This post is for all the people who are getting mad because they are using "Black Shades a malicious software rat." Let's get things right, I'm sure many of us HF members used shitty Rat tools before but really grow up. All of our actions have consequences! I have been getting tons of those emails I don't know why people try to rat me it will never happen but I really can care less. For everyone saying Omni is giving the FBI info, I WOULD TO!!! I understand how it feels for people who work very hard to lose so much. So, no more going crazy because agents kicked in your doors. Hopefully you guys learn a good lesson.

(Please don't post if your gonna get mad because i'm right)

(Thanks for all the members who understand)

I am so sorry man, I will close it and do as you suggested. I am just really tired of people complaining because they are getting in trouble with the law.
