Holy shit, such an anime exists? this anime movie had me on my damn feet the entire movie.

Does anyone know another anime that's like this? The explosion, the awesomeness, the ultimate moments of fate when the main character kicks ass!

If that is a sub-genre or type of anime? Please tell me if there are any movies or series towards that area.

Redline is a great movie, can you believe it was drawn by hand over the period of 7 years?

Whoa

I really loved the style.

Never thought I could enjoy an anime movie with Racing that much.

Redline was fantastic .

You could try air gear. I felt similarly about that but air gear was dropped at the end.

Yea I enjoyed air gear too! My only complaints was the audio quality and of course how it ended.

Audio quality was shit but from what my friend told me it's probably better that it ended there before you invested more time into it.
