School is my #1 priority, I strive to get into the medical field and Become a Surgeon, I live really close to Stanford University, and have good relationships with people who have went there, we all seek the same interests, they are only 2 years older than me, but they have similar goals.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?
The life off the forum, if this forum was dead, it would be pointless to be here, even the extra LQ posters being some extra beef into this forum, I never joined this forum in search for Stress testing tools, but became fond of them as I started researching ways to defend against DDoS attacks. I do free Dstats for people who own their own stresser, though I have a thread charging for the dstats, I still give them out for free very often

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I feel like I am a decent sales men, I will do almost any thing to make profit. I ran multiple MC servers for a while, that had a monthly income of $200-400 each. I am also pretty big with baseball and bmx, I ran track for my school, and played power forward for my old schools bb team.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I am into pretty much everything. I like playing xbox, chilling with my friends, and making money. According to my post activity, I am most active in the lounge, but I also enjoy selling and appraising online accounts.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I want the join The Empire because everyone that's in the group seems chill as fuck, and that's what I like to see in a group that I will be spending my time in.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that I am a pretty active member on hackforums, and that I have been working hard at my account just for moments like this. I try to be as HQ as possible when talking about serious matters (World News, Forum Disputes, Etc.), but I can also be very fun and talkative in a conversation.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, as I mentioned before I love playing baseball. I have been playing baseball since I could walk, although I only started getting serious and competitive about it when my team started going to tournaments and traveling. I am currently a pitcher for my team, and occasionally an right fielder.

It's actually a pretty funny story about when the first time I started pitching for my team. I had been wanting to pitch a inning since the start of the season, I kept asking and asking and every-time he would tell me to practice more and more until I was pretty decent. Every practice, I would show him how I was getting better, than the next game was my moment. It was the 6th inning (It was a traveling youth league, but it only had 6 innings instead of the normal 7) anyways, we were owning this team called the Tigers, something like 7-2 runs, so in the last inning of the game my coach finally decided to give me a try at it. I threw something like 6-7 strikes, and only 2-3 fouls.

After all of that happened, I started to be a finishing pitcher who came in every last couple of innings. I struck people out 1-2-3, and the next season I went back and than I was put in as a starter. I only got taken out 3-4 times the whole season either because I was too tired, or my muscles were sore. I got taken out once because there was this kid, who looked like it was his first year in the league. He hogged the plate, and had the worst stance ever. He would stand straight up, with his bat facing the sky leaning against his shoulder like he had never played before. I threw something like 1 ball, 1 strike than I threw one straight at his head (I didn't mean too), and that was the first and only person I've hit so far.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

I would say my main priorities are family first, school second, than sports. School has to be a big part in my life, due to the fact I play alot of sports and most of my teams call my parents and check my grades or I get benched.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I honestly don't remember why I joined in the first place, I think I googled something than hackforums came up with whatever I was looking for, but I couldn't see what the link was in the thread, so I had to sign up, than I just got addicted to it I guess. I stay on because of the great community, with out the community and all my friends on hackforums I would never stay on, I'm guessing most people wouldn't either.

Anything else you would like to say:

No, not really. Just that I hope you accept me, because you know I've been waiting for a written open recruitment. Plus, hope you enjoyed my baseball story because it took me forever to fucking type.

and White Hat Help (I don't post too much as I am more learning and just browse it).

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: Well, I feel like The Empire is a tight pack and everyone is treated like a family in The Empire. Also, The Empire has some very respectable and great users.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: Well, I think I could help other members out tremendously. I can create tutorials/guides and give back. Also, I would love to help out as much as I can.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well, to start off with I am a sophomore in Highschool. I am 16 years old and I play Football and wrestle for my highschool. I am on Varsity for both. I am also in all AP classes. I care about School a LOT. I want to go to college and then move onto med school to become an anesthesiologist. I wanted to become an anesthesiologist when I first found out what they were when I was in surgery a few years ago. I thought it was really interesting. It was so fascinating how they put you to sleep and what not.

Well, I have always been into sports and learning. When I was little I asked so many questions. I have always loved to learn new things and that's why I joined HF. HF changed my life and I have met so many people on here. All those members I have met and kept a strong friend relationship with are really good people. They have taught me things and I have taught them things. I haven't gotten close to a lot of people on HF but the ones I have I think we will be friends for a long time to come. A lot of my IRL friends have also taught me a lot of things in life and shaped me. I think if I had a different group of friends I would be internally different. I also think my family shaped me. I have learned so much from my family. They have pushed me to my potential and that has helped in a lot of my success.

Well, I have gone through a lot of hard things in life but I have pushed through them and they have made me a lot tougher and have taught my numerous amounts of lessons. I have gone through a lot of bad events but I think every bad event that happens you just got to put your head up and think of the good things. I haven't been dealt the best hand in life but I have learned to make due with it and turn it into something great. I have pushed through a lot of things and will continue to. I am not someone to give up or quit. I will keep pushing and coming back until I succeed.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Family, Sports, Friends, and School. I put Family before everything else.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Well, I think it was Knowledge. This forum is filled with it. Every subforum you go in you learn more and more. Everyday I would hop on HF and just browse learning all sorts of things. I have learned things from Botnets to how to make graphics. I love Hackforums and I still learn everyday.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Programming- I program in multiple languages (fluently). The languages I am referring to are C++, C#, VB, AutoIT, and PHP. I can code almost anything I want as long as there is a logical reason, or desire to create it.

Debating- I enjoy debating numerous subjects. Especially religion. I think that debating (not arguing) is great for people, and should be used as much as possible.

Logical decision making- Logic is an amazing intellectual resource for me. (Almost) Every decision I make has a logical reason behind it. I find that everything I do has to be as efficient, and intelligent as possible.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

Mainly the programming sections. As I stated prior to this question, I enjoy helping people. Whether I know them or not doesn't matter. Knowing that I helped someone understand, or correct a problem is more than satisfying to me.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

The members at which I would be able to associate with. All of which unique, and seem to be great people. The amount of potential behind being apart of The Empire is extraordinary, and should be utilized accordingly.

I feel that being apart of The Empire would be a prestigious feat. And the opportunities to make new friends/partners in business would be amazing for me. Meeting some of the people that I have seen around the forum would be more than fantastic.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that I am a qualitative, well-mannered member. I have a profusion of experience in programming that could help The Empire in future products. I also feel that I have proven myself via my post quality, grammar, ..., in an indirect manner throughout the forum, and its entirety.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am 15, and love to help people. I have been programming since I was 11 years old (started with Obj-C/VB) and have continually put forth the same, if not greater effort in to my programming endeavor(s). I have a relentless desire to prove myself as a programmer, and computer engineer.

In my personal life, I am known for helping put out verbal fires, and calming situations down. As well as helping people when they are in need of assistance. Especially those who have almost committed suicide. (In all honesty, I have saved a friends' life)

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

I have my priorities set to programming, and school. The most significant thing to me in regards of importance/value to me is my family (by far the most salient), friends, and programming.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

The endless source of knowledge, and in some (rare) cases; wisdom. I also find that being apart of the community can be toxic at sometimes, but more often than not, the experiences are unforgettable.

Anything else you would like to say:

Thank you for reviewing my application. If you have any further questions, or want to contact me. Feel free to private message me for my Skype.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: Excel in video production/editing: Took a class in school for 3 years straight and have learned a lot about video editing, currently lead the VFX sector for The Brotherhood and have done a lot of edits in the past that have improved my skill. Proficient Computer Forensics/Anti-Forensics: Started taking an interest in computer forensics 1 year ago and have seen then practiced and have made this one of my best skills in terms of finding information and removing information on the internet. I also am preparing videos to start up a YouTube channel, based around commentating and vlogs, YouTube has always been an extreme interest in mine and I would love to make it a career. Considering music is a massive part of my life, I also like to host radio channels where people can tune in and recommend songs as well as listen to my style of music, which I have been told is really nice.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I really don't have a particular section in which I am most active.. Perhaps an entertainment section? Or a computing sector. I would be most active/are most active in these sections due to the fact that my skill-set involves these and I love to entertain and help others.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: Have always loved the group, seems like a very nice group to join and have a lot of HF friends involved in it.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I personally feel I should be involved due to the fact that I have come a long way in such a little time. I joined in January and have been apart of 6 groups so far and looking to join more amazing ones. I am a friendly person and love to make new contacts via HF.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: One day I was walking home from the movie theater after a night out with my girlfriend, I had such a nice night with her and it seemed like a night I would never forget. Little did I know that would actually become a reality. I live in a moderately large town with a lot of diversity in terms of wealth, and the town was organized so that the rich lived near the rich and the poor lived near the poor, or didn't have a house at all. The movie theater was downtown, in the rich side of the town, but my house was past the poor side towards the middle class side of town meaning I had to pass through the poor side. I've made that trek so many times and every time I would walk past this man on the side of the road with a cardboard sign asking for money, obviously I would feel terrible considering he was ALWAYS there, something needed to be done. I wanted to do something to help this man, he was working so much harder than I was in life, and yet he wasn't even doing nearly as well as me, it just wasn't fair. I decided to help the man, I bought him a hotel room, got him some clothes, and gave him $200 in order for him to get around places on public transport and hopefully get a job. Little acts of kindness made me an overall better person, I am caring, considerate, passionate, and noble. We are not different races, we are one race, man kind. I constantly keep that in mind, in whatever I do.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? I take pride in everything I do, no matter what the task is. I am respectful to everyone and try to keep an open mind when it comes to new ideas and meeting new people, I am not one to judge either. I want to get a well paying job and start a family, I want to provide for my kids and ensure they have the best life they possibly can. I am a hardworking individual considering nothing good comes in life without some sore hands.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Just the fact that I am constantly wanting to learn, no matter what the subject is. I am constantly striving to excel in my areas of interest and am constantly looking for new areas of interest. I have also made some great friends here on HF and the assignments and projects within each official group make them so much better. I suppose I just like the community for that reason.

Anything else you would like to say: Thanks for reading, much appreciated. ?

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: Advertising (Advertising, A specific product or game server), HQ Live Chat/ Assistance (Helping products, mostly web based. Eg. Booters or Social Media Services), Sales Manager (Getting sales going in a type of product, Eg. Any product, custom products), Music (Talented and know some decent stuff about music. Eg. Genres)

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests: The lounge mainly and the gaming section. I also like the marketplace section.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: The Empire in my opinion seems like an amazing user friendly group. I want to join a group that gives its members a chance to be with HQ users.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I don't, everyone who is applying is the same as me.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: I am quiet guy. I tend to stay indoors more often and go on the PC. I have friends but don't talk to them as much than my HF friends. The thing that changed my life was HF. I joined last month and I am enjoying this forum very much. Friendly users and helpful users everywhere and I can benefit from others.

Before HF my life was really boring. No real interaction with anyone. I never thought of HF or any forum website that could have helped me. I was never doing anything online and I just was literally bored with life. Until, a friend told me about HF. I joined and I would never imagined such an awesome community.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Being around good users who I can interact with easily and talk to.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? The community itself. I really loved the members (No homo). All helped me with solutions to my problems and I helped them.

Anything else you would like to say: Good luck to all applicants and thanks for reading!

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: Marketing: I'm a good seller on Hackforums, i understand products and how to get buyers. Doxing: I used to have a vouched doxing service on here, however i made an ebook and got 15 sales within 4 days, didn't want it to get leaked so i stopped selling it. Social engineering, i am a very good social engineer, i can blackmail people like pedos and i can speak to customer support really well. eWhoring, i have made around $400+ in a couple of weeks eWhoring, that is alot of money for me and i earn't around $150 alone selling pictures and then blackmailing them.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I like entering contests, however i am very active in the sellers marketplace, since i like to know about the product they are selling.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: It looks like a good High quality group, also looks like loads of the people are friendly.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I'm very active and high quality on hackforums, i also like hosting contests on here and giving back to hackforums.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: As i'm only 14, im trying to get some money together for when i move out of my parents house and get my own house. I make a steady income online, around $20 a day, sometimes more. I'm also a boy, i enjoy coding in different languages and selling the products i have made here on hackforums.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Family, friends, security and being well off when im older.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? I just enjoyed browsing the forums and just helping people out, since people helped me when i first started here.

Gender: I am a male

Religion: I am Christian

State/Country: I live in the U.S.A.

What are some skills that you have (Explain in depth with examples):

Gaming - I am a gamer that has been playing video games since I was three years old. I play all sorts of games including; Pokemon, Chess, Minecraft, Halo.. ect. I am a hardcore gamer, I play almost 24/7. I think the group could use my expertise in any sort of game system/game they need. I own a; N64, Gamecube, Gameboy, DSI, DS, Computer, and PS2. I like to play in groups with Skype as well. I like to play the game "Minecraft" thats why I registered here on HackForums. I have lots of skill in that game, whether it's server management or PvP, I'm good at the game. Minecraft is my favorite video game while my computer and PS2 are my favorite game consoles. Me and my brother play Xbox 360 ocsionally and we both play PC games together all the time. I have great skills in gaming and I'm willing to share my expertise. I play online games most of the time, and I do it for fun. The games I play are usually the ones I'm good at playing. I'm willing to help other people at certain levels, or aspects in the specific. Video game they need knowledge on.

Graphics - I am pretty good at making simple things like signatures and avatars. I created engraved, simple, Minecraft, and other themed signatures for some people. I first started when I asked, "can someone make me a signature?"

someone made me a very fancy signature, I asked, how did you make it? the person said "I made it with photoshop" at that time I did not know what Photoshop was. I googled, then I found the download for it. I was a complete noob how to use it. I ended up wasting my 30 day trial. I asked a GFX artist if he knew where you could get Photoshop cracked. He gave me a file that makes Photoshop lifetime. I looked up some tutorials here, on HackForums and I found quite a lot. I registered on some GFX forums as well. I like to make simple and easy to read signatures with renders on them. I've decided to start a graphic service as well. I've been doing graphics for 1 1/2 years, and I'm quite good.

Business - I own a stresser and I own a product shop. I made these and I am making lots of sales. Click here and Click here I am growing up to be a business man soon, and I already have some online experiences. I am making money off these products I'm selling, so I think I am successful. I have made products including: Skype resolvers, URL to IP, SMS Bombers, Email bombers, UDP booters, shell booters, flooders, ALT checkers, and many other programs. I know how to code VB.NET and other languages.

What section are you most active in and why?

Minecraft - I am most active in the Minecraft section because I play the game and I like to talk with fellow people who play the game. It's quite fun sharing what everyone in that section does/thinks. I love to make new friends that are interested in the video games that I play. I sometimes play with people in that section, over Skype, or servers. I have owned 3+ Minecraft servers, been Head-Admin on large servers that have 400+ players primetime. I help out other people in the Minecraft, griefing, and Server Management section, because I have good enlightenment in those parts. Lots of people in those sections also, would like my expertise, so I'm there for them. I love every aspect of the game. PvP, Building, Server Management, Helping, coding.. Whatever, I like to talk with the people who enjoy those aspects as well.

HF L33T OT Discussions - I love to talk to people in that section, they're fellow group members of L33T. The Upgraded members lounge is one of my favorite threads. It's kind of like my online diary. I can talk to people who I like to talk to, and I like to share what I'm doing in real life. I personally think L33T members are very nice and fun to talk to as well. I paid for L33T so I thought why not? Lets talk to some nice members who also paid $18.99 for it. I feel like most people that are upgraded are defiantly good sources to get information from. Most members are very helpful, so that's where I go to ask questions, and depress my feelings with one another.

Why do you want to join The Empire?:

I want to join because I honestly think The Empire is a great group. The members are super nice, and contributive I think I could give The Empire a good reputation and make it the best group out there. I want to join because I think the sub-forum is very active and it'll be soo cool to talk with other people who love the group as well. I meet all requirements and I'm pretty nice. The Empire is a group full of kindness, activeness and contributive members. I always see The Empire members making high quality threads, and posts, I think it would be awesome if I could be in the group and make those HQ posts and threads. I look up to The Empire all the time. They're always helping, they're always there, they're always kind. I think I meet that description and I would be a great addition to the group. I believe I am High Quality, I don't make bad posts, I always back up my opinions, and I make clear statements with good grammar and spelling. I admire the members and wish I could be apart of them. This is like a family, were we are close to one another.

Why do you feel you should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel that I should be accepted because;

I meet all the requirements.

I'm very nice to other people.

I can host many threads in name of The Empire.

I'm contributive.

I'm active.

And I will obey all of your commands.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself or something memorable that happened in your life, what makes you who you are and who are you:

Hello, first of all, I'm Joaquin AKA Mr. Donuts. I browse HackForums daily looking to talk to other people. When I was 6 years old, my parents got divorced, it was hard to deal with, but I dealt with it. I am in High School I have Strait A's in all my classes. My favorite sport is Baseball, I love to draw and I have lots of talents. I own a business here on HackForums and I've been making my money off that. I am an experienced gamer that has been playing since the age of 3. I own many old school systems and I own a computer. My favorite game has to be Minecraft because of how creativity you can get. I love to share with others and express my opinions in different sections. I have had 3+ pets including; fish, hamsters, cats, and a dog. My current pet is a hamster, he is a Chinese Dwarf, he's black and grey, his name is Hamy.

I have an online life, is what I like to call. I joined HackForums a year ago, hoping to meet some friends, I've made lots, and I talk to those people on Skype a lot, I started contributing to HF by doing lots of giveaways, helping out members, posting, and being kind to others. I want other people to feel like HF is their home. I am constantly on HackForums that makes me very active. I spend most of my day, here on HackForums talking to people I have not even met in real life. I am hoping everyone will enjoy there stay here at HF! I do quite a lot of giveaways, here at HackForums. I have done money giveaways, twitter, booters, and accounts. I enjoy every hour of being n HackForums because of how this site is used to. Express your opinion snd not get scared. In real life, people harass you and you're shy to express your feelings with other real life people. That is why I go on HF.

Anything else you want to say:

Thank you for reading and I wish best of luck to other applicants. Long live The Empire.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:Is this a university application?

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I usually get on this forum to speak to people and have fun. therefore I am mainly active in the lounge but depending on my mood I will be lurking around other sections when I feel like it.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I have never been in a group and empire sounds like a decent group to me that I could learn a lot from.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: To be honest with you, I have never been in a group so if you accept me I will know what it feels like. I am not going to sit down and bore you with fancy graphics or fancy words and waste my time just to make myself look more appealing or fancy.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I like watermelons.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Family, education and friends.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?
Experience, money, fun and learning

Experience: when I got on hackforums I was only here to check out things but everyday I started getting more experienced in things that I never thought I'd learn.

Money: after some time I started checking the money making methods and slowly developed from a kid that was playing games on pc's to a kid that was able to make enough money online to purchase things a part time job would get in months.

Fun: Believe it or not HF is really fun to me, I take it as a place that I can get on whenever I feel like having fun and even when I look angry it's only to see the way people react (read the section under this one to know what I mean.) Overall it's a fun place.

Learning: now when you read this you will think learning as in learning new things but you're wrong. What I meant with learning is learning about people and their views and who they actually are. I have learned a technique from analysing HF members to know someone and what they want within the first conversation I get with them, in the online world I am able to tell a scammer to someone legit and know their intentions really quick. In real life I am also able to tell people really quick and all of that thanks to HF and the members inside it.

Anything else you would like to say: if I don't get picked please tell me so i can remove this because i don't want it hanging for everyone to see.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

My skills are Gaming, RAT, and GFX.

Gaming: I started playing video games around when I was 6 because everyone was playing video games for the fun of it. Then when I turned 10 I started to play competitive for the game Call Of Duty and I would always love to win because it was like a award to me. It felt good wining and playing with other people with the same skill base. Then i started to get notice and people would ask for help and I would always help them become a better player and not those people who denied them because their are bad at the game. I love sharing my tactics with other people for they can improve. I'm currently started playing PS3 for the purpose of helping people get good for they can have a chance to become know in the community and get a chance to compete with other players.

RAT: I learned about RAT around the time I created my account. I learned few methods on getting slaves pretty quickly. I also, know how to set one up to anyone who needs help with it. But I never really used a RAT to harm anyone I would always talk to them about what to download and what not to download. After I talked to them I would help them remove the viruses from their computer and I would help them recover their account back. Other than that I help people who don't know how to set up a RAT on my free time.

GFX: I started to do GFX around 2 month ago because I got bored and wanted to waste some time. At first I did it to waste time then I started to like doing GFX and hearing people feedback on the Graphics I did for them. But I'm no wear near being a professional at GFX. I would like to get better at GFX during my time at Hackforums.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

The section I'm most active would be the anime section and the gaming section. The reason I'm active in the anime section is because I love anime and manga. I love talking to people about what anime they watch and I also, like talking with people with the same taste as me because it make us look like a big family. I'm also, started to be active in the gaming section because their are less thread about people wanting a hack for a game. Their also, a lot of great players in the gaming section and I'm grateful that their better people than me because that makes me want to try harder at getting better at the game.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I want to join The Empire because I want to be with people that have the same skills as me and I also, want to meet new people. I also, like to join because I just don't want to be in the group I want to learn new things and I want to experience new things that I never experience before. I want to improve my skills even more and I want to try and become great at it. I also, want to join because I want to have a fun time in general.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I think I should be accepted to The Empire because I love to meet new people and I like talking to people. I also, think I should be accepted because I can teach people new skills and help them get better with their skills. I also, can make people happy when they are sad and I can relate to most of the people since I had a lot of emotions and felt things that most people have felt before.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well there really that much about me but I will tell a little bit about my self. I am anti-social, fun to talk to, happy, and relaxed. I am anti-social at my school because most people in my school just talk about people behind their back and I don't really like people like that. Sometimes I hang out with my friends because I can always trust them to be with me at all time and not use me as a puppet. I'm fun to talk to because I can talk to you for more than 2 hours and make you laugh and basically have fun talking with me. I'm happy because I don't really like to show emotions outside because if you always happy then you can learn and explore new things you never knew. I'm relax because their nothing to get mad about I'm just chill about anything in general nothing really get me made expect if someone talks about someone I care for or if they hurt them.

In school I'm really into music. For Example, I go to a music school and I learn new things everyday and I help the band program make money by preforming and wining trophies with the band. I also, like to play because it make us all share something we all like. I currently play the Trumpet and learning how to play a Auto Sax and Piano. I really like playing the trumpet because it fun to play and it always make you happy when you can hit a note higher than before. But it also, difficult because their are only 3 values and it is hard to remember all the fingering for the high notes.

I'm also, really into helping people with life problems and giving them advise. For Example, one of my friends liked this girl and he never ask out a girl before so I told him that he shouldn't be afraid and that he should be calm with himself because the worst that happen happen is that she says no. Then after a week of him trying to get to know her he asked he out and she said yes to him and he was extremely happy and he bought me a present and was overall happy. I also, help people when they are in a period of sorrow. When my friend liked this girl he ask her out and she said no and was calling him names and at the time all he could think was if he should kill himself or no. I helped him through this time period by telling him that if he would have killed himself then he would make everyone sad and the only thing he would have done was making everyone sad and taking the easy way out of life. After a day or so I told him if he liked any other girl and if he did I would try to help him go out with her or at least become best friends with them. Which I did help him become best friends because she has a boyfriend. She treats him so nice and she always resting on his shoulder making him feel like he is needed in the world.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Well the most important thing for me in life is making my friends, and family be happy and safe. After that I will want to get married and have two kids and I will like them to become successful.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Well the first time I joined Hackforums I wanted to become like a anonymous member because I saw what they did and how cool it would be to be like them. After time I started to realize how hard it will be so I started to learn about RAT and Botnets. After I learned about that I really liked the community because they were really nice to each other and it basically felt like you was at home. I met people who was just like me and I thought I was the only person who was like that. It made me feel happy that their were people just like me in this world so that why I stood on Hackforums and will still stay.

I would like to say thank you for reading my application and I hope you have a wonderful day.

State/Country:

United States, would prefer to keep state private but I'm willing to disclose if necessary.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Gaming - I'm a very competitive gamer, and have been since a young age. I've been gaming everyday for years, and have gained a fair amount of skill with all the time I've invested into gaming. I'm looking to get into Game Battles as well as streaming on Twitch soon. Gaming is and always will be one of my biggest passions in life.

Marketing - I've only been marketing for a little under a year now, but I've learned quite a bit. I've studied the psychology of marketing, and have learned things such as how to make a buyer buy a product, or how to make a product more appealing. I currently only own an ebook here on HF, but plan on releasing other products, including a VPN and crypter.

Learning - I'm a very quick learner. I can read something once or twice and have the ability to remember it for the most part, which has proved to be very useful over the years. My ability to learn information quickly can be used to branch into other skills, such as coding or hacking.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

Marketplace - I currently only have an ebook released, but plan on releasing more products in the future. I spend most of my time on HF in the marketplace lurking.

Monetizing Techniques - I love being able to help people new to monetizing online in this section. I remember how lost I felt when I first began, but was lucky enough to have someone help me out and I enjoy being able to do the same and help others out.

Gaming - I'm active all around the gaming section. I mainly lurk, but I do post as well. I love interacting with fellow gamers here and enjoy the variety of gamers and games in this section.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

The Empire is easily one of the most respected and HQ groups on HF. When I first joined HF, The Empire was the one group that stood out the most. The Empire is a very tight-knit group where all the members are like family, and only the best of the best are let in. The standards are high and the quality is even higher, and I'd be honored to join this elite group of members.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel my skillsets listed above, combined with how active I am and my professionalism would be a great addition to The Empire. I may not bring an abundance of skills to the table like other applicants, but I am willing and eager to learn new skills, such as GFX or coding.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

All my life I've always been very cheerful and have always had a positive look on life. I always stood up for anyone being bullied, and would always befriend anyone who seemed lonely. Because of these habits, I'm a very social and friendly person today.

On the same hand, I also know what it's like to feel depressed and lonely. I always attempt to cheer up anyone who seems down and am always there for anyone who needs someone to talk to.

I've had some twists and turns on the road of life and have done things I'm not proud of in my past. I don't regret any of it, as it's made me who I am today.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My top 3 priorities in order: Family & Friends - Always first, my family and close friends impact any big decision I make.

Education - Learning has always been a large aspect of my life, and I enjoy learning.

Money - Who doesn't enjoy making money? While it is up there, I value my family and friends and education much more than I do money.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?
Like many others before me, I first joined to become a 1337 hax0r. I quickly realized hacking just wasn't for me. I spent my first few weeks mainly in the lounge, getting to know the community. I then moved on to the marketplace. The greatest part of HackForums to me is there's an equal diversity of everything here. Whether you enjoy hacking, GFX, coding, marketing, gaming, or whatever, there's plenty of other people who enjoy the same things as you. I believe HackForums is great for everyone.

Anything else you would like to say:
I'd be honored to even be considered, and thank you for taking time to read my application. Good luck to all other applicants.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: I'm not to sure of my skills. I have skills I just don't see what they are lol. Marketing. Social Engineering, I understand how to make people think things etc. I know the basics of RAT's & spreading. I like gaming sometimes, I take a period of gaming, then a period of not gaming. ? I can't think of what else.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I have to be honest, I'm active in any and all sections where I see an interesting thread. Recently maybe Movie section. Idk. The section I'm most active in switches up from time to time.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: Been wanting to join for a while, I get on with quite a few members in there and to meet new members and belong to a group.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I'm funny and active. ? And pretty cool ?

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: I like rap music, I was right into my Tupac and Biggie but now the only US rapper I really listen to often is Uncle Murda I'm into my UK rap instead now. I like watching movies and TV series, somehow I prefer watching things on my PC than on my Sky box on the TV. I like Minecraft but haven't been playing it recently somehow, need to start playing again, I like OP servers. I like cheating. I enjoy making money, I don't care about the money I just enjoy making it whether it be in real life or online. I think it would be awesome to make a living online been able to sit in the comfort of your home not having to leave the house to provide for yourself & your family. I enjoy making new friends online. I think loyalty is crucial to a friendship. Loyalty is everything. Death before dishonour.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Been happy. Making money & having a loyal clique. Taking life one day at a time.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Winning L33T & then winning UB3R made me stay & bond with the community more.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: -I'm good at manual malware removal. I can remove most malware without an anti-virus, whether I have to be in safe mode, or not. I use MSCONFIG and Task Manager. Afterwords, I like to run a scan with MalwareBytes, but I typically don't get anything detected.

-I'm half decent at making music in FL Studio 11 with or without the popular Nexus plugin.

-I'm a pretty good gamer, as well. I have a PC, PS3, and PS4 that I play mainly.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. : I'm most active in the Innuendo section. Whether i'm asking for advice, or giving advice, I am generally there. I'm better at helping others then I am at helping myself, that's why I need support myself, sometimes.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:I would like to learn more, and contribute my skills to the members at the same time.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I'm not 100% positive if I deserve to be in the Empire, but I would like to be accepted into the Empire to learn more, and contribute as well.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:Well, my name is Jack, and I am fifteen years old. I'm a Sophmore in high school, and I hope to get a job in computer programming in the future. At the moment, I'm taking a Visual Basic .NET class in my school, and next year I am going to take Java. After I'm done with Java, I plan on continuing my knowledge on my own, and getting myself books and learning more and more and more. I tend to focus on my own needs rather than anyone elses needs. This is both good and bad. Yes, I can be selfish at times, but at the same time, when I want to get things done, I get them done.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? : Honestly, coding and having fun are my priorities in life right now. I don't have much else to do, considering I'm in school. I guess that could be considered a priority, but I'm just counting down the das until graduation.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? : Well first of all, I joined HackForums to learn how to DDoS people on Runescape. I completely forgot about my account for a little while. I then started lurking the forums, and I guess just decided to post. I got L33T really early on, when I had around 13 posts I believe. I got UB3R around my one year mark of being on the Forum. I have been here for more then 2 years now. I stayed due to the fact that I got myself addicted.

Anything else you would like to say: I hope for the best for myself, and for the others applying. I hope to be an Empire noob once more. I got kicked out before, when my username was still AgroWarrior.

1. READ THE OP - This is the most important part as it may be the only reason you are not accepted.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: Graphics and some coding (c#)

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I'm really all over, there are a lot of sections that hold my interest but I'd say the main one is AA because I enjoy anime quite a bit.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: Empire seems most accepting. From what I've noticed unlike other groups you don't have to be "elite" or a really popular person, you can more or less be 'normal.'

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted because I have a little bit of everything there is to offer and what I can't offer I'm eager to learn.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Although I spend most of my time indoors playing video games and what not, I am also an avid paintball player and also moving heavily into disc golf. I started playing paintball around 8 years ago and started heavily playing it the past few years. I managed to make it to the division 3 level of professional play (equivalent to something like AAA baseball level) but it has recently lost it's luster which has moved me on to a new sport which is disc golf; nothing much to say about that for I am fairly new to it.

I graduate from high school on Friday then will be moving on to college in a 5-year co-op program to get my bachelors degree. The major I will be taking is software application engineering; the languages they teach are C# and Java. Afterwards I plan on working for Procter and Gamble because that's where the co-op mainly is and I've heard they offer the students jobs. If that falls through I plan on working in a hospital managing the the network.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? I tend to put people before myself, I'm not the happiest guy so I feel it's important that even if I'm not I should at least try to make someone else.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? The endless possibilities, Hackforums is like 20 forums combined. If I'm in the mood for something anime there's AA, if I want to learn a new language or refine one I already know some of, there's the coding section, if I'm bored and looking for something new to play there's the gaming section, hell even if I'm down one day there's always a thread that makes me value what I have.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Social Engineering

I usually head on over to chat rooms and pose as an underage girl to lure in Pedophiles. I would add them on Skype, talk them up and research all their information. Then I would gather all of that information and compose it into a paste. Afterwards, I would take that document, tweet it, spread it around, etc. to humiliate the pedophile. Some of my work; Pedo #1, Pedo #2

Coding

At the moment I'm fluent in the following programming languages Batch, Lua, Visual Basic & Java. I am in the process of learning Python & C++. I own & code for a DarkRP Server on Garrys Mod. I use VB to create the GUI for programs I use to spread RATs, here is one of many programs.

Creating HQ Tutorials on HF

I have devoted much of my time creating tutorials for the HF community, I do this not in the hopes of being rewarded, but for the hope of passing knowledge on because in the end we're all here to help each other. Some of my tutorials; Hacking Facebook Accounts, Creating RATs, Smartphone Hacking.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

The section I am the most active in would have to be the hacking section. I simply love learning new things as well as sharing my own knowledge in the attempts of helping others just as they have helped me. I see hacking as a lifestyle and as an art, not just a mere skill that is frowned upon in our society.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

Upon entering the HF society and community I was intrigued by the idea of usergroups. I began exploring groups and came upon yours, upon looking at it I knew it was where I belonged. At the time the group was closed for recruitment so I never did end up proceeding any further then stalking your threads.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I am well qualified for the group. I can use my coding knowledge to help Empire out with future projects.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm a 17 year old high school student studying in grade 11. I absolutely adore sports and I am currently on my Varsity High School Wrestling Team. Who am I is a much harder question to answer however, I spend my off-time brushing up on my skills and volunteering at local organizations such as The Salvation Army & The Junior Youth Group.

The most memorable thing that happened in my life was the first time I used a computer. I was six years old and my dad bought this computer, if we take a look at it now we would call it a "monster" but at the time it was the greatest thing ever. My dad let me use it and taught me how to use it. I used that thing every minute I got and it changed my life forever. That one day of my life shaped me into what I am now which is a computer savvy "geek".

In my personal life I am known to helping people with problems. If anything ever goes wrong i.e. a fight or anything I'm usually the first guy that gets called, I enjoy helping people and it is something I never plan on stop doing. I have literally talked people out of suicide on multiple accounts.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Family, Friends & School. I put family ahead of everything else rather it be a final term project or an exam.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Just the feeling of being apart of something greater then yourself and learning new things. There is literally an ocean of knowledge on this forum and as I have mentioned before I love learning new things.

Anything else you would like to say: I will try my hardest to be more active in the community and I would like to sincerely thank you for taking time out of your day to read my application.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I am probably most active in the exchange forum or the cryptp currency lounge.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I have always been a huge fan of The Empire, I know they are full of high quality members and I believe I can make my self more of quality (sorry if that does not make any sense) if I join this group. I believe I can really be a huge benefit to this group!

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I have been on this forum for a while more then a couple of years, just registered my account like late last year. I have already been in multiple groups such as Brother Hood and Illumanti which I still am in both groups. I believe I can really fit into The Empire and be a huge benefit towards whatever section I am put in.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: I am no ordinary, for my source of income I mine and sell some stuff on the side which gives me very good cash in my opinion for my age (5,000$ a month almost). Usually in my free time

I like to game a lot, I usually play Garry's Mod Trouble In Terrorist Town or GTA 5. If I am not gaming I am usually exchanging my currency or just relaxing the lounge. I feel like I got a lot of experience from The Brotherhood and Illumanti that I will immediately fit into The Empire if I am put in.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? My priority in my life is hands down my family and loved ones. Second is my education and then from there would have to be friends and then it goes slowly down from there like money and etc.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Just the community in general, I feel like I would fit in perfectly and I believe I am fitting in perfectly.

I'm currently a learning programmer of the C language. I'm very skilled in web development and have worked with many other users in the creation of their websites (including my own). Since age 3, I have been involved with computers intensely, and have progressed to using Linux (Arch Linux, to be more specific). I'm well at problem solving and helping those in need technologically. I have also owned many gameservers from Minecraft to Garry's Mod and have maintained web servers of my own (which I'm still doing).

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

Linux, Website Construction, and some programming subforums.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I can provide moral and tech support by staying an active, friendly, and high quality user within the community. I can provide many tutorials in the computing category and possibly teach users on various subjects. I can also provide help and services involving computing, web development, and other tech-related topics.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I'm very loyal when it comes to groups. In the previous groups I've been in, I contributed many services that furthered the group. My knowledge could help others. However, I feel I can't use any modes of persuasion that would make me seem much better than any other user.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Being raised in a very dysfunctional family, I have overcome quite the amount of adversity. Back in 2007 (age 9) our house had become foreclosed due to a family member stealing money that was to be used for utilities and other expenses. Thus, I lost my closest friends and some of the favorite things about the small town that I had lived in. The internet became a vast world for me to explore and find new interests and hobbies. I eventually joined forums upon forums and getting involved in many activities from programming to Pokemon (good times). After moving into a small house in the countryside, I had become much more involved technologically, and an ongoing addiction was rising. Technology was the place where I could be free and do as I wish, it was my own playground. I had discovered programming by simply searching "how to make a program", I was very interested in how things work (and I still am to this day). I had followed simple Visual Basic tutorials and ended up writing my own Club Penguin cheating client in VB6. I had such a great time so I decided to go onto other programming languages (and markup languages such as HTML). I learned a very small portion of Java, and am currently learning C (mentioned above). After my Visual Basic days, I got involved in the web development community. Making simple forums using software such as SMF, phpBB, and MyBB with .co.cc, .tk, and other free domain providers. I had created a reputation among my peers for being the "computer kid" and it was a great feeling to be recognized in a different manner. The motivation and ability to continue computing was still there and my addiction had gone up. I had joined places like GitHub, Bitbucket, and got heavily involved among the free and open-source software community. It was another aspect of freedom that I enjoyed, thus I'm still involved in free software and all that goods. Joining *nix enthusiast communities like UnixHub had got me going with free software, and introduced me to Linux. I started on Ubuntu (like a lot of *nixers) and eventually progressed to Fedora, Slackware, Arch, and now back to Windows. Day by day, I'm still learning new things about the operating systems I use. I had started a thirst for knowledge, but my laziness was catching up with me. I'm quite the procrastinator, my grades aren't the best (considering what they should be). My lifestyle will more than likely affect the outcome of my life, and I do realize that. Eventually my grandmother was diagnosed with dementia and other mental illnesses. The amount of distraught increased, and still exists to this day. The internet is practically my paradise, where I can break away from the outside world. With other stressful experiences including school, I have managed to control my emotions where necessary, and have taught myself to overcome these problems, building a tolerance towards it. I imagine there will be many obstacles in life to come, and I'm ready to handle them.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My priorities are to finish school, land a nice job in IT, and build a family. My family and my friends are most important to me.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

This place is a fucking addiction. It's hard to say. I just got attracted to the community and the variety in it.

Anything else you would like to say:

Thanks for taking the time to read my application.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: Most of my skills are Ewhoring (I have over 100 posts in this section giving advice and helping others) I'm also good in Ratting the feel of a new client always excites me! I'm also good at writting convincing 'essays' Here are two Examples of my work Why its BEST to be intimate with a sister/relative Why prison is the BEST place to be I mainly chose to showcase these two in my applications because those were the harderst to write. I had to come up with controversial reasons.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. My top posting sections are The Lounge, grieving, and E-Whoring

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I would like to join this group because it seems to have a nice member base. I would love to be active in the sub forum as well meet new people in this group

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel like I have contributed a lot to this forum some of the things I have done Nickchan's OMC Giveaway [Crypting Service \[All Members\] \[6/33\]](#) and Clicking links.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: Well my name is Nicholas. I was born in new jersey and have had a loving family. My childhood was great up until my late teen years. I have had depression and was hospitalized twice for this. Went to a hospital that tried to help you deal with this. The first time I went was for 8 days the second time was 12. The first time I didn't take it too serious. I mainly just wanted to get out as soon as possible and faked being happy until they let me out. However the second time I actually wanted to get help because I didn't really find anything else that would be able to help me. They helped a lot. They gave me the strength I now have to be able to live.

My name NickChan was a tripcode I made on the website called 4chan I used it on the /g/ section. I would mostly posted in desktop threads. I was pretty well known there I currently don't post there anymore. The name was made because 4chan so NickChan I thought was a clever pun ever since I used it on pretty much every site.

[color=#9400D3] Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Going back to school. Focusing on life. Making my life for the better. One day have a family.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Mostly the community. I haven't been in a community that has been so nice before.

Anything else you would like to say: Thank you for reading my application. Best of luck to all the applicants

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: I'm very skilled at marketing & selling products; you can refer to my brotherhood application here:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4160431&pid=40071614#pid40071614>

Which section are you most active in and why?: Marketplace because I take advantage of deals in the subsections and make a profit.

interests: Computing, Cooking, Reading & Learning are my main interests.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I want to join The Empire because it is a prestigious group filled with HQ members, and I would love to be apart of it and be active in the Sub-Forums.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted into The Empire because I try my heart out to be a well respected member & I treat all members with the utmost respect, If accepted I plan on staying active as much as possible and contributing all I can to The Empire Sub-Forum.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: As you've read above, (if you're still reading hopefully) my name is Matt; I'm eighteen years old & reside in Sydney, Australia. I'm in a very happy relationship with my girlfriend of a year and a half and she recently moved into my place. I don't go out as often as I used to, I prefer to stay home with my girlfriend & watch movies and browse HackForums in my spare time; As I make around 50% of my income online I'm surrounded by technology and I don't know what I'd do without it. I'm a very loving person and will help anyone in need, I usually put others needs ahead of my own, even if you're a stranger I'll do all I can to help. I have a trust issue, but not in that way. I trust people too much for my own good.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?: My Family, My Girlfriend, Money, Myself; Then everything else.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?: HackForums is like no other online community I have ever been apart of, I'm only new here but I have no plans on leaving anytime soon and hope to be here for the long run.

Anything else you would like to say:

I hope I didn't ramble off as I'm very excited about this, and am lost for words. I hope to be speaking with you soon, and to be apart of this great group!

Religion: I'm an Atheist.

State/Country: USA , New York

Time Zone: EST

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: Writing is one of my few skills. I love to write about things that actually happen in life especially about myself and my family. One of my other few skills would be sketching, I love sketching lots of things when i'm on the road. I sketch lots of cars houses even animals.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I'm mostly active in the Anime section. I just love anime especially manga that's why.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I want to join because, from everybody's experience inside the group they all suggested that I should apply as the group seems to be "HQ" also friendly to people.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel like I should be accepted because I am true to myself, I also think that I should be accepted due to my attitude towards others. I may be mean to others but I actually am nice to lots of other people. I also love to joke around with people but I don't take it to far. I also would be active in the sub forum section that I find is right for me. I'm not that much as some people call "HQ" But I will just be myself and won't make mistakes.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: My name is Manuel , but I like to be called "Manny". I love artwork also lots of other drawings/sketches. I also love to listen to music especially old school rock. I love to joke around with basically anybody but I won't go to far and make them angry or I try not to. I'm a very caring person but I could be mean if people disrespect me or try to give me a hard time.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? I would say school work in the most part. Also my artwork is basically important to me. I love to come home and just see my room full of my sketches and drawings.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Basically, my friends. Without my friends telling me about Hf I wouldn't of came here in the first place. Also once I bought I33t I became very active all around basically.

Anything else you would like to say: I just hope you guys have room for a guy like me in Empire. Thanks for giving me this chance to apply.

Name: Jake Miller

Age: Seventeen

Gender: Male

Religion: Atheist (still interested in religions tho.)

State/Country: Denmark.

Time Zone: GMT +1

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

I'm also gonna list some real life skills. Pickpocketing (This is a hobby of mine, only used it to amaze friends.)

Socializing (Don't know If a skill, but I'm good at blending in.)

Hacking (Mostly, Sniffing&Doxing. Not much of a amazing skill.)

Remote race cars (This is a HUGE hobby of mine, I love it. I can call this a skill because I've participated in many tournements.)

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'm not really active In any section more than others, but my favourit place is beginner hacking. When you cut out all the clique threads you can actually help a lot of people. I don't have many posts there but all the posts that I do have, have benefited for others.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: Well, I was in the group once, and was removed due to group changes. I was told to post an application (back when you only accepted voice applications), but the order on my computer was delayed and my headset stop'd working; my headset still dosen't work but most people In the empire have heard my voice and such. I want to join The Empire because of it's unigue familly based perspective, when i was In TE I felt like I was with family; That i want again.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: That's a though question; I don't really deserve it more than anybody else. Don't know what to answer.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: There's not much to say about me, I'm not that interesting. But what made me into the person I am today is probably that I've had a lot of responsibilty in my childhood, looking out for my siblings as i'm the oldest of us; I'm over-protective when it comes to them.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Probably my family, my friends. All the general things that we appriciate.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? I had a friend (whom have quitted HF, due to getting closed), he told me to visit this forum because I was looking to read something about VPN's and proxies. After that I visited the lounge, and that's where It started for me. The Lounge Is no longer a section I post in but i lurk around from time to time.

Anything else you would like to say: I hope to see ya'll noobs soon.

Isildur - May 19, 2014, 7:55 am

The truth is, I wanna be a member of Empire because I have never been in a group on HF. I wanna experience what its like. I also, would like to have a sexy profile with a custom userbar(like Empire, brotherhood, etc). I see others wearing custom group userbars, & selling their products on HF in the name of the group, it just looks very cool! I wanna experience the same.

This this is the true reason.... IDK if you will like it or not.. but it is the truth.

:: Coding Section & Computing (& gaming ;)). Simply because coding & computers are my life. Without these, I am incomplete. ::

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

:: Empire, is one of my favorite groups, particularly because of the name. It is also one of the most stable & old group I have seen on HF & found its members to be HQ. Hence, I would be very interested and glad to help the community in the name of The Empire as well as learn from its HQ members. ::

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

:: As stated above, The Empire is one of the most stable groups I have seen on HackForums. It is also one of my favorite because of its name. I would love to be a part of such a group whose members know their responsibility towards their group well & hence have kept it alive in the community. Another reason is that, this would be an opprutnity for me to learn as well as share my knowledge with the community in the name of the Empire. ::

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

:: Well, if you will really read my lengthy story, I would be glad, because really, I am putting my best efforts in this (you will surely find it boring the beginning.) ::

:: What happened actually in my life, that made me who I am, is MyBB. I started a forum & for the sake of its growth and development, I copied styles from different websites to make it the best in looks and hence get more members. This was my first step, in the world of coding. Doing this for over an year, I became quite learned in the field of HTML & CSS. Soon after, my forum got closed, since i was unable to pay for its hosting & domain..... And for the sake of its revival, I thought of earning money online.... I had become experienced enough in the field of Monetizing and knew that PPC & ADFLY wont help much. So I jumped to a higher class of method, Freelance coding. I initially released my themes for sale on mybb.com but did not get much sales, probably because of less reputation... etc... Finally, I decided to start making PHP scripts like mybb (yes, at that time, I did not know how complicated was that.). I started learning php, initially through homeandlearn.co.uk & found it interesting. After about a month, I got bored from internet & left it. Not only for the reason that "I was bored" but the burden of studies too. After almost 5 months (I don't remember actually.) I again came back to the online world. Again, the php got me soon when I saw Tumblr sold to Yahoo for an awesome price in the newspaper.... I again started my journey towards learning php. This time I downloaded Ebooks from some torrent website (I still remember the book, PHP 3rd edition by O'Reilly). As I read it, I started creating something. I had really no idea what i was creating, I was just trying to connect to the database & make a template engine to handle website templates. And I kept on learning... and learning... and today I proudly offer Freelance PHP coding service on various forums including HF. ::

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

:: Self Respect, Honor, Family, Good Friends & Hard Word of others in something are the only things I prioritize in my life. Honor & Respect are the most important things for me. According to me, Life has no meaning for a man who has no self respect & who is honored by none. ::

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

:: Speaking truly, The desire to earn & learn are the only reasons that I joined hackforums. ::

Anything else you would like to say:

:: "I, by the power of truth, have conquered the world."

Being trusted, Honored & having self respect, are the vital things, I survive on. Because without these, Life is meaningless.::

*I cannot post a video application, though I wanted to, because I have very slow internet speed. I hope, because of this reason, the video application requirement may be overlooked. Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. Marketplace/The Lounge/secondary sellers Because i have sales, in the market section ,interests in the lounge. Also League of legend marketing within Secondary sellers section.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: Apart from Empire being an amazing group, I would like to join Empire for the experience which it withholds; Also the social aspect of the group and the chance to try new things, and have a wider future.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:
I try my best to be HQ. I give back to the community as much as I can so I feel as though having such an opportunity would be the community, giving back to me for everything I've done for it.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: I'm an outgoing and upfront person, I don't like bias people or sly people. I'm the sort of person to tell you my honest opinion of you or my surroundings. I don't sugar coat things for my own; or my peers benefits. I do like to troll, but I know my limits and I don't let that side of me effect my marketing or buisness traits. I stay professional when need be, but I'm a social person and an open person outside business matters.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Respect, Honesty, Virtue & Being Stable.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? A select few of HQ members that took note of my contribution to the community and made me feel welcome and important something i lack alot of in real life due to personal reasons

Anything else you would like to say: If I'm given the opportunity to join this amazing group, I will represent it to my best ability. I don't see groups as a userbar I see it as a new door opening, with thousands of new opportunities. Thanks for reading my application, best of luck everyone.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Learning web application pen testing. SQLi, not just UNION based or WAF bypass, I'm learning boolean based.

XSS, again, learning more.

ELI

RFI/LFI

Finding arbitrary file upload vulnerabilities

Shelling methods, including load_file, modifying http headers, etc

I'm very adept with botnets. The set up of, minor development (I am taking classes this summer on C, so I can easily learn C++ and PHP), and profiting with.

I'm decently adept with marketing, SEO, and boosting SERP rankings.

I'm honestly interested in learning almost anything, and that's the most important feature I could name.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. Maybe the Marketplace, yet the places I enjoy the most are the Pentesting and Forensics and the Botnets, Zombies and IRCs section.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: In the end, a learning opportunity. I feel like I could give my knowledge and receive even more. Its a respectable group, and I'd love to be a part.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: Even though I didn't customize the application, or make a voice/video, I'd love to get accepted because I have a lot to offer and a lot to learn. I could help within this group to repay the knowledge I could receive from it. I would try my personal best to give the group a better name than it already has, and that's saying something.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Memorable.. Ha. Such a trivial word. What's some strange occurrence in my life? It's been one whirlwind of misfortune with enough lights to keep me going. I'm a young guy trying to dig a family buried in poverty out into the fortune they deserve. I'm doing it in methods I can enjoy and that work very well.

Again. It all comes down to learning. Learning to enjoy. Learning to prosper. Learning to teach. Enjoying life to overcome stress, to find a light where its dark, you just do whatever you can. Anything. Have a goal. Always have a goal.

Mine is to learn. The more I learn, the better I feel, the more I can prosper, the more I can teach.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? My priorities lie in my family. Loyalty is most important.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? There was a lot to learn here. It stops after so long, and you take the place of the "Noob helpers".

Anything else you would like to say:

Does rep or awards show your skills or who you are? The only rep leaders are concerned about is scam reps or scam reports.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: I have skills in graphics, I use Photoshop & Cinema 4D mostly. Programming, I code in C++ and I use the VBS Ultimate as my IDE. I'm also a gym addict, so I have good experience in nutrition and exercise, if that'll ever be needed.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I'm most active in the "Graphics section, mainly the "Free Graphics Request" as I like to help out members that do not have the money to afford graphics or that just want something done, I'm there most of the time to help out.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I want to join The Empire because I've never been in a group on Hack Forums before, and I'd like to show my dedication and quality of myself, and represent The Empire the best I can.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel I should be accepted because I do my best to help everyone around on Hack Forums, make sure everyone get's the help they need. I respond very positively to everyone around me, making sure everyone are comfortable.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: Something really memorably that happened to me was that a few years ago, my dad got the opportunity to work in another country. So I moved from Denmark which was were I'd been living for the past fifteen years, to Singapore, where I've lived for now two years. It have changed be to be a better person because I focus more on school here now, I have a girlfriend and really good friends that changed me to the better.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Currently my priorities in life is to have good academic scores. To be successful in life and to spend time with the people I love the most, to enjoy my time as much as I can possibly do.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Hack Forums is one of a kind. I've tried other forums and they just don't have that spirit that HF has. It feels so magically to be on Hack Forums in some way, something that all other forums will never achieve.

Anything else you would like to say: I'd like to thank you for reading my application. I hope it wasn't weird that I posted a video with an application, felt like doing both.

Thank you for your time,

Ares

Gaming

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'm most active in the following sections: Beginner hacking

League of Legends sub-forum

Rate my graphics

Here do you find the reasons of activity: First of all mainly the Beginner hacking section because it's the place where I can help newbies with question related to hacking. I like to help people and I always answer questions and PM them if they need help.

Secondly the LoL sub-forum because it's a very nice game I play quite a lot and I really enjoy watching videos, screenshots and such in this section. I like to talk about the game and really enjoy playing this game.

The RMG section, I like to give good critique to people so they can improve their masterpiece, I like to help these people with saying what can be better, what they have done good or not that good and what are their mistakes in their design. I always give up-building critique since it helps these people, along with tips and tricks.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: Because it feels like a family, a real lounge group which is very nice to be in since I was in the group back in the days but got kicked by inactivity since my pc was broken. I could contribute tutorials, helping other people, being very active in the sub-forum and starting a helpdesk and such.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: Because I meet all recruitments to join the group and since I'm a really active and friendly member that can help other members and contribute many things with the group.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: My name is Marouane and I'm interested in mainly ICT including web security, coding and such and want to get into this. Next year I want to follow this study so I can enjoy school since I hate it.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? My parents that support me a lot in my life.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Learning, I was really interested in web security and hacking and this forum helped me a lot with it, I have learnt quite a lot and I'm here also a bit and that will keep like that.

Anything else you would like to say: Let me rejoin this awesome group noobs! ?

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: According to Bandors, it's an amazing and HQ group of members where I can learn stuff.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I personally think I deserve to be in The Empire cause I think personally, I'm an awesome guy. I'm willing to do anything, if it's within reason.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: Well something quite memorable would be joining HF a year ago. I joined HF in 2012. When I joined, I was like what is a RAT, how do I hit people offline etc. I learned quite a bit from HF and made a lot of friends here. I'm happy to be in Nexus, there are a lot of people who can teach me things, such as playing league, or learning how to hack (Bandors was there). I want to be able to learn more, and expand on my knowledge.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:
I got quite a few skills which I'll name after the sections we have on HackForums.

1. Hacking

Spoiler (Click to View)

When I joined this forum I already had knowledge about RATting, I've been helping out quite a lot of people and even run a helpdesk with my friend.

The main reason I joined HF was to obtain more knowledge around Hacking, I've been pretty active in learning web hacking methods as SQL Injecting, Local File Inclusion etc.

I'm still trying to expand my knowledge within this scene as I am not an expert within any forms of hacking.

3. Computing

Spoiler (Click to View)

I've been working with computers for a few years now, as a child I already loved to play on my PC. I became gaining more interests in Computing, hardware related, and started to put my own PC together on the age of 14.

After finishing my school, I started studying computing and networking.

As I already said, I've been studying computing and networking, most of it was Windows based but also some Linux parts came handfull.

I managed to set up a whole server including DHCP, DNS, NAT, AD on Windows as well as Linux.

I also obtained knowledge about Firewalls, Mail Servers etc.

I've been writing guides on how to set this all up properly.

I could also provide proof about the above.

As I am still a student, which needs to be provided with more knowledge, I've been setting up a paid service in my town.

I'm repairing their computers and cleaning them up.

3. Coding

Spoiler (Click to View)

To understand the basics around Web Hacking I had to obtain knowledge around Programming either, so I started to learn myself PHP.

On my study I already obtained knowledge around HTML and CSS so that came quite handfull either.

My main language is, and will possibly stick at VB.NET, created a lot of tools within it and I am currently working on my latest project which I hope will be released on HackForums soon.

4. Gaming

Spoiler (Click to View)

I played quite a few games such as CoD 4 and CSGO.

I've been playing CoD 4 on competitive level, but stopped playing it because it's not gaining any attention anymore. My main game is currently CSGO.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I'm currently active in the 2 sub forums:

1. Networking, Routers, Switches, and Firewalls

I've been studying Networking a lot as I was always interested behind the infrastructure, I'm planning to make this my job later so I'm pretty serious within Networking.

2. Remote Administration Tools

I'm trying to help out as much people as possible to start of with RATting, I've been hosting a helpdesk and helped out lots of members.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

The Empire was my first group ever and had an amazing time within the group, kicked out due to inactivity, which I do not have any excuse for.

I'm visiting the forum more than once every day and I am able to keep myself active within The Empire.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I'm a helfull member with a lot of patient.

I am always trying to help people out with their problems and give them advice on what they can do better next time or how to prevent this will be happening in the future.

I am a socialized guy which likes to have a nice chat or talk over Skype / Teamspeak etc.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

My real life name is Job, I am 19 years old and live in The Netherlands.

I've been sporting for over 10 years, my main sport is Snowboarding as I am doing this for over 5 years and played a bit of competitive but never passed it to the finals or even semi-finals.

A memorable thing in my life is that my died unfortunatly died by a car accident, this is when I learned that family was an important part of your life as I really needed them in that time and they were there for me.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

My family is by far the most important thing in my life, as a kid I learned that family is everything and I will do anything to keep my connections with them as good as possible.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

It kept my attention by the knowledge around the forums, I've learned a lot during my stay here and still expending my knowledge during browsing around the forum.

Anything else you would like to say:

Thanks for taking your time to read through my application, hope that I'll be accepted as this was my first group and had an amazing time.

Kind Regards,
zERaIT?

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

My skills would probably be troubleshooting for OSX, IOS and Android.

I'm literally born between Apple computers. My dad taught me everything and I learned even more about it myself. There's only a handful of stuff I don't know yet. But I like to learn :)

Well, for the IOS part it's pretty simple. I was into jailbreaking. It taught me a lot about the IOS software.

Same goes for Android. As a IOS user, changing over to Android was a big step. Yet I think it's the best step I took so far.

I'm simply amazed of what kinds of stuff you can do with it.

I'm currently into rooting and stuff like that.

Another skill of mine would be GFX and VFX.

I learn both of these in school and I just love doing it.

In school I get pretty much every Adobe program (Illustrator, InDesign, Photoshop, Premiere, After Effects, Dreamweaver)

I'm not the best in any of these, but it's what I like to do and I guess that's what counts.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

The sections I like to post in are:

Apple Mac and OS X

Android Operating System

iOS and iDevices

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

The Empire is always a group that really stood out to me. It seemed like an HQ group with knowledgeable members.

The members are really nice to each other and seem to know each other really well. This is really what a "group" is supposed to be.

(And the UB looks fucking amazing ^^)

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

As I said above, I think The Empire is a group filled with knowledge.

I think that I could make this knowledge even richer with what I know since it's not something every HF member does.

Also getting to know some new friendly people would be nice!

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'm really an easy person, I don't ask too much and I'm happy with the simple stuff in life.

I've got my moments that I just don't care about anything else and just enjoy living my life.

My hobby's are skateboarding, freerunning and BMX. As you may notice these are sports wich really give you kick so that's what I like!

I just like to forget about problems and enjoy the moment.

I've got a family with 1 mom, 3 sisters and a CRAPTON of animals.

I guess you could say I live in a zoo. :)

I also got a mentor for web design because that's another thing I love to do. Once I finished his lessons I can work for the dude.

I currently have a job at the supermarket and I'm a monitor at a skate camp this summer.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

Tough you may think I don't care about problems and stuff like that, I think making it in life is important

I'd like to get a good job to take care of my future family.

Thing is that I'm kind of a lazy person. I failed 2 years because I was too lazy. But I finally study for school now.

The most important thing in my life would probably be my girlfriend.

I'd give everything up for her just to make her happy.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

Good question.

I joined the forum to learn how to hack, but I think I stayed for the community. It's just a nice place to be with mostly nice people.

Also it gives me a good feeling when I help out people with their problems and I think this forum is a good place to do so.

Anything else you would like to say:

Not really. I just really hope you'd let me join. It'd be a dream coming true since this is a group I really look up to.

Good luck to everyone!

Not unless you had scam reports really. We just check your profile for stuff like that or if you're heavily associated with drama around the site. Usually it doesn't come into play unless you've scammed.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: I work for the local ISP so I believe I am really good with trouble shooting network problems. I also help with Email hosting and really just about anything that is ISP related. I also have my A.A.S. in CIS and am currently enrolled at ASU for my B.S. in Information Tech.

Which section are you most active in and why? I am very active in the give away/member contest section. I have give away well over 2k OMC as well as upgraded three members in the last two months. I have also given away two copies of DayZ. I believe in giving back to the community that has helped me with oh so much lol. I am also starting to get into PC Gaming much more.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: From what I have seen you guys are really nice and hq. I know HQ gets thrown around a lot but I had to say it. I like the fact that I don't see a million people running around with your badge. It makes it a little bit more elusive.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: Why not is really the question. I feel that I would be a great addition and would love to make more friends on HF and I believe this group will be a great start for this. I am always learning and love to share my knowledge.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: Well I do believe that life is all about change. I came from a very poor family and lost both parents at a young age. I found my mother dead from a self inflicted gunshot to the head, when I was 17. That's when things really changed for me. I did a lot of bad things in my life, from drugs to getting arrested for several different things. I have to say that I have come a long ways. I was homeless for a bit, but now I consider my self to be pretty successful. I went to college with I was 27 and also found the woman of my dreams. I have a beautiful 8 year old daughter that has made me who I am today. Sorry there is much more but I feel like I'm whining haha.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Priority number one is my family, then it's my job. I absolutely love my job. Was not easy getting a company job like with tattoos down both arms and on my neck lol. I will never give it up haha.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? I actually haven't been that super active until recently. I joined back when I first started college and it really consumed my life. Now that I'm out and have a decent job I plan on being super active. You can tell in the last two months I have really be getting with it. I find this forum to be really fun and it opens my eyes to a lot of things that I wouldn't normally have seen.

Anything else you would like to say: I'm pretty long winded. I should probably proof read this but I will after I post to make sure I don't sound super dumb lol. I know I'm a little older than most on here but feel that I have plenty to offer to the right group. I hope it's you guys.

I am also a very devout pianist. I've played for years, but never taken lessons until the middle of 2013. It's something I'm very passionate about and I strive to get better at it. I'm also the most skilled coder on HackForums as most obviously shown by my usertitle.

Which section are you most active in and why?: I am most active in the Lounge. The reason for that is simple, it is the most popular subforum. I post in every thread that is relatable to me after searching through the "View New Posts" page. More times than not, the Lounge accounts for almost half those posts on the page.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I've been in a few groups throughout my time on HackForums with the Empire being my first and I can safely say it was the group that I enjoyed the most. Everyone is friendly with one another and it just feels like one big happy family. It's a place where I can interact with really cool people.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I deserve to be accepted into the Empire because I've been in the subforum and I can leak everything if I don't get accepted you noobs! (Kidding! I'm kidding!) I honestly don't know what makes me Empire material, I can't judge myself, everyone wants to make themselves out to be some Godlike person who is great at everything, but who would I be to say that's who I am? I strive to be "high quality" with more than half of my threads being giveaways and I'm always looking to be kind and help other users, but more than that, I strive to be real. I'm not some internet badass or some extreme l33t hack3r/cod3r, but I am a real person that loves/cares/hates/eats/sleeps/cries/urinates and that's what I try to show through my posts, not some persona.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: The most memorable thing in my life? I was saved by the Lord Jesus Christ! I'm very open about my religion, but I would never judge anyone else for their beliefs. I believe my religion has made me an overall nicer, more caring, and happier person. My religion is what made me who I am. Another thing that is quite important to me is my family. When they are sad, I am sad. When they are happy, I am happy and so on and so forth.

As for general things about myself, I prefer Android over Apple (sorry Adam!) because I believe anything Apple is just a $1,000 toy. I do, however, own a few Apple products that I've received for free. My favorite band is twenty | one | pilots because I love how they put passion into every single one of their songs. Their lyrics make sense and are not about sex and drugs. They can rap with meaning and not just what people want to hear, some of their songs can only be described as beautiful. My favorite color is yellow because that was my favorite color as a child and it stuck with me, it just calms me to see the color yellow. My favorite number is seven, not because it's a lucky number, but because I thought it was a cool looking prime number. I'm not 100% sure what I want to do with my future, but I'm almost positive that I want to join the United States Marine Corps. After that, I'd like to become a teacher, possibly a airplane pilot. I have many favorite television shows. Some that come to mind are "Dexter," "Supernatural," "Better of Ted," "Psych," "Chuck," "Nikita," and "Revolution." I try to put my hardest work and effort into everything that I do and hopefully that is evident in this application. My favorite animal is an elephant because they are big and cute and cuddly. My favorite movie genre is horror, not because I like the blood and gore, but because I love the scare and feeling you get while watching the movie. My favorite book is the entire "Harry Potter" series because I dislike reading, but Harry Potter is one of the best reads ever. My favorite sport is basketball because I find it really fun to shoot a ball through a hoop and the feeling you get when you actually get it in. My favorite food is sushi because I love sticky rice, I enjoy the spicy shrimp ones the most. My favorite snack is "Andy Capp's Hot Fries" because I grew up on them and I could still eat them every day today. My favorite game console is the Nintendo Gamecube because I am a huge Nintendo fanboy, I grew up on the console, it has a great library of games, and honestly it's good, clean, quality fun; what, in my opinion, a game is supposed to be like. That's a short list of things about me that I can think of on the top of my head.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?: As previously stated, God and family are the most important things in my life. Why, because they give me a reason to live. To get up everyday wanting to live. It is also important to myself that I am kind and trustworthy to people. It's simply in my nature to show kindness to others, I can't even kill a spider without feeling bad for an hour. I'm glad I'm like that, there are too many rude and mean people in this world that would do anything for power and money, but forget to live life.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?: It was definitely the community. I enjoy coming on this site. I love getting on everyday and interacting with others who share the same interests, do the same things, and want to talk to me. It fills me with great joy giving away things to other less fortunate users that I don't even know as I know the situation. I just simply. Love. Being. Here.

Anything else you would like to say: I just want to take this opportunity to humbly say thank you. I've been waiting forever for another chance to get into the Empire and even if I do not get accepted, I truly appreciate the opportunity! Stay noobin'!

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I feel i deserve to be in empire because i contribute to Hack Forums whenever i can and i have helped all that ask me to help them.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: I am a 16 year old with A.D.H.D. I am in love with computers and Hookahs they make my life complete. I am very active online. I spend most of my free time coding and smoking. I am street smart, I know how to handle situations in which others would freak out. I remember how i got started hacking. One day i was playing minecraft and a few people asked me if i wanted to make a YouTube video. They told me their Skype and added me to a call. When in the cal they said they lied and they wanted me to try their force op. Me being Gullible and inexperienced with viruses accepted this offer. They sent me the file and of course it was a Rat. I was talking to them and they started to do weird things with my computer making error messages pop up opening my disc tray etc. so i shut off my pc. when i booted it back up i called them and asked them to teach me to hack they sent me darkcomet and told me to join the forums so here i am now they taught me how to infect people create viruses and e.t.c. I learned a lot from them they were going to charge me for teaching me to "hack" but i told them my story. I come from a poor background i live in a trailer park. They understood and gave me darkcomet for free. I have been hacking for a while and i no longer call rattng hacking lol.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Helping my mom pay the bills and providing for my family.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? I found some of the threads interesting and thought i could learn a lot by sticking around. and so i have.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: I am very experienced with JavaScript, HTML and CSS. I also think I am good at games. My main skill is being social and making new friends (what I would love to do more).

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I am very active in Minecraft subforum and Marketplace. I also look around other parts or Hack Forums but those are the main two.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I would love to join empire for many reasons. Such as I want to join a Family group that feels like a Family and is Family. I also want to join because I think The Empire can benefit from me and I can benefit from empire, the reasons why The Empire can benefit from me is because I can help many people in the family with my Skills and I will make them proud with high quality posts and good grammar, and the reason why I can benefit from The Empire is because I will learn a lot more skills such as marketing and more types of programming such as Java, and I am sure if I need some help people will be as more then happy to help me as I would to them.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I think I deserve to be in The Empire because The Empire can benefit from me quite a bit from high quality posts and helping people out whether it is do to with JavaScript, HTML and CSS to in real life problems.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: When I was 2 my mother bailed on us, Iv'e never heard or seen her since. 4 Years ago my father was diagnosed with cancer and passed away 2 years ago in 2012. My father was a amazing designer and a fabulous father and worked for huge companies, that inspired me to become what I am today, I'm currently working for some huge sites and organisations. I'm currently living in Sydney Australia with my Grandmother. So that is something that is very memorable too me... And also the reason why, who I am today. I also just got diagnosed with ADHD so it is hard for me to learn what I have learnt.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? I love playing sports with my friends and I am totally devoted to my Grandmother and other family members. I also love my games and helping people.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Well actually when I first joined I didn't really come on until about 1 or 2 months ago and I have been very active since. Well what motivated me was wanted to continue what my father did and to join big companies which I am now in. Also I came on for the Gaming section because I love my games.

Anything else you would like to say: Thank you for reading my application today and I hope we can benefit from each other in many years to come.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I would like to join The Empire because I have heard many good things about this group. I also love the name and colour of the group

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I believe that I am worthy of joining The Empire because I help out the site and the people on it any way I can. I have held a few contests and giveaways and I have made a thread that helps users, both new and old, to better understand the slang commonly used on Hack Forums.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I am going to start off by saying that I am far from perfect and I will never claim to be, no matter how much I act like it. Now, on to the dreaded task of describing myself. I see myself as a person that is compassionate, determined, and helpful. I always try my best to be nice to others, even if they aren't nice to me at first. Whenever I get a task to do, I will do it no matter what. Also, I will go out of my way to help out others, even if it inconveniences me.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

I would have to say that family comes first before anything else, but that's how most people are. There are other things that take priority after my family like school, relationships, and friends.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

I'll be honest here, when I first joined I was only here to have other people "hack" things for me. But after a while I started to look in other places and I saw how nice the rest of the site is. So I started to browse other sections, like the Minecraft section and The Lounge, and I realized that I was interested in these things like other people were. I then started to make posts in these places and started to enjoy it. Ever since then I have thrived to be as high quality as possible and to help out others as much as I can.

My Skills are basicly Marketing, Coding, MC Building Builder.

Marketing:

I am really good at marketing as you see back in my HQ ebooks. I make money By using the internet. By using diffrent methods. I also teach other people how to make money. I sell a lot of stuff on Hackforums/IRL.

Coding:

I code some stuff in visual basic 2008/2010 i know its not a hardcore Language but still its nice to know the language you can make really nice apps with it. I learned it myself when i was like 12 years old.

MC Building Builder:

I make HQ buildings in MC for money, I do this on servers most fo the time i also make building plans for them so they can build it themself this is also marketing again as i use this also to make money.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.

I am most active in Marketplace. As i sell a lot of stuff in there thats why i use marketplace the most. I am also active in the Freebies and giveaway section nothing is better to help out other members with stuff they need.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I want to join empire becouse i want to help getting empire bigger better and with tons of people in it like diffrent people like we have sellers, GFX designers etc. And i would love to help with that to get the group bigger.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

to say that someone deserves to be in in is a little ego but if i should say a reason then its becouse i help out a lot of people and i am a friendly user. And i would love to make the empire stronger.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

Well in the past i got bullied a lot they bullied me for over 11 years wich made me full of anger and that also made me silenced. Its also the reason i cant really say something positive about myself. Further i am nineteen years old i live in the netherlands. I am living together with my Girlfriend and my girlfriend and i are in a horrible situation our money balance is like -20000 together wich happend trough a social worker who told us to quit school so we lost all our income now we getting money from the state till september then we have to find work or go to school again wich is quite hard becouse in the netherlands is finding a job really hard and school is no option becouse if i go to school again our balance would be -40000+ when we are done with school i have to do social engineering to get ourself some food and drinks we also going to the foodbank or something wich gives free food. that is really my story atm. and i see hackfourms as a place where i can be when i am mad or sad or whatever.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

The thing wich is most important to me is my girlfriend as she is all i need ?

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?
The community caused me to stay the community is really friendly and nice.

Anything else you would like to say:

Whatever you choose to accept this app or not i accept your choice thats all i want to say.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: I am trying my best to be a good programmer and I think I am not very bad at it. Here is an archive of what I've coded (github.com/ripperhf). In addition, I do believe I am good at both mathematics and writing essays. I basically have the highest marks in my class when it comes to both.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests: I do not have a section in which I am most active, and honestly, I do not know.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: I want to benefit the HF community and I've found it a great chance to do so here.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I am not sure I deserve to be accepted but personally, I do hope I get accepted nonetheless because I hope to help with whatever I can.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: I started programming about one and a half years ago. I do not know if people would like the person I am, but here goes nothing. I am basically an introverted person, very introverted at that. In addition, I am mostly isolated in real life as I don't go out nor do I have anyone where I live that I can call a friend (I moved houses.) I don't fully know what made me who I am today.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? Programming, Mathematics, and helping people when possible. (Whether with personal things or with maths.)

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? I am simply interested in the forum and it acts as mostly a way to spend my time.

Anything else you would like to say: Not really. Good luck to everyone. :)

Religion: Raised Christian, slowly developing into a deist

State/Country: Florida/ United States

Time Zone: Eastern Standard

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: I am a very good competitive player, Leader, business manager, negotiator, monetizing, and much more. A key example of my leading skills are with TeamAeRa (My current team). This team was on the edge of ending and one of the most hated teams in the community and now generally has a good rep and 15,000 subscribers! A great monetizing example that is still current is my revenue growth on TeamAeRa. Since becoming leader I have gotten the average profit from $70/month to almost $400.

Which section are you most active in and why?

This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. I am mostly active in the gaming sector. The reason behind me using the gaming section more is because HF has a lot of LQ members in other forums here solely to leech and distribute LQ products. In the Gaming Sector members are generally very chill and knowledgeable at the same time.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: The biggest reason for me wanting to join The Empire is I have had several encounters with members and each time they came off respectful, informative, and very relaxed which doesn't tend to fit the average group on HF (in my opinion).

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I think I deserve to join The Empire because I have a lot to offer this group and vice versa. I feel being in this group I will not only get the chance to meet some cool people, but also pick up a lot of new trades which make me a more reliable asset.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who you are: My friends call me Mete, I am a junior this year in high school. I play basketball during free and bored time and I am a giving, respectful, responsible, and honest person. I am a very dedicated hard working person I continue what I do to thrive and achieve goals. And to improve my ways on things and help the needy if in need or help such as the non money earns to buy or get things. I earn a surplus of YouTube revenue per month for monetizing my channels and being partnered under the networks Fullscreen and Vultra (Bentpixels). The very first console I had for gaming was a Nintendo 64 and loving Donkey Kong games most of time. The current console I play the is Xbox 360 and Xbox One. I play mostly FPS titles but lately have found myself playing more RPGs, Indies, Fighting, and Simulation titles. But most of all I love playing the Call Of Duty and Halo series, my favorite game is Call Of Duty Modern Warfare 2. But a very good thing I would like to join this group because I can see my career in this group of growing in specific area to learn more. This is one of the few groups out there that I feel I can actually grow mentally in as opposed to just parading around with the title.

Thank you for your time.

Where do your priorities in life lie?

What is most important to you? #1 Family and friends #2 Education #3 Success

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? The users that remain HQ on HF are the reason I stay. Even the HQ members who don't know much but will stretch out and ask assistance or guidance.

Anything else you would like to say: Thanks for hosting this RC and I hope I get in ?? I have just finished my 11th grade year and am preparing to do an AP exam I missed so I am not able to do the commentary by the time this end. I wish I could have though -__-

So yeah since then I'm just myself and not telling lies in my apps, I think it really helps you to get in groups. I don't think any owner would like a lying cunt in his group. Nobody's perfect, that's just the way it is.

Explain, with detailed examples, where some of your skills: I'm pretty decent with GFX, I do Forum Managing with MyBB, and SMF. I design MyBB themes, I help with MyBB, and I make a lot of forums. I'm pretty decent with coding, other than that I'm a good hand art artist and I am pretty decent with Electronics in general.

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibaBQJZ2be6Yi9.gif[/img]

Which section are you most active in and why? Anime Adventures, Webmaster Construction, Website Showcase, Official HF Sections. Mostly because they are my hobbies and I like to help others is all, no big reason as to why otherwise.

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibaBQJZ2be6Yi9.gif[/img]

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: Well, I've been in it a few times and I was in it recently but kicked without reason. The Empire is one of my favorite groups as its pretty friendly and not too high in requirements and standard. Overall the group is fun and filled with a good amount of amazing users. The Empire is Life

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibaBQJZ2be6Yi9.gif[/img]

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: Well i don't honestly, i am still sort of new to the foruma nd still a lot to learn. Although i know you could use someone like me, i am useful in Tech, Gaming, GFX, Web design, Learning Fast, Helping, Teaching & just giving advice in general.

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibaBQJZ2be6Yi9.gif[/img]

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: Well, this will sound a bit weird but anime and gaming makes me who I am, a bunch of anime series are very inspiring to change myself which makes me the man i am today. Gaming also changes me to a cry baby honestly, but anime makes me stronger. My hobbies are Gaming, GFX, Web design, Basketball, Helping Others, hanging out with friends, Chatting, watching anime, drawing, Martial Arts etc... I'm most good with Computers, Art, Martial Arts, Physical Education, Web Design and GFX. All my life I have grown up looking down at the floor, but now i look up into the sky dreaming to soar like a crow in the sky, with wings. Ehh you wouldn't understand. I know your not looking for someone that isn't afraid to show emotion and be real in a application, but I don't want to be a fake person just to get in. Besides all this, I am a nice calm guy and if you look at my Rep many people seem to like me even though i tells em how i sees em.

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibaBQJZ2be6Yi9.gif[/img]

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? What is most important to me you ask? Well I love computers and tech in general, although I love martial arts , gaming and such things... Life is just as fun as the technology genius life. I know many people would call someone of my potential a "Low-Life" but that would be implying that I have less life than you have meaning i will die sooner D: and i know that's not true! But all in all, I live to help others and in my opinion that is all that matters.

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibaBQJZ2be6Yi9.gif[/img]

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Well, a lot of my friends use to talk about this and i didn't exactly know what it was so i never really payed attention too it. But now i am very active (Daily) and this is the only website i am apart of besides about 5 others. HackForums has many stations and is the best of its kind of website. It has many nice individuals and many not so nice.

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibaBQJZ2be6Yi9.gif[/img]

Anything else you would like to say:

I really hope i will be accepted into the empire, i really want to expand my knowledge in each subject you have to offer. I know this group is very HQ, this will be the Second group ive joined so far on HF... the only other groups i am in is "Complexity" & / my main group "HF L33T" i know you get many applications so this wont be easy for me to get in. But i do meet the requirements so i hope i am accepted. Sorry for wasting your time if i am not accepted.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: I can solve most of my programming issues by utilizing Google, which is also what I tell the guys here to do before they post a completely unnecessary thread. My actual skills are: fictional story creation (the initial plot is the hardest point of the path for me), general programming in C, C++, D, ASM, Python, CLI, and pretty soon I'll be able to add Java to that list since I'm taking a Java-based computer science class next year. I also help out aquarium owners in the pet section.

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibaBQJZ2be6Yi9.gif[/img]

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests. Recently I've been watching all the bullshit going on with groups lately, but mostly lurk in the programming sections (specific subforums for the ones mentioned above). I force the kiddos to learn the best way on how to understand this forum: the hard way, just like I did three years ago.

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibaBQJZ2be6Yi9.gif[/img]

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: Just to see what exactly happens within a group like it. Legion was shit, and supposedly has kicked a lot of the idiots that were in the group.

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibaBQJZ2be6Yi9.gif[/img]

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?: I probably don't deserve to be accepted, but assume someone sensible would invite me so I can just see what goes on in a group like the Empire.

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibaBQJZ2be6Yi9.gif[/img]

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you: The following wall of text is not phony, fake, illegitimate, or a lie in any way, shape, or form.

In June of 2012, I wrote a really gory letter about some stupid shit, and my mother read it. The next day, I was sent to a full-on, lock-down mental institution for ten days. In those ten days, I lied my way out of that shithole to get back home. My first day there, some Arabian mental analyst or whatever the fuck he was, "tested" me to see if I needed to go into the hospital... through a mother fucking webcam bolted to the wall. He asked me a ton of bullshit questions to see if I'd flip out or whatever, and at the beginning, asked me to remember the words "apple", "green", and "book". At the end of the "evaluation", I repeated the three words he pulled out of his ass in the same order, was completely calm, and yet he still felt I needed to be put in. Probably just for the assload of money my parents paid for keeping my ass in there. Anyways, the first night, they gave me 10mg of Abilify, some anti-depressant that caused me to gain about fifty pounds later on, without even slowly administering the drug and leading up to the final, largest dosage, 10mg. No, instead, they put me directly on to 10mg, and I was drowsy the whole day, every day I was there. Two days in, they separated us guys from the girls, and we went downstairs. The third day, a couple of guys and me just walked down the hallway and sat down right in the sunlit area where you could actually see outside. We talked all day, and one guy (that I thought I'd seen before where I used to live) split his nicotine pills and gave them out to the other guys. I didn't take any because I'm not that stupid. So, on the ninth day I was there, this older guy came to the back of the hallway where we sat, bawling and sobbing. He eventually came to say that the Arabian "doctor" is going to send him to Mississippi for rehab. Now, I got to thinkin', and he claims he only got drunk once, and we're in Kingwood, and they're sending him... to fuckin' Mississippi. This is really stupid. I told him, "it's all for the money, dude."

Then, on the last day, my doctor told me she didn't think I was ready to be discharged (heh heh, "discharged") yet. I lied my way out and managed to somehow get out with all my senses unaffected. I now warn all of those who want to bring a knife to school or something of the sort, of the things that could happen to them if they got caught. You know, that "zero tolerance policy"? It's not illegal if you don't get caught. And as long as you don't tell anyone, you won't get caught. The only time I brought a pocket knife to school was because some black boys said they were going to "beat me up". I brought a pocket knife (that came free in my father's can of red Grizzly snuff) to protect myself, and nothing happened. I didn't get caught. You know why, I didn't tell anyone. The only reason students can't bring a gun or knife to school is because of the stupid fucks that decide to shoot up twenty kids just because someone called them a name. Pretty soon, you won't be able to bring a manual pencil sharpener to school because it's got a "deadly weapon" on it, which is actually just a razor blade screwed to a plastic container. What is someone going to do, mutilate me? With that tiny thing? It's getting so bad that I imagine that you won't be able to bring a sharp pencil to school because you can stab someone with it.

Okay, moving on. When I was "discharged" from the insane asylum, I went home, and, while still on the same, 10mg Abilify shit, slept. All. Fucking. Day. For weeks, this went on. Eventually, my parents admitted me to some "day hospital" about seventy-five miles from where I used to live. I spent six weeks there, still lying my way through all the therapy bullshit, and "graduated" from the hospital. Like a stated earlier, I gained about fifty pounds because of Abilify. I'm currently visiting a decent, experienced psychiatrist and M.D., and am taking 120mg of Geodon, in addition to 10mg of melatonin to help me sleep. Hopefully that's enough of a story for this application. If you want more, I'll be glad to do so.

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibaBQJZ2be6Yi9.gif[/img]

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you? School, for now. I'm just attempting to get a passing grade and not have to retake this year all over again.

[img]http://i.minus.com/ibaBQJZ2be6Yi9.gif[/img]

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? Personal amusement keeps me going. All of the ridiculous bullshit that goes on with everything is hilarious.

Seriously he is a great guy, I used to talk to him all the time although not much anymore I would still like to see him in The Empire and I think he would be great in the group. As far as is attitude towards others in the past couple of pages, look at how many people started bashing his application because it is text. There is no reason for anyone to treat him poorly because he just went with text.

Don't worry about further updating your application.

Also to speak on what some of you discussed last night, making it super pretty doesn't change much, just make sure it's clean enough that it's easy to read, not some super bright purple or crazy crap that hurts our eyes, we'll just skip and move on if it's hard to read. The people we tend to accept are the ones that have content about themselves, not just about HF. We are looking for people who will be themselves, not some fake person. That tends to be harder to find in text applications, so while we do let it quite a few, only about 1/6th of the ones that get in last more than a month before getting removed.

Just be yourself, show that in your application, and make sure it won't hurt our eyes when reading it.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

Truthfully, my people skills and my gaming skills are the two that stick out the most. Aside from my desire to learn and never stop until I learn something completely, these two skills are the reason why I have stayed here for so long.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests:

Inneudo, Gaming (Runescape + Halo), graphics, hacking, webmasters and SSRP. The rest of the sections --> I love them for a reason.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I was in here way before, and fit along perfectly. Due to an argument and someone flaming me because my stomach disease, I did not want to be belittled like that so I asked to get removed.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

Like I said, I really fit well in the group before. Aside from that ONE person who made things really bad, the rest of the group was supportive and easy to talk to. My type of people.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I can get along quite well with people, understand where they are coming from in certain situations and relate to them. I'm the type of person who would actually be there for someone when they need someone to talk to. I'm this type of person because I know what it's like to have nothing, but still want to give in order for someone else to be happy. I've been in the hospital the past year and 4 months, my perspective on life completely changed. I look at the tiny, little things in life to make me smile. I try to be there for whomever needs it, as the whole time I was hospitalized, no one was there for me but my nurses. No family, friends, nothing.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?Mother/Sister/Girlfriend.

Becoming fully healthy.

Finishing college.

Money.

(Notice how money is the last thing I care about; and my family is put before my own health?)

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?

The community of the groups I was in. I mentioned I had no friends or family by my side at the hospital, however, whenever I could connect to HF on my laptop while I was there, the members of the groups I was i (TBH, Void, Legion) would support me every step of the way and never let me give up.

But the ones that do stay tend to last for many months and become active on HF a lot more.

Religion: N/A. I'm an atheist and a rather militant one, though that does not have an effect on my actions outside of the SRPP subforum.

State/Country: California, USA

Time Zone: UMT - 8:00

Application:Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:

As any of my friends and people with whom I've worked will tell you, both my skillset and passion lie in the realm of 'hacking'. I use the term loosely because of what it connotes, especially online. As a CCENT certified individual looking to complete his CCNA within 3 months, I have a great passion for networking as well as network security. I was an intern at a local franchise who's specialty is SDN (Software Defined Networking) for 6 months. I learned a lot from my boss who was CCNP + Wireless + Security certified and a "security professional". I have several threads showing my skillset many of which can be found in my signature.

Though I don't necessarily identify myself as a programmer, I do code in C and ASM (as well as a slew of scripting languages) predominately as a hobby. I have tutorials on Linux function hooking in C as well as a couple shellcoding tutorials in ASM (another is on its way!).

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.Pentesting and Forensics - This section is my home.

Though I have to suffer many threads that are completely unrelated to pentesting, there are a few that do surprise me as well as very intelligent members.

Networking, Routers, Switches, and Firewalls - Like I said, I have a passion for networking! I help out here when I can, but I honestly don't like dealing with the same simple port forwarding issues every day.

Science, Religion, Philosophy, and Politics - As I said, I'm a fairly militant atheist and I'm always ready to argue my point of view. When I'm in this section, I'm at my most heated :)

The Empire Subforum - <3

C/C++/Obj-C Programming - Even though I can't always help out in this section, I really enjoy it!

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

From past experience of being in Empire, I can honestly say that the group is filled with (mostly) mature and intelligent members who are all awesome to be around!

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

Well, I spend 90% of my time on this forum writing tutorials and helping out when I can. I know Empire is the longest lasting group on HF and it is well-deserved. I feel that I can definitely contribute to the quality of Empire as I try to do with HF in general.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

I'll finish this part of my application later, I need some rest.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?

1. HF (I'm not kidding)
2. Passing my CCNA + Security certifications
3. Passing the CCNA prep course (there's a lot of busy work)
4. Social Life (I've missed beach days with friends to study for a CCNA test :/ but It's important to have a good social life!)
5. Taking Philosophy, computer science, and psychology in college
6. Required classes (Calculus and/or linear algebra, English, etc...)

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining? That's a great question. Honestly, I don't know. When I finally upgraded, I remember talking with members like 630 and Saturday (among many others) in the upgraded members lounges when they were just starting out. They really showed me that there can be intelligent people on this forum and since then, I've befriended many members to whom I give my utmost respect. There isn't a single reason why I joined HF or why I haven't left. Its great community underbelly is often shrouded by the prepubescent children on here :)

Anything else you would like to say:

I was in The Empire not too long ago and, along with many others, was kicked when the sectors were removed. I'd really like to come back :)

@Tibit,

One more question... What do you mean by "drama"?

Like if they cause issues publicly such as scam reports or big arguments with members often.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are: My skills are mainly related with coding and Gaming. I Started coding when i was 12 And I have been doing it everyday of my life since then, I love coding and I find pleasure out of it. But also i love gaming, Gaming is my other hobby when I'm not coding I find I'm always winning games so I find my self to be acceptable at most games.

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests.: Hacking tools & Gaming & Marketplace, These 3 are my post active places i may not post often in them but always reading there Hacking tools because i like to find insperation in tools i can make and make my own version / completely different. Gaming well because i love gaming and want to see other peoples interests and skills and Marketplace because I have a few things to sell / Buy

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?: Because The Empire has good reputation and Good leaders, I want to join The Empire because it means I could get some confidence with the stuff i do and possibly expand and become better at what i do!

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:Because I'm always giving back to the community and I'm a hardworking dedicated member, I may not have been here long but I already have a found love for HF. And all of its members and staff.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:Well when i was 10 I use to play RuneScape, I was like WOW i want my own runescape and be the owner etc. Found RSPS i was like much WOW i leaned the basics from nothing on what they do and how they are made. I ended up learning java and building my own RSPS source. I loved java it was a beautiful language. But then i found i needed a site for my RSPS so i learned what languages were needed to build a site i learned HTML and built my self a simple site for my RSPS and RuneRealm was born. From there on i became older and more knowledgeable and learnt more languages such as PHP SQL Python and VB.net

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?: Making sure I prove everyone wrong and becoming what i deserve and need! All the way through high school teachers would tell me i was going no wear because I'm dyslexic and Bipolar. I got slated and put down by teachers and peers, Until one day i had a chat with out technitions and they saw i had talent. They would give me project to do like fix there site help them with there servers etc. And all the teachers would annoy me and destroy me with horrid words And to this day I'm earning more then them sat at home. I'm not a computer science engineer at 17! And i love it.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?: people like you! Doing something for the community being friendly and not stupid like other places who don't care.

Anything else you would like to say: Nothing much really but i hope you do choose me because i feel like i could help your group in many ways!

Age:Sixteen.

Gender:Male.

Religion:Atheist, born Anglican.

State/Country:Newfoundland, Canada.

Time Zone:(UTC-03:30) Newfoundland.

Explain, with detailed examples, what your skills are:Coding, Gaming. (Not much).

Which section are you most active in and why? This is important as we will have specific sections of the group based on member interests;

I am mostly all-around, I don't stick to one section; I am mostly around the Lounge, Gaming and SSRP and Coding. These are the main ones that I hang around the most.

Why do you want to join The Empire in particular?:

I believe in being high quality, I believe that high quality users are respected and looked up to. I want to be a role model to those who look up to high quality posters such as The Empire group users.

Why do you personally feel you deserve to and should be accepted into The Empire?:

I feel I deserve to be accepted because I respect those who respect me, I believe I'm a very HQ poster and I believe I can make an even bigger contribution throughout my time on this forum.

In one to three paragraphs, tell us a little bit about yourself personally or possibly something quite memorable that happened in your life, or an explanation of what makes you who you are and who are you:

My life personally: I was adopted at the age of 2 my mother abandoned me for a free pass out of prison. She assaulted a man and was being sentence for 5-6 years and chose to sign me off in order for her to be set free with no punishment other than the hatred and anger she caused her son. A lot of depression came from this. I was also diagnosed with ADHD at the age of 5, as I am beginning to learn to code it is very hard to maintain focus and stay on task.

Where do your priorities in life lie? What is most important to you?:

My priorities as a teenager in high school, in Gr.11 I believe now is the time to start becoming dedicated in what I want to do later on in life, as of now I hope to become a software programmer and coder. Technology has always amazed me, I've always loved to see how strings and lines of code could make programs do what they do. My future is very important to me as I don't want to turn out like my biological mother, I want to be successful.

What caused you to stay active and be part of the community on Hackforums after first joining?: The people, there is such a unique span of diversity. Every one has their own beliefs and opinions. Some are here for learning and gaining knowledge. Some are here to just hang out. I believe that this community is the most diversified and unique forum.

Anything else you would like to say:

I'd like to say that I'm very grateful that you are doing this recruitment. That's all, Thanks :)
