Click for Click Spreading

by IceGuru

What is a Click for click?

This site is a 1:1 traffic exchange system. It helps webmasters to promote their sites and affiliate/referral links from other programs.

For each site you visit using our system you'll receive one visitor back to your own Web site or referral link! It is absolutely free!

Steps:

1) Get your malware ready

Crypt and make your drive by page or upload to direct file hosting.

2) Sign up

B- Fill in all this with correct info

Check out "Discover" its a free app

<http://www.appsafari.com/utilities/8829/discover/>

That way you can read .pdf

-mothered- - May 16, 2010, 4:23 pm

Well, "simplicity" would have to be the key word here. Only a hand-full of paragraphs, yet very much to the point.

Many thanks mate, good contribution :)

Really simple it shows up to them in a iframe.

Jare - December 30, 2010, 6:11 pm

Just to let you guys (Inc. OP) it doesn't work.

I made a bit.ly [WARNING: potentially infected] link, bit.ly [WARNING: potentially infected] allows you to see how many views this link gets.

I used this link on EasyHits4U, and bit.ly [WARNING: potentially infected] shows I only have 1 click (My own, to check it works), where EasyHits4U is showing I have 29 views...

Nice unreliable method of checking.

Yes it does work.

Nothing wrong with grave digging ... and to my knowledge it still works.

Best to pass the page legit with a about 100 views first and make the page look like on of those nice applets.

Have it clean for like 50-100 views and during the first "inspection" I like I said in the tut.

Updated the ref link to my new one if you'd be kind enough to use it... I use the traffic for legit sites...etc

Reserve - March 10, 2014, 4:28 am

Is anyone still using this method?

Just wondering
