Wirt - May 25, 2014, 4:23 am

We deliver worldwide! They ship from England so may take longer to get to the US but we ship around the world!

You can also pay more for shipping, like next day and 3 day. We generally ship economy if not specified.

You can't get addicted to these at all. These don't have any drugs such as nicotine or tobacco. These are pure and clean, with no harmful additives.

Unfortunately we don't do "Test" or "Samples" because believe it or not, shipping still costs money. Your best bet would be to order one disposable, decide if you like it, if you do, then order more (Hopefully. Muwahaha).

Pretty much, the electricity makes the vapor, in which the vapor is the juices you put in the tank.

My bad I forgot to mention only USA/North America get tracking numbers. If you're in Europe and you order from Europe you don't get any because of the heavy fee they put on it for international shipping.

In other words, if you order from Musa (Mnikkilla) then you won't receive a tracking number. Sorry for the confusion.

This is correct.

Minors are allowed to vape it, but it is frowned upon though because many people think it promotes other things, such as smoking real cigarettes.

Americans usually receive disposable pens in 3 days or less, where European people usually take 1 - 2 weeks, because it's being shipped internationally, unless you live in the UK, in which is will probably take 2-5 days.

Me and this user have spoken via PM. I have refunded the full amount of his product. These type of things don't usually happen, but I would like everyone to be aware this person did purchase faster shipping, BUT if you order from Musa because you're in Europe, it WILL take a long time to get to your house due to international shipping.

Smoke always looks good/cool. And after doing much research on Vaping and ecigarettes, I realized its safe too.

Only thing that can cause damage is the nicotine (which affects your brains functioning) and possibly the flavoring/coloring. If they use flavoring not safe for human consumption or anything that is sketchy, then yes there is a risk. Just find a good reputable liquid company, for example: 2die4.

You can also try making your own e liquid using PG/VG (there are tutorials online).

Price wise for the best, coolest, largest amount of vapor, I recommend buying a Clone of a mechanical mod and a nice quality rebuildable atomizer. You can get a clone for anywhere from $20 to $80 and the atomizers go around the same price range some even up to over $100.

You can do some research on it but there is more to it.

For the largest vapor clouds you want a low Ohm build for your rebuildable (making custom coils) and some batteries. This leads to a practice called Sub-ohming. Sub-ohming can do damage to a battery if you vape too much for too long based on how electric current works. So you will want a few batteries and a charger so you can switch out whenever you think it's necessary.

Sorry for the long post, I just want people to be informed on vaping as much as possible before throwing themselves headfirst into buying a vape pen.

But for now the cheapest way to get started if you just want to try it is with a disposable pen. Then the next step would be to get a rechargeable vape pen to understand how the rechargeables work. Here's a good reputable seller and although I havent bought from him, I know of the products and they are pretty good quality, but there are better starter rechargeable pens. And I urge Litecoin to carry more. Like the eGo series, or the evods.

TL;DR yes it looks cool, but the coolest looking shit you cant really get on HF right now.
